Chairman of Board and Director of Studies: PROFESSOR J. C. BRIDGE, M.A., Mus.D., F.S.A.
Director of Examinations: E. F. HORNER, Mus.D., F.R.C.O.

Teaching Department.

Michaelmas, Lent, and Trinity Terms (twelve weeks each) begin respectively in September, January, and April.

The College provides complete and systematic instruction and training in every recognised musical subject and Dramatic and Operatic Elocution, during the day and evening. Students are received for single subjects (e.g., Pianoforte £4 4s. per Term) or for a course arranged to suit special individual needs (£11 11s. per Term).

All modern systems of Technique (whether for the Pianoforte, Violin, or other instrument) and of Vocal Training are taught by qualified professors.

A special course for the Training of Music Teachers has been instituted to meet the requirements of the Teachers' Registration Council.

Preparation for all Public Examinations in the Theory and Practice of Music, including the Examinations for University Degrees.

The College Orchestra, the Choir, the Light Opera Class, and the various Ensemble Classes, are open also to those not attending the College for other subjects.

In the Junior School students are admitted up to 16 years of age at reduced fees.

Scholarships and Exhibitions.

There are between Forty and Fifty Scholarships tenable at the College and open to all British subjects up to certain age limits, the Bambridge Pianoforte Scholarship, value £100 per annum, and Eighteen Scholarships which provide complete preparation for the Degree of Bachelor of Music.

Examinations.

The Examinations for the Teachers' Diplomas of Associate and Licentiate in both Practical and Theoretical Musical Subjects and in Elocution, as also for Fellowship and Certificates, are held annually in January, April, and July.

The Local Theory of Music Examinations are held in June and December, and those in Instrumental and Vocal Music as well as in Elocution throughout the session at various Centres in the United Kingdom, and in the Colonies and India.

In connection with the Local Examinations, Exhibitions are annually awarded, and are tenable at Centres in the United Kingdom, India, and the Colonies.

THE COLLEGE offers a complete course of musical instruction to pupils of both sexes, both professional and amateur, by teachers of the highest eminence. Pupils sufficiently advanced have the opportunity of putting their knowledge into practice at the Ensemble Classes, College Concerts, and Opera Classes. The Operatic Class has the use of the fully equipped Parry Opera Theatre, with sunken orchestra. The College enjoys a permanent Endowment Fund, from which upwards of seventy Scholarships and Exhibitions are founded which provide free musical education. There are also Council Exhibitions, Prizes, and other advantages, for particulars of which see the Syllabus. Special Teachers' Training Courses have been arranged to meet the requirements of the Teachers' Registration Councils.

TERMS, FEES, Etc.

The Tuition Fee is £12 12s. per Term. Entrance Fee, £2 2s. Students must continue at College for at least three terms.

Female Pupils are accommodated at Queen Alexandra's House, near the College, as far as the capacity of that Institution allows, on terms to be obtained from the Lady Superintendent.

A Junior Department has been established to provide for Pupils under 16 whose time is also occupied by the necessities of their general education. The Tuition Fee is £6 6s. per Term. Entrance Fee, £1 1s.

An Examination for "Associate of the Royal College of Music" (A.R.C.M.) is held three times a year: in September, December and April. Fee, £5 5s.

The Royal College of Music Patrons' Fund for the encouragement of British Composers and Executive Artists, and the S. Ernest Palmer Fund for Opera Study in the Royal College of Music (founded by Sir Ernest Palmer, Bart., F.R.C.M.). Particulars may be obtained from the Registrar.

THE DEAN, Medical School, Guy's Hospital, S.E.1.

KING'S COLLEGE HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL (UNIVERSITY OF LONDON).

The HOSPITAL was opened in 1913, and is one of the best equipped Hospitals in the United Kingdom. The importance of specialisation has long been recognised by the Hospital, and it has now sixteen Special Departments, each in charge of a specialist and his staff. It is planned for 600 beds, but at present, owing to lack of funds, 200 are not available. It serves a population of nearly 2,000,000, and the attendances in the Casualty and Out-patient Departments during the year 1925 amounted to 216,483.

The MEDICAL SCHOOL Buildings, like those of the Hospital, are up-to-date and exceptionally fine. The Laboratory and Pathological Department and the Post-mortem Room are especially noteworthy. Students of both sexes are admitted.

In the Education at the Hospital a special feature has always been the individual attention given to each Student, and each subject is taught by its own specialist. There is ample opportunity for any Student who wishes to specialise in a subject to continue his studies with the help of Junior Staff Appointments. With a view to ensuring better co-ordination of studies, the teaching of each of the subjects of Medicine, Surgery, and Gynæcology has been placed in charge of a member of the Senior Honorary Staff with tutors to supervise the work of the Students. Attached to the Gynæcological Department is a Maternity Ward through which Students can qualify for the requirements in that subject of all the Examining Bodies.

SCHOLARSHIPS in ANATOMY and PHYSIOLOGY, and in PATHOLOGY and PHARMACOLOGY, £50 a year each, confined to University Students, are awarded yearly in September.

DENTAL SCHOOL. A full Dental Course at King's College and King's College Hospital commenced in October, 1923, under the direction of Mr. A. Livingston, M.B., Ch.B., Mast.Dent.Surg.

"The PLATANES," close to the Hospital, with large grounds and tennis courts, is a residence for 80 Students.

The SCHOOL ATHLETIC GROUND (over six acres in extent) is within ten minutes' walk of the Hospital.

The Fee for the advanced studies is 93 guineas. The entrance fee of 10 guineas includes membership of the Clubs and Societies Union.

For Particulars, Calendar of the School, and Appointments to see the School and Hospital, application should be made to the Dean, H. WILLOUGHBY LYLE, M.D., B.S. (Lond.), F.R.C.S., J.P.; or to the Secretary, S. C. RANNER, M.A. (Cantab.), King's College Hospital Medical School, Denmark Hill, London, S.E.5.

London Hospital Medical College & Dental School

(University of London)

The Medical College and Dental School of the London Hospital are fully equipped to meet modern requirements. The various departments are under the direct control of University Professors or Lecturers, who devote their time entirely to work in their department and who are assisted by a number of Demonstrators. The Hospital contains 950 beds, of which number 849 are in constant use, and is the largest General Hospital in England. Its position in the neighbourhood of the extensive docks, factories, and workshops of the East of London renders it for accidents one of the largest Hospitals in the world. The Wards, Out-patient and Special Departments present a wide field for clinical instruction, and afford exceptional opportunities for acquiring an extensive and practical knowledge of all phases of disease.

SPECIAL COURSES & REVISION CLASSES

St. George's Hospital Medical School

HYDE PARK CORNER, S.W.

THE HOSPITAL and MEDICAL SCHOOL are situated at Hyde Park Corner and are readily accessible from all parts of London.

The HOSPITAL has a service of 450 beds, of which 100 are at the CONVALESCENT BRANCH at Wimbledon, which is the largest Institution of its kind. Hence the proportion of acute cases at St. George's is unusually large.

The entire teaching in the School is devoted to the subjects of the Final Examinations, that is to say, to the essentially medical subjects.

Students attend at King's College for tuition in the Preliminary and Intermediate subjects.

ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIPS AND EXHIBITIONS.

The following Entrance Scholarships and Exhibitions in Anatomy and Physiology are awarded annually in July to candidates who have passed the Second Medical or corresponding examination.

The William Brown Senior Exhibition, of the value of £120;

The William Brown Junior Exhibition, of the value of £80; and

The Junior University Scholarship, of the value of £70.

In addition to the above Scholarships, EXHIBITIONS, each of the value of £40, and up to six in number, may be awarded to candidates of approved merit in the Entrance Scholarship Examination.

PRIZES.

THE ALLINGHAM SCHOLARSHIP, of the value of £85 (approximately), is awarded annually for the best Surgical Essay.

The BRACKENBURY PRIZE in MEDICINE, the BRACKENBURY PRIZE in SURGERY, the WEBB PRIZE in BACTERIOLOGY, each of the value of about £33; and other Prizes are awarded annually.

RESIDENT STAFF.

A large number of HOUSE OFFICES (which may be held for four, eight, or twelve months) are open to every Perpetual Student of the Hospital, and are made strictly in accordance with the merits of the Candidates.

PAID APPOINTMENTS.

The following APPOINTMENTS, to which special attention is directed, are open to Students after holding House Office.

Resident Assistant Physician, £350; Resident Assistant Surgeon, £350; Medical Registrar, £200; Surgical Registrar, £200; Assistant Curator of Museum, £100; Resident Obstetric Assistant, £50; Resident Anæsthetist, £100.

The St. George's Hospital Club, with Smoking and Luncheon Rooms on the Hospital premises, and an Athletic Ground of 14½ acres at Wimbledon, is an amalgamation of the Hunterian Society, "The Gazette," and the Rugby Football, Cricket, Lawn Tennis, Boxing, Rifle and Golf Clubs.

The WINTER SESSION begins on October 1st, and the SUMMER SESSION on May 1st, but Students can enter at any time.

Further information may be obtained from the Dean of the Medical School.

A. FEILING, M.D., Dean.

ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL

(University of London.)

SESSIONS 1926-1927.

WINTER. FIRST TERM.—Oct. 1st to Dec. 10th, 1926.

SECOND TERM.—Jan. 6th to March 18th, 1927.

SUMMER. April 26th to July 12th, 1927.

Situation.

St. Mary's is exceptional in its situation, for while it is adjacent to a large poor district in which it serves some 500,000 persons, it is nevertheless so near to Kensington Gardens, and one of the best residential districts of London, that it offers to the Medical Student the unusual possibility of living in close touch with his work, without a wearisome journey in an overcrowded train or tube.

Clinical Units in Medicine and Surgery.

St. Mary's is one of the 6 Medical Schools in London at which Clinical Units have been established. By this means the Clinical teaching has been raised to the highest possible level, and by the affiliation of several neighbouring Hospitals, 1,000 beds are now available for teaching purposes.

Institute of Pathology and Research.

The Institute of Pathology is under the personal direction of SIR ALMROTH WRIGHT, F.R.S., and comprises seven special departments. A number of salaried appointments are available for students who have qualified, and 13 research beds have been opened.

Lying-in Beds.

Lying-in beds have now been added, which provide facilities for practical instruction in midwifery. In addition, all Students take a fortnight's course of Practical Midwifery at Queen Charlotte's Hospital, which is situated within a few minutes' walk of St. Mary's, before holding a post on the Externe Midwifery district attached to the Hospital.

Primary and Final F.R.C.S. Courses.

A special feature is made of the above Courses, which are carried on during the greater part of the year.

Scholarships and Prizes.

Three Scholarships of £210 each, and one of £25, are awarded by nomination in July annually.

One or more University Scholarships of £200 each are awarded annually.

Research Scholarships of £200 per annum each are awarded annually in connection with the Institute of Pathology.

Numerous other prizes are awarded annually.

Athletic Ground.

The Athletic Ground (10 acres) is situated at Wembley, and can be reached by tube in 20 minutes. A large pavilion has recently been built at a cost of £3,000.

Fees.

The Composition Fee for the entire Curriculum is £200.

The Composition Fee for the Clinical portion of the Curriculum is 90 guineas.

The Fee for the Amalgamated Clubs is 3 guineas per annum, or a Composition Fee of 10 guineas for the entire Curriculum, or 7 guineas for the Clinical portion only.

C. M. WILSON (M.C.), M.D., F.R.C.P., Dean.

The illustrated Prospectus of the Medical School may be obtained on application to the Secretary, St. Mary's Hospital Medical School, Paddington, W.2.

ST. THOMAS'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL

The Hospital contains 632 Beds.

The Hospital stands on the Albert Embankment, opposite the Houses of Parliament. It is, therefore, very easy of access from all parts of London; several tram and omnibus lines run to the Bridge, while the Waterloo Station (Main and Suburban Lines, and Bakerloo Tube) is within six minutes' walk of the Hospital.

The Medical School adjoins the Hospital, and is completely equipped for the teaching of preliminary and intermediate subjects.

There are daily clinical lectures and demonstrations in the Wards and Special Departments on all branches of Medical and Surgical Practice, and the large numbers of Patients treated offer a very large field for Clinical study.

After Students have acted as Clerks and Dressers to In- and Out-Patient Departments, and have passed their qualifying examinations, all Hospital Appointments are open to them.

A Resident Assistant Physician, a Resident Assistant Surgeon, and a Resident Anæsthetist are appointed annually at a salary of £200 each per annum.

Two Hospital Registrars (Medical and Surgical) at an annual salary of £250 each are appointed yearly. The tenure of these offices may be renewed for a term not exceeding two years.

An Obstetric Tutor (unpaid), a Pathological Registrar to the Obstetrical Department (salary £250), an Ophthalmic Registrar (salary £50 per annum), and an Orthopædic Registrar (unpaid) are appointed yearly.

Ten Resident Casualty Officers and Anæsthetists (including two Senior) are appointed every six months. Seven House Physicians (including two Obstetric House Physicians, and one House Physician to the Department of Diseases of Children), nine House Surgeons (including two Ophthalmic House Surgeons, one Orthopædic House Surgeon, and one House Surgeon each to the Ear and Throat Departments) are appointed every six months.

Clinical Assistants in the Special Departments are appointed every three months.

ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIPS & PRIZES.

Two Entrance Scholarships in Arts, value equal to 1st year's tuition.

Two Open Scholarships in Preliminary Science, value £150 and £60 respectively, at the beginning of the 2nd year.

Examinations for above in July each year.

University Scholarship of the value of £100 at the commencement of the 4th year. Examination in September.

At the end of the 2nd Year, The William Tite Scholarship, £25.

At the end of the 3rd year, The Musgrove or Peacock Scholarship, £35.

At the end of the 4th year, Second Tenure of Musgrove or Peacock Scholarship, £35.

A School Council Research Scholarship of the value of £250 awarded annually.

In addition, ten Medals and other Prizes are awarded annually to Clinical Students.

There are full Courses of Instruction for the Examinations of the Conjoint Board; for the Preliminary Science, the Intermediate and the Final M.B., Lond.; for Oxford and Cambridge Exams.; and for Primary and Final F.R.C.S. Examinations.

Students' Fees (£50 per annum) are payable by Annual Instalments, full particulars of which will be found in the Prospectus.

Any further particulars in regard to the Medical School will be gladly supplied on application being made to Sir Cuthbert Wallace, K.C.M.G., C.B., Dean, or to L. B. MAXWELL, O.B.E., B.A., M.B., B.Ch. (Cantab.), Medical Secretary.

WESTMINSTER HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

Westminster Hospital Medical School equips Medical Students for presentation at Examinations for the Medical Degrees of the University, or for the qualifications of the Examining Boards of the United Kingdom. Instruction is given for the Fellowship of the Royal Colleges of Surgeons. The subjects in which systematic instruction is arranged for are divided into two Groups—I. Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Anatomy, Physiology, Pharmacology, Materia Medica; II. Pathology, Bacteriology, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Medicine, including Mental Diseases and Public Health, and Surgery, including Ophthalmic and Aural Surgery.

The subjects of Group I are, under a scheme of Concentration of the Preliminary and Intermediate instruction, taught at King's College; those of Group II, at the Westminster Hospital Medical School, in Caxton Street.

The LIBRARY contains a large collection of Books of Reference, and the latest Text Books, which Students may borrow. It is open daily from 10 to 5.30, excepting Saturdays, when it is open from 10 to 1, and a Librarian is always in attendance. It is free to all Students, excepting those entering for one or two sessions, who are required to pay a fee of half a guinea for the privilege of using the Library.

There are three MUSEUMS belonging to the School, which are open to all the Students daily from 9 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. (Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.)

The Anatomical Section contains dissected preparations of all the principal tissues and organs of the Body, and a series of Models in Wax. The Pathological Museum is furnished with specimens illustrating all the principal Morbid Conditions of the Body, and the injuries to which it is liable. Constant additions are being made to this Department by the Selection of Pathological specimens from the Post Mortem Room. The Materia Medica Museum contains a complete collection of the Drugs and Chemicals of the British Pharmacopoeia in addition to many others, some of which are of considerable rarity.

There are two LECTURE THEATRES, a Dissecting Room, an Anatomical Demonstration Room, and an Operative Surgery Room fitted with all the necessary appliances and instruments and an Epidiascope, and a Practical Surgery Room.

In 1900 the present Clinical LABORATORIES were opened at the Hospital, where some 300 investigations of Morbid Processes are carried on every month, and where there is accommodation for practical work in Chemistry, Physics, Histology, Pathology, Bacteriology, and Vaccine Therapy. The whole is equipped with all the most modern and approved appliances for teaching and research. There are special Departments for an Antenatal Clinic, the treatment of Venereal Diseases, Orthopaedics, Mechano-Therapy, etc.

The Hospital was closed in 1923 for the purpose of alterations and improvements. The work has been completed and the Hospital was reopened in 1924 with the following additions and improvements: A New Operating Theatre and Recovery Room for Out-patients; Another Operating Theatre for In-patients; An enlarged Electrical and X-ray Department with new equipment; Improvements in the Dispensary and Surgery; A Maternity Ward and Special Wards for male and female, Ear, Nose, Throat, and Eye cases; Extension of the Pathological Laboratory. Improved accommodation for the Resident Medical Staff and new Common Rooms for the Students. The estimated cost is approximately £75,000.

FEES: The Annual Composition Fee is £40, and an Entrance Fee of 10 guineas is payable by every student, including Scholars. Under certain conditions 10 guineas of the Entrance Fee is returnable on qualification.

TERMS: 1926-1927. 1st Term: October 1st to December 18th. 2nd Term: January 10th to March 26th. 3rd Term: April 18th to June 25th.

THE SCHOOL IS SITUATED quite near St. James' Park, Westminster and Victoria Stations on the District Railway. It is about 5 minutes from the terminus of the Southern Railway at Victoria Station, and can easily be reached in 15 minutes from Charing Cross Station. ADDRESS: 12 Caxton Street, S.W.1. TELEPHONE: Vic. 0765.

Residence for Students is readily obtainable in the neighbourhood and a list of such accommodation is kept at the School.

The total value of SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES awarded annually is approximately £360.

RECREATION: The Constituent Clubs of the Clubs' Union comprise the following: Athletics, Chess, Football, Cricket, Tennis, Swimming, Boxing, the Students' Club and the Guthrie Society, the latter being a Society for Debates, the reading and discussion of papers of Professional and General Interest, the exhibition of Physiological and Pathological specimens, &c. The fees for students are included in the Entrance Fee. Fees for Past Students are 10/6 per annum or a Composition Fee for Life Membership of 2 guineas.

The Hospital GAZETTE, the "Broad Way," was first published in 1893, and appears four times yearly. Articles of clinical and general interest are contributed by members of the Staff, past and present Students, while reports of current events are published as a record of the life of the Hospital and School. The annual subscription is 6/- post free.

UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH.

Chancellor: The Right Hon. The Earl of BALFOUR, K.G., O.M., D.C.L., LL.D., etc.

Rector: The Right Hon. STANLEY BALDWIN, M.P., P.C., LL.D.

Principal and Vice-Chancellor: Sir J. ALFRED EWING, K.C.B., M.A., D.Sc., LL.D., F.R.S.

Secretary to the University: W. A. FLEMING, M.A., LL.B., Advocate.

The Academic year begins about the middle of October and ends early in July.

The University embraces Six Faculties, viz. Arts, Science, Divinity, Law, Medicine and Surgery, and Music, in all of which full instruction is given and Degrees are conferred. There are many different avenues to the Degree of M.A. (Honours and Ordinary), the graduation subjects embracing English, History, Modern Languages, Science, etc., besides Ancient Languages, Philosophy, Mathematics, etc. The wide scope of the Arts Curriculum permits of the combination of Arts, Science, Medical, Law, or Special Studies; and it has been shown by successes of Edinburgh students in the Civil Service Examinations that it is possible to combine study for Degrees in Arts, Science, or Law with preparation for this and other Special Examinations. In addition to the Ordinary and Honours Degrees in Arts, the Higher Degrees of D.Litt., D.Sc., and Ph.D. are conferred. The Degree of Bachelor of Education is conferred on candidates who have attended Courses and passed Examinations in Psychology and in Education (Theoretical and Practical). Diplomas in Education, in Geography, and in Actuarial Mathematics are granted. The Degree of Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.) is conferred, and Special Courses in Industrial Law and other kindred subjects are provided. Degrees in Science (B.Sc. and D.Sc.) may be taken in Pure Science, Engineering, Public Health, Agriculture, Veterinary Science, Forestry, and Mining; and the Degree of B.Sc. in Technical Chemistry. There is also a Diploma in Technical Chemistry. Temporary Regulations have been framed for a Diploma in Forestry for the behoof of Officers and men who have served in the War and for natives of India with certain qualifications. There are fully equipped Science Laboratories, and other necessary appliances, in all these Departments. The curriculum in Divinity affords a thorough training in Theological subjects, and the Degree of Bachelor of Divinity (B.D.) is conferred. The Law Faculty, besides furnishing the professional equipment necessary for those intending to practise in Scotland, contains Chairs in Jurisprudence and Public International Law, Constitutional Law and Constitutional History, Roman Law, and Political Economy, as also Lectureships in other important branches of Law, and is thus adapted for students preparing for the Civil Service Examinations, and for legal, political, and administrative appointments generally. The Degrees of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) and Bachelor of Law (B.L.) are conferred. The Faculty of Medicine has a full curriculum in Medicine and Surgery, and is equipped with very extensive Laboratories and all other necessary appliances for Practical Teaching. Ample facilities are afforded for Clinical Instruction at the Royal Infirmary, Maternity Hospital, Royal Hospital for Sick Children, Hospital for Infectious Diseases, and Royal Asylum for the Insane. Four Degrees in Medicine and Surgery are conferred by the University, viz. Bachelor of Medicine (M.B.), Bachelor of Surgery (Ch.B.), Doctor of Medicine (M.D.), and Master of Surgery (Ch.M.); and these Degrees qualify for practice throughout His Majesty's Dominions, and for admission to the Naval, Military, and other Public Medical Services in the United Kingdom. A Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene (D.T.M. & H.) is conferred on Graduates in Medicine of the University, and specially approved Medical Practitioners who have resided abroad. There are also Diplomas in Public Health (D.P.H.) and in Psychiatry (Dipl. Psych.). In Music there is a full course of study for graduation, and the Degrees of Mus.B. and Mus.D. are conferred.

The University Staff consists of 55 Professors, about 160 Readers and Lecturers, and over 70 Assistants and Demonstrators. The annual amount available for Fellowships, Scholarships, Bursaries, Prizes, etc., is about £25,000. Facilities are afforded for research in scientific and other subjects.

Women may attend the Classes in all the Faculties, and they are admitted to all the Degrees.

Information regarding Matriculation, the Curricula of Study for Degrees, etc., the Examinations for Fellowships, Scholarships, etc., may be obtained from the DEANS OF THE FACULTIES, or from the SECRETARY OF THE UNIVERSITY; and full details are given in the University Calendar, published by Mr. JAMES THIN, 55 South Bridge, Edinburgh—price 6s. by post. The Preliminary and Degree Examination papers in each of the Faculties are also published by Mr. JAMES THIN—viz. Preliminary, 1s.; Arts Bursaries, 6d.; Degree Papers: Arts, 1s.; Science, 1s.; Law and Medicine, 6d. each; Divinity and Music, 3d. each.

By order of the Senatus,

W. A. FLEMING, Secretary to the University.

Among the insurance corporations selected to issue policies under the Federated Superannuation System for Universities are:—

1. The Equitable Life Assurance Society,

19, Coleman Street, London, E.C.2, which was one of the six originally chosen. It was founded in 1762, is the oldest mutual life office in the world, was the first society to grant bonus additions to assurances and is acknowledged to be the parent of modern life assurance.

2. The University Life Assurance Society,

25, Pall Mall, London, S.W.1,

established in 1825 and incorporated by Royal Charter, which confines its membership to the educated classes and thus obtains for them the full benefits arising from their light mortality. It is the only office which guarantees that its future bonuses cannot fall below, though they may exceed, a handsome minimum aggregate, e.g., a 50 per cent. addition to a full profits assurance in 30 years. (At its present bonus rate this would be accomplished in 20 years.)

No commission for the introduction of business is paid by these two societies, which are now associates though under different management, and large sums are thus saved annually for their members.

Information will be sent on application as to Life and Endowment assurances. Provision for Education.
 Pensions.                      House Purchase.                      Annuities.

THE BURBERRY

The coat to wear whenever and wherever an Overcoat or Weatherproof is needed

The Burberry keeps its wearer perfectly dry in downpour or drizzle.

Snug and warm when
blowing.

Cool and comfortable on hot or dusty days.

Light and air-free, it is worn on fine days without its presence being felt, yet should the weather change from good to bad, it ensures perfect protection.

History of the University.

LONDON was one of the latest of the great capitals of Europe to provide itself with a local University, for it was not until the 16th Century that any attempt was made to supply the deficiency.

In 1548, Sir Thomas Gresham endowed seven professorships of Divinity, Music, Astronomy, Geometry, Law, Physic, and Rhetoric, respectively, and assigned his mansion in Bishopsgate for the residence and lectures of the professors, with a view to making the instruction in these subjects (which correspond very nearly to the ancient Trivium and Quadrivium) accessible to those who were unable to make use of the older Universities. For a time, and until the great fire of 1666, the institution was carried on in conformity with the founder's intentions, Isaac Barrow, Hooke, Petty, Dr John Ball, and Sir Christopher Wren having been among the earlier resident professors. But, although valuable and interesting courses of lectures are still delivered annually in connexion with Gresham College, that institution has never fulfilled or possessed the means of fulfilling the founder's ideal. In the appendix of Stow's "Annales," 1615, there is what purports to be, in three parts, an account of the "three famous Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, and London." The author of the third of these treatises, Sir George Buck, enumerates the Gresham foundation, the Divinity Schools at Westminster and St Paul's, the Inns of Court and of Chancery, the College of Heralds, the School of Civil Law at Doctors' Commons, and St Paul's School, which had been founded by Dean Colet in 1510, as forming collectively a complete academic system, and "lacking nothing but a common government and the protection of an honourable Chancellor" to give to it the unity and repute of a University.

In 1825 Thomas Campbell, the poet, wrote a public letter to Mr Brougham urging the foundation of a great London University. This appeal was widely read and so favourably received that by 1827 a capital sum of 160,000*l.* was raised by shareholders, and the Duke of Sussex laid the foundation-stone of the institution in Gower Street, now known as University College, London. In 1828 classes in the several faculties of Arts, Law, and Medicine were opened, and 557 students were admitted. Efforts were made by the proprietors to obtain from the Crown a Charter of Incorporation, empowering them to confer degrees; and in anticipation of success the College bore, during several years, the name of the London University. Much delay was occasioned by the opposition of various chartered corporations, but the rejection by the House of Lords in 1834 of a Bill which had passed the Commons for the admission of Dissenters to degrees at Oxford and Cambridge furnished to the friends of the new enterprise an additional reason for urging their claim. In 1835 an Address was presented to the Crown on the motion of Mr Tooke in the House of Commons, praying that a Charter might be granted to the institution then known as the London University. This petition was referred to the Privy Council for consideration and advice, and as a result the following communication was made on the 19th of August, 1835, to the Duke of Somerset as Chairman of the Council, furnishing the outline of the scheme proposed by Lord Melbourne's Government:—

“It is intended by the Government to take the following steps with a view to provide a mode for granting Academical Degrees in London to persons of all religious persuasions, without distinction and without the imposition of any test or disqualification whatever.

“1. The Charter sought for by the Duke of Somerset and others will be granted, incorporating the parties by the title of ‘London University College.’

“2. Similar Charters will be granted to any Institution of the same kind which may be hereafter established.

“3. Another Charter will be granted to persons eminent in literature and science, to act as a Board of Examiners, and to perform all the functions of the Examiners in the Senate House of Cambridge; this body to be termed the ‘University of London.’

4. Pupils from University and King's College to be admitted, on certificates of having gone through a course "of study at those establishments, and having obtained a "proficiency to pass for a Degree, and having conducted "themselves to the satisfaction of the Governing Bodies of "those Colleges, to be examined, and to be classed according "to their relative merits.

"5. Any other Bodies for Education, whether corporated "or uncorporated, may from time to time be named by the "Crown, and their pupils may be admitted to examination "for Degrees.

"The Degrees to be granted to be A.B., A.M., B.L., D.L., "B.M., and D.M."

In an official explanatory letter addressed to the Council in November, 1835, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr Spring Rice (afterwards Lord Monteagle), was instructed to add :

"It should always be kept in mind that what is sought on "the present occasion is an equality in all respects with the "ancient Universities, freed from those exclusions and "religious distinctions which abridge the usefulness of "Oxford and Cambridge."

The proposals of the Government were submitted to the consideration of the proprietary body and accepted. It was generally felt that these proposals furnished the best available solution of the problem, which had been so long a subject of anxious controversy. They amounted to a declaration that the business of teaching should be confided to the Colleges ; but that the duty of examining, of awarding prizes, and of conferring degrees should be entrusted to an entirely separate and independent body to be called the University of London. The friends and supporters of University College cordially welcomed the Government plan, although it gave them far less than they had at first demanded, and although the acceptance of it implied the renunciation of all claim to exercise the full functions of a University, and placed them on a footing of equality with some younger and less important institutions. In a published letter issued by the Duke of Somerset in the name of the Council, and endorsed by the unanimous recommendation of the Professors, the proprietors of the new institution were counselled to accept the proposed compromise. Accordingly a Charter was granted by King William IV. on the 28th of November, 1836, constituting the present University, and on the same day a Charter was granted to University College.

Among the earliest Fellows nominated by the Crown as the Senate of the new University were the Earl of Burlington, afterwards Duke of Devonshire, Chancellor; Sir John W. Lubbock, father of the late Lord Avebury, Vice-Chancellor; Lord Brougham; Bishops Maltby, Stanley, Thirlwall, and Otter; Dr Thomas Arnold of Rugby, Mr Hallam, Lord Macaulay, Sir George Cornwall Lewis, Lord Monteagle, and Mr Grote.

King's College, London, had in August, 1829, received a Charter of incorporation establishing it "as a College in "which instruction in the doctrines and duties of Christianity as taught by the Church of England should be for "ever combined with other branches of useful education." This College was also named, with several other Colleges both Metropolitan and Provincial, as an institution whose students were entitled to present themselves for the degrees of the new University.

The first Charter of the University * was formally renewed by Her Majesty Queen Victoria in 1837, and a Supplemental Charter was granted in 1850 affiliating certain additional Colleges.

Neither Charter, however, contained any provision for incorporating the Graduates or giving to them any share in the administration of the affairs of the University. In 1848 an influential Committee of the Graduates was formed with a view, in the first place, to the protection of their academical and general interests and to the cultivation of more intimate relations with each other and with the Senate, and also with the ultimate object of securing the recognition of the Graduates as members of the corporate body and their representation in Parliament. Before these objects were attained, the Graduates' Committee evinced an active interest in the affairs of the University, and in particular succeeded in procuring the enactment of an important Statute in 1854 "to extend the rights enjoyed by the Graduates of Oxford and Cambridge in respect to the practice of Physic to the Graduates of the University of London." By this Act the degree of M.B. in the University became recognized as a licence to practise. Four years later the new Charter of 1858 admitted the Graduates as part of the corporate body of the University, and gave to them the right to assemble in Convocation.

During the first twenty years of its existence, the compromise, by which the relative shares of the Colleges and the University in the academic work of London were allocated, had been carefully observed; but experience had not wholly fulfilled the hopes of its framers and advocates. No candidates were admissible to the degrees of the University unless they were certified to be students in University College or King's College, or in some one of the other affiliated institutions named in the Charter. Among these were the principal Nonconformist Colleges in London and the suburbs, the Roman Catholic seminaries at Stonyhurst, Ushaw, Ware, Bath, and two or three places in Ireland, the Queen's Colleges at Birmingham and Liverpool, the Wesleyan Colleges at Taunton and Sheffield, and other provincial institutions. This restriction was intended to serve as a security that the Graduates had not only acquired knowledge but had obtained it at an institution of academical rank. It soon became apparent, however, that the affiliated institutions, several of which were hardly colleges, but rather secondary schools of good repute, interpreted studentship in very different ways, and that some of them competed with each other in relaxing the conditions on which the needful certificate for the University was granted. The governing body of the University had no power to reject unsatisfactory certificates or to criticize the regulations under which the Colleges awarded them. It possessed no visitorial authority and no right to inquire into the methods of teaching, or to effect improvements. The sole means possessed by the Senate whereby the efficiency of the Colleges could be tested was the examination of their students; and its sole means of influencing the course and character of the teaching was to be found in its schemes and regulations for examination. To the business of examination therefore it practically confined itself, and by general consent it was allowed to have discharged this duty well. The list of examiners who have been appointed from time to time will be found to include the most eminent experts in science, medicine, law, literature, and philosophy ; and public confidence in their ability and fairness has never been wanting. It was, therefore, as an examining body that the University was chiefly known and its public usefulness mainly achieved.

As a result of this experience the Charter of 1858 contained provisions practically abolishing the exclusive connexion of the University with the affiliated Colleges and empowering the Senate to dispense with certificates of studentship in the Faculties of Arts and Laws. For Medical Degrees, however, evidence of attendance and clinical practice at some recognized medical institution was still required. Otherwise all the distinctions of the University were henceforth to be obtained solely on the ground of proficiency as shown in examination. The actual Charter by which the University was governed until 1900 was dated January 6, 1863. It differed from that of 1858 only in one particular, viz., that it empowered the Senate to confer the degrees of Bachelor and Master in Surgery. In 1867 a Supplementary Charter conferred upon the University the power to institute special examinations for women ; and in the same year the Reform Act gave to the Graduates the right to send one Representative to Parliament.

In 1870 a new building in Burlington Gardens was opened by Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, and occupied by the University until its removal to South Kensington in March, 1900.

The experiment of offering encouragement for women to pursue a course of academic education was at first tried under limitations which somewhat impeded its success. In virtue of the powers given in the Charter of 1867, two forms of certificate were offered to women, the one of General and the other of Higher Proficiency. In the scheme for both examinations prominence was given to those subjects which it was presumed that women and their teachers would prefer. The General Examination corresponded in its requirements to the Matriculation Examination, and each subject for the Higher Examination was intended to correspond generally to Honours in the Intermediate Examination in Arts. But the number availing themselves of this privilege was small, and the privilege itself was not highly valued. At the first General Examination only nine candidates presented themselves and six passed. In 1870 only six candidates entered for the higher certificates, and only one of these took up two subjects. Moreover, it was found that the chief distinctions attained by women in these examinations were not gained in the special subjects, but in the classical languages, mathematics, and science. It was urged by the teachers that women did not desire a scheme of instruction exclusively devised for their use, but would prefer to have access to the ordinary degrees and honours, and to be subject to the same tests of qualification that were imposed on other students.

After much discussion the Senate and Convocation agreed in 1878 to accept from the Crown a Supplemental Charter, making every degree, honour, and prize awarded by the University accessible to students of both sexes on perfectly equal terms. The University of London was thus the first academic body in the United Kingdom to admit women as candidates for degrees.

One innovation in the traditional practice of Universities in awarding degrees in the Faculty of Arts was adopted from the first in the Matriculation Examination by the recognition of the English language as a necessary branch of study in addition to Latin and Greek. In 1859 special provision was made for including English Philology and Literature in the examinations for degrees and honours in Arts. The University also founded, for the first time in England, a Faculty of Science, and in the year 1860 began to hold examinations for the degrees of Bachelor and Doctor in that Faculty. The abandonment of the condition of collegiate attendance in 1858 rendered it necessary to seek other guarantees for continuous study, and an Intermediate Examination in Arts was introduced in 1859. The candidate for the degree of B.A. was then required to pass two examinations and was no longer permitted to obtain a degree by a single examination two years after Matriculation. Similar arrangements were made on the institution of the Degrees of Bachelor and Doctor of Science in 1860 and Bachelor of Laws in 1867, when the University ceased to require that all candidates for this last degree should have previously graduated in Arts. The first Doctor of Literature was admitted in 1868. Degrees in Surgery were instituted in 1863, and in Music in 1877. The University also instituted Special Examinations* in the Hebrew Text of the Old Testament, the Greek Text of the New Testament, the Evidences of the Christian Religion and Scripture History (1839), and in subjects relating to Public Health (1876) for which a branch of the M.D. Examination was afterwards substituted.

The University established a Special Examination in the Art, Theory, and History of Teaching, with a view to encouraging persons who intend to adopt the teacher's profession to acquire special training for their work. No candidate was eligible for the diploma who was not already a graduate. To the theoretical part of the Examination a practical exercise in teaching a class in the presence of the Examiner was always added. This Examination was held for the last time in 1903 and was superseded by the Examination in Pedagogy. In 1910 the title of this Examination was changed to the "Examination for the Teacher's Diploma."

The first Chancellor was the Earl of Burlington, afterwards Duke of Devonshire, who held office from 1836 to 1856, and the first Vice-Chancellor Sir John William Lubbock. A list of their successors is given on p. 110.

During many years proposals were made and discussions took place in the colleges and learned societies with a view to the establishment of a scheme for the more complete organisation of the academic resources of the Metropolis. It was urged that the compromise arrived at in 1837, whereby the examining authority was completely detached from the teaching bodies, had often the effect of imposing upon professors and others engaged in the instruction of candidates uniform lines of study and the use of special books, thus interfering injuriously with the legitimate freedom of the teachers. The Senate and Convocation had become partly convinced of the need for a closer relation between it and its examiners on the one hand and the authorities of the great teaching institutions on the other; and resolutions having this object in view had been proposed for discussion on more than one occasion. Moreover, it was contended that the main business of a University was not only to examine and to confer degrees, but also by other means to promote the interests of learning. It was especially desired that the Colleges should once more become, but in a truer sense than at first, constituent parts of the academic body, and that London should possess a teaching University with power to regulate higher education and with the means of becoming a great seat of learning corresponding in its size and resources to the wealth and imperial position of the largest city in the world. Some of those who advocated this view believed that the problem could best be solved by the establishment in London of a second University, composed of Colleges only and recognizing none but bonâ fide students in those Colleges, the present University remaining an imperial institution granting degrees and honours to all comers on condition of examination only. Others urged that some confusion and overlapping would occur if there were two Universities in the Metropolis, and that the present University might be so modified and reconstructed as to take a substantial share in teaching, and yet continue the more general and cosmopolitan work in which it has been so long engaged.

In response to a very general desire, the Government on two occasions appointed Royal Commissions, and entrusted to them the task of considering the whole question and reporting thereon. The first of these, under the presidency of the late Lord Selborne, made its report in 1888; and the second, consisting of a larger number of members, was constituted in 1892, with Earl Cowper as its Chairman, and made its report two years afterwards. This latter report recommended that the existing University should be re-organised, and that, while continuing to discharge all its present functions as an examining body for collegiate and non-collegiate students in all parts of the Empire, it should also establish closer relations with the great London Colleges and Medical Schools, give to the authorities of those institutions a larger share in the government of the University, and seek in other ways to co-ordinate and control the higher education of London. A bill was subsequently introduced into Parliament by the Lord President of the Council for the purpose of giving effect to these recommendations, and in 1898 the "University of London Act" received the Royal assent.

This Act, while preserving the corporate continuity of the University, provided for its complete re-constitution in general harmony with the recommendations of the Commission of 1892. Any future constitutional changes, consistent with the provisions of the Act, can be made by statutes framed by the Senate after consulting Convocation subject to the right of Convocation to appeal to the Privy Council. The Act, together with the Statutes made under it, are set out in the following pages.

The statutes promulgated by the Commission were approved by Parliament on 29th June, 1900. In March, 1900, an arrangement was made with the Government by which the seat of the University was transferred to the Imperial Institute Buildings at South Kensington. The whole of the building is the property of the Government, but the main central portion, including the Great Hall and Grand Entrance, the east wing and its accessory structures, are appropriated to the uses of the University.

The new Senate met for the first time on October 24th, 1900, and in July, 1901, appointed as Principal of the University Sir Arthur William Rücker, M.A., LL.D., D.Sc., F.R.S., who held that office until his resignation in September, 1908. He was succeeded by Sir Henry Alexander Miers, M.A., D.Sc., F.R.S., 1908-15; Sir Edwin Cooper Perry, M.A., M.D., F.R.C.P., formerly Vice-Chancellor 1920-26; and Dr. Thomas Franklin Sibly, D.Sc., who was appointed in September 1926. Since the re-organisation, the work of the University has developed in many directions. The statistics given on the following pages show the great growth in the number of Internal Students and of persons passing the Matriculation and subsequent examinations of the University. Chairs have been established in many and varied subjects and new degrees and diplomas have been founded from time to time. Further institutions have been admitted as Schools of the University in accordance with the provisions of the University of London Act and a number of new institutions for special branches of study have been founded. Mention may be made of the Galton Laboratory for National Eugenics, founded by the late Sir Francis Galton; and the Institute of Historical Research, the greater part of the cost of which was provided by an anonymous donor. Inter-Collegiate Courses of Lectures and University Courses in a large number of subjects have been specially arranged by the Senate.

Membership of Convocation of the University is limited to the persons designated in the Statutes (set out in the following pages) made under the University of London Act, 1898. The Regulations for Convocation are also set out below. Women were admitted to Convocation in 1882.

The ordinary meetings of Convocation take place in each year on the second Tuesday in October, on the Friday before the third Monday in January, and on the Tuesday before Presentation Day.

The first Chairman of Convocation was Charles James Foster, LL.D. (1858-63). A list of his successors is given on p. 110.

Since 1867 the University has been represented in Parliament. The first Member of Parliament for the University was the Rt Hon. Robert Lowe (elected in 1868), who was raised to the peerage as Viscount Sherbrooke in 1880. He was succeeded in the representation of the University by the Rt Hon. Sir John Lubbock, Bart., who sat till 1900, when he was raised to the peerage as Lord Avebury, Sir Michael Foster, K.C.B. (1900-1906), Sir Philip Magnus (1906-1922), Sir Sydney Russell-Wells (1922-24), and Dr Ernest Gordon Graham Little (1924- ).

On October 1st, 1902, the University Extension work which had been carried on for over 25 years by the London Society for the Extension of University Teaching was handed over by the Society to the University of London, and is now under the direction of the University Board to Promote the Extension of University Teaching. The vigour and success of the work has been fully maintained since its transfer to the University of London, and the scheme has undergone important development.

The University Extension Board also conducts the inspection and examination of schools, and awards school and other certificates and diplomas in various subjects ; and organises Courses of Study for Foreign Teachers in the Long Vacation. Further particulars are given in the regulations in the following pages.

In July, 1909, the Senate constituted the Joint Committee for the Promotion of the Higher Education of Working People (consisting of an equal number of members nominated by the University Extension Board and the Workers' Educational Association respectively), under whose direction the scheme of University Tutorial Classes for Working People has been developed.

Shortly after the re-constitution of the University, University College expressed itself willing to be incorporated in the University by handing over the land, funds and buildings which belonged to it, and by placing itself under the complete control of the University. To facilitate this arrangement, the Worshipful Company of Drapers undertook the responsibility for the College debt of £30,000, and sums amounting in all to £200,000 were received from that Company, Sir Donald Currie, and other donors, of whom two of the most munificent were anonymous.

The Act, entitled University College London (Transfer) Act, 1905, empowering the transfer of University College, London, to the University received the Royal Assent on 11th July, 1905. Under this Act, the College and the property and trust funds of the College, except such as belong to or are held in trust for University College Hospital and the Medical School attaching thereto and the boys' school carried on by the College on the appointed day (January 1st, 1907) were transferred to the University with the intent that the College should be continued under the direct control of the University as a place of teaching and research in which wide academic culture may be secured by the variety of the subjects taught in different faculties including preliminary and intermediate medical studies.

A similar Act, entitled The King's College London (Transfer) Act, providing for the incorporation of King's College in the University received the Royal Assent in August, 1908. In this case the transfer on the appointed day (January 1st, 1910) of power, duties, and property was confined to matters connected with Faculties of the University other than the Faculty of Theology. The Council of King's College remains the Governing Body so far as the Department of Theology is concerned, which Department is by the Act constituted a School of the University.

In 1903 the Goldsmiths' Company presented to the University the Library of Economic Literature collected by Professor Foxwell, valued at £10,000, and provided the necessary Library accommodation in the University Buildings. In 1904 the Company presented to the University their Institute at New Cross, together with  $4\frac{1}{2}$  acres of unoccupied land. The College was opened under the name of Goldsmiths' College in September, 1905.

Particulars of other gifts and benefactions, and of assistance which has from time to time been given to the University by the Treasury and the London County Council, are given in the following pages.

In February 1909 the Government appointed a Royal Commission, under the chairmanship of the Right Hon. R. B. Haldane (afterwards Viscount Haldane, of Cloan), on the subject of University Education in London. with the following terms of reference :

To inquire into the working of the present organisation of the University of London, and into other facilities for advanced education (general, professional, and technical) existing in London for persons of either sex above secondary school age ; to consider what provisions should exist in the Metropolis for University teaching and research ; to make recommendations as to the relations which should in consequence subsist between the University of London, its incorporated Colleges, the Imperial College of Science and Technology, the other Schools of the University, and the various public institutions and bodies concerned ; and further to recommend as to any changes of constitution and organisation which appear desirable. In considering these matters, regard should also be had to the facilities for education and research which the Metropolis should afford for specialist and advanced students in connexion with the provision existing in other parts of the United Kingdom and of his Majesty's Dominions beyond the Seas.

The Report of the Commission was published in 1913.

TRUSTS AND BENEFACTIONS, ETC.

Trusts and Benefactions are arranged in order of date.

The list of Trusts and Benefactions given below does not include gifts to University College or King's College before their incorporation in the University or gifts to the University in respect of these colleges since their incorporation. For details of such gifts reference should be made to the Calendars of the respective Colleges.

The Brown Trust.

(Brown Animal Sanatory Institution.)

This Institution originated in a Bequest by Mr Thomas Brown, of Rosey Park Hill, Dublin, but a citizen of London, who died in December 1852, "of Twenty Thousand and upwards of Three per cent. Consolidated Government Annuities . . . and all residue of personal property . . . for the founding establishing, and upholding an Institution for investigating, studying, and without charge beyond immediate expenses, endeavouring to cure, maladies, distempers, and injuries, any Quadrupeds or Birds useful to man may be found subject to ; for and towards which purpose of founding, establishing, and upholding such Animal Sanatory Institution within a mile of either Westminster, Southwark, or Dublin . . ."

The Will provides for the appointment of a Superintendent or Professor, with residence and a salary, and for the delivery by him of five free Public Lectures annually on the business of the Institution ; and that "kindness to the animals committed to his charge shall be a general principle of the Institution."

[The particulars of the Trust are set out in the Historical Record, pp. 177-78.]

The validity of this Bequest was contested by Mr. Brown's executors and next of kin, mainly on the ground that such an Institution as Mr Brown proposed to found would not properly be a Charity ; but the Master of the Rolls decided in favour of the University (13th November, 1856). An appeal made at the instance of the University of Dublin was dismissed with Costs.

Upon an order from the Master of the Rolls, the executors in April 1858, transferred to the University a Stock Warrant for £22,600 Three per cent. Consols, and a draft for £113 8s. 9d. The fund was allowed to accumulate at interest and by re-investment of dividends until the spring of 1871 (the nineteenth year after Mr Brown's death), when the value of the Stock amounted to £33,781 14s. 11d. The Senate then proceeded to execute the Trust by establishing the Institution, drawing up a scheme of management in accordance with the Will, and appointing an administrative Committee and a Professor-Superintendent.

A question having arisen as to whether the Mortmain act would allow any part of the Trust Fund to be applied to the purchase of land, the difficulty was removed by a munificent gift to the Trust of £2,000 by Mr John Cunliffe, of Lombard Street, through the late Sir John (then Dr) Burdon Sanderson, and a further sum of £700 by Dr Sanderson himself. By means of these gifts an eligible site was purchased in Wandsworth Road and the requisite buildings forthwith erected. Subsequent gifts were a legacy of £516 left to the Institute by the late Mrs. Pappacalo, a donation of £500 by the Executors of the late Reymes Hurrell, Esq., in 1901, and a second (reversionary) gift by Mrs. Pappacalo of £661 in 1903. In addition, an order of the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, in May 1921, allotted Stocks to the nominal value of about £3,800 to the University for the benefit of the Institution, these funds forming part of the residuary estate of the late Miss F. J. Wedgwood. A further sum of £560 was afterwards received from the Wedgwood Trustees.

Neil Arnott Scholarships.

In the year 1869 Dr Neil Arnott, M.D., F.R.S., Fellow of the University from 1836-74, gave to the University £2,000 Stock for the purpose of promoting the study of Physical Science. The income of the fund, now amounting to about £120 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the Neil Arnott Scholarships in Chemistry and Physics, awarded annually on the results of the Scholarships Examination.

Gerstenberg Scholarship.

In the year 1877 Mrs Gerstenberg gave to the University a sum of 500 guineas (voted as a testimonial to her husband, the late Mr Isidor Gerstenberg, by members of the Council of Foreign Bondholders) for the purpose of promoting the study of Political Economy. The income of the fund, amounting to about £30 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the Gerstenberg Scholarship in Economics and Political Science, awarded annually on the results of the Scholarships Examination.

Gilchrist Studentships and Scholarships.

Since the year 1879 the Trustees of the Gilchrist Educational Trust have given to the University annually sums, varying in amount, for the purposes of the Gilchrist Studentships and Scholarships. Two Gilchrist Scholarships for Women, two Gilchrist Scholarships for Oriental Languages (transferred in 1917 to the School of Oriental Studies), and the Gilchrist Studentship for Women are awarded annually, and the Gilchrist Studentship in Modern Languages is awarded biennially. The Trustees also award, on the recommendation of the University Extension Board, four medals in connexion with the final examinations for the Diplomas in History, in Literature, in Economics and Social Science, and in the History of Art.

Carpenter Medal.

The Carpenter Memorial Fund was given to the University in 1881 for the purpose of awarding a Prize in memory of Dr. W. B. Carpenter, F.R.S. The Fund was allowed to accumulate until the year 1910, when it was decided to award the Carpenter Medal to the value of £20, or its pecuniary equivalent, once in three years for a Thesis of exceptional distinction in Experimental Psychology, including the Physiology of the Central Nervous System and Special Senses, presented for a Doctor's Degree (other than the Ph.D. Degree), the first award being made in 1913. In 1921 the award was changed to a Carpenter Medal, together with a money prize, of the value of £20 in all.

Rogers Prize.

By his will dated July 9th, 1879, Dr Nathaniel Rogers, who died in 1885, bequeathed £500 to the University for the purpose of awarding from time to time a "Rogers Prize" of £100 (open for competition to all the Members of the Medical Profession in Great Britain and Ireland) for an Essay or Dissertation on some Medical or Surgical subject to be named by the University.

[The extract from the Will is set out in the Historical Record, pp. 179-180.]

The Prize was last awarded in 1926.

Sherbrooke Scholarship.

In the year 1891 the Rt Hon. Robert Lowe, G.C.B., F.R.S., Viscount Sherbrooke, first Member of Parliament for the University and Fellow from 1860-92, gave to the University a sum of £1,000 to be used at the discretion of the Senate. The income of the fund, amounting to about £35 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the Sherbrooke Scholarship in Mathematics, awarded annually on the results of the Scholarships Examination.

Granville Scholarship.

In the year 1891 the Rt Hon. the Earl of Derby, K.G., F.R.S., Chancellor of the University from 1891-93, gave to the University a sum of £2,000 for the foundation of a Prize or Exhibition in memory of the late Rt Hon. Earl Granville,

K.G., F.R.S., Chancellor of the University, 1856-91. The income of the fund, now amounting to about £100 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the Granville Scholarships in Classics, awarded annually on the results of the Scholarships Examination.

Derby Scholarship.

In the year 1893 the Rt Hon. the Earl of Derby, K.G., F.R.S., Chancellor of the University from 1891-93, bequeathed to the University a sum of £2,000 to found a Prize, Exhibition or Scholarship as the Senate might determine. The income of the fund, now amounting to about £100 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the Derby Scholarship in English History, awarded annually on the results of the Scholarships Examination.

Lindley Studentship.

In the year 1900 the four children of the late Mr William Lindley gave to the University a sum of £1,000 in memory of their father. The income of the fund, now amounting to about £40 per annum, was until 1922 devoted to the emoluments of a Lindley Studentship awarded triennially for research in Physiology.

Since 1925 the Studentship is offered triennially to a student qualified to undertake research in History and will be tenable at the Institute of Historical Research.

St Dunstan's Exhibitions.

Since the year 1900 the Governors of St Dunstan's Educational Foundation have provided funds for two St Dunstan's Exhibitions for Women, awarded annually on the results of the Exhibitions Examination. From 1912 to 1920 the Governors provided funds for an additional Exhibition, tenable for three years, to be offered in connexion with the Exhibitions Examination of the University under the same conditions as those applying to the other two St Dunstan's Exhibitions, save that it will be tenable at any place of higher literary, scientific or technical education approved by the Governors, including the University of London.

In 1921 the number of Exhibitions offered was reduced to two, one tenable at the University of London only, and the other tenable under the conditions attaching to the additional Exhibition referred to above, but the value of each Exhibition has been increased to £90.

Cobden Prize.

During the period 1900-12 the Cobden Club granted triennially a Prize, entitled the Cobden Prize, of the value of £20, and a silver medal for an Essay on some subject connected with Political Economy. The Cobden Club offers two money prizes of £2 2s. each to University Extension Students attending instruction in Economic Subjects.

Treasury Grant-in-Aid.

Until the reconstitution of the University in the year 1901 all Examination Fees received by the University were paid to the Exchequer, and the Cost of Salaries, Examinations, Library and incidents was provided by an annual vote of Parliament. Representations were made to the Treasury by the University that this arrangement should cease, that an annual grant-in-aid should be voted, to be expended at the discretion of the Senate, and that in fixing the amount of the grant-in-aid regard should be had not only to the expenditure of the University as hitherto constituted, but also to the great extension of its functions under the provisions of the University of London Act.

In a Treasury Minute of the 21st February, 1901, it was agreed that the existing financial arrangements were "incompatible with the altered position of the University and somewhat derogatory to its independence," and an arrangement was made by which the University should retain the revenue from fees, and the Exchequer should defray the following expenses :—

(1) The Building occupied by the University, representing a rent of (say) ... ..	£ 2,200
(2) Contribution in lieu of rates ... ..	2,000
(3) External maintenance and repairs ... ..	500
(4) Superannuations ... ..	1,000
	£5,700

In addition, the University was to receive an annual grant-in-aid of £8,000, out of which the University would defray the cost of internal maintenance and repairs, fuel, light and water, stationery and printing, estimated for the future at £4,800, leaving a sum of £3,200 towards the cost of the salary of a Principal Officer, additional examining Clerical and other Officers, and incidental expenses.

The Treasury therefore until 1921, made a grant of £8,000 annually, and in addition they gave a special war grant towards loss of income due to the war.

The University Grants Committee, appointed to advise the Government as to the distribution of grants for University Education, raised this grant in 1921-22 to £16,000, and, in addition, granted £1,000 to the Galton Laboratory, and £2,000 to the Institute of Historical Research. In 1925 the Committee granted £18,000 to the University, to include provision for the Institute, provision for the Galton Laboratory being included in the increased grant to University College.

Gladstone Memorial Prize.

Since the year 1901 the Trustees of the Gladstone Liberal Memorial Trust have granted annually a Prize of Books to the value of £10, as a memorial to the late Rt Hon. William Ewart Gladstone. The award is made on the results of the B.Sc. Examination in Economics.

Physiological Laboratory.

In the year 1901 Sir Walter Palmer gave to the University £2,000 for the purpose of supplying scientific apparatus for a Physiological Laboratory in the University and for lectures in advanced Physiology. In 1902 Mr G. W. Palmer gave £1,000 for the same purpose. In 1904 Mr A. Palmer gave £1,000 as a contribution to the expenses of the Laboratory for the period 1904-9. Other donations amounting to £200 were received for the purpose of the Laboratory. An annual grant of £500 for the three triennial periods 1911-20 was given by the London County Council. The Senate, having decided to close the Physiological Laboratory from September 1st, 1923, repayment of the donations of £1,000 each given by Mr G. W. Palmer and Mr A. Palmer was offered to and accepted by the latter and by the executors of the former.

London County Council Grant.

In 1902 the London County Council gave an annual grant of £10,000 in aid of the teaching work of the University. This was known as the Technical Education Board Grant. The Council have at various times increased this grant, and for the triennium 1923-26 have granted an annual sum of £31,800, and have conditionally promised a further £3,000 for raising the salaries attached to Professorships and Readerships maintained by the Council. The grant provides for the maintenance of Professorships and Readerships in Economics, Engineering, Mathematics, Chemistry, Zoology, German, French, Russian, Italian, History, including the History of London, and Geography, at various Schools of the University. The remainder of the Grant is allocated to Household and Social Science at King's College for Women; Libraries; Advanced Lectures; University Extension Lectures and Tutorial Classes; the Evening School of English at King's College; Heating and Ventilating Engineering, the Evening Schools of History and Geography, the Department of Phonetics, the Department of Applied Statistics, and the Bartlett School of Architecture, at University College. The Council have also made a grant of £500 for Scandinavian Studies at University College for 1923-26. The grant for 1926-29 is not yet announced.

Mitchell Studentship and Exhibitions.

Since the year 1902 the Trustees of the Mitchell City of London Educational Foundation have provided funds for the purposes of the Mitchell Studentship. In the years 1902-19 the Trustees provided funds also for Mitchell Exhibitions.

King Edward Chair of Music.

In the year 1902 the members of Trinity College of Music, London, gave to the University a sum of £5,000 for the endowment of the King Edward Chair of Music.

Bostock and Reid Scholarships.

Since the year 1903 the Reid Trustees have provided funds for the award every fourth year of a Bostock Scholarship tenable at the London School of Medicine for Women, and annually until the year 1911 of a Reid Scholarship tenable at Bedford College for Women, awarded on the results of the Exhibitions Examination.

City Parochial Foundation Scholarship.

In the years 1903 to 1915, the Trustees of the City Parochial Foundation provided funds for a City Parochial Foundation Scholarship awarded annually on the results of the Exhibitions Examination.

George Smith Studentship.

In the year 1903 Mrs George Murray Smith and her children gave to the University a sum of £3,800 for the purpose of founding in memory of her husband, the late Mr George Smith, a Studentship and Prize of books, open to Internal Students of the University, to encourage Historical and Biographical research. The income of the fund, amounting to about £130 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the George Smith Studentship and Prize, awarded annually on the results of the B.A. Honours Examination for Internal Students.

University Library.

(1) General Library.—In the year 1871 Lord Overstone presented to the University Augustus De Morgan's Library of mathematical and astronomical books "in the hope that it may prove the first fruits of a library which shall ere long become in all respects such as the University of London ought to possess." In the same year the classical library of George Grote was bequeathed to the University, and his library was subsequently supplemented by the donation from Sir Julian Goldsmid of £1,000 for the special purpose of purchasing Greek and Latin books. In 1879 the British Association presented their Library, which consists chiefly of long sets of Journals. In 1880 Lady Shaw-Lefevre presented the library, chiefly of Russian books, collected by Sir George John Shaw-Lefevre. In 1912 Mrs R. V. Eram presented a collection of Italian books, and in the same year the Lady Welby Library of works on philosophy, etc., was presented by Sir Charles Welby to the University, conditionally on its being kept together and housed in the Central Building of the University. On May 5th, 1921, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales graciously decided to place on permanent loan in the University Library the contemporary manuscript life of the Black Prince which was presented to him by members of the University of London on the occasion of the conferment on him of the honorary degrees of Master of Commerce and Doctor of Science of the University of London. In 1921 the Yale University Press presented to the Library a valuable collection of their publications "in recognition of the sacrifices made by England in the World War and to commemorate the part played in the struggle by the eight thousand Yale graduates in the service of the Allied Governments, 1914-1918." In the same year a collection consisting of 161 scientific publications issued in Austria since the outbreak of the War was given to the Library by the Vienna Akademie der Wissenschaften in the hope that closer international relations between men of science in various countries might thereby be promoted. In 1922 the University of California presented a collection of its semi-centennial and other publications. The Preedy Memorial was founded by Mrs Preedy in 1922 in memory of her son, Lieut. John Benjamin Knowlton Preedy, M.A., who was formerly Secretary in the University Extension Department of the University of London, and who lost his life in 1917 in the Great War. A trust fund provides a sum of ten guineas annually which is expended on books on Archaeology and Art, the subjects in which Lieutenant Preedy was particularly interested. This collection also includes a number of volumes from his own library, presented by Mrs Preedy in 1924. In 1923 a physiological library of about 2,000 volumes was established as part of the University Library, to be kept together there, developed in connection therewith as a memorial to the late Dr A. D. Waller. Among other donations to the University Library in 1923 may be mentioned a collection of Parliamentary Publications between 1816 and 1900, comprising about 4,300 volumes, received from the Reform Club under certain conditions, and a collection of 72 volumes on Wycliffe, Hus, and the Wycliffite Movement, presented by Miss D. G. Matthew, a daughter of Dr Frederic David Matthew, the founder of the Wycliffe Society. The University Library has also received valuable donations from the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Secretary of State for India, the Trustees of the British Museum, the Smithsonian Institution and the Library of Congress at Washington, the French Minister of Public Instruction, the late Earl Granville, the late Right Hon. Robert Lowe (Viscount Sherbrooke), the late Prince d'Essling, the late Lord Avebury, the late Earl of Crawford, the Earl of Rosebery and Midlothian, Professor M. S. Pembrey, Sir E. Cooper Perry, and Sir Holburt J. Waring, as well as gifts of books from the libraries of Sir Richard Quain and Dr James Martineau. In addition a large collection of valuable books and important sets of periodical publications have been taken over from the London Institution Library and the Educational Library formerly at South Kensington.

(2) Goldsmiths' Library of Economic Literature.—In the year 1903 the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths presented to the University Professor Foxwell's library of Economic Literature which they had purchased for £10,000. The Company have since provided sums amounting to over £7,400 for the purposes of the Library. Valuable gifts of books have been received from Dr Cunningham, Mr Henry Higgs, Mr and Mrs Sidney Webb, the late Mme J. B. André Godin, Sir Walter Prideaux, and Lord Aldenham.

The following are the conditions upon which the Goldsmiths' Library of Economic Literature was presented by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths to the University of London:—

(1) The Library and pamphlets to be always kept together at the University in one room to be appropriated for that purpose. The term "University" is defined to mean "the Central Building of the University." (2) The Library to be styled "The Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature." (3) A plate bearing an inscription to record the circumstances under which the Library was acquired by the Company and presented by them to the University, to be placed and always retained in a conspicuous part of the room. (4) The books to be accessible to the public under proper regulations, but certain days may be reserved for the exclusive admission of students and persons nominated by the Goldsmiths' Company. (5) The room which is devoted to the Library to contain the necessary conveniences for those who desire to consult works or to study. (6) The removal of any book or pamphlet from the Library to be strictly prohibited (except under certain conditions and safeguards approved by the Goldsmiths' Company). (7) The Library to be at all times kept insured by the University in the full value thereof. (8) No variation of the terms and conditions of this agreement to be made or permitted by the University of London without the consent of the Goldsmiths' Company.

(3) Music Library.—Valuable donations of music scores and books on music were made in 1925 by the Royal College of Music and Mrs L. H. Bennett, and in the same year the Rev G. F. Handel Elvey placed on permanent loan in the University Library the collection of music formed by his father, the late Sir George Elvey. In 1926 the Æolian Company presented a Steck "Pianola" Piano, and a collection of about 400 pianola rolls.

Goldsmiths' College.

The Goldsmiths' Company in 1905, presented to the University their Institute at New Cross, together with 4½ acres of unoccupied land, valued at £100,000, to be held "for such Charitable uses as the University shall with the consent of the Goldsmiths Company from time to time or at any time by Deed appoint and subject to such appointment and so far as any such appointment shall not extend then for the extension and diffusion of knowledge in connection with and under the control of the University."

[The Indenture is set out in the Historical Record, p. 184.]

The Company further gave a sum of £10,000 in the Session 1904-5 and £5,000 in each of the following four years to 1912 for the maintenance of the Institute, which after its transfer to the University was named Goldsmiths' College. In addition to these grants, the Company have given £1,558 towards sanitary improvements in the buildings and £8,000 towards new buildings, and (in 1912) provided two hostels for Students attending the Training College Department. In 1916 the Company made a grant of £250 towards a deficit in the Kitchen Account.

Martin White Sociology Fund.

Mr J. Martin White, during 1904-5, 1905-6 and 1906-7, gave sums amounting to over £2,250 for the temporary endowment of Teacherships in Sociology, including Ethnology, to be expended during the Sessions 1904-5, 1905-6 and 1906-7.

By Indenture dated September 21st, 1907, Mr Martin White gave the sum of £10,000 for the foundation of a permanent Chair in Sociology. He also endowed a second Chair of Sociology, in the first instance for a period of five years, and subsequently continued it under certain conditions to 29th July, 1930.

[The particulars of the trust deeds are set out in the Historical Record, pp. 185-6.]

Mr Martin White also provided for the Sessions 1907-8 to 1911-12 inclusive a sum of £120 a year for the stipend of a University Lecturer in Ethnology, and has given further sums for Bursaries and Scholarships in Sociology.

Francis Galton Benefaction.

The late Sir Francis Galton, F.R.S., gave to the University £500 a year for the promotion of the Study of National Eugenics during the six sessions 1904-5 to 1911-12, and on his death in January 1911 left the residue of his estate, amounting to about £40,000, to the University for the establishment and endowment of a Professorship to be known as "The Galton Professorship of Eugenics" with a laboratory or office and library attached thereto. The duty of the Professor shall be "to pursue the study and further the knowledge of National Eugenics that is of the agencies under social control that may improve or impair the racial faculties of future generations physically and mentally."

Chair of Protozoology.

In the year 1905 the Colonial Office granted to the University a sum of £750 a year for five years for the purpose of establishing a Chair of Protozoology. The Grant was renewed in 1911, for a further period of five years. Of this sum £200 a year was contributed by the Rhodes Trustees, £50 by the Colonial Office out of the Tropical Diseases Research Fund, and £500 represents the moiety of a grant originally made from the Tropical Diseases Research Fund to the Royal Society for research work, and surrendered by that Society for the purpose of the Chair of Protozoology in the University. The chair became vacant in 1915, by the death of Professor E. A. Minchin, F.R.S., and the grant from the Colonial Office has not been continued.

Chadwick Lectures.

In 1907 the Chadwick Trustees, who administer a fund bequeathed for certain purposes by the late Sir Edwin Chadwick, K.C.B., granted to the University a sum of £100 per annum for five years for the provision of courses of lectures on subjects relating to Sanitary Science, especially directed to recent advances in Hygiene and Municipal Engineering.

Creighton Fund.

In the year 1907 the Creighton Committee transferred to the University a sum of £666 (including a donation of £300 from Mrs Creighton) to be used as the nucleus for the permanent endowment of a Lectureship or Professorship of History in memory of the late Rt Rev. Mandell Creighton, Bishop of London. The fund, since its establishment, has accumulated, by additional donations and interest, to about £700. The present income of the fund, amounting to about £30 per annum, is devoted in part to the emoluments of the Creighton Lecturer, appointed annually by the Senate, the balance being used to augment the capital of the fund.

Ouseley Memorial Scholarships.

To perpetuate the memory of the late Col. J. W. J. Ouseley, his daughters, the Misses Ouseley, by indenture dated July 31st, 1891, gave to the Imperial Institute a sum of about £5,500 upon trust that it should be applied for the encouragement of the study of Arabic, Persian, Hindustani and other Oriental languages in this country.

[Particulars of the Trust are set out in the Historical Record, pp. 189-90.]

By an order of the Court dated the 21st July, 1908, the endowment was transferred to the University, to be held by it upon the trusts of the Indenture, but so that the Governing body for the time being of the said University shall from time to time be at liberty to make such regulations as they shall in their discretion think fit and proper with regard to the manner in which and the conditions upon which the Scholarships provided under the trusts of the said Indenture and in future to be designated the Ouseley Memorial Scholarships may be competed for awarded and held.

In exercise of the powers conferred upon them by the above-mentioned order of the Court, the Senate, with the consent and approval of the donors, by Minute 3516 of July 13th, 1910, restricted the award of the Scholarships to persons of European origin. The income of the fund, amounting to about £250 per annum, is devoted to the emoluments of the Ouseley Memorial Scholarships.

Charles Graham Medical Research Fund.

On November 13th, 1909, Dr Charles Graham, sometime Professor of Chemical Technology at University College, died, and by his will left the residue of his estate, amounting to about £38,628, to be increased by a sum of £3,000 3¼ per cent. India Stock on the termination of the life of an annuitant, to the University for "The Charles Graham Medical Research Fund," the income to be applied in aid of any approved research by any Teacher or Student of the School of Advanced Medical Studies connected with the University College Hospital which shall have for its object the prevention cure or alleviation of human disease and suffering."

The Will, which gives the Senate power to vary the Trusts after due consultation with the School Committee, provides for the appointment of a "Graham Scholar of Pathology," at a remuneration not exceeding £200 a year for two years to carry on pathological research, for grants in aid of research carried out by Teachers or Students, and for the award of a gold medal.

The Senate, in pursuance of their powers under the will, varied the trusts by deed poll dated January 26th, 1912, to provide for the appointment of a Director to supervise, control, and direct the researches in the laboratories, and to advise Teachers and Students with regard to the conduct of such researches.

[Particulars of the Will and Deed Poll are set out in the Historical Record, pp. 190-92.]

The Trust was again varied in June 1920 to increase the remuneration of the scholar to not more than £400, and again in January 1924 to allow of an alteration in the administration of the fund.

Dixon Fund.

Mr Henry Dixon, by his will dated March 17th, 1909, left to the University £10,000 of 3 per cent. India Stock, Upon Trust to invest the same with power from time to time to vary such investment and to apply the income for the purposes of scientific investigation in any matter the authority of the University shall think fit. . . .

The income from the bequest amounts to about £325.

The Churton Collins Prize.

In February, 1910, the Committee, which had been formed for the purpose of founding a memorial to the late Professor Churton Collins, gave to the University a sum of £100, to be invested, and the income applied in founding and maintaining a prize or scholarship to be given annually or otherwise to University Extension students or others for proficiency in English Literature and (or) Ancient Classical Literature, each and all such prizes and scholarships to be called and known always as the Churton Collins Prize or Scholarship.

The Churton Collins Prize is awarded annually in connexion with the final examination for the Diploma in Literature, on the recommendation of the University Extension Board, and consists of books to the value of about £4.

The Semon Lecture Trust.

Sir Felix Semon, K.C.V.O., by indenture dated May 22nd, 1911, gave to the University for the establishment of a Lecture-ship or Medal for Laryngology, the sum of £1,040 which had been collected by the subscriptions of the British Laryngologists and of a number of Medical and other friends of Sir Felix Semon both in the United Kingdom and elsewhere and presented to him as a testimonial and in recognition of his services to the Science and Practice of Laryngology and allied subjects.

[Particulars of the Trust are set out in the Historical Record, pp. 192-94.]

The income from the fund is now about £45.

Robert Davies Roberts Memorial Scholarships.

Two Scholarships have been established to commemorate the services rendered by Dr. R. D. Roberts (formerly Registrar of the University Extension Board) to University Extension during twenty-five years until the time of his death in 1911. The Scholarships are derived from a sum entrusted to the Gilchrist Trustees by the Committee of the R. D. Roberts Memorial Fund, and the Trustees will, for the present, offer two Scholarships annually, one in connexion with the scheme of the University for Diplomas in the Humanities, and one in connexion with University Extension Summer Meetings.

The former, which is of the value of £12, is awarded annually by the Trustees on the recommendation of the Senate to a student who has been working for two years under the Diploma scheme, and is given for the following subjects in rotation : History, Literature, Economics and Social Science, and History of Art.

Paul Philip Reitlinger Prize.

In the year 1912 Mr Albert Reitlinger provided funds for the foundation of a Prize entitled the Paul Philip Reitlinger Prize in memory of his son, a student of Middlesex Hospital Medical School in the University, who died on December 3rd, 1911. The Prize is of the value of £30 and is awarded for the best Essay (in the even-numbered years) embodying the result of some research work on a medical subject, or (in the odd-numbered years) on a literary, historical or philosophical subject of contemporary interest to be prescribed by the University. The Trust Deed is as follows :

WHEREAS Mr. Albert Reitlinger (hereinafter called the donor) on 3 May 1912 gave to the University of London £1,400 of 3 per cent. India Stock, together with an additional sum of £20 for the purpose of founding a Prize as a memorial of the donor's son Paul Philip Reitlinger and laid down the following conditions in respect of this donation :

(i) That the capital sum (apart from the sum of £20 above referred to) be kept intact for the permanent endowment of a Prize in general accordance with the Regulations set forth in the Schedule annexed to this Scheme.

(ii) That the interest of the Fund be used for the emoluments of the Prize and also within the discretion of the University for purposes in connection therewith such as payment of Examiners, advertisement, publication of essays, administration, etc.

(iii) That the Fund always be used for the purposes of the above-mentioned Prize, and that the Fund be not re-invested in the whole or part in any other security without the approval of the Public Trustees for the time being—

And the donor further expressed the wish that the Prize should always be worth £30 at least to the winner unless by reason of the equal merit of candidates it were decided to divide the emoluments of the Prize in any year: and WHEREAS the aforesaid donation was accepted by the Senate of the University of London under the conditions set forth above: WHEREAS further the conditions hereinbefore referred to do not provide for the disposal of the interest of the Fund in any year in which the Prize has not been awarded: THE FOLLOWING TRUST PROVISIONS settled and proposed by the donor have been accepted by the University of London and the Seal of the University has been affixed thereto :

(1) The sum of £1,400 of 3 per cent. India Stock (hereinafter called the Fund) given by the donor to the University of London shall be applied for the endowment of a Prize to be called the Paul Philip Reitlinger Prize and for the other purposes set forth in these Trust Provisions.

(2) The Fund shall not be re-invested in whole or part in any other security without the approval of the Public Trustee for the time being.

(3) The income of the Fund shall be applied as follows :

(i) For the annual award of a Prize of the value of not less than £30 on 3 December in each year (or, if 3 December falls on a Sunday on the following day, viz., 4 December), provided that in cases where there are two candidates of equal merit the Prize shall be divided between such candidates.

(ii) For the payment to the University for the purposes of administration of an amount not greater than 5 per cent. of the total income in each year.

(iii) For the payment of Examiners and advertisements in connection with the Prize and for the publication of essays for which the Prize has been awarded as the University may see fit.

(iv) For the payment on 3 Dec. (or if 3 Dec. falls on a Sunday on the following day, viz., 4 Dec.) in any year in which by reason of there being no candidate or no candidate of sufficient merit of the sum of £30 to Middlesex Hospital Medical School, such gift to be called "Gift in memory of Paul Philip Reitlinger from the Paul Philip Reitlinger Fund of the University of London."

(v) For the payment of the cost of the present Trust Deed.

(vi) For the payment to Middlesex Hospital Medical School of any accumulation of the Fund not applied to the purposes set forth above as and when such accumulation shall amount to the sum of £25.

Ratan Tata Fund.

In the year 1912 the late Sir Ratan Tata, of Bombay, offered to provide a sum of £1,400 a year for a period of three years, to promote the study and further the knowledge of the principles and methods of preventing and relieving destitution and poverty, and a fund has been established for the purpose, entitled the "Ratan Tata Fund." In 1917, Sir Ratan Tata promised a further sum of £1,400 a year for the five years 1917-22, the benefaction being vested in the University on behalf of the Ratan Tata Department of Social Science and Administration in the London School of Economics and Political Science. The Ratan Tata Trustees have continued the grant for a further period of five years, and it is now administered solely by the London School of Economics.

Franks Studentship in Archæology.

In 1912 the Franks Studentship in Archæology was founded by the Society of Antiquaries of London in memory of Sir A. Wollaston Franks, K.C.B., sometime President of the Society of Antiquaries, in order to promote in the University of London the study of the Archæology of the British Isles in its comparative aspects. The Studentship is awarded triennially.

Avebury Bequest.

The late Lord Avebury, Vice-Chancellor from 1372 to 1890, and Member of Parliament for the University from 1880 to 1900, who died on May 28th, 1913, bequeathed to the University a legacy as follows :—

I give to the Senate of the University of London a legacy of one thousand pounds, the receipt of the Treasurer or other qualified officer for the time being to be a sufficient discharge to my executors, and I suggest that the said legacy or some part thereof be applied in founding a mathematical or astronomical prize in memory of my father the late Sir John William Lubbock, the first Vice-Chancellor of the said University. [Subject to duty.]

Of the income of the bequest, which is now about £40, £30 is appropriated to provide the emoluments of the Sir John William Lubbock Memorial Prize in Mathematics, and the balance is being accumulated for a Prize in Astronomy.

Keddey Fletcher-Warr Studentships.

In the year 1914 Mrs Keddey Ray Fletcher transferred to the University about 33 acres of land at Loughton for the purpose of establishing one or more Post-Graduate Research Studentships in Science to be named the "Keddey Fletcher-Warr Studentships." The property was sold, and the income from the fund is now about £400. The Trust Deed is as follows :

THIS INDENTURE made the twenty-fourth day of September One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fourteen Between Frances Du Puy Fletcher of the Manor House Abbots Ann in the County of Hants Widow (hereinafter called "the Foundress") of the one part and The University of London (hereinafter called "the University") of the other part Whereas the Foundress is desirous of establishing in connection with the University one or more Post Graduate Research Studentships to be named the Keddey Fletcher-Warr Studentships and Whereas in pursuance of her said desire by an Indenture bearing even date with but executed before these presents and made between Henry Owen the Foundress and Newson Littlewood Garrat of the first part the Foundress of the second part and the University of the third part the Foundress has conveyed or caused to be conveyed to the University for an estate of fee simple in possession a freehold messuage and hereditaments known as "Goldings" situate at Golding's Hill Loughton in the County of Essex and containing 32½ acres or thereabouts to the intent that the same or the proceeds of sale thereof (if and when sold) and the investments for the time being representing such proceeds may be held by the University Upon the trusts and subject to the powers and provisions hereinafter declared and contained concerning the same now this Indenture Witnesseth that it is hereby Agreed and Declared as follows :

1. The University may either retain the said freehold messuage and premises unsold or may sell the same or any part or parts thereof as the University in their absolute discretion may think fit: and until the said messuage and premises shall be sold the University may manage the same with all the powers in that behalf of absolute owners including power to cut timber and underwood for sale repairs or otherwise and to repair and insure houses and buildings and to make allowances to and arrangements with tenants and others and to accept surrenders of leases and tenancies.

2. The University may demise the said message and premises or any part or parts thereof for any term of years not exceeding 21 years to take effect in possession or within six calendar months from the date of the lease with or without taking a fine or premium and upon such terms and conditions in all respects as they shall think fit but so that any sum received as a fine or premium shall be applied as if the same were proceeds of a sale made under the power in that behalf hereinbefore contained and so that in case any lease shall be granted on the surrender or determination of a then existing or prior lease or tenancy the value of the interest so surrendered or the tenant right or claim for compensation for improvements or otherwise in respect of such tenancy may be taken into account in fixing the rent and terms of the new lease.

3. The University shall stand seised and possessed of the said message and premises and the proceeds of sale thereof and the investments for the time being representing the same (all of which are hereinafter included in the expression "the Trust Estate") Upon trust to apply (subject as mentioned in the next succeeding clause hereof) the income thereof in perpetuity in manner hereinafter mentioned for the establishment and maintenance of one or more studentships to be called the Keddey Fletcher-Warr Studentships for the promotion of Postgraduate Research in connection with the University.

4. The University shall out of the income of the Trust Estate in the first place pay all costs and expenses of or incidental to the negotiation preparation and execution of the said Indenture of even date herewith and of these presents and shall also from time to time pay thereout the cost of repairs and insurance and all other usual outgoings of the Trust Estate and all costs charges and expenses of or incidental to the management of the Trust Estate or the administration of the trusts of these presents or the exercise of any power herein contained.

5. Subject to the last preceding clause the said income shall be applied in establishing and maintaining one or more Studentships of the annual value of not less than £200 each or such other annual value as the Senate of the University shall from time to time determine for the purpose of promoting Postgraduate Research: such Studentships to be named the Keddey Fletcher-Warr Studentships and to be awarded in the manner and held upon the conditions hereinafter mentioned that is to say:

(a) Each such Studentship shall be open equally to men and women of European descent who are graduates of some British University or have passed the examinations necessary to qualify them for the degree of some British University but other things being equal preference shall be given to a graduate of the University.

(b) The Students shall be selected by a Board (hereinafter referred to as "the Board") consisting of the Principal for the time being of the University who shall be Chairman (ex officio) of the Board and in addition of three men and three women the whole of the Board to be from time to time appointed for this purpose by the Senate of the University and one at least of the men so appointed shall be a Fellow of the Royal Society.

(c) Each Studentship shall if the circumstances permit be tenable for a period of three years (unless determined by the Board under the power in that behalf hereinafter contained) but any Student may be re-elected for such further period or periods as the Board may from time to time in their absolute discretion think fit.

The Foundress shall have the right to nominate the First Student subject to the approval of the Board.

(d) Each such Studentship shall be awarded to the candidate of most merit whether in respect of attainments or promise (of which the Board shall be the judge) but in case of equality of merit preference may be given to a student of small or no private means,

(e) Each Student shall be required to devote himself or herself to research either in the British Isles or elsewhere in a place approved by the Board. The subject or subjects of such research shall be such as are within the scope of the Faculty of Science of the University or of any other University which may from time to time be approved for this purpose by the Board.

(f) The University shall by their Senate make regulations from time to time for the due administration of the Trusts of these presents and may in like manner and for the conduct of the business of the Board at any time revoke or alter any regulations under this Clause or make new regulations in place thereof, but all such regulations shall so far as possible be in accordance with the principles hereby laid down.

(g) Every matter or thing hereby required to be determined or done by the Board may be determined or done by a majority of the members of the Board present at any meeting thereof and voting on the question. There shall be a quorum of the Board when not less than three members thereof are present at a meeting. In case of equality of votes the Chairman shall have a second or casting vote.

(h) Any person disputing the decision of the University or the Board upon any question arising under this deed may at the discretion of the Senate be disqualified from any benefits thereunder.

6. The University may at any time and from time to time set apart as a reserve fund the whole or any part of any surplus income produced by the Trust Estate in any year over and above what is required to meet any outgoings costs and expenses payable under the provision in that behalf hereinbefore contained and to keep down the current payments on the Studentships and may invest any sums so set apart and also (if and when so thought fit) the resulting income thereof in the name of the University with power at any time to vary any of such investments.

7. The University may at any time sell any investment representing capital or income of the Reserve Fund and may apply the proceeds of such sale and may also at any time apply any other moneys forming part of the capital or income of the Reserve Fund as though the same were income produced by the Trust Estate during the then current year.

Loch Exhibitions.

In the year 1915 an anonymous donation of £1,250 was made to the University, the interest from which is to be devoted to Exhibitions known as Loch Exhibitions to enable a student to pursue the Certificate course in the Department of Social Science and Administration at the London School of Economics. The two Loch Exhibitions (value £24 each), are so named at the wish of the donor in recognition of the services rendered by Sir Charles S. Loch to sociological study and the understanding of social problems.

Zaharoff Chair of Aviation.

In 1917 Sir Basil Zaharoff, G.B.E., placed the sum of £25,000 at the disposal of the Government for the purpose of founding a Chair in Aeronautics. The Government transferred this sum to the University, which established a Chair of Aviation bearing his name.

William Henry Hudson Memorial Prize.

A Prize in memory of the late Mr William Henry Hudson, Lecturer in Literature to the University Extension Board, 1900-18, has been founded by means of a fund placed at the disposal of the University for this purpose by a Committee representative of the chief Centres at which Mr Hudson worked. This Prize is awarded annually for advanced work in connexion with the lectures on Literature given under the auspices of the Board, and consists of books to the value of £6.

The Stern Scholarship.

In the year 1918 Sir Edward Stern gave £2,000 to found a Scholarship for undergraduates of British Nationality who have passed the Intermediate Examination in Commerce and are working for the B.Com. Degree.

Cassel Benefaction.

Sir Ernest Cassel gave in 1918 a sum of £170,000 for the endowment of teaching for the new Degree of Bachelor of Commerce. Of this, £150,000 is for the establishment of Cassel Professorships, Readerships and Lectureships; £15,000 for the provision of teaching of Modern Languages; and £5,000 for the provision of Scholarships. The Professorships, etc., are tenable at the London School of Economics.

Commerce Degrees.

A sum of over £140,000 was given by subscribers in the City and elsewhere in 1918 for the promotion of the Scheme for Degrees in Commerce. This fund has been allocated by the General Committee for Degrees in Commerce, who have given £75,000 to the University for the provision of Buildings and Equipment at the London School of Economics; and £50,000 for the endowment of a Commerce Degree Bureau, whose purpose is to assist students working mainly by themselves, and to provide information in connexion with the requirements of employers, of Graduates in Commerce, and of students reading for the Degree. A further sum has been allocated to the provision of commercial literature and libraries.

The William Julius Mickle Fellowship Bequest

In the year 1919, Dr William Julius Mickle, F.R.C.P., resident in Canada since 1915, formerly a member of the Faculty of Medicine and a Recognised Teacher in Mental Diseases at University College and Middlesex Hospital

Medical School, bequeathed £5,133 (or about the equivalent of 25,000 dollars of money of Canada) to establish a Fellowship in honour and named after my great grandfather, William Julius Mickle, the poet; such Fellowship to be named in perpetuity "The William Julius Mickle Fellowship"; the net income of the said principal sum of money, and of it if and when increased as hereinafter provided, to be awarded annually, with the exceptions mentioned hereinafter, to the person who, resident in London, and a graduate of the said University, has, in the opinion of the governing body of the said University, done most to advance medical art or science within the preceding five years, and has therein shown conspicuous merit. If in any year the Fellowship is not awarded owing to the absence of such conspicuous and sufficient merit (in the opinion of the said governing body) on the part of persons otherwise eligible for the Fellowship, or for any other reason, then the net income for that year of the principal sum or capital fund of "The William Julius Mickle Fellowship" shall be added to that principal sum and be invested so as to form an addition to and augment the principal sum of the said Fellowship. . . .

The income from the Endowment is about £300.

Westminster Abbey Service Prize.

In 1920 the Westminster Abbey Service Committee provided a capital sum of £50 for the annual award of a Prize for Religious Knowledge at the General School Examination held at Midsummer each year. Only those pupils are eligible who take the Examination at a School within the statutory radius of thirty miles from the University's Central Offices. The Prize consists of books to the value of £2.

The Dunn Benefaction.

Sir William Dunn, Bart., by his Will proved in 1913, bequeathed to the University a sum of £2,000 for the proposed Institute in Medical Sciences. The project for the establishment of the Institute fell through and the University thus lost its legal right to the legacy; but in 1920 the Executors and Trustees (the Directors of the Commercial Union Assurance Company), on the initiative of Sir Jeremiah Colman, Bart., granted the University £2,000 from the residue of Sir William Dunn's Estate on the understanding that it should be devoted to "one of the subjects which would have been embraced by the Institute of Medical Sciences."

The Income arising from the Bequest is applied to Exhibitions in Anatomy and Physiology awarded in connection with the Second Examination for Medical Degrees, Part II. Until further notice one exhibition of the value of £50 will be awarded annually in each of the subjects mentioned.

Hughes Bequest.

Under the Will of Mr Thomas Smythe Hughes, who died in 1919, the University received a bequest for the encouragement of Original Medical Research as follows:

I THOMAS SMYTHE HUGHES of 16 Bedford Place Russell Square in the County of London Gentleman hereby revoke all Wills and testamentary disposition heretofore made by me and declare this to be my last Will I APPOINT the Public Trustee to be SOLE EXECUTOR of this my Will and I devise and bequeath all my property wheresoever real and personal unto the Public Trustee upon trust to realise the same and out of the proceeds thereof to pay my debts and funeral and testamentary expenses and to hold the residue thereof upon trust to institute a scholarship or scholarships at the University of London for the encouragement of original medical research or if for any reason it shall be found impossible or in the opinion of the Trustee undesirable to institute such scholarships then to hold the same upon trust for the University of London to be used for the encouragement of original medical research.

On realisation the capital sum amounted to, roughly, £2,600, and produces an annual income of about £150. Grants from the Fund will be made annually by the Senate to those already engaged in original medical research, or one or more annual Scholarships in original medical research will be awarded as may be determined from time to time.

Institute of Historical Research.

The Institute of Historical Research was founded as the result of an Appeal by the University in 1920 which raised a sum of £24,000, of which £20,000 was provided by an anonymous donor for the erection and equipment of a temporary building upon a plot of ground in Malet Street.

The appeal was based upon the unique advantages of the University of London as a centre for specialisation in some of the most important branches of historical, political and legal science, since the original materials for such studies are to a large extent concentrated in the capital of the Empire, in Libraries and Archives maintained from public funds, accessible to post-graduate students.

The Institute is managed by a special Committee appointed annually by the Senate, and consisting, in addition to members of the Senate and Teachers of the University, of distinguished representatives of historical studies in other Universities Learned Societies, and Government Departments.

The Institute was opened in July 1921, and has received a considerable number of valuable publications from the Home, Overseas, and Foreign Governments, the British Museum, the Royal Historical Society, the Navy Records Society, and other bodies and individuals at home and abroad. The Library now consists of over 21,000 volumes and pamphlets.

Grants from County Councils and County Borough Councils

In 1921 the University approached various Councils and Borough Councils of the Home Counties for grant-aid towards the cost of the instruction which is given at Colleges and Schools of the University in Arts, Science, Engineering, and Economics to students from those Counties, and all the Home Counties have now recognised their obligation to the University in this respect. The County Borough of West Ham led the way in 1921 with a grant of £10 per student domiciled in West Ham, and in 1922 grants were made by Croydon, Essex, Kent, Middlesex, and Surrey. In 1923 East Ham and Southend were added to the list; in 1924 Hertfordshire; and in 1925 Buckinghamshire. The Councils and Borough Councils have renewed, and in many cases increased their grants since they were first made, and for 1926-27 they are as follows:—Buckinghamshire, £100; Essex, £500; Hertfordshire, £500; Kent, £2,500; Middlesex, £5,000; Surrey, £2,500; Croydon, £500; Southend, £200; East Ham, £100; and West Ham, £10 for each full-time Day student from West Ham.

Cutlers' Company Scholarships.

In the years 1922-24 the Worshipful Company of Cutlers offered five Scholarships of the value of £90 a year in memory of Captain Francis George Boot, a Past Master and benefactor of the Company.

John Benjamin Knowlton Preedy Memorial.

In July 1922 Mrs Preedy gave £300 3½ per cent. Conversion Loan to the University, the annual interest to be applied to the purchase of some standard works on archæology and art to be kept in the University Library in memory of her son, John Benjamin Knowlton Preedy, M.A., who served prior to the war as Secretary in the University Extension Department, and who lost his life in battle in 1917.

Arthur Thomas Simmons Prizes.

In 1923 Teachers and other friends of the late Arthur Thomas Simmons provided a fund for the establishment of two Prizes in Geography to be awarded in connexion with that subject at the General School Examination held at Midsummer each year, as a memorial of his work as Inspector of Schools for the University for seventeen years, from 1904 to 1921. Each prize consists of books to the value of about £2.

Geoffrey E. Duveen Lectureship in Otology.

Mr Geoffrey E. Duveen gave, in 1923, £10,000 to found a Lectureship in Otology. The Trust Deed is as follows:

THIS INDENTURE made the twelfth day of March One thousand nine hundred and twenty-four between Geoffrey Edgar Duveen of 40, Park Lane in the County of London (hereinafter called "the Founder") of the one part and The University of London (hereinafter called "the University") of the other part whereas the Founder has transferred to the University the investments set forth in the Schedule hereto to the intent that the same shall be held upon the trust hereinafter declared now this Indenture witnesseth and it is hereby declared as follows:

1. The University shall either retain the said investments or sell the same or any of them or any part thereof and reinvest the proceeds thereof in any investments authorised by law with power from time to time to change the same or any of them for others of a like nature and shall stand possessed of the said investments specified in the said Schedule and the investments from time to time representing the same (all of which are hereinafter included in the expression "the Trust Funds") upon and with and subject to the trusts powers and provisions hereinafter declared and contained.

2. The annual net income of the Trust Funds after providing for such administrative or other expenses and outgoings as the University in its uncontrolled discretion may incur in connection with the Lectureship in Otology hereinafter mentioned shall provide and be applied in the payment of the stipend of a Lecturer on the principles and practice of Otology in the University of London the Lectureship to be known as "The Geoffrey E. Duveen Lectureship in Otology."

3. Subject as hereinafter mentioned the Lecturer shall be selected and appointed upon such conditions as to the discharge of his duties and upon such terms and for such period and generally in such manner as the University may from time to time determine in accordance as near as may be with the procedure usually adopted for the appointment of Professors and Readers in the University of London.

4. The first holder of the said Lectureship shall be Mr. Richard Lake Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of England who at the present time is Surgeon in the Ear Nose and Throat Department at University College Hospital in Gower Street London and he shall hold the said Lectureship for the period of five years from the first day of January One thousand nine hundred and twenty-four if he shall so long live or until he shall within such period desire to retire from the discharge of the duties of the said Lectureship or in the opinion of the Founder and the University during the lifetime of the Founder and subsequently in the opinion of the University shall be deemed to be incapable or unfit by reasons of health or otherwise to discharge the said duties. As Lecturer he may be required to deliver not more than twelve Lectures in Otology during each Academical year either in the Medical School of University College Hospital or elsewhere in London as the Senate may direct.

5. The University may at any time or times (but during the lifetime of the Founder only after his consent in writing shall be first had and obtained) vary the trusts hereinbefore declared concerning the said Trust Funds in such manner as the University may think desirable for better carrying out the study and promotion of the science and art of Otology in all or any of its branches and which shall have for its objects the prevention cure or alleviation of diseases or affections of the human ear provided that in any such case the name of "Geoffrey E. Duveen" shall be retained and preserved in connection with the said trusts.

Metcalf Scholarship and Studentship for Women.

By the Will of Agnes Edith Metcalfe, B.Sc. (Lond.), who died in 1923, the University is her residuary legatee under the following clause :

I give all my property not otherwise disposed of by this my Will or any Codicil hereto subject to and after payment of my funeral and testamentary expenses and debts and the legacies and annuities bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil hereto and the duty on any Legacies or annuities bequeathed free of duty to the University of London to be applied by the Senate of the said University to the encouragement of the study of Social Economics and Industrial conditions and Problems arising out of such conditions in manner (as nearly as they may find to be possible as that set out in the Memorandum dated the same day as this my Will and headed University of London—Metcalf Scholarship and Studentship for Women.”

Of the funds received by the University, one-half is to found a “Metcalf Scholarship” tenable for two years at the London School of Economics, to be awarded annually to a woman student who has passed the Intermediate Examination in Economics and is working for the B.Sc. (Econ.) Degree; and one-half is to found a “Metcalf Studentship,” tenable at the London School of Economics, to be awarded annually to a woman Graduate of a University in the United Kingdom for the purpose of research on some social, economic, or industrial problem, preferably a problem bearing upon the welfare of women.

The Bequest is subject to certain annuities, and, until the full amount is received the Will provides that the Scholarship should be awarded biennially instead of annually, the amount devoted to the Scholarship being one-half of that devoted to the Studentship during that period.

Sir Julian Corbett Prize.

In 1924, Mr. Herbert E. Corbett gave a sum of £500 to found a “Sir Julian Corbett Prize for Research in Modern Naval History,” in memory of his brother, who was an original member of the Committee appointed in 1920 to raise funds to found the Institute of Historical Research and was on the Committee of the Institute till his death.

The Deed of Gift is as follows :

THIS INDENTURE made the Twenty-third day of June One thousand Nine hundred and Twenty-four BETWEEN HERBERT EDWIN CORBETT of 17 Gracechurch Street in the City of London Gentleman (hereinafter called “the Founder”) of the one one part and THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON (hereinafter called “the University”) of the other part WHEREAS the Founder has transferred to the University the sum of Five hundred pounds (which sum is hereinafter described as the Trust Fund) to the intent that the Fund shall be held upon the trusts hereinafter declared NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH and it is hereby agreed as follows :

1. THE UNIVERSITY shall invest the Trust Fund in any investments authorised by law for Trust Funds with power from time to time to change the same or any of them for others of a like nature and shall stand possessed of the said investments upon and with and subject to the trusts powers and provisions hereinafter declared and contained.

2. The annual net income of the Trust Fund after providing for administrative or other expenses and outgoings shall provide and be applied in payment of a Prize for Research in Modern Naval History such Prize to be known as the Julian Corbett Prize for Research in Modern Naval History.

3. THE Prize shall be awarded by the Senate on the recommendation of the Institute of Historical Research Committee under the Regulations contained in the Schedule hereto.

4. THE Regulations for the Prize may be varied from time to time by the Senate on the recommendation of the Institute of Historical Research Committee (but during the lifetime of the Founder only after his consent in writing shall first have been obtained) in any way the University may think desirable for better carrying out research in Modern Naval History but so that the name of Julian Corbett shall always be retained and preserved in connection with the Prize.

5. If at any Competition no Award is made the University may on the recommendation of the Institute of Historical Research Committee add the amount of the award to the capital of the Fund or may apply it to any of the following purposes: Increasing the value of the Prize, awarding a second prize to a deserving candidate, providing for the expense of publishing works submitted, purchasing for the Institute of Historical Research books or equipment necessary for research in modern naval history or encouraging by any other means research in that subject at the Institute of Historical Research. IN WITNESS whereof the Founder has hereunto affixed his hand and seal and the University has caused its Common Seal to be affixed the day and year first above written.

THE SCHEDULE above referred to.

Regulations for the JULIAN CORBETT PRIZE for Research in Modern Naval History.

(a) A Prize known as the Julian Corbett Prize for Research in Modern Naval History, will be awarded by the Senate on the recommendation of the Institute of Historical Research Committee for work based on original (MS. or printed) materials for modern naval history.

(b) THE work shall take the form either of a dissertation or of an edition of an original document or series of documents illustrating modern naval history.

(c) THE Prize will be open for competition to any investigator who has been admitted to the use of the Institute of Historical Research and has been working there for not less than a year preceding the date at which the Candidates' work must be submitted.

(d) If the successful work is published, it shall bear on the title page the words "Awarded the Julian Corbett Prize for Research in Modern Naval History, University of London." Whether or not publication in extenso is practicable, a précis of the successful thesis shall be published in the Bulletin of the Institute.

Rosebery Gift for Athletic Ground.

In 1923 a movement was set on foot to acquire a University Athletic Ground and Boat-house, and early in 1924 the Chancellor, Lord Rosebery, gave £5,000 towards the scheme. It was hoped to find a site on the river that would serve both purposes, but, after investigation of several sites, this has proved impossible, and the University has now bought about 28 acres at Motspur Park, near Wimbledon, for a Sports-ground, and is negotiating for a piece of land at Chiswick for a Boat-house, which is to be planned to house not only University but College boats.

The Senate in October 1925 authorised a public appeal for £80,000 (£50,000 for Capital Outlay and £30,000 for Endowment) towards the cost of purchase and running expenses, and made a grant of £5,000 from general funds. An Appeal Secretary (Paymaster-Commander H. R. M. Bamber, R.N.)

was appointed and an illustrated pamphlet was prepared, but, up to the present, pending more favourable conditions for public support, funds have been collected by private appeal only.

Laura Soames Bequest.

In October 1924 the University took over from the surviving trustees the Trust which they had accepted under the Will with codicil of the late Miss Laura Soames which was proved on 19th February, 1895. The relevant extract from the codicil to the Will is as follows :—

And I BEQUEATH to my Brother ARTHUR WELLESLEY SOAMES, WALTER LEAF of and ANNETTE S VERRALL of No. 26 Gloucester Place, Brighton, Spinster (hereinafter called my "Literary Trustees") the copyright in my books and manuscripts and I also bequeath to my said Literary Trustees the sum of £500 free of legacy duty upon trust at their discretion to invest the same or any part thereof in their names in or upon any of the public stocks or funds or Government securities of Great Britain AND I declare that my said Literary Trustees shall stand possessed of the said sum of £500 and the investments for the time being representing the same or any part thereof and the annual income thereof UPON TRUST to expend the same both capital and interest on the following objects.

FIRSTLY. On editing and publishing the books required to complete my series of books entitled "Soames's Phonetic Method for Learning to Write."

SECONDLY. On publishing from time to time new editions of my phonetic books or such additional reading books on the same method as my said Literary Trustees may in their judgment consider be required.

And THIRDLY. On advertising my books and propagating my system of teaching to read and generally propagating a knowledge of phonetics by any means which may appear to my said Literary Trustees to be the best for that purpose.

By direction of the Trustees the income is to be used for the purpose of founding a prize to be known as the "Laura Soames Prize" to promote the study of phonetics, or alternatively for the purpose of propagating a knowledge of phonetics by any means which may appear to the Senate to be the best for that purpose.

Until further order the income is to be used for an annual prize in the Department of Phonetics at University College, to be awarded for the most distinguished piece of research work dealing with the phonetic structure of a living language.

Samuel Davidson Bequest.

By the Will of Miss A. J. K. Davidson, who died in August 1924, the University is her residuary legatee, under the following clause :—

AND I GIVE DEVISE AND BEQUEATH all the residue of my real and personal estate (including any property which I have any general power to appoint or dispose of by Will) unto my Trustees UPON TRUST to sell, call in and convert into money the same or such part thereof as shall not consist of money and with and out of the money produced by such sale calling in and conversion and with and out of my ready money to pay my funeral and testamentary expenses and debts and the legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil hereto and the duties thereon and the duties on any gift or gifts by me within three years of the date of my death as hereinbefore mentioned and my Trustees shall hold the residue of the said money IN TRUST to pay the same to the University of London to be held by the Senate of the said University UPON TRUST to invest the same in the names or otherwise under the control of the said Senate in manner authorised by law and with power from time to time to vary such investments or any of them and to apply the income thereof in and for the encouragement of studies bearing upon the history and interpretation of the Hebrew and Greek Books of the Old Testament by all or any of the following means namely by the establishment and maintenance of a professorship readership or lectureship for such studies or if this shall not be deemed practicable or in addition thereto by the establishment and maintenance of one or more travelling or research scholarships for the pursuance of such studies AND I DECLARE that subject as hereinafter provided the terms and conditions relating to the appointment or election and payment of any person to such professorship readership lectureship or scholarship and to the period for which any such professorship readership lectureship or scholarship shall be held and to its vacation shall be in the absolute and uncontrolled discretion of the said Senate who shall in such discretion be at liberty to hold such examinations (if any) as they shall think fit for the purpose of such election and to defray the expenses of such examinations out of the income of the said money and to refrain from making any such appointment or election at any time or times when no candidate shall seem to them suitable and to devote any surplus or accumulation of income to the purposes of this Trust as they shall think fit Provided only that such professorship readership lectureship or scholarship shall be open only to graduates of any University in the British Empire and that there shall be no restrictive conditions in any such appointment or election as to the religious or theological beliefs convictions or denomination of any candidate for the same and Provided also that such professorship readership lectureship or scholarship shall bear the name "Samuel Davidson" Provided always that before paying over such residue my Trustees shall satisfy themselves to the best of their ability that the scheme proposed by the Senate of the said University is so far as they can judge and in their absolute discretion in accordance with my wishes as hereby expressed.

The securities representing the bequest are being gradually realised and proceeds invested in trustee stocks.

Jubber Bequest.

Under the Will of Mr. Arthur Jubber, who died in October 1924, the University is to receive a bequest of £5,000, the interest only of the said sum "to be used for Scholarships, Prizes or Lectures in any advanced subject, especially Chemistry, Botany, Mathematics, Ancient, Modern and Natural History."

The Bequest will become payable on the death of certain relatives.

Frederic David Matthew Prize.

In March 1925 Miss Dorothy G. Matthew gave to the University the sum of £60 (being the honorarium she received for her work as Secretary of the Wyclif Society) for the establishment of a prize for Bible knowledge in memory of her father, Frederic David Matthew, Hon. D.Litt. (Oxford), one of the founders of the Society.

A Prize of books to the value of £2 2s. 0d. is awarded annually for the best paper in Old Testament, New Testament, or Apocrypha at the General School Examination in Religious Knowledge.

Frida Mond Studentship.

In March 1925 Mrs. Sigismund Goetze gave £3,000 to found a Studentship. The Trust Deed is as follows:—

THIS INDENTURE made the thirty-first day of March 1925 BETWEEN Constance Goetze, the wife of Sigismund Christian Hubert Goetze, of Grove House, Park Road, Regent's Park, N.W. (hereinafter called "the Foundress") of the one part and the University of London (hereinafter called "the University") of the other part WHEREAS the Foundress, being minded to perpetuate the memory of her aunt, the late Mrs. Frida Mond, has transferred to the University the sum of £3,000 (which sum is hereinafter described as "the Trust Fund") to the intent that the Fund shall be held upon the trusts hereinafter declared NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH and it is hereby agreed as follows:—

1. The University shall invest the Trust Fund in any investments authorised by law for Trust Funds with power from time to time to change the same or any of them for others of a like nature and shall stand possessed of the said investments upon and with and subject to the trusts powers and provisions hereinafter declared and contained.

2. The annual net income of the trust fund after providing for administrative and/or other expenses and outgoings shall provide and be applied in payment of a Studentship for the encouragement of literary studies in the University of London to be known as the "Frida Mond Studentship."

3. The Studentship shall be awarded by the University under the Scheme contained in the Schedule hereto.

4. The Regulations for the Studentship may be varied from time to time by the Senate (but during the lifetime of the Foundress only after her consent in writing shall first have been obtained) in any way the Senate may think desirable for the better encouragement of literary studies amongst Graduates in Arts of the University of London, but so that the name of Frida Mond shall always be retained and preserved in connexion with the Studentship.

5. If in any year no award is made the University may add the income to the capital of the Trust Fund or may apply it to the award of a second Studentship in a subsequent year.

IN WITNESS whereof the Foundress has hereunto affixed her hand and seal and the University has caused its Common Seal to be affixed the day and year first above written.

THE SCHEDULE.

Scheme for the Frida Mond Studentship.

(a) A Studentship known as the Frida Mond Studentship of the approximate value of £150 a year is offered by the University for the promotion of literary studies in the University of London.

(b) The Studentship is open to men and women graduates in Arts of the University who as Internal Students have taken First or Second Class Honours in a Final Examination for an Arts Degree not more than two years before the date of the award.

(c) The Student must undertake during the tenure of the Studentship to pursue a course of full-time training in preparation for the Ph.D. Degree for Internal Students in the Faculty of Arts.

(d) In awarding the Studentship preference will be given to candidates who give evidence of high proficiency in Classics or Modern Languages on the literary rather than on the linguistic side.

(e) The Studentship will as a rule be tenable for two years subject to evidence from time to time of satisfactory work and conduct on the part of the student.

(f) The Studentship may exceptionally be extended for a third year should it be established to the satisfaction of the University that the additional period of study is necessary to enable the student to complete the work for the Ph.D. Degree.

(g) If in the opinion of the University there is in any year no candidate of sufficient merit the Studentship will not be awarded.

(h) The award of the Studentship will be made by the University Scholarships Committee, which Committee shall employ at their discretion expert assistance to advise them in the subjects in which the candidates have graduated.

A Studentship of the value of £140 is offered biennially.

Koraes Chair.

In 1925 the following indenture in regard to the endowment of the Koraes Chair was sealed :—

THIS INDENTURE made this thirteenth day of July 1925 between His Excellency Dr Joannes Gennadius of White Gates East Molesey in the County of Surrey and Nicolas Eumorfopoulos of 24, Pembridge Gardens in the County of London, Esquire on behalf of the Committee of Subscribers to the Koraes Chair of Modern Greek Fund (hereinafter called "the Committee") of the one part and the University of London (hereinafter called "the University") of the other part WHEREAS the Committee being desirous of promoting the study of Modern Greek and Byzantine History Language and Literature both among English people educated in the classical Greek tradition and among members of the Greek communities in Great Britain and also of fostering and encouraging friendship and goodwill between the English and Greek peoples have transferred to the University the investments set forth in the first schedule hereto to the intent that the same shall be held upon the trusts hereinafter declared AND WHEREAS at a meeting of the Committee duly convened and held on the twenty-seventh day of June 1925 the draft of these presents was approved and the said Dr. Joannes Gennadius and Nicolas Eumorfopoulos were appointed for the purpose of signing these presents on behalf of the Committee AND WHEREAS the resolution passed at the said meeting has been signed by all the members of the Committee AND WHEREAS the University has added to the sum so transferred the investments set forth in the second schedule hereto to the intent that the same shall be held upon the same trusts.

NOW THIS INDENTURE witnesseth and it is hereby agreed as follows :—

1. The University shall either retain the said investments or sell the same or any of them or any part thereof and reinvest the proceeds thereof in any investments authorised by law with power from time to time to change the same or any of them for others of a like nature and shall stand possessed of the said investments specified in the said schedules and the investments from time to time representing the same (all of which are hereinafter included in the expression "the trust funds") upon and with and subject to the trusts powers and provisions hereinafter declared and contained.

2. The University will provide and maintain a Chair in the University of London to be known as the "Koraes Chair of Modern Greek and Byzantine History Language and Literature" and the annual net income of the Trust Funds after providing for administrative expenses incurred by the University in connection with the said Chair shall provide and be applied in the payment of the stipend of such Chair. The holder of the Chair will be required to give his whole time to the duties of the Professorship.

3. Subject as hereinafter mentioned the occupant of the Chair shall be selected and appointed upon such conditions as to the discharge of his duties and upon such terms and for such period and generally in such a manner as the University may from time to time determine in accordance with the procedure for the time being in force for the appointment of Professors in the University of London.

4. The Chair shall be tenable at University of London King's College unless the Senate after inviting reasoned reports from the Delegacy of University of London King's College and the Koraes Committee hereinafter referred to shall otherwise determine.

5. The University shall appoint annually a Standing Committee (hereinafter referred to as the Koraes Committee) consisting of the Vice-Chancellor the Principal of King's College (or the Principal of any other of the University Colleges at which the Chair is tenable) three representatives appointed by the Delegacy of University of London King's College (or by the governing body of any other of the University Colleges at which the Chair is tenable) and four representatives of the Committee of subscribers to the Koraes Chair of Modern Greek Fund appointed in such manner as the Committee shall determine.

6. The functions of the Koraes Committee shall be to advise the Senate through the Delegacy of University of London King's College (or through the governing body of any other of the University Colleges at which the Chair shall be tenable) generally as to schemes for the promotion of Modern Greek studies in the University and to take such steps as they think fit from time to time for raising further funds for the promotion of such studies.

7. A Board of Advisors shall be appointed on any election to the Koraes Chair and shall include two persons nominated by the Koraes Committee and selected from the representatives of the Committee of subscribers who are members of such Committee one of whom shall be deemed to be one of the four representatives on the Board of Advisors of the College at which the Chair is held and one of whom shall be deemed to be an External Expert appointed by the University.

8. In the event of a vacancy occurring in the Chair and no suitable candidate being available the University may apply the income of the fund arising during such vacancy to the maintenance of the departmental library at the College at which the Chair is tenable to the provision of scholarships in the department to the provision of a salary or salaries of a lecturer or lecturers in the subjects within the purview of the Chair or to any of these objects or the University may take such other steps as it thinks desirable for advancing the object of the trust or may add such income to the capital fund.

Laura de Saliceto Studentship.

Under the will of the late Miss L. S. Gibbs, who died in 1925, the University received a bequest for the advancement of Cancer Research as follows :

I bequeath to the University of London free of all death duty such a sum as shall when invested in an investment or investments sanctioned by law for Trustees be sufficient to produce the clear annual sum of One hundred and fifty pounds. And I direct that the first mentioned sum shall be ascertained and agreed by and between my Executors and the said University. And it is my wish that by means of this bequest a Studentship shall be established by the said University in memory of my late beloved Mother to be called 'The Laura de Saliceto Studentship' for the advancement of Cancer Research either on the Physiological or the Chemical side. And it is also my wish that the Regulations in relation to such Studentship shall be framed by the said University upon the same lines so far as applicable as those which apply to the Philip Walker Studentship in Pathology in the University of Oxford.

The Income of £150 a year arising from the bequest will be awarded by the Senate, after a report from the Medical Members of the Senate, to a Student carrying out the approved research in a School of the University, for a period of not less than two years, which may be extended by annual re-appointment to a total period of not more than five years.

Stevenson Chair of International History.

In 1926 the following Indenture in regard to the Endowment of the Stevenson Chair was sealed :

THIS INDENTURE made the Twenty-sixth day of November One thousand nine hundred and twenty-five between SIR DANIEL MACAULAY STEVENSON, Baronet, of 12 Waterloo Street Glasgow (hereinafter called "the Founder") of the one part and THE UNIVERSITY of LONDON (hereinafter called "the University") of the other part

WHEREAS the Founder being desirous of furthering amity and good understanding among all Nations and being persuaded that the study and teaching of History as hitherto practised in this and other Countries have not been conducive to this end, that on the contrary in practically all Countries the teaching of History and the Class-books used therefor have had a strong Nationalist bias, creating among the peoples from childhood onwards a spirit of antipathy, ill-will and even hatred of other peoples, and being convinced that the teaching of History internationally and as far as practicable without bias would tend to substitute for this spirit a spirit of international co-operation, peace and goodwill

AND WHEREAS the Founder after full enquiry in many directions has come to the conclusion that such teaching would be undertaken satisfactorily and carried on efficiently by the University of London working in co-operation with the British Institute of International Affairs which co-operation has been and is hereby understood and to which effect is given both in these presents and also in a separate Indenture dated the Twenty-sixth day of November One thousand nine hundred and twenty-five entered into between the Founder and the British Institute of International Affairs.

AND WHEREAS the Founder has agreed to bind himself by an irrevocable Deed to pay to the University of London half-yearly for six and a half years the sum of One thousand five hundred and thirty-eight pounds nine shillings and two pence amounting in all to the sum of Twenty thousand pounds to the intent that out of said instalments and (when sufficient) the net income arising from the investment of the balances thereof the University shall (as hereinafter provided) apply the sum of Five hundred pounds per annum to defraying the stipend of a Professor of International History in the said University and also (as hereinafter provided) apply the surplus income to the development of a Department of International History and has also agreed to pay to Trustees for and on behalf of the British Institute of International Affairs a further sum of same amount (One thousand five hundred and thirty-eight pounds nine shillings and two pence half-yearly for six and a half years in all Twenty thousand pounds) to the intent that out of the said instalments and (when sufficient) the net income arising from the investment of the balances thereof Five hundred pounds per annum shall be applied to increase the aforementioned stipend of the said Professor in respect that he shall concurrently and ex-officio perform the duties of Director of Studies (hereinafter called "The Director") in the said Institute, it being understood and agreed that the said Professorate and Directorate shall form jointly a single scheme for the better education and instruction of Students in the history and progress of international affairs and the training of the said Students in such a way as to fit them for becoming Teachers of International History on the above lines in all parts of the World, and that the whole income arising from the investment of the Founder's said payments shall be exclusively devoted to the purposes of the said scheme.

AND WHEREAS the Founder holding as he does that no one could satisfactorily and efficiently carry out the proposed duties without keeping himself in constant touch with leading opinion in foreign countries has agreed to pay to Trustees for and on behalf of the British Institute of International Affairs half-yearly for six and a half years the sum of One hundred and fifty-three pounds sixteen shillings and eleven pence whereof at least Fifty pounds a year shall be applied in defraying the expenses of annual visits by the Professor-Director to such Countries and any balance not so applied in any year shall be invested and exclusively devoted to building up a fund for the defraying out of the revenue therefrom of such expenses as may be incurred in the future by the Director and/or his Assistants hereinafter referred to.

1. The University shall invest the said sums paid to them or the balances thereof in any investments authorised by law with power from time to time to change the same or any of them for others of a like nature and shall stand possessed of the said sums or investments (all of which are hereinafter included in the expression "the Trust Funds") upon and with and subject to the trusts powers and provisions hereinafter declared and contained.

2. Out of the said sums or the annual net income of the Trust Funds after providing for such administrative or other expenses and outgoings as the University in its uncontrolled discretion may incur the sum of Five hundred pounds per annum shall be provided and applied in the payment of the stipend of a Professor of International History to be known as "the Stevenson Professor of International History in the University of London."

3. The Professor shall be elected and appointed by the Senate upon the recommendation of a Board of Advisors constituted as follows and reporting through the Academic Council, viz.: The Vice-Chancellor, The Principal Officer, The Principal (or Chief Executive Officer) of the College or School (not being the British Institute of International Affairs) to which the Chair is for the time being attached, three External Experts appointed in accordance with the General Regulations of the University and four other persons appointed by the Council of the British Institute of International Affairs provided that the tenure of the Chair shall be for periods of five years the person appointed being eligible for re-appointment. Sex shall be no bar to appointment. The University will require the authority of the College or School to which the Professor is attached and the Council of the British Institute of International Affairs respectively to forward annual reports on the work of the Professor and such reports shall be taken into account by the Board of Advisors when considering the re-appointment of the Professor.

4. The person recommended for appointment as Professor shall satisfy the Board of Advisors that he has a good working knowledge of German, French and English, and that he is in sympathy with the aims of the Founder set out above. As a condition of re-appointment a Professor shall further satisfy the Board of Advisors that he is competent to deliver lectures in two of these languages.

5. It shall be the duty of the Professor as a part-time Professor in the University to conduct classes and give lectures or other teaching on the subject of International History since the end of the fifteenth century, to undertake the direction and supervision of special and advanced Students and to do all in his power to promote the Study of his subject free as far as possible from national prejudice bias or prepossession. The Professor's work shall form part of the Course of Instruction in History at the University. It is the Founder's desire that Students coming under the influence of the Professor in this or other ways may become trained and fitted to promote amity and good understanding among the Nations and to become themselves Teachers of International History in the same spirit all over the World.

6. The first holder of the said Chair will be Mr Arnold Joseph Toynbee B.A. and he shall hold the said Chair for a period of five years from the First day of December One thousand nine hundred and twenty-five if he shall so long live unless he shall within such period desire to retire from the discharge of the duties of the said Chair or in the opinion of the University shall be deemed to be incapable or unfit by reasons of health or misconduct to discharge the said duties.

7. The University may at any time (but during the lifetime of the Founder only after his consent in writing shall be first had and obtained) vary the trusts hereinbefore declared in such manner as the University may think desirable for better carrying on the Study of International History with a view to the furtherance of amity and good understanding among Nations provided that in any such case the name of Stevenson shall be retained and preserved in connection with the said trusts and that the intentions of the Founder as declared in the Preamble shall be respected.

8. When the Fund arising from the investment of the said payments of One thousand five hundred and thirty-eight pounds nine shillings and two pence shall produce an annual income more than sufficient to defray the stipend of the Professor as hereinbefore provided the University shall apply such surplus for better carrying out the desires of the Founder as set out in the Preamble more particularly by the development of a Department of International History in the University and the appointment of Assistants to the Professor.

Petrie Medal.

1. The Petrie Medal Committee offer to the University of London, on behalf of the subscribers :

(a) The original design by Mr Sydney Carline in Electrotype, and 20 bronze casts of the Petrie Medal ;

(b) The sum of £75 for disposal as prescribed.

2. The Medal shall be awarded once in every three years for distinguished work in Archæology, preferably to a British subject. The award shall be made by the Senate on the recommendation of the Board of Studies in Archæology. The name of the recipient shall be engraved on the rim of the medal.

3. Out of the interest on the sum mentioned in 1 (b) the engraving of the name and any other incidental expenses, such as a case to hold the medal, shall be paid ; the balance of the interest shall either be allowed to accumulate or be expended in any manner the Senate, on the recommendation of the Board of Studies in Archæology, may direct, for the promotion or recognition of work in Archæology.

4. When the 20 medals have all been awarded, the capital sum may be used for making more copies of the medal, or in any other manner the Senate, on the recommendation of the Board of Studies in Archæology, may direct, for the promotion or recognition of work in Archæology, provided always that such be associated with the name of Sir W. M. Flinders Petrie.

CHAPTER 62.

An Act to make further provision with respect to the University of London. [12th August 1898.]

Whereas the Commissioners appointed to consider the draft charter for the proposed Gresham University in London, have by their report made recommendations with respect to the reconstitution of the University of London, and to the appointment of a statutory Commission for that purpose:—

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows:

1.—(1.) There shall be a body of Commissioners styled the University of London Commissioners, and consisting in the first instance of the following persons namely,— App

The Right Honourable Horace Baron Davey;

A.D. 1898.

Sir William Roberts, Doctor of Medicine, Fellow of the University of London;

Sir Owen Roberts, Doctor of Civil Law;

Richard Claverhouse Jebb, Esquire, Doctor of Letters, Regius Professor of Greek in the University of Cambridge;

Michael Foster, Esquire, Doctor of Medicine, Fellow of the Royal Society, Professor of Physiology in the University of Cambridge;

Edward Henry Busk, Esquire, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, and Chairman of the Convocation of the University of London; and it shall be lawful for Her Majesty to appoint a secretary to the Commissioners.

(2.) If and whenever any vacancy occurs among the Commissioners, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen to appoint a person to fill the vacancy; but the name of every person so appointed shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament within ten days after the appointment if Parliament is then sitting, or, if not, then within ten days after the next sitting of Parliament.

(3.) The Commissioners may, with the consent of the Treasury as to number, appoint or employ such persons as they may think necessary for the execution of their duties under this Act, and may remove any person so appointed or employed.

Expenses of Commission.

2. There shall be paid to the secretary to the Commissioners, and to any person appointed or employed by the Commissioners, such remuneration as the Treasury may assign, and that remuneration and all expenses of the Commissioners incurred with the sanction of the Treasury in the execution of this Act shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

Duration and
sioners.

3.—(1.) The powers of the Commissioners shall continue until the end of the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, and no longer; but it shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen, from time to time, with the advice of Her Privy Council, on the application of the Commissioners, to continue the powers of the Commissioners for such time as Her Majesty thinks fit, but not beyond the end of the year one thousand nine hundred.

(2.) The Commissioner first named in this Act shall be the Chairman of the Commissioners; and in case of his ceasing from any cause to be a Commissioner, or of his absence from any meeting, the Commissioners present at each meeting shall choose a chairman.

(3.) The powers of the Commissioners may be exercised at a meeting at which three or more Commissioners are present.

A.I

(4.) In case of an equality of votes on a question at a meeting, the chairman of the meeting shall have a second or casting vote in respect of that question.

(5.) The Commissioners shall have a common seal which shall be judicially noticed.

(6.) Any act of the Commissioners shall not be invalid by reason only of any vacancy in their body; but if at any time, and as long as, the number of persons acting as Commissioners is less than five, the Commissioners shall discontinue the exercise of their powers.

4.—(1.) The Commissioners shall make statutes and regulations for the University of London in general accordance with the scheme of the report hereinbefore referred to, but subject to the modifications specified or indicated in Part I. of the schedule to this Act, and to any other modifications which may appear to them expedient after considering the changes which have taken place in London education of a University type since the date of the said report and any representations made to them by or on behalf of the Senate or Convocation or any fifty graduates of the University of London, or by or on behalf of any body or person directly affected.

Powers

(2.) In framing such statutes and regulations, the Commissioners shall see that provision is made for securing adequately the various matters specified or indicated in Part II. of the schedule to this Act.

(3.) The Commissioners shall take such steps as are in their opinion best adapted for facilitating the making of such representations before any such statutes or regulations are framed.

(4.) The statutes or regulations, whether they are made by the Commissioners or by the Senate as hereinafter provided, shall not authorise the assignment of money for any purpose in respect of which any privilege is granted or disability imposed on account of religious belief. Provided that they shall not prevent the University from allocating funds, on such conditions as it thinks fit, for the payment of any person appointed or recognised by the University as a University teacher, or for his laboratory expenses, or for apparatus to be used by him, notwithstanding any conditions attached to any office held by him in any school of the University.

(5.) Statutes and regulations made under this Act shall have effect notwithstanding anything in any Act of Parliament, charter, deed, or other instrument.

Approval of

5.—(1.) When any statute or regulation has been made by the Commissioners, a notice of its having been made, and of the place where copies of it can be obtained, shall be published in the London Gazette, and the statute or regulation shall be laid as soon as may be before both Houses of Parliament, and shall not be valid until it has been approved by Her Majesty the Queen in Council.

(2.) If either House of Parliament, within forty days, exclusive of any period of prorogation, after a statute or regulation has been laid before it, presents an address praying the Queen to withhold Her assent from the statute or regulation, or any part thereof, no further proceedings shall be taken on the statute or regulation, or on the part thereof to which the address relates, but this provision shall be without prejudice to the making of a new statute or regulation.

(3.) The Senate or Convocation of the University of London, or any other person or body directly affected by any such statute or regulation, may, within three months after the notification thereof in the London Gazette, petition Her Majesty in Council to withhold Her approval of the whole or any part thereof.

(4.) Her Majesty in Council may refer any such petition to a committee of the Privy Council, with a direction that the committee hear the petitioner personally or by counsel, and report specially to Her Majesty in Council on the matter of the petition.

(5.) Thereupon it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by Order in Council, either to declare her approval of the statute or regulation in whole or in part, or to signify her disapproval thereof in whole or in part, but any such disapproval shall be without prejudice to the making of a new statute or regulation.

(6.) The costs of any petition under this section may be regulated by the committee to which the petition is referred.

Power to Commissioners to
recommendations.

6. The Commissioners may, if they think fit, take evidence upon any of the matters hereby directed to be dealt with by them; and may, if they think fit, from time to time make a report or reports to Her Majesty containing any recommendations which in their opinion ought to be made for the purpose of better enabling them to carry out any of the powers hereby entrusted to them.

7. After the expiration of the powers of the Commissioners the Senate of the University shall have power to make statutes and regulations for altering or supplementing any of the statutes or regulations made by the Commissioners. Provided as follows:

A.D. 1898.

- (1.) A statute made under this section shall be subject to the provisions of the foregoing sections, with the substitution only of the Senate for the Commissioners;
- (2.) Before any statute is made under this section the draft thereof shall be communicated to Convocation, whose opinion thereon, if returned to the Senate within two months, shall be taken into consideration. In computing this period of two months any part of the months of August and September shall not be counted;
- (3.) A regulation made under this section shall be invalid so far as it is inconsistent with any statute made under this Act and for the time being in force.

8. For the purposes of this Act and of the report hereinbefore referred to, the South-Eastern Agricultural College at Wye shall have such privileges as it would have had if situated within the administrative county of London.

Provision
College.

9. Nothing in this Act shall affect or authorise any interference with the rights or privileges of any of the Inns of Court or of the Incorporated Law Society.

Saving for Inns of Court and Incorporated Law Society.

10. Existing fellows shall retain their fellowships for life, but shall no longer be, as such, members of the Senate.

SCHEDULE.

PART I.

Provisions to which effect is to be given.

The Senate.

1. The Senate shall consist of the Chancellor and of other members, appointed as follows :

- Four by Her Majesty with the advice of Her Privy Council ;
- Seventeen by the Convocation, of whom the chairman of Convocation shall be one, and the remaining sixteen shall be elected, by voting papers delivered personally or sent by post as at present, by the registered graduates in their separate faculties in such proportions as the Statutory Commission shall determine ;
- Two each by the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons ;
- One by each of the four Inns of Court and two by the Incorporated Law Society ;
- Two each by University and King's Colleges ;
- One by the Corporation of London ;
- Two by the London County Council ;
- One by the Council of the City and Guilds of London Institute ;
- Sixteen by the Faculties.

Provided that if and as long as any of the above-mentioned bodies fail to exercise the power of appointment hereby given, in every such case the power shall be exercised by Her Majesty, with the advice of the Privy Council.

2. The Senate shall be the supreme governing body and executive of the University. All University property shall be administered by the Senate, and (except as hereinafter specified) the Senate shall have the entire conduct of the University and all its affairs and functions, provided always that—

- (a.) No religious test shall be adopted or imposed, and no applicant for a University appointment shall be at any disadvantage on the ground of religious opinions :
- (b.) No procedure to any degree shall be allowed without examination or other adequate test, nor shall any honorary or ad eundem degree be conferred, unless the Senate, in exceptional cases, think fit to confer such a degree :
- (c.) No disability shall be imposed on the ground of sex.

There shall be three standing committees of the Senate—

- (1.) The Academic Council, being a committee for internal students of the University :
- (2.) The Council for External Students, being a committee for those students of the University, whether collegiate or non-collegiate, who are not internal students of the University :
- (3.) A standing Board to promote the extension of University teaching.

The Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, and the Chairman of Convocation shall be ex-officio members of all the above committees.

The functions of these three committees shall be advisory.

The Academic Council.

4. This Committee shall consist of the sixteen members of the Senate appointed by the Faculties, the three ex-officio members, and a senator or senators elected by the Senate to make the number of members up to twenty.

The Council for External Students.

5. This Committee shall consist of the sixteen members of the Senate appointed by Convocation, other than the Chairman of Convocation, the three ex-officio members, and senators elected by the Senate to make the number of members up to twenty-eight.

The Board to Promote the Extension of University Teaching.

6. This Committee shall consist of the three ex-officio members and senators elected by the Senate.

The Convocation.

7. Convocation shall include, in addition to those members specified in the said report, future graduates possessing a degree higher than that of Bachelor.

Teachers of the University.

8. The teachers of the University shall be—

- (a.) Professors, assistant professors, readers, and lecturers, directly appointed as officers of the University; and
- (b.) Members of the teaching staffs of public educational institutions, situate within a radius of thirty miles from the University buildings, who have been recognised by the Senate, after consulting with the Academic Council, as teachers of the University.

Provided that the Commissioners shall determine who are in the first instance to be recognised as teachers of the University.

Internal Students.

9. Internal students of the University are students who have matriculated at the University, and who are pursuing a course of study approved by the University in a school or schools of the University, or under one or more of the recognised teachers of the University.

Faculties.

10. The Commissioners shall determine in the first instance what the faculties are to be, and what teachers are to be members of the respective faculties.

The number and distribution of the faculties may be altered from time to time by the Senate.

The faculties will consist of—

- (1.) The professors, assistant professors, readers, and lecturers appointed by the University; and
- (2.) Such other teachers of the University as may be admitted to a faculty from time to time by the Senate.

Members will be assigned to their respective faculties by the Senate, and no person shall be eligible to vote in an election in more than one faculty at the same time.

72 SCHEDULE TO THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON ACT.

A.D. 1898.

Boards of Studies.

11. Boards of studies shall be constituted for the subjects of University study.

The members of each board of studies shall be appointed by the Senate from—

(a.) Members of a faculty who teach or examine in the board's subjects :

(b.) Other teachers of the University who teach the board's subjects.

The Senate may also appoint such other persons, not exceeding one-fourth of the total number of the board, as they may think fit.

Adequate representation on each board shall be secured for teachers of the University not belonging to any school of the University.

A teacher of the University may be assigned to more than one board.

Examinations.

12. Unless the Senate either generally by regulation or as to a particular subject by order otherwise determine, separate examinations shall be held for internal and external students respectively, and each certificate and diploma shall state whether the candidate has passed as an internal or as an external student ; but the degrees conferred shall represent, as far as possible, the same standard of knowledge and attainments. The draft of any such regulation shall be communicated to Convocation, to the Academic Council, and to the Council for External Students.

In all examinations the Senate shall, if practicable, appoint in each subject at least one examiner who is not a teacher of the University.

PART II.

Matters for which provision must be made.

1. The adequate protection of the interests of all classes of students whether external or internal, collegiate or non-collegiate.

2. The recognition as teachers of the University of duly qualified teachers and lecturers giving instruction of a University type in public educational institutions situate within a radius of thirty miles from the University buildings, whether such institutions be schools of the University or not.

3. The inclusion under proper regulations as internal students of the University of students who have matriculated at the University, and who are pursuing a course of study approved by the University under one or more of the recognised teachers of the University.

4. The due representation on the Senate and the Academic Council of all subjects of study and all sections of teachers of the University.

14. The members to retire shall be determined by agreement among the members themselves and in default of agreement shall be those whose names are first in alphabetical order in each class or each division of a class above enumerated.

15. The remaining members of the Senate who are first appointed and all subsequently appointed members of the Senate shall vacate their office on the expiration of four years from the second Tuesday in May next following their appointment but any appointed member of the Senate may resign his office.

16. Every member vacating his office shall be re-eligible.

* See note on preceding page.

17. The appropriate Registrar or other proper officer of the University shall not less than seven weeks before the day on which any appointed member of the Senate will vacate his office give notice thereof to the appointing body.

18. Every casual vacancy in the Senate by death resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the body by which the member causing the vacancy was appointed but the person appointed to fill any casual vacancy shall hold office only so long as the member in whose place he is appointed would have done if he had not vacated his office.

19. The Senate shall be the supreme Governing and Executive Body of the University and shall have the custody and use of the Common Seal of the University and shall have the entire management of and superintendence over the affairs concerns and property of the University and subject to the provisions of the Statutes the Senate shall take such measures and act in such manner as shall appear to it best calculated to secure the adequate protection of the interests of all classes of Students whether Internal or External collegiate or non-collegiate and generally to promote the purposes of the University.

20. (c) No Statute Byelaw Regulation or Standing Order shall authorise the assignment of money for any purpose in respect of which any privilege is granted or disability is imposed on account of religious belief. Provided that the University shall not be prevented from allocating funds on such conditions as the Senate shall think fit for the remuneration of any person appointed or recognised under the provisions hereinafter contained as a Teacher of the University or for the expenses of his laboratory or for apparatus to be used by him notwithstanding any conditions attached to any office held by him in any School of the University;

(d) No person shall be allowed to take any degree without examination or other adequate prescribed test except that an honorary or ad eundem degree may be conferred in exceptional cases if the Senate so think fit;

(e) No disability shall be imposed on the ground of sex.

23. The ordinary meetings of the Senate shall be held on such days and at such times as it shall appoint and the Senate shall fix the quorum and regulate the procedure for itself and for its Standing Committees. The Chancellor or the Vice-Chancellor may at any time summon an extraordinary meeting of the Senate and shall do so on the requisition in writing of six members of the Senate stating the objects for which the meeting is to be called. Every notice summoning an extraordinary meeting of the Senate shall give two clear days' notice of the meeting and state the objects for which it is called.

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR.

24. The Senate shall elect in each year one of its own members to be Vice-Chancellor who shall hold office for one year from his appointment but shall be re-eligible. In case of the death or resignation of the Vice-Chancellor the Senate may appoint another member of the Senate to be Vice-Chancellor during the remainder of his predecessor's year of office.

25. The Senate may also in each year appoint another member of the Senate to act for the Vice-Chancellor in case of his temporary inability through illness or absence to fulfil his duties.

*26. The Vice-Chancellor shall in the absence of the Chancellor preside at all meetings of the Senate and may preside at any meeting of the Standing Committees and other

48. The Chairman may if in his discretion he think fit to do so at any time summon an extraordinary meeting of Convocation of his own motion or on the requisition in writing of twenty members of Convocation stating the purpose for which the meeting is desired to be called provided that no extraordinary meeting called upon the requisition of members shall be held before the expiration of three calendar months from the date of the last foregoing extraordinary meeting.

49. Notices convening a meeting of Convocation shall be given in such manner as Convocation may determine. Every notice of an extraordinary meeting shall specify the particular business for which it is summoned and no other business shall be transacted at that meeting.

50. An ordinary meeting may discuss any matter relating to the University and declare its opinion thereon to the Senate.

51. The Senate shall provide a proper place for the meeting of Convocation and a report of the proceedings of any meeting of Convocation shall be transmitted to the Senate at the next following meeting thereof.

52. The members of Convocation shall pay such annual fees or such life composition in lieu of annual fees as may be from time to time prescribed provided that no person registered or qualified to be registered as a member of Convocation on the day fixed for the coming into force of these Statutes shall be required to pay any higher fees or composition than he is now required to pay.

53. The Senate may remove the name of any member of Convocation from the register for non-payment of fees and may reinstate the name of such person on such conditions as may be from time to time prescribed.

54. The Senate may also for any misconduct which appears to it sufficient but subject to an appeal to the Visitor remove the name of any member from the register either permanently or for such period as it may think fit and subject to any conditions as to reinstatement.

55. The election by Convocation of the Chancellor and the Chairman of Convocation * and the election by the Graduates of persons to be appointed by Convocation members of the Senate shall be by voting papers to be delivered by the voters personally or to be sent by post to the clerk of Convocation.

56. After the election of the first Senate Convocation shall determine the persons by whom and the form and manner in which such elections by voting papers shall be conducted and the results thereof shall be ascertained and declared and generally all other matters relating to such elections.

57. Save as aforesaid the members present at any meeting of Convocation shall alone be entitled to vote.

58. Subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained Convocation may by Standing Orders regulate its own procedure and may record its own proceedings and appoint a clerk with such salary as the Senate may determine.

FACULTIES AND MEMBERS OF FACULTIES.

59. There shall be eight Faculties in the University (that is to say):

- (1) Theology;
- (2) Arts;
- (3) Laws;
- (4) Music;
- (5) Medicine;
- (6) Science;
- (7) Engineering;
- (8) Economics and Political Science (including Commerce and Industry).

*60. The following persons shall be members of the respective Faculties in the University (that is to say):

- (i) The existing members of the respective Faculties;
- (ii) Such Teachers of the University as may be expressly designated "Appointed Teachers" by the Senate;
- (iii) Such other Teachers of the University as may from time to time be admitted to a Faculty by the Senate.

61. In admitting Teachers to be members of Faculties, the Senate shall take care that as far as possible all sections of Teachers are represented.

* This amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council, and came into force on January 1st, 1907; the section originally ran as follows:—

60. The following persons shall be members of the respective Faculties in the University (that is to say):

- (i) Those Teachers of the University who on the day fixed for the coming into force of these Statutes shall have been nominated as members of the respective Faculties by the Commissioners;
- (ii) Appointed Teachers of the University;
- (iii) Such other Teachers of the University as may from time to time be admitted to a Faculty by the Senate.

62. The members of the several Faculties shall continue to be such members so long as they respectively continue to be Teachers of the University. *Provided always that a member of a Faculty shall be permitted to resign such membership.

63. Members as above specified of the Faculties not already assigned to any Faculty by the Commissioners shall be assigned to their respective Faculties by the Senate and a Teacher may be assigned to more than one Faculty. Provided always that no member of a Faculty may vote at an election in more than one Faculty.

64. The members of each Faculty shall elect in such form and manner as may be prescribed one of themselves to be Dean of that Faculty who shall hold office for two years if he shall so long remain a member of the Faculty and who shall be re-eligible for a second term of office. But save as aforesaid no retiring Dean shall be re-eligible until after the expiration of four years from the date of his retirement.

65. In case of any casual vacancy in the office of Dean of a Faculty by death resignation or otherwise the members of that Faculty may elect one of themselves to fill such vacancy but the person so elected shall hold office only so long as the person in whose place he is elected would have done if he had not vacated his office.

66. The meetings of each Faculty shall be held at such place and on such days and subject to such regulations as to notice or otherwise as may be prescribed.

67. The Dean of each Faculty may at any time summon a meeting of that Faculty of his own motion and shall do so on the requisition in writing of ten or one-third of the members of that Faculty whichever be less.

68. At any meeting of a Faculty the members shall consider and report upon any matter referred to them by the Senate and may also consider and report upon any matter relating to courses of study provision for teaching or research examinations or the granting of degrees or certificates of proficiency in the subjects comprised within that Faculty.

69. The election by the members of the Faculties of their representatives on the Senate shall be made by the members present at meetings of the several Faculties summoned for the purpose and shall be conducted by the Deans of the several Faculties according to such regulations as may be prescribed.

* This addition received the approval of His Majesty in Council, and came into force on September 24th, 1917; the section originally ended at the third line with the words: "to be Teachers of the University."

SCHOOLS AND TEACHERS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

70. The Schools of the University shall be :

(i) The public educational institutions hereinafter named as the first Schools of the University ;

(ii) Such public educational institutions situate within the administrative County of London including the County of the City of London as the Senate shall from time to time admit either in whole or in part as Schools of the University.

71. The following persons shall be Teachers of the University (that is to say):

(i) The Professors Assistant-Professors Readers and Lecturers of the University appointed as Officers of the University by the Senate (herein called "Appointed Teachers");

(ii) Such members of the teaching staffs of public educational institutions within the appointed radius whether Schools of the University or not as on the day fixed for the coming into force of these Statutes shall have been recognised as Teachers of the University by the Commissioners or shall thereafter be so recognised by the Senate (herein called "Recognised Teachers").

72. The Senate may admit a department or branch of any institution aforesaid as a School of the University without admitting the whole of the institution.

73. In deciding on the claim of an institution to be admitted in whole or in part as a School of the University in which courses of instruction may be pursued by Internal Students the Senate shall have regard to the matters following viz. (a) the general character and financial position of the institution (b) the adequacy in number and qualifications of the teaching staff (c) the University standard of the teaching (d) the adequate provision of laboratories and other appliances necessary for giving instruction in the subjects in respect of which the institution seeks to be admitted (e) the conditions as to age and attainments on which students are admitted (f) the number of students proceeding or likely to proceed to degrees in the University (g) the relation of the institution to any other University.

74. The Senate may also admit any institution founded for the promotion of science or learning within the administrative County of London including the County of the City of London as a School of the University for the purpose of research or the cultivation of any special branch of science or learning.

75. If the Senate shall decline to admit an institution or department or branch of an institution as a School of the University the institution in question may appeal to the Visitor against the decision of the Senate.

76. All Schools of the University shall be open to the visitation of the University and for that purpose the Senate shall make arrangements for obtaining reports at prescribed intervals of time on the efficiency thereof. A copy of the report on any School of the University shall be forwarded to the Governing Body of that School with such remarks thereon as the Senate may think fit to make. Provided always that the Senate shall have no power of interference with the course of study of any students therein other than Internal Students.

77. The Senate may for such reasons as appear to it sufficient but subject to an appeal to the Visitor or at the request of the Governing Body thereof shall remove any institution in whole or part from being a School of the University. But any Internal Students then members of such institution shall if the requisite instruction be therein given be allowed to complete therein their prescribed course of study.

78. The teachers in any School of the University shall not thereby become Teachers of the University unless they shall have been individually recognised as such by the Commissioners or shall be so recognised by the Senate.

79. The Senate with the consent of the Governing Body may nominate any teachers in a School of the University to be Appointed Teachers either temporarily or permanently and subject to any prescribed conditions may allocate funds for the erection or extension of buildings or the remuneration of Appointed or Recognised Teachers or the provision or improvement of the equipment in a School of the University as a place of instruction or research and may provide generally for its assistance or benefit.

80. With a view to greater efficiency and economy the Senate may make arrangements with the Governing Bodies of any Schools of the University to provide common courses of instruction for matriculated Students in such Schools in one or more subjects by Appointed or Recognised Teachers and to enable such Schools to interchange their matriculated Students for the purpose of instruction and in particular the Senate shall use its best endeavours whenever practicable to secure such common courses of instruction for Internal Medical Students in the preliminary and intermediate portion of their studies under Appointed or Recognised Teachers at one or more centres.

81. The Senate may make arrangements with the Governing Bodies of any museums libraries or other collections of objects of historical scientific or artistic value for providing facilities of study therein for the Students of the University.

82. The following shall be the first Schools of the University (that is to say) :

In the Faculty of Economics and Political Science—

The London School of Economics and Political Science.

83. So soon as the funds of the University permit the Senate shall found such Professorships as it may think fit and prescribe the conditions on which they shall be tenable and may provide lecture-room; museums laboratories workshops and other facilities for the purpose both of teaching and of research.

84. The Senate may appoint and subject to the conditions annexed to the tenure of any Professorship dismiss the Professors of the University and may appoint and dismiss Assistant-Professors Readers and Lecturers as it may think fit and prescribe their duties and remuneration. The Senate may also fix the fees (if any) to be paid by Students attending the classes of Appointed Teachers and prescribe the purposes to which such fees shall be applied.

85. Demonstrators and other assistants to be appointed in such manner and with such tenure of office duties and remuneration as may be prescribed may be assigned to Appointed Teachers.

86. Appointed Teachers shall lecture or teach in such places as may be from time to time determined by the Senate.

87. The Senate may make Regulations for the retirement of Appointed Teachers and for granting pensions such retiring Teachers.

88. In appointing or recognising a Teacher of the University the Senate shall specify the subject that is to say the branch or branches of knowledge for which he is appointed or recognised and shall take care that no Teacher is appointed or recognised for two or more branches of knowledge unless those branches are of such a kind that in the opinion of the Senate instruction in them of a University standard can with advantage be given by the same person.

89. A Teacher may be recognised in connection with more than one public educational institution at the same time provided that the Senate for special reasons think such recognition desirable.

90. The Senate shall keep a register of the Recognised Teachers and in such register shall be entered the names of the Teachers and the subject for which and the institution in connection with which they are recognised.

91. The Recognised Teachers shall continue to be recognised so long as they respectively continue to be members of the teaching staffs of the institutions in connection with which they shall have been recognised and so long as the conditions under which they were so recognised are fulfilled. Provided that if a Teacher removes from one institution to another qualified institution his name may be retained on the register if the Senate think fit.

92. The Senate may for such reasons as appear to it sufficient remove the name of any Recognised Teacher from the register either permanently or for such period and may restore his name on such conditions as it may think fit.

93. The Senate shall take care that only such persons are recognised as Teachers of the University as being duly appointed members of the teaching staff of a public educational institution are regularly engaged in giving at the institution to which they belong adequate courses of instruction of a University standard and are provided with such laboratory accommodation apparatus and other appliances as may be necessary for the instruction which they give.

94. Provided that the Senate may in special cases if it so think fit temporarily recognise as Teachers of the University duly qualified persons not belonging to any public educational institution within the appointed radius who are prepared to give to Internal Students a course of lectures in any subject of University study.

95. In appointing or recognising Teachers of the University the Senate shall take care that all subjects of University study are duly represented. It shall be no objection to the appointment or recognition of any person as a Teacher of the University that the courses of instruction given by him are given in the evening only.

96. The instruction given by Appointed Teachers shall be open on payment of the prescribed fees (if any) and subject to any prescribed conditions as to the fitness of the Student or otherwise to all Internal Students and unless the Senate otherwise determine also to External Students.

BOARDS OF STUDIES.

97. Such Boards of Studies shall be constituted for the subjects of University study as may be from time to time prescribed. In the meantime and subject to any other order of the Senate the several Boards of Studies enumerated in Regulation I. shall be appointed as soon as conveniently may be. In appointing the Boards of Studies the Senate shall aim at securing to representatives of every subject of University study opportunity of expressing their views to the Senate.

98. The members of each Board the numbers of whom shall be in the discretion of the Senate shall be annually appointed by the Senate from among such members of a Faculty as teach or examine in any of the subjects for which the Board is constituted and such other Teachers of the University as teach any of the said subjects. The Senate may also appoint such other persons as it may think fit to be members of a Board of Studies provided always that the number of such other persons shall in no case exceed one-fourth of the total number of the members of the Board.

99. In appointing members of the said Boards the Senate shall take care that Teachers of the University not belonging to any School of the University shall be adequately represented on each Board.

100. The Senate shall also provide for studies cognate to those for which any Board is constituted being represented on such Board.

101. The Senate may appoint a Teacher of the University to be a member of more than one Board.

102. The members of each Board shall elect their own Chairman who shall hold office for such period as may be prescribed.

103. Meetings of each Board shall be summoned by the Chairman of the Board from time to time as he may think fit or on the request in writing of one-fourth of the members thereof.

104. The Academic Council and the Council for External Students respectively before advising the Senate upon any matter relating to courses of study provision for teaching or research examinations and the appointment of Examiners or the granting of degrees or certificates of proficiency shall invite and receive reports from the Boards dealing with the studies concerned.

105. Each Board may report to the Senate upon any of the matters aforesaid and shall also consider and report upon any matter specially referred to it by the Senate and shall deliberate if so requested with the Senate or any Committee thereof.

106. Each Board shall on rendering a report transmit a copy thereof to the Dean of the Faculty within which the studies dealt with by the Board are comprised.

107. Any two or more Boards may and at the request of the Senate shall meet and act in concurrence and render a joint report upon any matter upon which either Board might have reported separately.

DEGREES.

108. The following degrees may be granted by the University (that is to say):

- (1) Bachelor and Doctor of Divinity;
- (2) Bachelor and Master of Arts and Doctor of Literature;
- (3) Bachelor and Master * and Doctor of Laws;
- (4) Bachelor and Doctor of Music;

- (6) Bachelor and Master † and Doctor of Science.
- ‡(7) Bachelor and Master of Commerce.
- §(8) Doctor of Philosophy.

109. The Students in such subjects as the Senate shall from time to time determine to be comprised within the respective Faculties of Engineering and Economics and Political Science may proceed to degrees in Science but every diploma of such degree shall state that it has been conferred for proficiency in Engineering or in Economics and Political Science as the case may be.

110. Internal Students and External Students alike shall be eligible for all the above degrees but in Medicine and Surgery no Students shall be admitted to the examinations for a degree who have not gone through the prescribed course of study in a Medical School of the University or a medical institution or school in the United Kingdom or any Dependency of the British Crown or in foreign parts recognised by the Senate with the approval of Her Majesty in Council as an institution or school whose students may be admitted as candidates for a degree.

111. Except as hereinafter provided no degree other than an honorary or ad eundem degree shall be conferred on any Student who has not satisfied the Examiners in the prescribed examination or examinations and fulfilled all other prescribed conditions and no Student shall be allowed to become a candidate for any higher degree who shall not have previously passed the examination or examinations for §§ the lower degree or degrees of the same class. ¶ Provided that Students whose qualifications are considered suitable may be admitted by the Senate as Candidates for

‡ This amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council, and came into force on October 9th, 1903 ; the section originally ran as follows:—

113. Provided also that the Senate may admit graduates of or persons who have passed the examinations required for a degree in other Universities approved by it for that purpose as Internal Students and as candidates for any of the higher degrees (except in Medicine and Surgery) without their having previously taken any lower degree.

(1) Graduates of Universities approved by the Senate for this purpose ;

(2) Persons who have passed the examinations required for a degree in some University approved as aforesaid ;

(3) Persons who have obtained from the University of Cambridge a certificate stating that they have satisfied the examiners in a Tripos Examination qualifying as a Final Examination for a first degree ;

(4) Persons who have passed or obtained Honours at the Second Public Examination of the University of Oxford provided that they have also either passed or obtained Honours at the First Public Examination or have passed such other Examination or Examinations as under the provisions of the University of Oxford are accepted as statutablely equivalent thereto.

* 113a. Provided also that the Senate may admit as Internal Students and as candidates for a first degree (except in Medicine and Surgery) without their having previously satisfied the examiners at an Intermediate Examination Graduates of the University who have taken Degrees as External Students and also the persons specified in the last preceding Statute if such persons shall have prior to admission pursued an approved course extending over not less than three years.

† 113b. Provided also that persons on whom the Senate have conferred the title of Professor or Reader in the University may after a period of not less than two years from the date of such conferment be admitted as Internal Students as candidates for any of the higher degrees (except in Medicine and Surgery) without their having previously taken any lower degree and without their having pursued a course of study approved by the University. §

114. The University may also grant any certificates of proficiency in any subjects of study to any Students of the University or persons recommended for that purpose by the Board to promote the Extension of University Teaching upon their satisfying such tests by examination or otherwise and fulfilling such conditions as may be in that behalf prescribed.

115. Every certificate of the result of any examination and every diploma shall state whether the person obtaining such certificate or diploma has passed as an Internal or as an External Student or otherwise.

EXAMINATIONS.

116. Every candidate for admission as a Student of the University shall pass such entrance or matriculation examination or fulfil such other tests of fitness to be admitted as a Student as may be from time to time prescribed.

117. The examinations for matriculation shall be in such subjects as may be from time to time prescribed and the Senate may make provision for holding separate matriculation examinations for different classes of Students having regard to the courses of study which the students propose to follow.

118. Subject to any order of the Senate there shall be a Board to advise the Senate upon all questions relating to the admission of Students. The said Board shall consist of the Chancellor the Vice-Chancellor and the Chairman of Convocation and of members annually nominated by the Senate provided that one-third of the members so nominated shall be members of the Academic Council and another third shall be members of the Council for External Students appointed by Convocation.

119. The Senate shall make provision for holding intermediate examinations for Internal Students or External Students in such subjects and at such periods and under such conditions as may be prescribed and the Senate may if in its discretion it think fit to do so make arrangements to hold any intermediate examination or some part thereof for the Students of any School of the University jointly with the Governing Body of such School. *Provided that during the continuance of the War begun in 1914 and a period of two years after the conclusion of such War the Senate shall have power to prescribe in special cases for Students of the University and of foreign Universities and foreign Institutions of similar rank whose studies have been interrupted owing to the War special examinations in lieu of the intermediate examinations for Internal or External Students.

†120. The examinations for a degree shall be held at such

* This addition received the approval of His Majesty in Council and came into force on March 2nd, 1915; the section originally ended at the 8th line with the words:—"with the Governing Body of such School."

† This amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council, and came into force on September 26th, 1908; the section originally ran as follows:—

120. The examinations for a degree shall be held at such times and at such place or places as may be prescribed but no Student shall be admitted to the final examination for a degree until the expiration of at least three years after matriculation unless the Senate in special cases otherwise determine.

times and at such place or places as may be prescribed but no Student shall be admitted to the final examination for a degree until the expiration of at least three years after matriculation unless the Senate in special cases or special classes of cases otherwise determine.

121. The examinations for the several degrees shall be in such subjects and shall represent such standard of knowledge as may be from time to time prescribed and more than one examination may be appointed or different tests of proficiency may be required for any one degree having regard to the several subjects of study for which that degree may be obtained. Amongst the tests of proficiency which may be required in any branch of study involving practical work in a laboratory workshop or otherwise shall be included the inspection or such other evidence as may be prescribed of such work.

122. Unless it be otherwise prescribed generally or specially as to any particular subject of study separate examinations (both intermediate and final) shall be held for Internal and External Students respectively but the Senate shall provide that the degrees conferred upon both classes of Students shall represent as far as possible the same standard of knowledge and attainments. The draft of every Byelaw Regulation or Standing Order proposed to be made by the Senate for the purpose of uniting Internal and External Students in the same examination shall be communicated to Convocation the Academic Council and the Council for External Students respectively and a reasonable time shall be allowed to each of those bodies before such draft is passed to make representations thereon to the Senate.

123. The Senate may make arrangements with the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Royal College of Surgeons of England or either of them to conduct jointly with the Senate examinations in such portions of the subjects included in the course of study for a medical degree as may be agreed upon between the Senate and those Colleges or either of them and may also make similar arrangements with other corporations and institutions holding professional examinations in subjects included in other courses of study.

124. The Examiners shall be appointed by the Senate after receiving reports of the several Boards of Studies. In each subject of examination the Senate shall if practicable appoint at least one Examiner who is not a Teacher of the University.

INTERNAL STUDENTS.

*125. Except as hereinafter provided no person shall be admitted to a first degree in the University as an Internal Student unless and until he has completed an approved course of study comprising all the subjects in which he presents himself and extending over not less than three years. Such three years shall be calculated from a date not earlier than matriculation unless the Senate shall either generally by regulation or in special cases allow the same to be calculated from a date not exceeding four months before matriculation. Any person who has passed the intermediate examination as an External Student may be allowed to take the final examination for the first degree before the end of a three years' course provided that he shall have attended for two years as an Internal Student an approved course of study for the final examination. If he passes that examination he shall be admitted to the degree without further examination but not until he shall have completed three years of study as an Internal Student by attending subsequently to passing the final examination a further approved course of study and not unless the Authorities of the School or Institution at which such course is held have certified that his attendance and progress have been satisfactory. Provided that

(1) A person who has presented himself for a final examination for a first degree as an Internal Student and has failed may be permitted to present himself on a subsequent occasion for such final examination as an Internal Student in subjects other than those in which he presented himself on the first occasion after such further course if any as the Senate shall generally by regulation or in special cases determine.

* This Section has been amended three times as follows :—

(1) The first amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council, and came into force on February 15th, 1909. The Section originally ran as follows :—

125. No person shall be admitted to the final examination for a first degree in the University as an Internal Student unless and until he has completed an approved course of study comprising all the subjects in which he presents himself and extending over not less than three years from matriculation.

(2) The second amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council and came into force on March 2nd, 1915; the amendment consisted in the addition of Clauses (3) and (4) after Clauses (1) and (2).

(3) The third amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council and came into force on March 21st, 1924. The third sentence previously ran as follows :—

Any person who has passed the Intermediate Examination before he is registered as an Internal Student may be allowed to take the Final Examination for the first degree before the end of a three years' course provided that subsequently to passing the Intermediate Examination he shall have attended for two years an approved course of study for the Final Examination.

(2) A course of study extending over not more than one year taken in another University approved for the purpose subsequently to the passing of the intermediate examination may be accepted in lieu of an approved course of study taken in this University subject to such regulations as the Senate may from time to time prescribe.

(3) During the continuance of the War begun in 1914 and after its termination for such period as the Senate shall see fit the Senate shall have power to waive the conditions of this Statute in such a way as will prevent as far as possible any Internal Student of the University from being placed at a disadvantage through going on active service or undertaking other approved duties in connection with national defence.

(4) During the period aforesaid the Senate shall have power to waive the conditions of this Statute in such manner as they shall see fit in special cases in respect of students of foreign Universities and foreign Institutions of similar rank whose studies therein have been interrupted owing to the War begun in 1914 and who have become Internal Students of the University and have pursued a course of study therein extending over not less than one academic year.

For the purposes of this Statute the date of matriculation shall be taken to be the first day of the matriculation examination at which the candidate passed or in respect of which he was registered.

*125 a. Provided that the Senate may admit as Internal Students and as candidates for a first degree in the University after the completion of an approved course of study comprising all the subjects in which they present themselves and extending over not less than two years the following persons if approved in each case by the Senate :—

(1) Graduates of other Universities ;

(2) Persons who have passed the examinations required for a degree in a University ;

(3) Persons who have obtained from the University of Cambridge a certificate stating that they have satisfied the examiners in a Tripos Examination qualifying as a Final Examination for a first degree ;

(4) Persons who have passed or obtained Honours at the Second Public Examination of the University of Oxford provided that they have also either passed or obtained Honours at the First Public Examination or have passed such other examination or examinations as under the provisions of the

provided that persons qualifying under paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) above shall prior to admission as Internal Students have pursued an approved course extending over not less than three years, and

(5) Graduates of the University who have taken degrees as External Students.

126. Courses of study qualifying for admission to the examinations for the several degrees shall be from time to time prescribed for the guidance of Internal Students. In thus prescribing courses of study the Senate while providing in each case for an academic training of adequate breadth and duration shall endeavour to allow the Students a wide option in the choice of study and the Senate may for such reasons as seem to it sufficient permit Students during their academic career to modify their courses of study and may in special cases grant exemptions in respect of such courses. Or the Governing Body of any School of the University may from time to time submit to the Senate for its approval courses of study which such Governing Body is prepared to provide within that School.

*127. Every Internal Student before being admitted to a first degree as an Internal Student shall produce to the officer appointed for the purpose certificates of having pursued his approved course of study extending over the full period prescribed by the foregoing statutes. Such certificates shall be signed by or on behalf of the Governing Body of the School if and so far as his course of study has been pursued in a School and in every other case by or on behalf of the Teachers under whom it has been pursued. No certificate shall be accepted from any Teacher except in the subject for which he has been appointed or recognised as hereinbefore provided.

128. It shall not be required that an Internal Student shall pursue the whole of his approved course of study in the same institution whether such institution be a School

* This Section has been amended twice as follows :—

(1) The first amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council and came into force on September 26th, 1908. In the original Section the words " from matriculation " followed the word " years " in the fifth line of the Section as quoted in (2) below.

(2) The second amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council and came into force on October 13th, 1922. The first six lines formerly ran as follows :

127. Every Internal Student before being admitted to the final examination for a first degree as an Internal Student shall produce to the officer appointed for the purpose certificates of having pursued his approved course of study extending over the full period of not less than three years.

of the University or not but the course of study shall be continuously pursued unless the Senate in particular cases on the ground of illness or other cause which may appear to it sufficient shall otherwise determine.

†129. Any Graduate of the University who shall have taken a degree either as an Internal or as an External Student may be admitted as an Internal Student to the examination for a higher degree within the purview of any Faculty except Theology or Medicine other than that in which he has graduated on completing a prescribed course of study in a School or Schools or under a Teacher or Teachers of the University, or may in place of the whole or any part of such examination submit the results of study or research subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained. Any Graduate of the University who shall have taken a degree as an External Student may be admitted as an Internal Student to the examination for a higher degree within the purview of the same Faculty on completing a prescribed course of study in a School or Schools or under a Teacher or Teachers of the University or may in place of the whole or any part of such examination submit the results of study or research subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained. Persons applying for admission as candidates under this Statute after the first day of September 1911 must produce evidence of having passed a general examination approved in each case by the University for the purpose or conducted by the University in the subject in which they desire to proceed to a higher degree or in a cognate subject.

130. No disability shall be imposed upon any Internal Student by reason of the approved course of study pursued by him being or having been pursued in the evening only.

131. The Senate shall not impose any limit of time or require any number of hours' study within a limited period or make any similar provision which will prevent such Internal Students as study in the evening only from obtaining a degree as Internal Students.

DEFINITION OF TERMS.

132. In the construction of these Statutes and Regulations unless the context otherwise requires the following

† This amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council, and came into force on March 22nd, 1911; the section originally ran as follows :—

129. Any Graduate of the University who has taken a degree as an External Student may be admitted to the examination for the next higher degree as an Internal Student on completing a prescribed course of study in a School or Schools or under a Teacher or Teachers of the University or may in place of the whole or any part of such examination submit the results of study or research subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained.

expressions and words shall have the following meaning (that is to say):

"The Act" means "The University of London Act, 1898," and includes every Act which may hereafter be passed for amending or adding to the provisions thereof.

"The Commissioners" mean the Commissioners appointed and acting under the provisions of the Act.

"Appointed radius" means a radius of thirty miles from the Central Office of the University.

"Prescribe" and "prescribed" mean prescribe or prescribed by any Byelaw Regulation or Standing Order of the Senate.

"Public educational institution" means any institution for general education or for any special kind of education or teaching and not carried on for the private gain or profit of the body or persons to whom the institution belongs.

*"Internal Students" of the University are Students who have matriculated at the University and who are pursuing a course of study approved by the University, either—

(a) under the direct control of the University or a committee appointed thereby or in any one or more schools of the University; or

(b) under one or more of the appointed or recognised teachers of the University.

"External Students" mean all other matriculated Students.

Words implying the masculine gender only include the feminine gender also and words implying the plural number include the singular and vice versa.

TRANSITORY PROVISIONS.

133. These Statutes and the annexed Regulations shall come into force on the day on which the Royal Assent to them is given.

134. The existing Senate of the University and all Standing Committees thereof shall continue to exercise their accustomed powers and functions and in particular the Senate may hold any examinations for External Students and grant any diplomas or degrees as the result of such examinations in the accustomed manner until a new Senate shall be appointed under the foregoing provisions.

* This amendment received the approval of His Majesty in Council and came into force on January 1st, 1907; the definition of Internal Students originally ran as follows:—

"Internal Students" of the University mean Students who have matriculated at the University and are pursuing a course of study approved by the University in a School or Schools or under one or more of the Teachers of the University.

135. The existing Vice-Chancellor and Chairman of Convocation shall respectively retain their offices and exercise all their accustomed powers and functions until their successors are appointed under the foregoing provisions.

136. The Vice-Chancellor shall as soon as conveniently may be after these Statutes have received the Royal Assent take all necessary steps for securing the appointment of a new Senate.

APPOINTED AND RECOGNISED TEACHERS.

The Names of Teachers are arranged in alphabetical order under Subjects. The Subjects are arranged in alphabetical order under the Faculties, which are in Statutory order.

In the case of an Appointed Teacher, the title of the Teacher is given, followed by the name of the Institution or Institutions (if any) at which he is appointed to carry on the whole or the main portion of his teaching work.

In the case of a Recognised Teacher the name of the School or Institution at which he is recognised is given; and, if the Subject in which Recognition has been granted differs from the Subject for the group of Teachers in which the Teacher's name occurs, the name of the Subject in which Recognition has been granted is added in italics.

The Teachers whose names are included within square brackets are granted Probationary Recognition.

Regulations.

REGULATIONS FOR CONVOCATION.

MEETINGS OF CONVOCATION.

The Ordinary Meetings of Convocation shall take place on the day before Presentation Day, on the second Tuesday in October, and on the Friday before the third Monday in January, at 5.30 p.m. Extraordinary Meetings may be held from time to time under the provisions of Statute 48.

MEMBERSHIP.

The Section of the Statutes referring to Membership of Convocation runs as follows :—

41. The persons who shall be entitled to be registered as Members of Convocation shall be the following (that is to say) :

- (i) The Graduates who, on the day fixed for the coming into force of these Statutes are qualified according to the existing regulations of the University to become Members of Convocation but have not yet been registered ;
- (ii) All other Graduates who shall have attained the age of 21 years provided always that if and whenever the Senate shall by any Statute create any new degree the holders thereof shall not unless Convocation so determine be entitled to be registered ;
- (iii) All Members of the three Standing Committees of the Senate who are not already Members of Convocation during their tenure of office.

FEES.

ELECTION AND APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS OF THE SENATE.

(Extracted from the Standing Orders of Convocation.)

62.* Whenever a meeting of Convocation is to be convened at which the election and appointment of a member or members of the Senate is part of the business to be entertained, the Clerk of Convocation within one week from the receipt of the notice under Statute 17 that a vacancy or vacancies have arisen or will arise, shall send a circular letter to every member announcing the vacancy or vacancies, and stating on what day and at what hour the meeting is to be held, and calling attention to the following Standing Order.

63.* Every candidate shall be nominated in writing, by not less than ten members of Convocation, and every such nomination shall be transmitted to the Clerk at least twenty-one days previously to the date of the meeting.

64.* Should a candidate be nominated by more than ten members of Convocation, the Clerk shall send to him a list of all the nominators, and shall ask him to select therefrom the ten names which he desires to have circulated as his nominators. In the event of the candidate failing to make the selection in time to allow the Clerk to give the official notice referred to in Standing Order No. 66, the Clerk shall circulate the names of the ten persons whose nominations for that candidate were first received.

65.* The election of Members of the Senate by the Graduates registered in Convocation shall be made by means of signed voting-papers.

66.* The Clerk shall send to every member of Convocation, not less than seven days prior to the meeting at which the election and appointment are to be made, a circular letter containing a list of all candidates who have been duly nominated and a certified list of the ten nominators of each candidate as prescribed in Standing Order 64.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS.

It is particularly requested that any changes in address of Members of Convocation be immediately communicated to the Clerk of Convocation at the University.

ELECTION OF A REPRESENTATIVE IN PARLIAMENT.

Every Graduate who complies with the conditions prescribed in the Representation of the People Act 1918 is entitled to be registered as a Parliamentary Elector on making a claim and paying a fee of £1. This fee includes life membership of Convocation and is not required from Graduates who are already Life Members.

The prescribed conditions and Form of Claim may be obtained on application. Letters should be marked "Parliamentary Representation," and addressed to

The Vice-Chancellor,
University of London,
South Kensington, S.W. 7.

REGULATIONS FOR THE ADMISSION OF PUBLIC EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS AS SCHOOLS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

[Senate Minute 196 of December 19th, 1900.]

1. Every application by a Public Educational Institution for admission as a School of the University shall be made in writing and signed by the Principal or acting Head of the Institution, and when forms are provided by the University for the purpose upon one of such forms.

2. Every such application shall contain a statement of the following particulars :—

- (a) That the Institution is a Public Educational Institution within the meaning of the Statutes of the University (that is to say) an Institution for general education or for some special kind of education or teaching, and not carried on for the private gain or profit of the body or persons to whom the Institution belongs.
- (b) Whether the Institution is incorporated and (if so) whether by Charter or Special Act of Parliament or under the Companies Acts or some other instrument.
- (c) When it was founded and during what period it has carried on educational work within the Administrative County of London, including the County of the City of London.
- (d) The Constitution of the Governing Body of the Institution.
- (e) Whether the Institution has any permanent endowment, and generally how it is supported and what are its financial resources.
- (f) Whether the Institution desires to be admitted as a whole, or only in respect of some, and (if so) what branch or department thereof.
- (g) That Instruction of a University standard in the subjects in respect of which the Institution desires to be admitted is given by the Institution.
- (h) The number and names of the teaching staff of the Institution, with their University degrees or other qualifications as teachers.
- (i) The number of students at present attending classes in the Institution, distinguishing those who receive instruction in the daytime from those who attend evening classes only, and the fees required from students.
- (j) The usual age at which students are admitted, and the conditions as to attainments and otherwise required for their admission.

- (k) Whether students have already been either wholly or partially prepared at the Institution for any University degree, specifying the particular subjects in which they have been so prepared and the approximate number of such students.
- (l) The number of students now at the Institution proceeding or expected to proceed to a degree in the University.
- (m) Whether there are any graduates of other Universities amongst the Students of the Institution.
- (n) What provision is made in the Institution of class rooms, laboratories, and other appliances for giving instruction in the subjects in respect of which it seeks to be admitted.
- (o) Whether the Institution has any and (if so) what relation with any other University.

3. Every application must be accompanied by a copy of the Charter, Special Act of Parliament, Memorandum and Articles of Association, deed, or other instrument of foundation of the Institution.

4. The Principal or acting Head of the Institution shall give such further or other evidence as may be required by the Senate or the Academic Council of the fitness of the Institution to be admitted as a School of the University, having regard to the requirements of the Statutes.

5. The application shall be referred by the Senate to the Academic Council, who may, if it shall think fit, call for a report thereon from any of the Boards of Studies. A copy of every report of a Board of Studies on such application shall be transmitted to the Dean of the appropriate Faculty, pursuant to Statute 106, and shall accompany the report of the Academic Council to the Senate.

6. The Senate, after receiving the report thereon of the Academic Council, shall decide whether the Institution shall be recognised as a School of the University.

7. Any two members of the Senate may, upon notice, propose and second at any meeting of the Senate a resolution that the admission of an Institution as a School of the University for the purpose of research or the cultivation of any special branch of Science or learning, pursuant to Statute 74, be taken into consideration. If the resolution shall be carried by the votes of a majority of two-thirds of the members present and voting, it shall be referred to the Academic Council. The Academic Council shall report thereon to the Senate, and, after receiving the report of the Academic Council, the Senate may recognise the Institution as a School of the University by a simple majority.

8. In considering and reporting upon any such resolution as is mentioned in the last previous section, the Academic Council shall have the same powers as in the consideration of an application of an Institution for admission.

REGULATIONS WITH REGARD TO THE CONFERENCE OF THE TITLES OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR AND UNIVERSITY READER IN THE FACULTIES OF THEOLOGY, ARTS, LAWS, MUSIC, MEDICINE, SCIENCE, ENGINEERING, AND ECONOMICS.

[Senate Minutes 3121 of June 1919; 1558 of January, 1970 of February, 2400 of March and 1178 of December 1920; 2683 of March 1921; 2592 of March and 1071 of December 1922; 3476-77 of June 1924; 1979 of February 1925; 1666 of January 1926; 2465 of March 1926; 4074 of July 1926].

A.

General Regulations.

PROVISION OF FACILITIES FOR ADVANCED WORK AND RESEARCH.

1. Before appointment of a Teacher as a University Professor or Reader, evidence shall be furnished that the conditions are such that the Teacher will be able to carry on University work of a high standard and not be overburdened with so much teaching as to deprive him of the opportunity for the advancement of his subject. The laboratories, libraries, or other facilities attached to the post must be such as to permit of advanced work, and his department must be supplied with a grant for assistance and material sufficient to allow of higher teaching and research being carried on.

REMUNERATION.

2. Whole-time Posts.—The guaranteed minimum salary for a University Professor giving his whole time to the work of his post shall be £1,000 per annum, and the guaranteed minimum salary for a Reader giving his whole time to the work of his post shall be £500 per annum; provided that in exceptional circumstances the guaranteed minimum salaries may be not less than £800 and £400 respectively.

Part-time Posts.—If the duties of the post do not take up the whole time of the occupant the guaranteed minimum salaries for a University Professor and University Reader shall be £500 and £250 respectively; provided that in exceptional circumstances the guaranteed minimum salaries of part-time posts may be not less than £400 and £200 respectively.

Provided that the Senate shall not withdraw any title of University Professor or University Reader, conferred in respect of a post of which the salary was in accordance with the Regulations previously in force on the ground that the salary of such post does not comply with the existing Regulations.

The Senate may also in exceptional cases confer the title of University Professor or University Reader on the occupant of a post who acts without remuneration for his services or receives a nominal honorarium in respect thereof, provided that his personal qualifications are such as to justify the conferment of the title in question.

TENURE.

3. The conditions of appointments to University Professorships and Readerships attached to an Incorporated College or not attached to any institution shall be made to conform with the following principles :—

(i) The period of appointment shall always terminate on August 31st (except in cases of removal for due cause).

(ii) In cases where it is not necessary for financial reasons or by reason of special Trusts to make the period of appointment in the first instance for a limited period of years, the Statement of conditions of the appointment shall include the following :—

The Senate will decide after report from the relevant Board of Advisors whether the appointment shall be made in the first instance for an initial limited period, and, if so, what period, or whether it shall be made without time-limit up to the age fixed for retirement.

(iii) In cases where the Senate retain a Professor or Reader after an initial period of appointment, the re-appointment shall be as a rule without time-limit up to the retiring age, except when such re-appointment is inconsistent with the terms of a specific Trust governing the appointment.

(iv) In cases where an appointment is made for an initial period the Senate shall take into consideration not later than in November preceding the end of such period the question of the continuation of the appointment, and the appointment shall not lapse at the end of that period unless the Senate shall have given notice in writing to the holder of the appointment not later than December 31st preceding; and failing such notice the appointment shall be deemed to be renewed for one further year as from the end of the initial period with notice that it will lapse at the end of such further year.

In cases where such appointment is attached to an Incorporated College the Delegacy or Committee managing the College shall take into consideration not later than October preceding the end of the initial period the question of the continuation of the appointment and shall report thereon to the Senate not later than November 1st following.

(v) The age for retirement shall be August 31st in the Session in which the holder of the appointment attains the age of 60, and if he attains that age on August 31st his retirement shall take place on that day.

(vi) The Senate shall take into consideration not later than November in the Session during which the retiring age is reached the question of re-appointment for a further period, and, if so, what period, and shall inform the holder of the appointment of their decision not later than December 31st. In the case of a post attached to an Incorporated College, the Senate shall not make such re-appointment unless they have received from the Delegacy or Committee managing the College a reasoned statement recommending such re-appointment, and the Senate shall not make such re-appointment for a shorter period than one year or for a longer period than five years in the aggregate. Nevertheless the Senate shall not be precluded from extending for very exceptional reasons the tenure of a particular Professor or Reader beyond the age of 65 years by annual re-appointments for periods of one year.

(vii) The holder of the appointment shall be required to participate in the Federated Superannuation System for Universities.

(viii) The holder of the appointment may terminate it at the end of any Session (August 31st), and not at any other date, by notice given to the University not later than April 30th preceding; provided that the Senate may in special cases, if they see fit, waive the condition set forth in this Section.

4. The conditions of appointments to University Professorships and Readerships tenable at a School or Institution of the University, whether made under Section C of the Regulations (cases in which the salary is wholly or partly provided by the University), or under Section D of the Regulations (cases in which the salary is wholly provided by the School or Institution concerned), shall be made to conform with the following principles :—

(i) The period of appointment shall always terminate on August 31st (except in cases of removal for due cause).

(ii) In cases where it is not necessary for financial reasons or by reason of special Trusts to make the period of appointment in the first instance for a limited period of years, the Statement of conditions of appointment shall include the following :—

The Senate will decide after report from the relevant Board of Advisors whether the appointment shall be made in the first instance for an initial limited period, and, if so, what period, or whether it shall be made without time-limit up to the age fixed for retirement.

(iii) In cases where the Senate and the Governing Body of the School or Institution concerned retain a Professor or Reader after an initial period of appointment, the re-appointment shall be as a rule without time-limit up to the retiring age, except when such re-appointment is inconsistent with the terms of a specific Trust governing the appointment.

(iv) In cases where an appointment is made for an initial period the Governing Body of the School or Institution concerned shall take into consideration not later than the October preceding the end of such period the question of the continuation of the appointment and shall report to the Senate thereon not later than November 1st following, and the appointment shall not lapse at the end of that period unless the Senate shall have given notice in writing to the Professor or Reader in question not later than December 31st preceding. The Governing Body of the School or Institution concerned, before reporting to the Senate in regard to the question of such re-appointment, shall invite a report thereon from the Academic Board or corresponding body of such School or Institution.

(v) If it is desired by the Governing Body of a School or Institution to terminate the appointment of a Professor or Reader before the age limit is reached, a Joint Committee consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Chairman of Convocation, and the Chairman of the Academic Council, and three representatives of the School or Institution in question (with the Vice-Chancellor as Chairman), shall be appointed to consider the case. The Report of the Joint Committee shall be considered by the Governing Body of the School or Institution, who shall report to the Senate their action thereon.

(vi) The age for retirement shall be August 31st in the Session in which the holder of the appointment attains an age to be agreed upon by the Senate and the Governing Body of the School or Institution concerned, provided that such age shall not exceed 60; and if the holder attains the age so agreed upon on August 31st his retirement shall take place on that day.

(vii) The Governing Body of the School or Institution concerned shall take into consideration not later than October in the Session during which the retiring age is reached the question of re-appointment for a further period and if so what period, and shall report to the Senate thereon not later than November 1st following. The Governing Body before reporting to the Senate in regard to the question of such re-appointment shall invite a report thereon from the Academic Board or corresponding body of the School or Institution. The Senate shall take the report above referred to from the Governing Body into consideration not later than at their meeting in November and shall inform the holder of the appointment of their decision not later than December 31st. The Senate shall not make such re-appointment unless they have received a reasoned statement recommending such re-appointment from the Governing Body concerned ; and the Senate shall not make such re-appointment for a shorter period than one year or for a longer period than five years in the aggregate. Nevertheless the Senate shall not be precluded from extending for very exceptional reasons the tenure of a particular Professor or Reader beyond the age of 65 years by annual re-appointments for periods of one year.

(viii) The holder of the appointment shall be required to participate in the Federated Superannuation System for Universities, or in some other scheme approved by the University.

(ix) The holder of the appointment may terminate it at the end of a Session (August 31st), but not otherwise, by notice given to the Governing Body of the School or Institution and to the Senate not later than April 30th ; provided that the Senate may in special cases, with the consent of the Governing Body, if they see fit, waive the condition set forth in this section.

5. Where retirement under any Regulation is fixed for the attainment by the Professor or Reader of a certain age, retirement shall take place on August 31st in the Session in which he attains that age, and if he attain that age on August 31st his retirement shall take place on that day.

6. In case of misconduct or incapacity of a Professor or Reader whose salary is wholly provided by the Senate, the Senate shall have power to remove him from office, subject to any special conditions attached to the post in question.

7. In case of misconduct or incapacity of a Professor or Reader whose salary is partly provided by the School or Institution to which he is attached the Senate shall have power to remove him from his office, subject to any special conditions attached to the post in question, but such power shall not be exercised until after report from the School or Institution in question. Provided that if such Report has been invited by the Senate and has not been furnished within a reasonable time, the Senate shall be at liberty to take such further action as they may think fit.

8. In case of misconduct or incapacity of a Professor or Reader whose salary is wholly provided by the School or Institution to which he is attached the Senate shall have power to deprive him of his title, but such power shall not be exercised until after report from the School or Institution in question. Provided that if such Report has been invited by the Senate and has not been furnished within a reasonable time, the Senate shall be at liberty to take such further action as they may think fit.

BOARDS OF ADVISORS.

9. The Title of Professor and Reader shall be conferred in each case after report from a Board of Advisors in accordance with such Regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the Senate in respect of special categories or appointments.

10. Any person who is a member of a Board of Advisors shall cease to hold that office if he is himself a Candidate for the Professorship or Readership in connection with which the Board was established.

11. Any occasional vacancy among the Members of a Board of Advisors shall be filled by the Senate, and a person appointed to fill such vacancy shall hold office until the expiry of the period for which the person originally serving in his place was appointed. Provided that in cases of urgency, of which the Vice-Chancellor shall be the judge, he may fill up the vacancy, reporting subsequently to the Senate.

External Experts.

12. Definition.—The term External Expert as used in these Regulations means an expert who is neither an Appointed nor Recognised Teacher of the University, and who does not hold a paid office in any Institution connected with the University in which the office of Teacher is held by any Appointed or Recognised Teacher of the University.

13. Each Board of Advisors shall include three External Experts and the same External Experts shall serve on all Boards of Advisors dealing with the same subject or group of subjects, whether included in categories B, C, D, or E, below, unless in the case of a particular Readership or Professorship the Senate shall otherwise direct.

14. Three External Experts shall be appointed in accordance with the present Scheme for each of the following subjects or group of subjects, to be added to or modified hereafter as the Senate shall direct :—

Boards of Advisors.

15. (a) External Experts shall normally be appointed for a term of three years, and the term of office shall date as from March 1st in the year of appointment; but of the first three experts appointed in each subject, those two whose names occur first in alphabetical order shall retire after periods of one and two years respectively.

(b) Any person appointed to serve as an External Expert on a Board of Advisors who shall become an Appointed or Recognised Teacher of the University or accept a paid office in any Institution connected with the University in which the office of Teacher is held by any Appointed or Recognised Teacher of the University shall ipso facto vacate his seat on the Board of Advisors.

(c) Provided that (except under the provisions of Section 10 above) no External Expert shall be required to retire from a Board of Advisors pending the appointment to a particular office which has been referred to the Board.

16. External Experts shall be appointed as Members of Boards of Advisors after report in each case from the relevant Board of Studies. It shall be an instruction to Boards of Studies that they shall in each case recommend to the Senate the names of twice as many persons as there are vacancies to be filled on the Board of Advisors in question.

17. No fee shall be payable to an External Expert serving as a Member of a Board of Advisors, but he shall be refunded travelling expenses incurred for attendance at Meetings of the Board.

Note.—In the view of the Senate, it is inexpedient to confer the title of University Professor or Reader on any person teaching at a School or Institution of the University in respect of an appointment made from a field of applicants limited to persons already attached to the School or Institution.

In the view of the Senate it is inexpedient to confer the title of Professor in the University of London on any Teacher of the University whose main teaching work is not carried on by him as an Appointed or Recognised Teacher in the University.

B.

Appointment, Powers, and Duties of Boards of Advisors for Professorships and Readerships not attached to any particular School or Institution.

The Appointment to Professorships and Readerships not attached to any particular School or Institution shall be made after report from a Board of Advisors in accordance with the following Scheme :—

1. A Board of Advisors (hereinafter called the Board) shall be appointed, constituted as follows :—The Vice-Chancellor, the Principal Officer, and six other persons appointed by the Senate after report from the relevant Board or Boards of Studies, of whom three shall be External Experts appointed in accordance with the General Regulations above.

2. The Vice-Chancellor, or, in his absence, the Principal Officer, shall take the Chair at any Meeting of the Board. Six Members of the Board shall be a quorum.

3. (a) Two Members of the Board shall retire every second year, but shall be eligible for re-appointment provided always that no person shall be a Member of the Board for more than two consecutive periods except with the consent of two-thirds of the members of the Senate present and voting on the question of his re-appointment.

(b) The first of the six Members to retire under this Regulation shall be (i) the External Expert, and (ii) the Member of the Board not included in the foregoing category, whose names stand first in alphabetical order in their respective categories in the original list.

(c) When, under this Regulation, the whole of the original members of one category have been replaced before the whole of the original members in the other category, two of the original members in the latter category shall retire simultaneously at the intervals prescribed until the whole of such members have retired.

(d) Any person elected as Member of the Board who shall at the time of his election hold a post as Appointed or Recognised Teacher or who shall hold a paid office in any Institution in which the office of Teacher is held by any Appointed or Recognised Teacher of the University and who shall cease to hold such post or office shall ipso facto cease to be a Member of the Board.

[For the corresponding Regulation relating to External Experts see under General Regulations A, Section 15, Sub-section (b).]

4. The Principal Officer shall, when the Board is required to act, fix a date for the first meeting of the Board, and shall inform the Board of a date before which it is desirable that the appointment in question should be made. The Members of the Board may, after consultation, either direct the Principal to advertise the vacancy or may dispense with advertisement. If an advertisement is published, the Board shall not be limited in their choice to the persons who have applied for the post.

5. It shall be an instruction to the Board that in nominating any person for appointment as University Professor or Reader they shall have regard to—

- (i) his contributions by research to the advancement of science or learning;
- (ii) his powers as a teacher;
- (iii) generally his eminence in his subject or in his profession.

6. The Report of the Board shall state (a) what steps have been taken for the filling of the vacant post; (b) the names and qualifications of the Candidates; (c) the ground on which the Candidate or Candidates selected are recommended to the Senate.

The Board may report that no person can be found with the qualifications required to fill the vacant post and that temporary measures should be taken to provide the necessary teaching.

7. The whole or any portion of the Report of the Board other than the Recommendation shall, at the request of the Board, be treated as confidential, but it shall be read in extenso at the Meeting of the Academic Council at which the Report is considered, and shall be on the Table at the Meeting of the Senate at which the matter is considered, and read at that Meeting if the Senate shall by resolution so direct.

C.

Appointment, Powers, and Duties of Boards of Advisors for Professorships and Readerships attached to a particular School or Institution when the Salary is wholly or partly provided by the University.

The appointment to Professorships and Readerships attached to a particular School or Institution, when the salary is wholly or partly provided by the University, shall be made after report from a Board of Advisors in accordance with the following Scheme :—

1. A Board of Advisors (hereinafter called the Board) shall be appointed, constituted as follows :—The Vice-Chancellor, the Principal Officer of the University, and seven other persons, of whom three shall be External Experts appointed in accordance with the General Regulations above and four shall be appointed by the Senate on the nomination of the School or Institution concerned.

2. The four Members of the Board to be appointed by the Senate on the nomination of the School or Institution concerned shall be specially appointed when the post of Professor or Reader in question becomes, or is about to become, vacant.

3. The Vice-Chancellor, or, in his absence, the Principal Officer, shall take the Chair at any Meeting of the Board at which he is present. In the absence of both, the Members present at the Meeting shall choose a Chairman. Seven Members of the Board shall be a quorum.

4. The Principal Officer shall fix a date for the first meeting of the Board, and shall inform the Board of a date before which it is desirable that the appointment should be made. The Members of the Board may, after consultation, either direct the Principal Officer to advertise the vacancy or may dispense with advertisement. If an advertisement is published, the Board shall not be limited in their choice to the persons who have applied for the post.

5. It shall be an instruction to the Board that in nominating any person for appointment as University Professor or Reader they shall have regard to—

- (i) his contributions by research to the advancement of science or learning ;

- (ii) his powers as a teacher ;
- (iii) generally his eminence in his subject or in his profession.

6. The Report of the Board shall state (a) what steps have been taken for the filling of the vacant post ; (b) the names and qualifications of the Candidates ; (c) the grounds on which the Candidate or Candidates selected are recommended to the Senate.

The Board may report that no person can be found with the qualifications required to fill the vacant post, and that temporary measures should be taken to provide the necessary teaching.

7. The Report of the Board shall be sent simultaneously to the Academic Council and the Governing Body of the School or Institution in question, and shall be transmitted in due course to the Senate with the Reports, if any, that the Academic Council and the Governing Body of the School or Institution may submit.

8. The whole or any portion of the Report of the Board shall, at the request of the Board, be treated as confidential by the bodies to whom it is communicated, but it shall be read in extenso at the Meeting of the Academic Council at which the Report is considered, and shall be on the Table at the Meeting of the Senate at which the matter is considered, and read at that Meeting if the Senate shall by resolution so direct.

D.

Appointment, Powers, and Duties of Boards of Advisors for Professorships and Readerships attached to a particular School or Institution when the Salary is wholly provided by the School or Institution.

The appointment to Professorships and Readerships attached to a particular School or Institution, when the salary is wholly provided by the School or Institution, shall be made after report from a Board of Advisors in accordance with the following Scheme :—

1. A Board of Advisors (hereinafter called the Board) shall be appointed, constituted as follows :—The Vice-Chancellor, the Principal Officer of the University, and seven other persons, of whom three shall be External Experts appointed in accordance with the General Regulations above, and four shall be appointed by the Senate on the nomination of the School or Institution concerned.

2. The four Members of the Board to be appointed by the Senate on the nomination of the School or Institution concerned shall be specially appointed when the post of Professor or Reader in question becomes, or is about to become, vacant.

3. The Vice-Chancellor, or, in his absence, the Principal Officer, shall take the Chair at any Meeting of the Board at which he is present. In the absence of both, the Members present at the Meeting shall choose a Chairman. Seven Members of the Board shall be a quorum.

4. The Principal Officer shall fix a date for the first meeting of the Board, and shall inform the Board of a date before which it is desirable that the appointment should be made. The Members of the Board may, after consultation, either direct the Principal to advertise the vacancy or may dispense with advertisement. If an advertisement is published, the Board shall not be limited in their choice to the persons who have applied for the post.

5. It shall be an instruction to the Board that in nominating any person for appointment as University Professor or Reader they shall have regard to—

- (i) his contributions by research to the advancement of science or learning ;
- (ii) his powers as a teacher ;
- (iii) generally his eminence in his subject or in his profession.

6. The Report of the Board shall state (a) what steps have been taken for the filling of the vacant post ; (b) the names and qualifications of the Candidates ; (c) the ground on which the Candidate or Candidates selected are recommended to the Senate.

The Board may report that no person can be found with the qualifications required to fill the vacant post.

7. The Report of the Board shall be sent simultaneously to the Academic Council and the Governing Body of the School or Institution in question, and shall be transmitted in due course to the Senate with the Reports, if any, that the Academic Council and the Governing Body of the School or Institution may submit. No election shall be made by the Senate unless the Governing Body have signified in their Report their approval of the Candidate selected by the Board.

8. Should the Board report that no suitable Candidate with sufficient qualifications to deserve the title of University Professor or Reader, as the case may be, can be found, the School or Institution shall be free to make its own arrangements for filling the post in question, but the appointment shall not carry with it the title of University Professor or Reader as the case may be, although it would be open to the School or Institution to apply at a subsequent date for the conferment under Section E of the Regulations of a title upon the person so appointed.

9. The whole or any portion of the Report of the Board shall, at the request of the Board, be treated as confidential by the bodies to whom it is communicated, but it shall be read in extenso at the Meeting of the Academic Council at which the Report is considered, and shall be on the Table at the Meeting of the Senate at which the matter is considered, and read at that Meeting if the Senate shall by resolution so direct.

E.

Procedure to be adopted in the Conferment of the Title of University Professor or Reader on Recognised Teachers of the University.

[NOTE.—The procedure under Section E of the Regulations is intended to be employed in exceptional circumstances only, of which the following are examples :—(1) the case of persons who have been appointed in the first instance as junior teachers and who in the course of time have attained exceptional distinction during the tenure of their posts, and (2) the case of Readers who in the course of time have attained such distinction as to justify the conferment on them of the title of Professor.

The Senate are not prepared to apply the procedure in cases where the original appointment of a teacher might have been made by the Senate under Section D of the Regulations after due application from the institution concerned.]

The conferment of the title of Professor or Reader on a Recognised Teacher of the University, in respect of a post held by him to which that title is not attached ex officio, shall be made after report from a Board of Advisors in accordance with the following Scheme :—

1. A Board of Advisors (hereinafter called the Board) shall be appointed by the Senate for each subject, or group of subjects, approved for that purpose by the Senate and constituted as follows :—The Vice-Chancellor, the Principal Officer, and three External Experts appointed in accordance with the General Regulations above.

2. The Vice-Chancellor, or, in his absence, the Principal Officer, shall take the Chair at any Meeting of the Board. Four Members of the Board shall be a quorum.

3. It shall be an instruction to the Board that in nominating any person for appointment as University Professor or Reader they shall have regard to—

- (i) his contributions by research to the advancement of science or learning ;
- (ii) his powers as a teacher ;
- (iii) generally his eminence in his subject or in his profession.

4. The Report of the Board shall state fully the qualifications of any person recommended for the title of Professor or Reader and the grounds on which such Recommendation is made.

5. The whole or any portion of the Report of the Board other than the Recommendation, shall, at the request of the Board, be treated as confidential, but it shall be read in extenso at the Meeting of the Academic Council at which the Report is submitted, and shall be on the Table at the Meeting of the Senate at which the matter is considered and read at that Meeting if the Senate shall by resolution so direct.

6. Applications under Section E of the Regulations on University Titles will be considered at intervals to be fixed by the Senate from time to time.

7. After July 1920 the titles of Professor and Reader shall not be conferred under Section E in respect of appointments of which the conditions do not conform with the principles set out under Section A 3, or Section A 4, as the case may be.

F.

Regulations for the Conferment of the Title of Emeritus Professor.

1. As a general rule applications for the title of Emeritus Professor will be considered only on the recommendation of the Governing Body of the College or School to which the Professor is attached.

2. The title will be conferred only on those persons who have held the title of Professor in the University of London, and have, while holding the title, rendered substantial service to the advancement of knowledge.

3. The title will not as a general rule be conferred on persons who resign before attaining the age of retirement.

REGULATIONS UNDER STATUTE 113B.

[Senate Minute 4071 of July 1926.]

Statute 113b provides as follows :—

Provided also that persons on whom the Senate have conferred the title of Professor or Reader in the University may after a period of not less than two years from the date of such conferment be admitted as Internal Students as candidates for any of the higher degrees (except in Medicine and Surgery) without their having previously taken any lower degree and without their having pursued a course of study approved by the University.

The following Regulations have been approved by the Senate under the foregoing Statute.

(1) The Degrees to which the Statute shall apply are :—

Faculty of Theology :	Ph.D., D.D.
Arts :	Ph.D., D.Lit.
Laws :	LL.D.
Music :	Ph.D., D.Mus.
Science :	Ph.D., D.Sc.
Engineering :	Ph.D., D.Sc. (Eng.).
Economics :	Ph.D., D.Sc. (Econ.).

(2) Persons on whom the Senate have conferred the title of Professor or Reader may submit themselves as candidates for any of the above-mentioned degrees at any time after a period of not less than two years from the date of the conferment of such title, provided that they are at the time of their candidature in the active service of the University.

(3) The Examination will be conducted by means of a thesis submitted by the candidate and may embody work done by him before or after the conferment of the title of Professor or Reader in the University. Such thesis must comply with the ordinary Regulations for Internal Students as regards literary presentation and if not already published in an approved form must be submitted in a form suitable for publication.

(4) A candidate will not be permitted to submit as his thesis a thesis for which a Degree has been conferred on him in this or in any other University, but a candidate shall not be precluded from incorporating work which he has already submitted for a Degree in this or any other University in a thesis covering a wider field, provided that he shall indicate on his form of entry and also on his thesis any work which has been so incorporated.

(5) Work done conjointly with other investigators will not be accepted as a thesis, but the candidate may submit in support of his candidature any printed contribution or contributions to the advancement of Science or learning which he may have published independently or conjointly. In the event of a candidate submitting conjoint work in support of his candidature he will be required to state fully his own share in such conjoint work.

(6) No written, vivâ-voce, or practical examination will be required.

(7) Every candidate must apply to the Academic Registrar for the appropriate form of entry which must be returned accompanied by the thesis and the fee prescribed in the Regulations for Internal Students. No other fee will be required.

(8) In all other respects the Regulations for Internal Students mutatis mutandis will be followed.

REGULATIONS FOR THE RECOGNITION OF TEACHERS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

[Senate Minutes 154 of December 1900 ; 536 of December 1923 ; 1840 of June 1904 ; 2392 of March 1912 ; 2745 of July 1917 ; 2844 of May 1920 ; 2872 of May 1925.]

1. Every application for the recognition of any person as a teacher of the University shall be made in writing by the School of the University or Public Educational Institution, of the teaching staff of which the candidate is a member, and shall be signed by the Principal or acting Head of such School or Institution, and when forms for the purpose are provided by the Senate, shall be on one of such forms.

2. Every such application shall contain a statement of the following particulars :—

- (a) That the Institution making the application (if not a School of the University) is a Public Educational Institution within the appointed radius within the meaning of the Statutes.
- (b) The branch or branches of knowledge in respect of which the candidate desires to be recognised.
- (c) His University degree or other qualifications for teaching the subjects in respect of which he desires to be recognised, and his exact position on the teaching staff of the Institution making the application.
- (d) That he is regularly engaged in giving, in the Institution applying, courses of instruction of a University standard.
- (e) A syllabus or other short description of the course or courses of instruction which he gives in the branch or branches of knowledge in which he desires to be recognised, including the number of lectures given by him or number of hours devoted by him to teaching in each week, and whether in the daytime or in the evening only.

(f) Whether he has prepared or assisted in the preparation of students for the examinations for a University degree, specifying the particular subjects in which he has so prepared or assisted in the preparation of students, his published works (if any), or any other evidence he may be able to give of his qualifications as a University teacher.

(g) A short statement of the provision in the Institution making the application (not being a School of the University) of the laboratory accommodation, apparatus and other appliances (if any) as are necessary for the instruction which he gives.

3. The Institution making the application (not being a School of the University) shall, if required by the Senate or the Academic Council, furnish a copy of its Charter, Special Act of Parliament, or Memorandum and Articles of Association, or the deed or other instrument of its foundation.

4. The Institution making the application, and the Candidate, shall give such further or other evidence as may be required by the Senate or the Academic Council as to any of the foregoing particulars, and as to the fitness of the Candidate to be recognised as a teacher of the University, having regard to the requirements of the Statutes.

5. Every application shall be addressed to the Senate and by it referred to the Academic Council, who may, if it shall think fit, call for a report thereon from any of the Boards of Studies. A copy of every report of a Board of Studies on such application shall be transmitted to the Dean of the appropriate Faculty, pursuant to Statute 106, and shall accompany the report of the Academic Council to the Senate.

6. The Senate, after receiving the report of the Academic Council, shall decide whether the Candidate shall be recognised as a teacher of the University.

7. Every Public Educational Institution (not being a School of the University) which has a recognised teacher on its staff shall, on or before the 31st day of December in every year, make to the Senate such a report on the instruction given in the Institution by a recognised teacher, and the provision made for the same, as will enable the Senate to judge whether the conditions of recognition are being fulfilled. Such reports shall be referred to the Academic Council for their consideration and report.

8. Any two members of the Senate may propose any duly qualified person, not being a member of a Public Educational Institution within the appointed radius, for temporary recognition as a teacher of the University, pursuant to Statute 94, and such proposal shall thereupon be referred to the Academic Council, who shall proceed thereon in the same way as upon an application for recognition.

9. Recognition will not be granted unless the following condition is complied with, namely—

- (1) That, in the case of Teachers who give their whole time to the Institution, the total annual salary shall not fall below £300; and
- (2) That, in the case of part-time Teachers, the remuneration shall be approximately on the same scale.

10. In considering applications for recognition regard will be had to the candidate's published work (if any).

TRANSFERENCE OF RECOGNISED TEACHERS.

11. In general accordance with the terms of the Statutes, Section 91, the names of persons recognised as Teachers of the University whose services have been transferred from one School or Institution to another, in which Teachers are recognised, or who have been transferred from one post to another in the same School or Institution, will remain on the List of Recognised Teachers for a period of four months, in which period no part of the months of August and September shall be included, in order to allow for a fresh Application for Recognition to be considered.

CESSATION OF RECOGNITION.

12. The Recognition granted by the Senate to any Teacher at an Institution in any subject will cease to be valid if he be transferred from the position for which Recognition was granted to some other position, though he should continue to teach the same subject in the same Institution as previously.

PROBATIONARY RECOGNITION OF TEACHERS.

13. Recognition for a period to be prescribed in each case may be granted to Teachers in cases where such recognition may seem desirable. Such Recognition will be termed Probationary Recognition.

14. At the end of the period for which Probationary Recognition has been granted a fresh application must in each case be made if further Recognition is desired.

15. Probationary Recognition may be extended, at the discretion of the Senate, in cases where such extension may seem desirable.

16. Probationary Recognition will not be granted unless the following conditions are complied with, viz. :—

- (1) That in the case of Teachers who give their whole time to the Institution applying, i.e., are engaged on the understanding that they may undertake no other remunerative work except with permission of the Governing Body of the Institution, the total annual salary shall not fall below £300.
- (2) That in the case of part-time Teachers the remuneration shall be approximately on the same scale.
- (3) That the Institution applying shall give an assurance that the Teacher on whose behalf application is made shall have facilities for continuing his studies in order to qualify for full Recognition.

TEMPORARILY RECOGNISED TEACHERS.

Persons who have been appointed to deliver Special Advanced Courses of Lectures will be placed in a category of Temporarily Recognised Teachers.

DEGREES.*

[Note.—The information in this Section is given for general guidance ; it is to be understood that the detailed Regulations as published in special volumes for Internal and for External Students are alone authoritative.]

As provided by the Statutes, Section 108, the following Degrees are granted by the University :—

- (1) Bachelor and Doctor of Divinity ;
- (2) Bachelor and Master of Arts and Doctor of Literature ;
- (3) Bachelor and Master and Doctor of Laws ;
- (4) Bachelor and Doctor of Music ;
- (5) Bachelor and Doctor of Medicine and Bachelor and Master of Surgery ; Bachelor of Dental Surgery ; Bachelor of Pharmacy ;
- (6) Bachelor, Master, and Doctor of Science ;

In accordance with the Statutes, Section 110, Internal Students and External Students alike are eligible for all the above Degrees,* but External Students (other than those in Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Mining, and Architecture) are at liberty to study where they please, whereas Internal Students must have attended Courses of Study approved by the University. The Degrees conferred upon both classes of Students represent as far as possible the same standard of knowledge and attainments.

The Regulations for Degrees, including the Syllabuses for the several Subjects of examination, are not printed in the Calendar, but are contained in two special volumes published annually in September, entitled "Regulations and Courses for Internal Students" (Red Book) and "Regulations for External Students" (Blue Book) respectively; the Regulations are published also in pamphlets for the several Faculties, for Internal and External Students separately, which may be obtained post free on application to the appropriate Registrar.

In all communications to the University with respect to Regulations for Degrees, reference must be made to the Regulations as published in these volumes or pamphlets. The summary of the Regulations for Degrees given below has been compiled from the detailed Regulations for the general guidance of persons consulting the Calendar. No attempt has been made to give exhaustive information; and students and others who require detailed particulars of Degrees and Examinations should, therefore, in all cases, obtain a copy of the complete Regulations for the Degrees and Examinations in which they are interested.

With reference to the length of the course for a Degree, Section 120 of the Statutes is of special importance:—

120. The examinations for a degree shall be held at such times and at such place or places as may be prescribed, but no Student shall be admitted to the final examination for a degree until the expiration of at least three years after matriculation, unless the Senate in special cases or special classes of cases otherwise determine.

The special requirements for Internal Students in regard to attendance at Approved Courses of Study are prescribed in the Statutes, Sections 125-131, and the Regulations approved by the Senate thereunder which are published in the Regulations for Degrees.

The normal course for a First (or Bachelor's) Degree

* The Degrees of Bachelor of Science (Estate Management) for Internal Students, and of Bachelor of Science (Household and Social Science) for External Students have not yet been instituted.

extends over three years, except in the case of the course for the B.A. Degree in Architecture for Internal Students in the Faculty of Arts, M.B., B.S. and B.D.S. Degrees in the Faculty of Medicine, and the B.Sc. (Veterinary Science) Degree in the Faculty of Science, for details of which see below.

After Matriculation the first examination, taken usually after an interval of one year, is the Intermediate Examination. In the Faculties of Theology, Arts, Laws, Music, Science, Engineering, and Economics and Political Science (including Commerce and Industry), only the one Intermediate Examination has to be taken before entering for the Final Examination for the Degree, but in the Faculty of Medicine for the Degrees of M.B., B.S. and B.D.S., and in the Faculty of Science for the Degrees of B.Sc. (Veterinary Science) and B.Sc. (Household and Social Science) there are two examinations intervening between the Matriculation and the Final examinations, for details of which see below.

Unless it is otherwise prescribed, separate examinations are held for Internal and External Students. In the Session 1925-26, Examinations in Theology (Final), Music, Medicine, Veterinary Science and Commerce, were held in common for Internal and External Students.

Special Intermediate Examinations are held in some of the Faculties for Students attached to particular Schools of the University. These Examinations are conducted by the Teachers concerned acting in conjunction with the External Examiners. They are not necessarily held concurrently with the corresponding General Intermediate Examinations for Internal Students.

Every Candidate for an Examination must be careful to apply to the appropriate Registrar for the requisite Entry or Notice Forms at the date stated in the Regulations.

The several Intermediate and Final Examinations of the University are, as a rule, held once every year ; but additional Final Examinations in Arts and Science are held in November for External Students. The Arts Examination will be a Pass Examination only, while the Science Examination will be the General Examination on the results of which Honours are awarded. The subjects of both examinations will be the more usual subjects only. In the Faculty of Arts, the M.A. Examination is held twice in each year, in December and May, for Internal Students (except in the case of the M.A. Degree in Education, the Examination for which is held only in May), and once in each year, in May, for External Students. In addition to those held in June and July of each year, External Intermediate Examinations in Arts and Science (in the more usual subjects only), and in Engineering and Commerce, are held in November. In the Faculty of Medicine, each of the Examinations is held twice in each year. The Preliminary Examination, and the Intermediate Examination, Part I, in Veterinary Science are also held twice in each year. The dates for the commencement of the several Examinations in the Session 1926-27 (also dates for Entry and for publication of Pass Lists) are given in the Almanac (pp. 5-16).

The Pass Lists of the Intermediate and Final Examinations for Internal Students and for External Students are published as a rule in alphabetical order; but in the case of the B.A. Examination, the Pass Lists are published in two divisions, and in alphabetical order in each division.

Lists of Internal Students and of External Students graduating with Honours are published in either two or three classes, the names in each class being in alphabetical order; except in the case of the Honours List of the M.B., B.S. Examination which is published in alphabetical order.

As a general rule, Students are required to pass in all the subjects taken at an Examination, and to pass in all these subjects at one and the same Examination. In certain Intermediate, but in none of the Final Examinations, there are exceptions to this general rule, for particulars of which the Regulations in the several Faculties should be consulted. The Final Examinations for the M.B., B.S., B.Sc. (Horticulture), B.Sc. (Estate Management), and B.Com. Degrees may however be taken in two parts, all the subjects of each part being passed at one and the same Examination.

A Candidate for a Doctor's Degree must, as a general rule, have taken the corresponding Bachelor's Degree at least four years previously. Candidates for a Doctor's Degree, other than the D.Mus. and M.D. Degrees, may enter at any time of the year.

Except in certain cases, the Fee payable for entry to an Intermediate or Final Examination is 6 guineas, for entry to the Master of Arts, Master of Laws, Master of Science, Master of Commerce, Doctor of Literature or Doctor of Science Degree, 10 guineas. (In the case of Candidates who have been exempted from the M.Sc. Degree, the Fee for the D.Sc. is 20 guineas.) In all other cases the Fee for a Doctor's Degree is 20 guineas. For information in regard to the Fee payable for entry to any Examination, the detailed Regulations should be consulted.

Some of the Examinations for External Students are held at Provincial and Colonial Centres as well as in London.

Examinations for Honours involving Practical or Oral Work can be held in London only.

Further information as to Degrees and Diplomas is given below for the several Faculties :—

Matriculation.

For detailed Regulations see the Appendix of this Volume.

Faculty of Theology.*

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Divinity (B.D.), Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) (Theology) and Doctor of Divinity (D.D.).

The scheme of Examinations is the same for Internal and External Students.

At the Intermediate Examination in Divinity the Subjects are :—Biblical Languages (viz., Elementary Hebrew, and New Testament Greek); Classical Greek; Latin; Psychology and Ethics. Exemptions may be granted in Classical Greek and Latin to candidates who have passed approved examinations.

At the B.D. Examination, the Subjects are :—Old Testament; New Testament; Biblical and Historical Theology; Church History; Philosophical Introduction to Theology; with one further subject to be chosen from the following :—A selected period of Church History; selected Patristic or Scholastic Texts illustrative of Biblical and Historical Theology; the Comparative Study of Religions; Christian Ethics; Art in the Christian Church.

Honours in Theology can not be taken until at least one year after passing the B.D. Degree. The Honours in Theology Examination is distinct from the B.D. Examination. Honours may be taken in one Subject only at any one Examination, but a Student may take Honours in other subjects, not exceeding two, at subsequent examinations. The Subjects of examination are :—Hebrew and Aramaic, including Syriac; Greek New Testament and Apocrypha; Church History; Biblical and Historical Theology; The Study of Religion.

A Candidate for the Ph.D. Degree must have previously graduated in the Faculty of Theology, Arts, Music, Science, Engineering, or Economics, or have been registered as a Candidate for the Degree under the terms of Statute 113 or Statute 129, and must comply with the other conditions prescribed in the Regulations.

Candidates for the D.D. Degree must have taken Honours in Theology, and must comply with the other conditions prescribed in the Regulations.

Faculty of Arts.*

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Arts (B.A.), Master of Arts (M.A.), Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) (Arts), and Doctor of Literature (D.Lit.).

The schemes of Examination for the B.A. Degree for Internal and for External Students differ in detail, and are therefore described separately.

Internal Students.

At the Intermediate Examination in Arts for Internal Students, four Subjects must be taken, of which two must be languages, and one language must be either Latin, with Roman History, or Greek, with Greek

(3) One of the following :—Pure Mathematics ; Applied Mathematics ; Physics (provided that either Pure or Applied Mathematics has been taken at the Intermediate Examination in Arts) ; Chemistry ; Botany ; Geology ; Philosophy ; Psychology, General and Experimental ; Economics ; Anthropology ; Geography ; Military Studies ; Law. (4) Any one of the subjects that may be offered under Groups (1), (2), and (3), not previously taken, or one of the following :—A second branch of Indo-Aryan, or History, or Education, or Theology, or Music.

Candidates entering for the B.A. Honours Degree are not required to take the B.A. Pass Examination, but Graduates who hold the B.A. Pass Degree may enter for the B.A. Honours Degree. Candidates who have taken a B.A. Honours Degree in one section at one Examination may enter for Honours in one other section at any subsequent B.A. Honours Examination.

For the B.A. Honours Degree, Candidates are examined in any one of the following sections, at the choice of the Candidate :—1. Classics. 2. Archæology. 3. Architecture. 4. Mathematics, Pure and Applied. 5. Modern Languages, viz., any one of the following :—English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Celtic. 6. Philosophy. 7. Psychology. 8. History. 9. Oriental Languages. 10. Slavonic Studies. 11. Geography.

Internal and External Students.

The M.A. Degree for Internal and for External Students is conferred in the following branches :—Classics ; Archæology ; Mathematics ; Medieval and Modern Languages ; Oriental Languages ; Philosophy ; History ; Education. The M.A. Degree for Internal Students is also conferred in the following branches :—Comparative Philology ; Psychology ; Geography ; Sociology ; Slavonic Studies. On the Internal side a Thesis is required in all subjects, except in Mathematics, for which it is voluntary. On the External side the Degree is obtainable in all Branches by Examination only.

A Candidate for the Ph.D. Degree must have previously graduated in the Faculty of Theology, Arts, Music, Science, Engineering, or Economics, or have been registered as a Candidate for the Degree under the terms of Statute 113 or Statute 129, and must comply with the other conditions prescribed in the Regulations.

The D.Lit. Degree is open to Masters of Arts and Doctors of Philosophy and is conferred for original work.

ARCHITECTURE

Internal Students.

The Course for the B.A. Degree in Architecture extends normally over five years. The Examinations are as follows :—

First (Intermediate) Examination in Architecture will take place once in each Academic Year, in June. Subjects :—(1) Any two of the following languages, provided that Latin or Greek shall be one :—Latin, Greek, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Classical Arabic, Classical Chinese ; (2) Pure and Applied Mathematics ; (3) History of Ancient Architecture, with special study of History of Greek and Roman Architecture ; (4) Architectural Drawings—Greek and Roman Orders and Ornament.

The Final Examination is in three Parts, and is held in June.

Parts I and II are taken at the end of the fourth year. For Part I the Candidate must submit drawings, designs, and a thesis. The subjects of Part II are :—The History of Architecture : the Construction of Buildings ; the Theory of Building ; Sanitation, including Heating, Ventilation and Lighting.

Part III is taken at the end of the fifth year, which must be spent in an Architect's office. The subjects of Part III are :—Architectural Design ; Town Planning.

Faculty of Laws.*

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.), Master of Laws (LL.M.), and Doctor of Laws (LL.D.).

The Intermediate Examination is held in common for Internal and External Students, but a Special Intermediate Examination was held in 1926 for Students of University College, King's College and the London School of Economics.

At the Intermediate Examination in Laws the Subjects are :—(1) History and Outlines of Roman Private Law ; (2) English Constitutional Law and its History ; (3) Jurisprudence ; (4) Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure or Indian Penal Code and Criminal Procedure.

The LL.B. Examinations for Internal and External Students are common to Pass and Honours Candidates. Candidates will be examined in six subjects as follows :—

(1) General Principles of Common Law ; (2) General Principles of Equity ; (3) One of the following :—English Law of Property, Roman Dutch Law, Mohammedan Private Law, Hindu Law, Code civil français, Mohammedan Public Law and Turkish Land Law ; (4) One of the following :—English Law of Evidence and Civil Procedure, Indian Evidence Act and Civil Procedure of the Indian Courts, Mercantile Law (special subjects to be prescribed from time to time), Conveyancing and Statutes relating thereto ; (5) and (6) Two of the following :—Public International Law, History of English Law, Constitutional Laws of the British Empire, Comparative Jurisprudence, A portion of the Digest to be prescribed from time to time with such points of the History of Roman Law as arise therefrom, Conflict of Laws.

Candidates for the Degree of LL.M. must choose two subjects from the following list :—(1) Roman Law ; (2) Jurisprudence ; (3) English Law of Property and Conveyancing ; (4) Mercantile Law ; (5) The Law of Associations ; (6) English Criminal Law and Procedure, Evidence in Civil and Criminal Cases, Civil Procedure ; (7) English Constitutional Law and the Constitutional Laws of the British Empire ; (8) Industrial Law ; (9) Local Government Law ; (10) Hindu and Mohammedan Law ; (11) Roman Dutch Law ; (12) The Law of France ; (13) Ottoman Law ; (14) Public International Law ; (15) Conflict of Laws ; (16) Ecclesiastical Law ; (17) Any subject other than those above referred to specially approved for the purpose by the University.

The written Examination will consist of six papers of three hours each, namely :—(1) Two papers on the first subject chosen ; (2) Two papers on the second subject chosen ; (3) One paper on the history of both subjects, together with questions from a comparative standpoint ; (4) A paper of essays. The examination will take place once in each year, for External Students in December, and for Internal Students in September (Fee, ten guineas).

Bachelors of Laws may, after the prescribed interval, proceed by

* Outline of the Regulations : see Note on p. 240.

Thesis and Examination to the LL.D. Degree. Candidates for the LL.D. Degree must have taken Honours at the LL.B. Examination.

In and after 1929 Candidates for the LL.D. Degree as Internal Students must have obtained the LL.M. Degree.

Faculty of Music.*

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Music (B.Mus.), Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.), and Doctor of Music (D.Mus.).

The scheme of Examinations is the same for Internal and External Students.

At the Intermediate Examination the subjects are:—History of Music; Form and Analysis; Harmony and Counterpoint.

For the B.Mus. Examination, every Candidate must in the first place submit a Musical Exercise. If the Exercise is approved, the Candidate is further tested by a written Examination, of which the subjects are:—Composition; History and Criticism of Music; Musical Exercise.

A Candidate for the Ph.D. Degree must have previously graduated in the Faculty of Theology, Arts, Music, Science, Engineering, or Economics, or have been registered as a candidate under the terms of Statute 113 or Statute 129, and must comply with the other conditions prescribed in the Regulations.

For the D.Mus. Degree there is a Written Examination the Subjects of which are Harmony, Counterpoint, Fugue including Canon, Composition, History of Music. After passing such Examination every Candidate must submit a Musical Exercise consisting of an Opera, Oratorio, or Cantata, with a ri-d-voce Examination.

Faculty of Medicine.*

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (M.B., B.S.), Doctor of Medicine (M.D.), Master of Surgery (M.S.), Bachelor of Dental Surgery (B.D.S.), and Bachelor of Pharmacy (B.Pharm.).

The Course for the M.B., B.S. Degrees, for Internal and External Students, extends normally over five and a half years, and the scheme of examinations is the same for Internal and External Students.

The Examinations are as follows:—

(1) First Examination for Medical Degrees, to be passed, as a rule, not less than nine months after Matriculation. Subjects:—Inorganic Chemistry; Physics including Mechanics; General Biology.

(2) Second Examination for Medical Degrees, Part I., to be passed after completing the First Examination for Medical Degrees and before entry to Part II. of the Second Examination. Subject:—Organic Chemistry.

(3) Second Examination for Medical Degrees, Part II., to be passed after passing Part I. of the Second Examination and not less than 18 months after completing the First Examination. Subjects:—Human Anatomy and Embryology; Physiology; Pharmacology.

(4) The Third Examination for Medical Degrees or M.B., B.S. Examination, to be passed after completion of the Second Examination, and not less than three years after passing in Anatomy and Physiology at the Second Examination, Part II., and not less than five years and a half after Matriculation. Subjects:—Medicine; Surgery; Obstetrics and Gynaecology; Pathology; Forensic Medicine; Hygiene. Every Candidate must enter for both Degrees (M.B., B.S.), but the Examination may be taken in two parts. Students who take the whole Examination at one time are eligible for Honours, the Honours List being published without division into Classes, but marks of distinction in a subject or subjects are shown on the List.

* Outline of the Regulations: see Note on p. 240.

The M.D. Degree may be taken in any of the following branches:—Medicine; Pathology; Psychological Medicine; Midwifery and Diseases of Women; State Medicine; Tropical Medicine. The Examination is held twice annually. A Thesis may be submitted, except in State Medicine.

The Examination for the M.S. Degree is held twice annually. It may be taken in any of the following branches:—(I) Surgery, (II) Dental Surgery, (III) Ophthalmology, and (IV) Laryngology, Otology, and Rhinology. A Thesis may be submitted.

All Candidates for any Examination in the Faculty of Medicine after the First Examination for Medical Degrees, whether Internal or External Students, must produce certificates showing that they have followed a satisfactory course of instruction at one or more of the Medical Institutions or Schools recognised by this University for the purpose.

DENTAL SURGERY.

The course in Dental Surgery extends normally over five years. In the first year, Courses in Inorganic Chemistry, Physics including Mechanics, and General Biology in preparation for the First Examination in Dental Surgery are taken, the Examination being held in July and December (Fee, 6 guineas). The subjects of the Second Examination are Anatomy, Physiology, Special Anatomy and Histology, Pharmacology. It is taken normally 17 months after the First Examination, and is held in July and December (Fee, 6 guineas). The Third Examination is in two Parts and the Course extends over one and a half years. The subjects of Part I are Pathology and Bacteriology, Medicine, and Surgery, and of Part II, Prosthetic Dentistry, including Dental Metallurgy. Part I is held in March and December (Fee, 6 guineas), and is taken normally 15 months after the Second Examination; Part II is held in March and June (Fee, 2 guineas), and is taken 18 months after passing the Second Examination. In the Final Course for the B.D.S. Degree the subjects are Dental Surgery, Operative Dental Surgery, and Orthodontics. The Examination is held in March and July (Fee, 6 guineas), and is taken normally one year after the Third Examination.

PHARMACY.

The course in Pharmacy extends over three years. Candidates for the Degree of B.Pharm. as Internal Students must have passed a General or Special Intermediate Examination in Science for Internal Students with the following subjects:—(1) Chemistry, (2) Physics, (3) Botany, (4) Zoology. The subjects for the Final Examination in Pharmacy are Botany, Chemistry, Pharmacognosy, Pharmacy. The examination is held once in each year, in June (Fee, 6 guineas).

For External Students the subjects of examination are practically the same as for Internal Students: the Intermediate Examination in Pharmacy is held in July and November of each year, and the Final in June. Candidates for the Final Examination are required to produce Certificates that they have followed a course of study at an approved Institution.

*Faculty of Science.**

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.), Master of Science (M.Sc.), Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) (Science), and Doctor of Science (D.Sc.); also the Degrees of Bachelor of Science (Agriculture) (B.Sc.), and Master of Science (Agriculture) (M.Sc.), * Outline of the Regulations: see Note on p. 240.

Bachelor of Science (Veterinary Science) (B.Sc.), and Master of Science (Veterinary Science) (M.Sc.), and Bachelor of Science (Horticulture) (B.Sc.); to External Students only Bachelor of Science (Estate Management) (B.Sc.); and to Internal Students only Master of Science (Horticulture) (M.Sc.), and Bachelor of Science (Household and Social Science) (B.Sc.).

Separate Examinations are held for Internal and External Students.

At the Intermediate Examination for Internal Students and for External Students, four of the following subjects must be taken, viz., Pure Mathematics; Applied Mathematics; Physics; Chemistry; Geology; Botany; Zoology; General Principles of Biology; Geography; Military Studies; of which one at least of the first three must be taken.

The Regulations for the B.Sc. Degree are as follows:—

(1) The B.Sc. Degree (General) will be awarded to candidates who pass the Final Examination in three subjects.

(2) The B.Sc. Degree (Special) will be awarded to Candidates who pass in a Principal Subject and in a Subsidiary Subject.

Successful candidates at both Examinations will receive First Class Honours, Second Class Honours, or a Pass Degree. A Candidate who has obtained a Degree under one of the two alternatives will be allowed to present himself for examination for a Degree under the other alternative after pursuing a further year's approved Course of Study.

At the B.Sc. (General) Examination for Internal Students and for External Students, any three Subjects may be selected from the following:—viz., Pure Mathematics; Applied Mathematics; Astronomy; Physics; Chemistry; Geology; Botany; Zoology; Physiology; Psychology, General and Experimental; Logic and Methodology (for External Students only); Anthropology; Military Studies; Statistics (at present for Internal Students only); Geography.

A Candidate for the B.Sc. (Special) Degree (as an Internal or External Student) is required to select as his principal Subject one of the following:—Mathematics; Astronomy; Physics; Chemistry; Geology; Botany; Zoology; Physiology; Human Anatomy and Morphology; Psychology; Anthropology; Geography; Statistics (at present for Internal Students only). He is also required to take a Subsidiary Subject.

Under certain circumstances to be approved by the Senate, and as an exceptional and strictly supervised means of access to an Honours Degree only, Internal Candidates who have passed the Intermediate Examination may be permitted to proceed to the B.Sc. Degree "by Research."

Bachelors of Science may, after the prescribed interval, proceed by Thesis and Examination to the M.Sc., Ph.D., and D.Sc. Degrees in Science.

The M.Sc. Degree for Internal and External Students may be taken in a Branch of Science within the purview of the Faculty of Science.

A Candidate for the Ph.D. Degree must have previously graduated in the Faculty of Theology, Arts, Music, Science, Engineering, or Economics, or have been registered as a Candidate for the Degree under the terms of Statute 113 or Statute 129, and must comply with the other conditions prescribed in the Regulations.

Internal Students.

At the Intermediate Examination the subjects are:—Chemistry; Physics (including Mechanics); Botany; Zoology, including elementary anatomy and physiology of farm animals.

* Outline of the Regulations: see Note on p. 240.

At the B.Sc. Examination in 1927 the subjects will be :—Agriculture; Agricultural Chemistry; Agricultural Botany. In and after 1928 the subjects will be :—Agriculture, including a knowledge of Geology as applied to Agriculture; Biochemistry in relation to Agriculture; Agricultural Botany; Agricultural Engineering.

External Students.

At the Intermediate Examination the subjects are :—Chemistry; Physics; Botany; Agricultural Zoology.

At the B.Sc. Examination the subjects are :—Agriculture; Agricultural Chemistry; Agricultural Botany; Agricultural Engineering.

For the B.Sc. "by Research" in Agriculture the conditions are the same as for Science (see above).

Bachelors of Science (Agriculture) may, after the prescribed interval, proceed by Thesis and Examination to the M.Sc. and D.Sc. Degrees in Science.

HORTICULTURE.

The Course for the B.Sc. Degree in Horticulture extends over three years, and consists of training in Practical as well as Scientific Horticulture.

The Intermediate Examination consists of two parts, which may be taken together or separately. The Subjects are :—Part I. : Chemistry; Botany; and either Zoology or Geology. Part II. : Applied Physics; Surveying; and either Geology or Zoology, whichever was omitted when Part I. was taken.

At the B.Sc. Examination the Subjects are :—Part I. : Practice of Horticulture; Entomology. Part II. : Principles of Horticulture; Book-keeping.

Bachelors of Science (Horticulture) may, after the prescribed interval, proceed by Thesis and Examination to the Degree of M.Sc. in Horticulture (regulations are under consideration) and to the Degree of D.Sc. in Science.

*VETERINARY SCIENCE.**

The Course for the Degree in Veterinary Science extends normally over four years.

The scheme of Examinations is the same for Internal and External Students, and the Examinations are held in common. The Examinations are as follows :—

(1) Preliminary Examination in Veterinary Science, to be passed not less than nine months after Matriculation. Subjects :—Inorganic Chemistry; Physics including Mechanics.

(2) Intermediate Examination in Veterinary Science, Part I., to be taken not less than one Academic Year after the Preliminary Examination in Veterinary Science has been passed. Subjects :—Organic Chemistry; General Biology; Veterinary Anatomy.

(3) Intermediate Examination in Veterinary Science, Part II., to be taken not less than one Academic Year after the Intermediate Examination in Veterinary Science, Part I., has been passed. Subject :—Veterinary Physiology.

(4) Final (B.Sc.) Examination, to be taken not less than two Academic Years after passing the Intermediate Examination, Part I. Subjects :—Veterinary Pathology; Veterinary Hygiene.

Bachelors of Science in Veterinary Science may, after the prescribed interval, proceed by Thesis and Examination to the M.Sc. and D.Sc. Degrees in Science.

HOUSEHOLD AND SOCIAL SCIENCE.Internal Students.

The Course for the Degree in Household and Social Science extends normally over three years. The Examinations are as follows:—

(1) First (Intermediate) Examination in Household and Social Science will take place once in each Academic year, in June. Subjects:—Physics; Inorganic Chemistry; Biology; Social and Economic History.

(2) Second Examination in Household and Social Science will take place once in each Academic year, in June or early in July. Subjects:—Chemistry (Organic and Physical); General and Economic Biology; Principles of Economics and Business Affairs.

(3) Third (B.Sc.) Examination in Household and Social Science will take place once in each Academic year, in June or early in July. Subjects:—Applied Chemistry; Physiology and Biochemistry with Nutrition; Hygiene and Bacteriology; and either Household Work and Special Household Work, or Household Work and Institutional Management.

ESTATE MANAGEMENT.External Students.

The Intermediate Examination is divided into two parts, which may be taken on the same occasion or separately. The Subjects are:—Part I.: Land Surveying, including its Mathematics and Draughtsmanship; Economics; and either Agriculture (including History of Agriculture) or Town Planning (History and Data). Part II.: Accounting and Business Organisation; The English Law relating to Land.

The B.Sc. (Estate Management) Examination is divided into two parts, which may be taken on the same occasion or separately. The Subjects are:—Part I.: The Theory and Principles of the Valuation of Land and Buildings; The History and Principles of Taxation and Tithe; The English Law relating to Land. Part II.: The Construction of Buildings; one of the following groups of subjects:—Group A, Agriculture, Forestry, Agricultural Law; Group B, Town Planning, Urban Public Sanitation, Municipal and Local Government Law.

*Faculty of Engineering.**

The University grants the Degrees of Bachelor of Science (Engineering) (B.Sc.); Master of Science (Engineering) (M.Sc.); Doctor of Philosophy (Engineering) (Ph.D.); Doctor of Science (Engineering) (D.Sc.); Bachelor of Science (Mining) (B.Sc.) and Bachelor of Science (Metallurgy) (B.Sc.).

The scheme of Examinations is the same for Internal and External Students.

The Intermediate Examination in Engineering is taken by all Students in the Faculty, whether they intend to proceed to the Degree in Engineering, Mining, or Metallurgy. The Subjects are:—(1) Pure Mathematics; (2) Applied Mathematics; (3) Heat, Electricity and Magnetism; (4) Engineering Drawing and Design; and (5) one of the following subjects—Sound and Optics; Chemistry; Geology.

At the B.Sc. Examination in Engineering, the subjects are divided into two Groups, A. and B. Pass Candidates take three Subjects from Group A. and at least two Subjects from Group B. Honours Candidates take three Subjects from Group A. and at least three Subjects from Group B., of which not more than two may be Electrical, and are required to reach in each Subject a higher standard than that required for the Pass Degree. The Subjects of Group A. are:—Theory of Machines and Machine Design; Theory of Structures and Structural Design; Strength

CHARLES GRAHAM MEDICAL RESEARCH FUND (see p. 42).

The following Regulations are quoted from the Regulations for the administration of the Charles Graham Medical Research Fund :—

I. The general purpose for which the Charles Graham Medical Research Fund is founded is to aid research in the School of Advanced Medical Studies connected with University College Hospital having for its object the prevention, cure and alleviation of human disease and suffering.

XVII. Grants in aid of proposed researches shall only be made to teachers of, or students admitted to, the Medical School.

XX. A Graham Scholarship in Pathology of the value of not more than £400 per annum for two years shall be awarded by the Committee at such times as they may determine on the recommendation of the School Committee, after due notice has been given that the Scholarship is vacant by advertisement or otherwise. The purpose for which the Scholarship is founded, as stated by the Will of the Founder, is to enable a "young man to continue his pathological researches and at the same time to secure his services to the School of Advanced Medical Studies connected with University College Hospital as a Teacher under the direction of the Professor of Pathology."

XXII. The Committee may award at such times as they may decide a Gold Medal of the value of £20 for a research conducted by a teacher or student of the Medical School which they shall consider to be of sufficient merit and usefulness in the prevention, cure, and alleviation of human disease and suffering.

Director of the Research in the Laboratories :—Prof. Arthur E. Boycott, M.D., F.R.S. (University College Hospital Medical School).

DIXON FUND (see p. 43).

The available income from the Dixon Bequest, amounting to about £325, will be allocated by the Senate annually for the purpose of assisting one or more scientific investigations.

Preference will be given to Applicants who are Graduates of the University of London or who undertake to carry out the researches proposed in a Department of an Incorporated College, School of the University, or other Institution connected with the University.

THOMAS SMYTHE HUGHES MEDICAL RESEARCH FUND (see p. 50).

The following paragraphs are extracted from the Regulations :—

(1) The income of the Thomas Smythe Hughes Medical Research Fund, amounting to about £150 a year, shall be applied by the Senate annually to the purpose of making Grants to those already engaged in original Medical Research.

(3) A Student to whom a Grant shall be made shall undertake to carry out to the satisfaction of the Senate some special research work the nature of which shall be suggested by the Student, and approved by the Committee of the Medical Members of the Senate.

(4) Any research work aided by this Fund shall, unless the Senate shall otherwise determine, be carried out in a Department of an Incorporated College, School of the University, or other Institution connected with the University.

(5) The Grants shall be awarded to members of the University of London, and shall be open on equal terms to both men and women.

PUBLICATION FUND.

[Senate Minutes 2553 of March 1921 ; 1084 of December 1922 ; and 2318 of May 1925.]

1. A small Publication Fund has been instituted for the purpose of facilitating the publication of (1) Advanced Lectures given for the University, (2) Students' theses, (3) the results of research by members and teachers of the University.

2. Assistance may take the form of a grant towards the expense of press work (including offprints), or illustrations, or both.

3. Applications will be considered twice a year, namely in the months of October and March, and must be received by the Academic Registrar not later than 30th September and 28th February respectively.

4. Applications should state :—

(i) the title or nature of the work, with a short summary of its scope and contents ;

- (ii) its approximate length ;
- (iii) whether any publisher has accepted the work for publication, and if so on what terms ;
- (iv) if not so accepted, the estimated cost of publication ;
- (v) the amount of grant desired ;
- (vi) amounts (if any) which may be obtained from other sources ;
- (vii) the names and addresses of not more than three persons who can testify to the value of the work.

5. Applicants shall send in their work for inspection by the Publication Fund Committee if so requested.

6. Before the grant is paid the author shall produce evidence, satisfactory to the Principal Officer of the University, that a binding contract for publication has been entered into.

7. Work published with the aid of a grant from the Fund shall contain a statement to the effect that the publication of the work has been aided by a grant from the Publication Fund of the University of London.

8. Unless the circumstances are exceptional, no grant will be made in respect of work which has already been published.

9. A grantee will be required to present to the University a copy of the published work in respect of which the grant was made ; it may also be a condition under which a grant is made that he shall furnish further copies of his work for distribution by the University.

10. A grant from the Fund is to be regarded as a loan which the grantee will be expected to return in the event of his receiving royalties or profits from the sale of the work in excess of the cost to him of its publication.

11. A grant from the Fund which is not claimed within two Calendar Years will be held to have lapsed unless after further application it is renewed by the University.

TEACHING WORK OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The Teaching Work of the University is carried on :—

- (a) In Institutions belonging to the University and controlled by the University either directly or through a Committee.
- (b) In "Schools of the University," each controlled by its own governing body.
- (c) In certain other public educational Institutions within the appointed radius.

A list of these Institutions is given on p. 267, and descriptions on p. 269 et seq.

The following are the categories of Teachers whose work is recognised by the University :—

(a) Appointed Teachers. — These Teachers are so designated by the Senate, in accordance with Statutes, Section 71. The Regulations on University Titles are printed on pp. 221-234. The title of Professor has been conferred upon 168 Teachers, of whom 166 are Appointed Teachers; and the title of Reader has been conferred upon 80 Teachers, of whom 79 are Appointed Teachers. For the names and titles of Professors and Readers, see pp. 150-158. The number of Appointed Teachers at the beginning of the Session 1926-27 is 249.

(b) Recognised Teachers.—The Regulations for the Recognition of Teachers are printed on pp. 236-239. The number of Recognised Teachers at the beginning of the Session 1926-27 is 841. For names and subjects of Recognised Teachers, see pp. 158-193.

(c) Other Teachers in Schools of the University.—Courses in the subjects of any Faculty given at Schools of the University which are Schools in that Faculty by non-Recognised Teachers may be approved by the University.

Courses of Advanced Lectures.

Special University Courses of Advanced Lectures are given under the direct supervision of the University either by Appointed Teachers or by Teachers specially selected for particular Courses, admission to the Courses, with some exceptions, being free.

Inter-Collegiate Courses.

The Senate have approved the following Rules for Inter-Collegiate Courses :—

- (1) An Inter-Collegiate Course shall be defined as a course which may be attended by a Student of an Institution other than the Institution at which the course is held without any obligation on the part of the Student to become a Student of the Institution at which the course is held.

(2) A Student desiring to attend an Inter-Collegiate Course which is to be held at an Institution other than his own must apply to the Principal Officer of the Institution to which he is attached for a card of admission which is to be shown to the Lecturer at the conclusion of the first lecture, and afterwards to be handed in at the Office of the Institution at which the course is held.

(3) The Fee for an Inter-Collegiate Course must be paid by the Student to the Authorities of the Institution to which he is attached, either as part of a Composition Fee or as a separate Fee.

University Terms.

The Terms for University and Inter-Collegiate Courses for the Session 1926-27 are as follows :—

First Term.—Thursday, October 7th, to Friday, December 17th (10 weeks, 2 days).

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON: BROWN ANIMAL SANATORY INSTITUTION.

This Institution originated in a Bequest by Mr Thomas Brown, of Rosey Park Hill, Dublin, but a citizen of London, who died in December 1852, and of whose Will the leading provisions are printed under "Trusts and Benefactions," on pp. 31-32.

The business of the Institution is under the direction and control of a Superintendent, and is conducted in two departments, the Hospital and the Laboratory :—

THE HOSPITAL.

In the Hospital, where both In- and Out-Patients are treated, the Superintendent has the aid of a fully qualified veterinary surgeon.

The majority of the animals treated are out-patients, but there is also provision for a limited number of in-patients. In order to avoid competition with practising Veterinary Surgeons, in carrying out as far as possible the wishes of the benefactor, the benefits of the charity are confined where practicable to the poorest class of owners, but cases of special urgency or interest are always admitted. No charge is made for medical advice or operations. The only charge made is the actual cost to the Institution, in the case of in-patients of the drugs and foods supplied, and in the case of out-patients of the drugs supplied.

During the year 1925, the number of out-patients treated was 4,536 and of in-patients 154. The total number of patients treated since the foundation in 1871 is about 257,254, the great majority of which were horses, dogs, cats and birds.

THE LABORATORY.

In the Laboratory scientific researches, tending to throw light on the diseases of animals are systematically conducted by or under the immediate direction of the Superintendent.

Workers for the purpose of scientific research are received in the Laboratory, under the sanction of the Committee on the nomination of the Superintendent.

In addition to the large amount of private research work which has been done in the Laboratories of the Institution, investigations have been carried out for the following Public Bodies and Departments, &c. :—

The Royal Society.
 The Local Government Board.
 The Royal Agricultural Society.
 The Agricultural Department of the Privy Council.
 The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries.
 The Veterinary Department of the Army.
 The Hydrophobia Commission.
 The London County Council.
 The Medical Research Council.

also for

Professor Huxley (by Messrs. Romanes and Spencer), and others.

Since its foundation in 1871, the Institution has been directed by the following Professor-Superintendents* :—

Prof. (afterward Sir John) Burdon-Sanderson, M.D.
 F.R.S., 1871-1878.

Prof. W. S. Greenfield, M.D., 1878-1881.

Prof. Charles Smart Roy, M.D., 1881-1884.

Prof. (afterward Sir) Victor Alexander Haden Horsley,
 M.B., B.S., F.R.S., 1884-1891.

Prof. (now Sir) Charles S. Sherrington, M.A., M.D., P.R.S., 1891-1895.

Prof. (now Sir) John Rose Bradford, M.D., D.Sc., F.R.S., 1895-1903.

Prof. T. Gregor Brodie, M.D., F.R.S., 1903-1909.

F. W. Twort, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., 1909.

A large number of other workers in Pathology and Physiology have worked in the laboratories of the Institution.

The five lectures, "free to the public," required by the Will to be given annually, have (except in the years 1874 and 1876, when they were given at Manchester and at Birmingham, respectively) been delivered at the University, or in the theatre of the Royal College of Surgeons, and have been based on the researches conducted in the Institution.

Chairman of the Committee.—Sir Holburt J. Waring, M.S., B.Sc., F.R.C.S.

Superintendent.—F. W. Twort, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

Veterinary Assistant.—H. C. Driver, M.R.C.V.S.

Address of Institution.—149, Wandsworth Road, Vauxhall, S.W. 8.

Secretary.—S. J. Worsley, D.S.O., M.C., B.A., University of London, South Kensington, S.W.7.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON:

THE FRANCIS GALTON LABORATORY FOR NATIONAL EUGENICS (WITH WHICH IS AS-SOCIATED THE DRAPERS' COMPANY BIO-METRIC LABORATORY).

These two Laboratories form together a Department of Applied Statistics which is housed at University College (Gower Street, W.C.). The Department is in the first place a Research Department, adapted to the needs of Post-graduate Students and of Workers training for special investigations. Results reached in the Laboratories are dealt with occasionally in more popular courses of lectures.

The FRANCIS GALTON LABORATORY FOR NATIONAL EUGENICS was founded by the late Sir Francis Galton for the study of those agencies under social control that may improve or impair the racial qualities of future generations, either physically or mentally. Its objects are (1) to collect and discuss material bearing on National Eugenics as defined above, (2) to provide from its archives information, under appropriate restrictions, to private individuals and public authorities concerning the laws of inheritance in man, and to urge the conclusions as to social conduct which follow from such laws, (3) to extend the knowledge of Eugenics by professorial instruction, publications, public lectures and experimental or observational work.

The Laboratory contains a growing library on Eugenics and hereditary topics, including Sir Francis Galton's own books; stored material bearing on social, physical and hereditary conditions, including Sir Francis Galton's own anthropometric data, a collection of anthropometric, craniometric and other instruments, and an interesting historical collection of Galton portraits and other Galtoniana. There is a fine bronze bust of the founder by Sir George Frampton, R.A.

The publications of the Laboratory include:—(a) Annals of Eugenics, (b) The Eugenics Laboratory Memoirs (23 parts issued), comprising the chief investigations of members of the staff, (c) The Eugenics Laboratory Lecture Series (13 parts), a popular exposition of conclusions reached, and (d) The Treasury of Human Inheritance (13 parts), a collection of family pedigrees, illustrating the inheritance of physical, mental and pathological characters in man.

In conjunction with the Biometric Laboratory, the Eugenics Laboratory provides training in statistical methods and assists research workers in social and eugenic problems. Members of the staff are always ready to deal with any reliable material bearing on the mental and physical conditions of the people which may be provided by local committees, and by medical or educational authorities.

The Laboratory is also prepared to find work for voluntary workers who desire to be trained in the investigations of social problems and who will place their services for a definite period at the disposal of the Director. Such voluntary workers are not charged any fee, but they are expected to obey the rules of the Laboratory and to give their time and work, precisely as the paid members of the staff do, for the general progress of the Department.

The BIOMETRIC LABORATORY (assisted by a Grant from the Worshipful Company of Drapers) is intended for the statistical study of biological problems. It possesses a good collection of calculating machines, integrating mechanisms, moment-finders, as well as a large series of statistical models, diagrams and other apparatus; craniometric, anthropometric and other measuring instruments; microscopes, cameras, etc., and a large collection of biometric pamphlets and statistical memoirs. Research workers can start at any time during the Session, but, unless attending the lectures in the Department, are expected to have a preliminary training either in Biology or Mathematics. The staff is always prepared to give aid and advice in researches connected with biological statistics and with problems in heredity.

The work of the Laboratory is chiefly published in:—
(a) Biometrika, a Journal for the statistical study of Biological Problems (Vols. I to XVIII); (b) Drapers' Company Research Memoirs, Biometric Series (Parts I to XII); (c) Drapers' Company Research Memoirs, Studies in National Deterioration (Parts I to XII); Drapers' Company Research Memoirs, Technical Series (Parts I to VII); Tracts for Computers (Tracts I to XIV).

Both the Eugenics and Biometric Laboratories make use of Questions of the Day and the Fray (Parts I to XII issued) for more ephemeral discussions on controversial topics.

Courses of Instruction are given on Statistics and on cognate subjects, and short Courses of Popular Lectures are also arranged.

In 1911 the University sanctioned an appeal in order to provide these Laboratories with fitting accommodation. Owing to the generosity of the late Sir Herbert Bartlett, Bart., a fine building has been erected at University College, which provides suitable Lecture Theatre, Library, Public Museum, Research Laboratories, etc., for the work of the Department. This building was used during the war as a military hospital. A sum of £4,000 was collected in 1913 for the equipment.

An additional £6,000 is now needed for the completion of the fitting and equipment. The continuation of the building as designed by Professor Simpson, including rooms for animal breeding, will need an additional £8,000.

A full prospectus of lectures and laboratory work may be obtained by applying to the Secretary, Eugenics Laboratory, University College, W.C.1.

BARTLETT SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE.

The School of Architecture was established by the combination of the Architectural Schools of University and King's Colleges. The new building for the School at University College has been provided by the generosity of the late Sir Herbert H. Bartlett, Bart. The building was opened in the Session 1913-14, and the accommodation includes three large Studios for ordinary and advanced students, a Museum, a Cast Gallery, a Library, a Lecture Theatre and a Class Room. There are also private rooms for Professors and Lecturers, a diagram room, dark room, cloak rooms, and additional rooms for new developments, which can be utilised as required. Certain rooms are used for the Department of Town Planning.

The School is organised so as to give a course of systematic training on a broad basis to students about to enter the Architectural Profession.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON : COMMERCE DEGREE BUREAU AND APPOINTMENTS BOARD.

The Commerce Degree Bureau was founded for the purposes set out below, and endowed by the General Committee for Degrees in Commerce under a Declaration of Trust accepted by the Senate in July 1920. It is under the control and management of a Board of Governors, appointed annually by the Senate, of whom a majority are nominated by the business members of the Commerce Degree Committee.

The Chairman of the Board is Mr J. Wilson Potter.

The functions of the Bureau are as follows :—

(a) To guide, advise, and assist in matters of Commercial studies and training, External Students of the University, whether residing in London or elsewhere, who are preparing for or intend to prepare for the Commerce Degree Examinations. It should be carefully noted that the pursuance of a course of study under the guidance of the Bureau will not of itself cause a student to be regarded as an Internal Student.

(b) To assist in the suitable and wide employment of Commerce Degree Students and Graduates (including Internal Students and Graduates) in all branches of Trade and Commerce at home and abroad.

(c) To provide a Reference Library in connection with the educational and employment functions of the Bureau, so that students and enquirers may consult books and under certain conditions have the loan of them.

(d) To assist in any way, and to further the interests of all external and part time Students or intending Students for Commerce, and generally to promote the value of the Commerce Degree.

The Bureau was opened in March 1922 at 46, Russell Square, the lease of which is held by the University from the Bedford Estate. The University Military Education Committee and the O.T.C. are also accommodated in the same building, as tenants of the Bureau.

The following act as Educational Advisors to the Bureau :—
Prof. A. J. Sargent, M.A. (Chief Advisor), Prof. L. R. Dicksee, M.Com., F.C.A. (Accounting), Prof. H. C. Gutteridge, M.A., LL.B. (Commercial Law), Prof. T. E. Gregory (Banking), Dr Hugh Dalton, M.A. (Economics and Industry), Mr R. B. Forrester, M.A. (Trade), Mr W. T. Stephenson, B.A. (Transport). There are also a number of Assistants and Occasional Advisors.

External Students preparing for the Commerce Degree Examinations (Intermediate and Final), who are unable to attend courses of instruction at recognised Colleges, are recommended to communicate with the Bureau as to their studies.

The Bureau has issued a series of Educational Pamphlets dealing with the subjects of the Examinations, and prescribing suitable courses of reading. There is a specially selected Lending Library of approximately 2,000 books for the benefit of Students registered with the Bureau.

Detailed courses of study suited to individual cases are provided, including the setting and correction of essays and exercises. Many of the students studying wholly under the direction of the Bureau have been successful in passing the Intermediate and Final B.Com. Examinations. The scale of Fees charged is fixed at as moderate a rate as possible.

Prospectus and forms, giving full information as to the facilities offered by the Bureau and the methods of work, may be obtained on application to the Secretary.

GENERAL APPOINTMENTS WORK.—By arrangement of the Senate the work of assisting Graduates and Students of the University to obtain appointments, carried out by the University Appointments Board, has been associated with that of the Commerce Degree Bureau, to the Board of Governors of which the Appointments Advisory Committee of the Senate reports.

The following are eligible to register for employment assistance :

- (a) Graduates of the University of London.
- (b) Undergraduates of the University of London in their last term, previous to entry on their Degree Examinations.

Note.—Holders of the University Diplomas in Journalism and Librarianship are also eligible.

The Fee for Registration and Notices is 5s. for one year, renewable annually at a similar charge. This fee is inclusive and entitles the student to the full benefits of the Board's assistance during the period of registration.

A Handbook, entitled "Appointments and Careers for Graduates and Students," revised and enlarged to March, 1926, may be had on application to the Secretary. [Price 1s. (post free 1s. 1½d.)]

The Secretary works in co-operation with the Colleges and Schools of the University, and is in close touch with Government Departments, Federations of Employers, and many Business Houses, from whom valuable co-operation and support have been received. Much useful information as to Civil Service and other appointments is kept in the Bureau, and there is a Library of vocational literature designed to be of practical assistance to Students from a career point of view. Students are invited to make free use of this information by calling at 46, Russell Square. Special efforts are made to place Commerce Graduates in suitable business and industrial employment.

The Secretary will be pleased to give further particulars and to see Graduates and Students desiring information as to careers open to them, at the Offices of the Board, 46, Russell Square, Bloomsbury, W.C.1, preferably on Wednesday afternoons, 2 to 5, or at other times by arrangement.

Business firms and employers of all kinds, having openings or prospective openings for Graduates, are asked to inform the Secretary, who will promptly notify the more suitable candidates available on his registers, or forward the names and particulars of selected candidates. The Secretary will also be pleased to arrange for employers to interview candidates at 46, Russell Square, where a room and other facilities are always at their disposal for this purpose.

Copies of the Pamphlet giving detailed information as to the functions and work of the Commerce Degree Bureau and Appointments Board may be had on application.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON: INSTITUTE OF HISTORICAL RESEARCH.

The Institute of Historical Research is the University Laboratory of History, devoted exclusively to post-graduate work. It is situated close to the British Museum, and consists of a systematically planned series of seminar libraries, provided with the books containing or describing the main sources of medieval and modern History (especially those whose manuscript originals are in the Record Office and other London archives). It is open not only to every professor, reader, or other teacher of History in the University, and his research students, but to historians, archivists, and teachers and research students from other Universities approved by the Committee.

Chairman of Committee.—A. F. Pollard, M.A., Litt.D., F.B.A.; Professor of English History.

Secretary and Librarian.—H. W. Meikle, M.A., D.Litt., Advisor to External Research Students in History.

Address.—Malet Street, W.C.1.

Telephone.—Museum 3068.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON: UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

(Incorporated in the University on January 1st, 1907.)

University College had its origin in a project, first promulgated in 1825, for founding a University in London by means of public subscription. The promoters had in view three principal objects: to place a University education within the reach of residents in London; to make such education accessible to those who were not members of the Church of England; to establish extended and systematic courses of education for the Legal and Medical Professions and for Civil Engineers. The proposal was favourably received and a sum of more than £160,000 in shares of £100 each was quickly raised. The first stone of the present buildings, erected from the designs of William Wilkins, R.A., was laid by H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex* on April 30th, 1827; and lectures in the three Faculties of Arts, Laws and Medicine began in October and November, 1828.

In 1830 an application was made to the Crown for a charter of incorporation as the "University of London." When nearly all the usual forms had been gone through, the issue of the charter was stayed by the opposition of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. The application was renewed in 1833, and the petition of the Council of the University was on this occasion supported by an Address to the Throne from the City of London. It was again opposed by the two old Universities, with whom were now joined the Royal College of Surgeons of England and the teachers of medicine and surgery in some of the London hospitals. The matter was referred to the Privy Council before whom the case was argued for three days in March and April, 1834, but no immediate action followed. In March of the following year a motion by Mr W. Tooke, for an address to the King praying for the grant of a charter of incorporation to the University of London, was carried against Ministers by a majority of 110 (ayes 246, noes 136). Again there were delays, but in August, 1835, the Chancellor of the Exchequer (Mr Spring Rice) communicated to the Council of the University a proposal to incorporate by charter under the name of the University of London a body of men eminent in learning and science who should have power to confer degrees in Arts, Medicine, and Laws, after examination, on students of certain Colleges in London to be named in the charter and of others to be afterwards recognised. At the same time a charter was to be granted to the then existing University as a College, and it was to be one of the schools named in the charter to the University as entitled to send up candidates for degrees. The Council gave their consent to this scheme, thereby surrendering to the new examining body the title of "The University of London," but receiving in its place the title of "University College, London," on the understanding that their institution, together with King's College and certain medical schools, should be the first affiliated Colleges of the examining University. Two charters were accordingly granted on November 28th, 1836, the one constituting the new examining body as "The University of London," the other incorporating the proprietors and donors of the teaching institution under the name of "University College, London." Thus the University of London grew out of the original teaching institution, and was "only the superstructure of which University College was the foundation." The connexion between the College and the University was intended to be a close one as their respective names indicate, but it was a practical connexion, not an organic or constitutional connexion.

* The event was commemorated in the names of neighbouring streets: Sussex Street (now Huntley Street), between Gower Street and Tottenham Court Road; London Street, west of Tottenham Court Road, with its continuation, University Street (formerly Carmarthen Street), east of the same thoroughfare.

The original subscribers or proprietors of the College at an early date formally resigned any claim to a pecuniary return on their shares. The proprietary character of the corporation terminated in 1869, when an Act of Parliament was passed which annulled the charter of 1836 and re-incorporated the College with extended powers. This Act states that the College is constituted "for the purpose of affording at a moderate expense the means of education in Literature, Science, and the Fine Arts, and in the knowledge required for admission to the Medical and Legal Professions, and in particular for so affording the means of obtaining the education required for the purpose of taking the Degrees now or hereafter granted by the University of London."

The settlement of the University question in London thus arrived at in 1836 proved to be unsatisfactory, mainly because the close relation between teaching and examining that was necessary for educational progress was not maintained. As the College developed it was found more and more difficult to fall into line with the purely external examinations of the University of London. Out of this and other difficulties grew the movement for a teaching University of London. The result of this movement was represented by the University of London Act of 1898, by which the University of London was re-constituted and the College was given a definite place in its constitution as a "School of the University."

The duty of organising, improving, and extending University education in London was imposed upon the re-constituted University. Those responsible for the management of University College at once realised that the aims of the founders of the College could best be carried out to their full completion by incorporating the College in the University. It was found that the University could not advantageously and easily incorporate the Hospital or that part of the Faculty of Medicine that dealt with Hospital studies (Final Medical Studies); hence it was decided in the interests of general University education as well as of medical education to make a separate Corporation for carrying on the Hospital and the School of Final Medical Studies, the University pledging itself, so far as its means and other duties permit, to continue to teach the Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies in the College buildings. Thus, for the purposes of government and organisation the Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies are controlled by the University, and the Final Medical Studies by the University College Hospital Medical School, as a "School of the University" (see below).

The University College London (Transfer) Act was passed in July, 1905, and by the order of the Commissioners appointed under that Act, Incorporation in the University took place on January 1st, 1907.

FACULTIES. — The College provides instruction in the Faculties of Arts, Laws, Science, Engineering, and Economics and Political Science. The Faculty of Arts includes the Slade School of Fine Art, the Bartlett School of Architecture, of which the Department of Town Planning is a part, and the School of Librarianship. The Galton Laboratory of Eugenics forms part of the Department of Applied Statistics and Eugenics in the Faculty of Science. The College is a University centre for Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies (i.e., Chemistry, Physics, Botany and Zoology, Anatomy, Physiology, and Pharmacology). The College also provides instruction in Pathological Chemistry and in Hygiene and Public Health. The courses in all Faculties are open to Men and Women alike.

There are numerous Scholarships, Exhibitions and Prizes, the yearly value of which exceeds £2,300.

LIBRARIES.—The College Libraries contain about 255,000 books and pamphlets. They occupy the first floor of the main building, radiating in three directions from the central Flaxman Gallery : the Science Library to the North in the neighbourhood of the laboratories : the Arts Libraries to the South, and the General Library to the East.

The General Library embraces Law, Economics, and Fine Art, in addition to the Whitley Stokes Library of Celtic Philology, the Barlow Dante Library, the Strong Oriental Library, the collection of books relating to the social institutions, government and literature of the United States of America presented to the College by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and the Graves Mathematical Library which comprises 15,000 books and pamphlets relating to Mathematics, Physics, and Astronomy, and includes many rare books of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

The Arts Libraries comprise :—The Yates Archæological Library, the English Library, the German Library, the Scandinavian Library, the History Library, the History of London Library, the Romance Library, the Classics Library, the Philosophy and Psychology Library, the Mocatta Anglo-Jewish Library, and, in close connection with their respective departments, the Edwards Egyptological Library, the Geographical and Phonetics Libraries, the Architecture Library, and the Library of the School of Librarianship. The Arts Libraries are intended to serve the same purposes as German “Seminar” libraries, and are largely used for Inter-Collegiate teaching. Valuable contributions to the German Library have been made from the central funds of the University.

The Science Library, to which Research Students have direct access, contains over two hundred of the most important English and foreign Scientific periodicals, going back, in the great majority of cases, to the commencement of the series. The Ramsay Reading Room is an annexe to the Science Library, and contains periodicals and text-books for the use of Senior Students of Chemistry.

The Medical Sciences Library includes the Biological Library bequeathed by Prof. Sharpey.

The Libraries are open daily during Term, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., except on Saturdays, when they are closed at 1 p.m. During vacations they are open from 9 to 5; Saturdays, 9 to 1. Students can borrow books from the Libraries on payment of a deposit of £2 2s., of which £2 is returnable, or, under certain conditions, on payment of a deposit of 5s.

Members of the College Staff and College Committee, Members of the Senate, University Professors and Readers, University Examiners for the time being, the Principal Officer and the three Registrars of the University, the Goldsmiths' Librarian and the Librarian of King's College have the privilege of using the College Libraries and of borrowing books therefrom, subject to the rules for the College Libraries in force for the time being.

LABORATORIES.—The following departments are provided with LABORATORIES—Anatomy, Biometry, Botany, Chemistry, Chemical Engineering, Engineering (Civil and Mechanical, Electrical, Municipal), Eugenics, Geology, Hygiene and Public Health, Pathological Chemistry, Pharmacology, Physics, Physiology, Psychology, Zoology and Comparative Anatomy. There are also two Astronomical Observatories, one of which has been provided by the Drapers' Company and is known as "The Drapers' Company Transit House."

The College possesses the following MUSEUMS—Anatomy, Botany, Egyptology, Engineering, Geology and Mineralogy, Johnston-Lavis Vulcanological Collection, Philosophical Apparatus, Materia Medica and Chemistry, and Zoology, besides collections of instruments in the departments of Pure and Applied Mathematics.

FACILITIES FOR RESEARCH are offered in all the departments of the College and special Research Laboratories are attached to nearly all departments. The general regulation providing for the admission of Research Students is as follows:—

On the recommendation of the Professor of any department any Student qualified to undertake research work may be admitted to the College for the purpose of undertaking such work. Each Student so admitted shall pay in the office a Registration Fee of £1 ls. per session, and such other fee (if any) that the regulations of the department require, and shall bear the cost (if any) of his work.

Most of the departments of the College are provided with separate class-room accommodation.

SITUATION.—The College is situated in Gower Street, W.C., and is close to Euston Square Station (Metropolitan Railway), within 5 minutes of Euston (L.M.S.R.), 15 minutes of St. Pancras (L.M.S.R.), King's Cross (L.N.E.R.), Marylebone (L.N.E.R.), and Charing Cross (S.R.), 12 minutes by Tube, Regent's Park Station, from Waterloo (S.R.), 20 minutes (by omnibus) from Victoria (S.R.). The College is also close to the Goodge Street and Warren Street Stations of the Hampstead and Highgate Tube, and to the Russell Square Station of the Great Northern, Piccadilly, and Brompton Tube. Paddington (G.W.R.) and Liverpool Street (L.N.E.R.) can be reached direct from Euston Square. Several lines of omnibuses from different parts of London run within two or three minutes' walk of the College.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE HALL, Ealing (Warden, E. H. Thierry, M.Sc.), which was opened in October, 1908, provides collegiate residence for fifty-two men students. The Hall, which stands in  $4\frac{1}{2}$  acres of grounds, is within thirty-five minutes of the College by train and within a quarter of an hour's walk of the Union Society's Athletic Ground at Perivale.

COLLEGE HALL, Byng Place, W.C.1 (Principal, Miss Alleyne, M.Litt.), offers the advantages of Collegiate residence to Women Students. The Hall is within five minutes' walk of the College.

A Register of Boarding Residences is kept.

There is a Refectory in the College under the management of the College Steward, controlled by a Committee in which luncheons, teas, and refreshments are provided. Dinner from 2s. 6d. a head is served on any evening (except Saturday) at 6.30 p.m., provided notice is given to the Steward by 3 p.m.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON: KING'S COLLEGE AND KING'S COLLEGE FOR WOMEN.

(Incorporated in the University on January 1st, 1910.)

King's College was founded in 1829 by Royal Charter "for the purpose of giving instruction in the various branches of Literature and Science and the doctrines and duties of Christianity as the same are inculcated by the United Church of England and Ireland." The meeting inaugurating the College was held at the Freemasons' Tavern on the 21st of June, 1828, with the Duke of Wellington, who was a strong supporter of the College and one of the first life Governors, in the Chair. The actual work began on October 8th, 1831. For some years a movement had been on foot to obtain a Charter for a University of London, and attempts had been made to identify it with University College, which, under the name of the University of London, had been founded as a private institution in 1826. These proposals were not entertained. In 1836 University College was granted a Charter by that name, and on the same day a Charter was granted to the present University of London as an examining body granting degrees, but only to those who had received certificates of having attended courses of study at University College or King's College or some other affiliated College. The present University, therefore, was founded out of University College and King's College. It was only later that other institutions were affiliated.

Besides the School, the College originally consisted of a Department of General Literature and Science, to which was immediately added a Medical Department. In 1838 the Engineering Department was founded. In 1839 the first Hospital was built. In 1847 the Theological Department was added, and in 1856 the Evening Class Department, for a considerable time among the largest in the College. In 1861 an Oriental section was started, and for some years trained many future Indian Civil servants. In 1881 the Women's Department at South Kensington was founded.

By the King's College, London, Act, 1882, the rights of the original proprietors were extinguished and other changes made in the constitution, and by the Act of 1903 the obligation for Professors and Lecturers and for Members of the Council to be members of the Church of England was removed, except in relation to the Faculty of Theology.

In consequence of the proposed Incorporation of University College in the University, the position of King's College was carefully considered by the Council, and after considerable negotiations, a scheme was adopted and embodied in the King's College London (Transfer) Act, which received the Royal Assent on August 1st, 1908. By this Act, King's College School (which in 1898 had been removed to Wimbledon Common) became a separate Corporation; arrangements were made by which the Strand School and other non-University work were removed from the College buildings, and the Corporation of the Hospital and the Advanced Medical School were made completely independent; the Council remains the governing body of the Theological Department, whilst the remaining departments of the College and the Women's Department were incorporated in the University with the names respectively of University of London, King's College, and University of London, King's College for Women. By order of the Commissioners appointed under the Act, this incorporation took effect on January 1st, 1910.

In 1915 the Arts and Science Departments of King's College for Women were transferred to the buildings of King's College, and the Household and Social Science Department to new buildings on Campden Hill.

The Theological Department and University of London King's College are still united for certain purposes under the name of King's College, and all students of the College have the right to attend the Chapel.

University of London King's College is governed by a Delegacy appointed by the Senate of the University (p. 120).

The College includes (1) the Faculty of Arts : In this Faculty special provision is made for Slavonic Studies, Spanish Studies, Portuguese, and Mediaeval and Modern Greek ; (2) the Faculty of Laws : The Classes in Laws are arranged by an Inter-Collegiate scheme with University College and the London School of Economics ; (3) The Faculty of Natural Science : Preparation for Science Degrees and also for the Institute of Chemistry examinations ; (4) The Faculty of Medical Science : Preparation for First and Second Medical Examinations, for which the College is a University centre, and to which Westminster, St George's, and Charing Cross Hospitals as well as King's College Hospital now send their Students ; (5) the Faculty of Engineering : Systematic courses in Civil, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering. There are Evening Classes in Arts, Science, and Laws, preparing both for Degrees and for Diplomas.

All classes are open to Women as well as Men, including, since 1916, the Faculty of Medical Science.

The Department of Education includes (1) a Day Training College (Men only) under the Board of Education, (2) a department for training secondary teachers (Men and Women). Courses in the Faculties of Arts and Natural Science are taken in the College.

There was a large accession of space for almost every Department on the removal of the Strand School from the 43 rooms which it occupied. New Seminar Rooms were provided for the Arts Departments, and new Laboratories for Advanced and Research work in the Faculties of Science and Engineering. Since then the accommodation has been successively increased by the erection of new buildings, including a spacious laboratory and drawing office in the old playground, the cost of which was mainly defrayed by a grant from the London County Council.

LIBRARIES.—The College Libraries contain about 60,000 volumes. In addition to the general Library, there are :

(a) The Marsden Library, consisting of books bequeathed by Dr. William Marsden, F.R.S., containing some unique and rare editions of works dealing with different languages. The oriental books from this collection have been transferred on loan to the School of Oriental Studies, and in their place books on History, Natural Science, and other subjects have been deposited at King's College.

(b) The Wheatstone Library, bequeathed to the College by Professor Sir Charles Wheatstone, F.R.S. ; which consists of valuable books on Electricity and kindred subjects published before the year 1875.

(c) The Skeat and Furnivall Library formed from the libraries of Professor Skeat and Dr. Furnivall. The books were presented to the English Department by Mrs. Skeat and Dr. Percy Furnivall.

(d) The Slavonic Library, which contains a collection of books dealing with Russian and other Slavonic languages. Some of these books were bequeathed to the College by the late Principal, Dr. Ronald Burrows.

(e) The Mediaeval and Modern Greek Library, to which also Dr. Burrows left many of his books dealing with Byzantine History and with the language and literature of Modern Greece. Beside these special collections, there are also various departmental libraries.

The general Library is open for the use of all Regular students and such Occasional students as shall pay for admission thereto (£1 1s. per Session, 10s. 6d. per Term) at the following hours : In Term, Monday—Friday 10–8.15, and Saturday 10–1. In Vacation 10–1 and 2–4.30, except on Saturdays. The Library is closed for a fortnight at Easter, for six weeks after August 1st, and for a few days at Christmas.

The Anatomical MUSEUM contains the Hughes collection of specimens and dissections. The Pathological Collection is very complete, and fresh specimens are constantly added ; there are also valuable casts. The George III. Museum contains unique collections of Physical apparatus, presented by Queen Victoria, Sir Charles Wheatstone, and others. In addition, there are Museums of Geology, Zoology, Botany, Comparative Anatomy, and Materia Medica.

Instruction in Practical and Analytical Chemistry is conducted in the LABORATORIES, which are fitted with equipment for Chemical Investigation and Analysis.

The Wheatstone Physical Laboratory comprises a large and well-equipped general Laboratory, and a Dark Room for Optical and Magnetic work.

The large Biological Laboratory is fitted for the more elementary work in Botany and Zoology, while there are separate Laboratories for the advanced study of each of these subjects.

The Botanical Laboratory is open for independent courses of study in Botany and Vegetable Biology and for Practical classes.

The Physiological Laboratory is divided into class rooms for Practical Physiological and Histological Classes; Research Rooms for Chemical Physiology and experimental work and a Photographic Room.

The Anatomical Department comprises a Lecture Theatre, class and dissecting rooms, and a prosector's room for the preparation of anatomical specimens and private investigation and research, and the Alfred Hughes Anatomical Museum. The Department is open throughout the year except during the Summer vacation.

There is a Laboratory of Public Health for instruction in Practical Toxicology, Hygiene, and State Medicine, and the Analysis (Chemical, Microscopical, &c.) of Water, Air, and Foods.

The General Pathological and Bacteriological Laboratory was founded in 1886 for instruction in Bacteriology, and to afford facilities for research into the causes and nature of communicable diseases and the best means of preventing or treating them.

The Pathological Laboratory is well suited for Research work and for Courses of Morbid Histology.

There is a Pharmacological Laboratory for teaching and for original Research.

The Civil and Mechanical Engineering Laboratories include among other equipments: Babcock Boiler, small Yarrow Boiler, Compound Steam Engine and Condenser, De Laval Steam Turbine, Air Compressor, Refrigerator, Crossley Convertible (Gas and Liquid Fluid) Engine, Petrol Engine, etc., and all Instruments accessory to above workshop, electrically driven, fully equipped with representative machine tools. 112 tons and 20 tons and other Testing Machines, with Extensometers, etc., Centrifugal Pumps, experimental Braced Girder (electrically driven) and Turbines. 44 ft. Hydraulic Fitting Flume, Hydraulic Notch and Orifice Tanks, Venturi Meters and Pipe Flow Apparatus, Apparatus for Experimental Applied Mathematics. Carpenter's Shop with Circular Saw and Lathes.

The William Siemens Electrical Engineering Laboratory includes among other equipment : Direct Current Generators up to 50 K.W. and Alternating Current Generators up to 100 K.V.A. The Alternators are constructed so that they can be connected to give them output single 2- or 3-phase and at various voltages. Direct Current Motors of various types, including a complete modern Tramcar equipment. A.C. Motors of various types, both synchronous and a-synchronous including two 3-phase motors arranged for cascade working and pole changing. Hunt Motors. Various types of Commutator Motors, etc. Rotary Converters, Testing Pits, 200 Volt Storage Battery, Measuring Instruments of the latest types, Oscillograph, etc.

The Geological and Mineralogical Department consists of a large Laboratory and class room. In the Engineering classes special attention is given to teaching the subject in such a way as to be of practical use to Engineers. Field classes are held in the summer months. There is a smaller Laboratory for more advanced work and Research.

There is a good Laboratory for giving instruction in Photography to students in Engineering and Science generally.

FACILITIES FOR RESEARCH are afforded in all the departments of the College, and in the various laboratories described above.

The CLASS ROOMS, THEATRES and LABORATORIES, about 120 rooms in all, provide accommodation for about 1,500 regular students.

SCHOLARSHIPS, EXHIBITIONS, AND PRIZES are offered annually to the value of about £1,500.

FEES.—Composition Fees in the several Faculties—Theology, £32 per annum ; Arts, 1st year £31 10s., 2nd and 3rd years £35 14s. ; Evening Arts, £10 per annum ; Science, 1st year £36 15s., 2nd and 3rd years £52 10s. ; Evening, Science, £10 per annum ; Course for the First Examination for Medical Degrees, £35 15s. ; Course for the Second Examination for Medical Degrees, £42 ; Engineering, 1st year, £50 8s., 2nd and 3rd years, £63 ; Medicine, final studies, £63 ; Laws, 18 guineas.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term : October 6th to December 22nd ; 2nd Term : January 12th to March 23rd ; 3rd Term : April 27th to June 29th.

SITUATION.—The College adjoins Somerset House in the Strand, and is close to the Temple Station on the Metropolitan District Railway and Aldwych Station on the Tube Railway. There is an entrance also from the Victoria Embankment, RESIDENCE is not provided in the College, but a list of suitable boarding houses is kept. There is a Hostel for 64 Theological Students in Vincent Square, Westminster. "The Platanes" is a Hall of Residence on Denmark Hill for Medical and other Students, and provides accommodation for 50 students. The Hostel for Women Students is at Queensborough Terrace, Bayswater, and provides for 50 students.

A Refectory was constructed in the College in 1918, and was considerably enlarged in 1919.

There is a Gymnasium in the College. A new Athletic Ground, covering 15 acres, and situated at Mitcham, has been purchased by the War Memorial Fund and has been handed over to trustees to hold on behalf of the College, and it is now available for use.

OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS.—B Company of the Infantry Unit of the University of London Officers Training Corps is recruited from students in the College.

SOCIETIES.—The Theological, Arts and Science Students have combined Common Rooms, and Engineering and Medical Students have also each a Common Room allotted to them in the College, where the meetings of the various Societies are held. A separate Common Room is provided for Women Students.

The SOCIETIES of the College are the following: (1) The Union Society, for men and women students, which controls the various students' Clubs and Societies, and manages the Athletic Ground; (2) The Old Students' Association; (3) The Theological Society; (4) The Society of Education (for students in the Department of Education); (5) The Engineering Society, founded in 1847; (6) The Christian Union, with separate branches for women and evening students; (7) The Literary Society; (8) The Historical Society; (9) Cercle Française; (10) The Russian Society; (11) The German Society; (12) The Classical Society; (13) The Musical Society; (14) The Dramatic Society; (15) The Scientific Society; (16) The Wireless Society; (17) The Photographic Society; (18) The Medical Society.

The King's College Review is published terminally.

Principal of King's College—Ernest Barker, M.A., D.Litt., LL D.

Secretary—Sydney T. Shovelton, M.A.

Tutor to Women Students—Miss A. E. Levett, M.A.

Address—Strand, W.C.2.

KING'S COLLEGE FOR WOMEN— HOUSEHOLD AND SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT.

The Household and Social Science Department was originally lodged in Kensington Square with the other departments of King's College for Women, and was moved to Campden Hill in 1915, when King's College for Women was transferred to the Strand. A School of the University for the B.Sc. Degree in Household and Social Science. Instruction is provided in Physiology, Hygiene, Household Work, Administration of Institutions, Applied Chemistry, Economics, and Business Affairs, in addition to the fundamental science required for such work. For women students, resident and non-resident.

Teaching Staff, 18. Total number of Students, 150. Fees—Composition fee 45 guineas per Session for all Degree Courses. Single Courses of Lectures from £1 11s. 6d. a Term. Entrance age 18 for residents and non-residents. Matriculated Students accepted as non-residents at 17. College scholarships and bursaries are offered.

Library of 4,300 volumes. Clubs and Societies, Athletic, Debating, Dramatic and Musical, open to all students.

Queen Mary's Hostel forms part of the College, and is available primarily for students taking the Degree Course.

Fees—75 to 93 guineas per Session. Stations: High Street, Kensington (Met.), Notting Hill Gate (Central London Railway).

Warden—Miss H. Reynard, M.A.

Secretary—Miss D. M. Talbot, B.A.

IMPERIAL COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY.

A School of the University in the Faculties of Science and Engineering.

The Imperial College of Science and Technology, incorporated under the Royal Charter of July 8th, 1907, is an institution or group of associated colleges with its principal seat at South Kensington. It was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculties of Science and Engineering on July 22nd, 1908.

The purposes of the Imperial College are to give the highest specialised instruction, and to provide the fullest equipment for the most advanced training and research in various branches of science, especially in its application to industry; and to do all and any of such things as the Governing Body consider conducive or incidental thereto, having regard to the provision for those purposes which already exists elsewhere.

For these purposes, the Governing Body, subject to the provisions of the Charter, carry on the work of the Royal College of Science and the Royal School of Mines, and may establish Colleges and other Institutions or Departments of Instruction. Any Institution or Department so established, and, subject to the conditions of the Charter, the Central Technical College of the City and Guilds of London Institute, are integral parts of the Imperial College. The Central Technical College is called and known as the City and Guilds (Engineering) College, and is governed by a Delegacy representative of the Imperial College, the City and Guilds of London Institute and the Goldsmiths' Company.

Rector—Sir Thomas H. Holland, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., F.R.S.

Secretary—Alexander Gow, M.A., B.Sc.

Assistant Secretary—Geoffrey C. Lowry, B.A.

Registrar—John Jones.

Address—Imperial Institute Road, S.W.7.

Telephone—Kensington 6444.

Further information in regard to (1) the Royal College of Science and the Royal School of Mines, and (2) the City and Guilds College, including lists of Teachers and Internal Students, is appended.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ROYAL SCHOOL OF MINES.

The Royal College of Science and the Royal School of Mines, founded in 1851, owe their origin to the exertions on behalf of Technical Education of the late Sir Henry de la Beche, F.R.S. The original institution was named "The Government School of Mines and of Science applied to the Arts," and it was the outcome of the movement in favour of scientific and technical education, which was one of the results of the establishment of the first Great Exhibition. In 1853, at the time of the foundation of the Department of Science and Art, an attempt was made to enlarge the scope of the school, and it was called "The Metropolitan School of Science applied to Mining and the Arts,"—the "Royal College of Chemistry," which had some years before been founded by private enterprise, being taken over by the Government and made part of the institution. Between 1859 and 1881, however, the school became an almost purely technical one, its title being changed to "The Royal School of Mines." As the want of space in the original building at Jermyn Street became more and more apparent, the several divisions of the College were gradually transferred to South Kensington, and in 1881 a complete re-organisation of the institution was undertaken. Under the name of "The Normal School of Science and Royal School of Mines," a title which was in 1890 changed to "The Royal College of Science, with which is incorporated the Royal School of Mines," a training school for science teachers was established, the technical school for mining and metallurgy being, however, retained as a branch of the institution.

The Students of the College include those pursuing regular Courses of Study preparatory to employment in connexion with the industries, including those dependent upon a knowledge of Biology, Economic Botany, Zoology (including Economic Entomology), Geology, Chemistry, Optics, or Physics; or to the engineering profession in its several branches—Chemical, Mechanical and Motive Power,* Civil,* Electrical,* Aeronautical, Mining, Metallurgical, and Oil; and a large number undertaking research or pursuing special courses of work in advanced Science or Technology to suit individual needs.

Many valuable Scholarships and Prizes are open for award to Students and intending Students of the College. Particulars of these may be obtained from the Registrar of the College.

The session is divided into two half-sessions and three terms, and a characteristic feature of the College has from the first been that, as far as possible, the student is engaged in one subject of study during a complete half-session.

The SCIENCE LIBRARY of the Science Museum is available for use by the Staff and Students of the College, not only in the daytime, but on certain week-days up to 10 p.m. Although the books of the Science Library cannot be removed from the Reading Room, each department of the College is provided with a special library, and volumes can be taken away by the students under certain regulations. No charge is made, but borrowers are held responsible for the safe custody and return of the books borrowed.

The buildings used for the purposes of the College include the old building of the Royal College of Science in Exhibition Road, the new building of the Royal College of Science in Imperial Institute Road, the City and Guilds (Engineering) College in Exhibition Road, a new building in Prince Consort and Exhibition Roads for the Departments of Mining, Metallurgy, Oil, Geology, and the Goldsmiths' extension for Engineering, and new buildings in Prince

Consort Road, for the departments of Botany, Plant Physiology and Pathology, Bio-chemistry, and Chemical Technology.

A large and commodious building has been provided by the Governing Body which has been furnished by the generosity of friends of the students. It forms the Students' Union of the Imperial College, is situated in Prince Consort Road, and includes dining-rooms, smoke-room, library, a gymnasium or concert-room, and various other club-rooms and offices.

Each department of the College has a RESEARCH Laboratory; the Staff of the College and the more advanced students being encouraged to undertake original investigations. The Huxley Laboratory of Research was founded in memory of the first Dean of the College, who was connected with the institution for forty years of his life. A Marshall Research Scholarship is held by a student engaged in research in the Huxley Laboratory.

FEES.—Entrance (associateship) £2. Sessional fees are £62 10s. for all full-time students except those engaged upon Research. The Fee for Research, with an addition for exceptionally expensive chemicals, etc., is £22 10s. per Session.

TERMS, 1926-27.—Autumn Term: October 5th to December 17th; Spring Term: January 11th to April 1st; Summer Term: April 26th to June 24th. 1st Half-Session: October 5th, 1926, to February 11th, 1927; 2nd Half-Session: February 14th to June 24th, 1927.

The College is SITUATED near the South Kensington Station of the District and Metropolitan and Great Northern and Piccadilly Tube Railways, and there is thus every facility for reaching it by rail. Omnibuses also afford ready access to many of the suburbs.

HOSTEL AND LODGINGS.—A College Hostel has been erected near the Students' Union building in Prince Consort Road, with accommodation (bed-sitting-room) for 49 students. The Hostel was opened in April, 1926, and applications for rooms may be made to the Secretary. As the College is—apart from the Hostel—a non-residential Institution, students are required to make their own arrangements for board and lodging, but the College Authorities have prepared a list of residences in the neighbourhood suitable for students, and a copy of it may be obtained by students or accepted candidates on application to the Registrar.

Clubs exist in the College for football, cricket, rowing, etc. There are also SOCIETIES for debating, and for mutual assistance in the study of physics, chemistry, natural history, etc., and the subjects of interest to students of mining and metallurgy.

The proximity of the College to the University of London, the Science Division of the Victoria and Albert Museum, the Natural History Museum, the Imperial Institute, and to other educational establishments, is of great advantage to it in carrying on its work.

An Appointments Board was established by the Governing Body of the Imperial College in 1912. Associates of any of the constituent colleges or Members of the Imperial College may register their names for a fee of 2s. 6d. No other fees are payable by registered students, and no fees are charged to employers. The "Board's" activities are well advertised, and particulars of numerous vacancies are regularly supplied to it through various sources. Further information can be had on application to the Secretary, Appointments Board, Imperial College, S.W.7.

CITY AND GUILDS (ENGINEERING) COLLEGE.

The City and Guilds of London Institute was founded in 1878, incorporated under the Companies' Acts in 1880, and received the grant of a Royal Charter by Her late Majesty Queen Victoria in 1900. It is an association of the Corporation and Livery Companies of the City of London instituted "for the purposes of all such branches of Science and the Fine Arts as benefit, or are of use to, or may benefit, or be of use to, productive and technical industries especially, and to commerce and industry generally, or any branch thereof, and for the utilisation of such means as will promote the several exclusive purposes aforesaid."

One of the objects of the City and Guilds Institute was to establish a College for higher technical education applied to productive industry.

This College, formerly known as The Central Technical College of the Institute and now the City and Guilds (Engineering) College, is SITUATED in the Exhibition Road, South Kensington, S.W. 7, within two minutes' walk of the University. It forms the Engineering Section of the Imperial College of Science and Technology, and is administered by a Delegation consisting of representatives of the Imperial College, of the City and Guilds Institute and of the Goldsmiths' Company.

The COURSES OF INSTRUCTION for the Diploma of Associate of the City and Guilds of London Institute (A. C. G. I.) are in Mechanical Engineering and Motive Power, in Electrical Engineering, and in Civil Engineering. They begin once a year in October, after the Matriculation or Entrance Examination of the College, and necessitate regular attendance throughout the Session.

The instruction for all Students taking a Diploma Course comprises Lectures on Mathematics and Mechanics, Mechanical Engineering and Motive Power, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Chemistry, besides practical work in the Laboratories, Drawing Offices and Workshops.

The Diploma Course is practically the same for all Students during the First Year. In the Second Year the instruction is slightly specialised according to the particular branch of industrial work in which each Student expects to be engaged. In the Third Year the Student devotes himself mainly to the work of the Department in which he has entered.

Special or Partial Courses.—Persons may be admitted to Special or Partial Courses of Instruction provided there is room in the College, and that they satisfy the Board of Studies that their knowledge and experience will enable them to follow, at any rate, the Second Year's Course in the Departments which they enter. Usually the Special Course of Instruction must be selected in accordance with the Timetables for Diploma Students, with the omission of such portions as are not required; but persons who are qualified to carry out research work may be admitted to devote their whole time to experimental work in the laboratories of a Department under the direction of the Professor.

Advanced Specialised Courses.—Advanced Specialised Courses for Post-graduate and other duly qualified Students are conducted in the College. The Courses arranged up to the present are in Railway Engineering and Mechanical Transport. Structural Engineering, Hydraulic Engineering. Surveying and Geology. Electrical Machinery and Transformers (including Hydro-Electric plant); Electric Traction and Railway Electrification; Telegraphy and Telephony (including Wireless). They form a suitable Fourth Year's Course for those who have taken the Diploma of Associate of the City and Guilds Institute, or who have obtained a University Degree in Engineering, or who possess equivalent qualifications; subject to certain conditions they qualify for the Diploma of Associate of the Imperial College.

The College comprises LABORATORIES, Drawing Offices, and Workshops, in addition to the Lecture Theatres and Class-rooms, and opportunities are afforded for the prosecution of original RESEARCH.

FEES.—The Fees for the complete course of instruction to be pursued by a Matriculated Student for the Associateship of the City and Guilds Institute are at present £62 10s. per Session, payable in advance. A Student admitted to a Diploma Course is liable for the fees for the full Session, whether paid in advance or by instalments.

The Fees for an advanced specialised course are £62 10s. per Session ; and for a special or partial course from £20 to £62 10s. per Session.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term : October 5th to December 17th ; 2nd Term : January 11th to April 1st ; 3rd Term : April 26th to June 24th. 1st Half-Session : October 5th, 1926, to February 11th, 1927 ; 2nd Half-Session : February 14th, 1927, to June 24th, 1927.

The College contains a LIBRARY of technical books and periodicals which is open free at certain times to all Students of the College. Students may, under certain conditions, borrow books free of charge.

A College Hostel has been erected near the Students' Union building in Prince Consort Road, with accommodation (bed-sitting-room) for a limited number of students. An unofficial list of boarding houses and private families receiving Students is kept in the office of the College.

There is a Students' UNION which comprises a number of societies and clubs for various objects ; and also an Old Students' Association with over 1,000 members.

The College now accommodates over 500 Students, of whom ninety-eight per cent. take one of the full prescribed courses of instruction—either Associateship or Post-graduate—the remaining two per cent. being special or partial Students who are qualified for advanced work including research, or who by their previous education are able to omit parts of the regular courses.

ROYAL HOLLOWAY COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculties of Arts and Science.

The Royal Holloway College for Women was built and endowed by Mr Thomas Holloway at a total cost of £800,000, in order to provide education of a University character for women of the middle and upper middle classes. The building was begun in 1879, and completed in 1886, in which year it was formally opened by Queen Victoria.

The COURSES OF STUDY given in the College are such as to enable students to prepare for University of London Degrees (Pass and Honours) in Arts and Science.

Special and General College Courses are also provided in connexion with which a College Certificate is granted.

The LIBRARY contains over 17,700 volumes. Between 400 and 600 volumes, selected by the Library Committee, are added annually. The Transactions and Proceedings of the Royal Society, and the leading English, French, and German scientific journals are supplied, as well as some of the more important literary reviews and periodicals.

The Library is always open to all members of the College, and, with the exception of certain reference books, any books may be borrowed during term time. Within necessary limitations, books are also lent for the Vacations. In all cases the loan of books is entirely free.

LABORATORIES.—The Chemical Laboratory stands in the College grounds. It has working accommodation for about 70 students, and contains a Lecture Theatre, two large Laboratories and two smaller ones, Balance Room, Preparation Store-rooms, Dark Room, Professors' and Lecturers' Rooms, and Furnace Room.

The Physics Laboratory is on the ground floor in the main building, and occupies 16 separate rooms, comprising general laboratories for elementary and advanced work, and special rooms for optical, electrical, photographic, and other purposes as well as a workshop.

The department of Botany is provided with a Morphological Laboratory within the College buildings, and a Physiological Laboratory in the grounds, equipped for class work and research. In 1893 a Botanical Garden was laid out near the Physiological Laboratory, and a Humus Garden has since been enclosed from the Canada coppice. The grounds offer exceptional facilities for Botanical work.

CLASS ROOMS.—There are ten Class Rooms in the College in addition to the Lecture Rooms attached to the Laboratories. On the ground floor there is a Lecture Theatre capable of seating 200 persons.

FEES.—All students pay an inclusive Fee for tuition in all subjects of £45 a term including residence, or £15 a term without residence. There is also a Fee of 7s. a term for Chemical Materials, &c. The tuition fees are considerably reduced for Post-graduate Students.

TERMS, 1926–27.—1st Term : September 30th to December 18th ; 2nd Term : January 15th to March 19th ; 3rd Term : April 23rd to June 25th.

SITUATION.—The College is  $1\frac{1}{4}$  miles from Egham Station on the S. Railway (terminus, Waterloo), and 19 miles from London, the best trains taking about half an hour between Waterloo and Egham.

RESIDENCE.—The College is designed and intended for resident students, though non-resident students, whose homes are in the neighbourhood, may be admitted under special regulations. About 200 students can be received into the College, each being provided with two rooms—a study and a bedroom—fitted with all necessary furniture. Common rooms are also at the disposal of the students.

RECREATION.—There is a gymnasium and a swimming bath. Instruction in gymnastics and swimming is given free to all students. The playing fields include two full-sized hockey grounds (one of which is used for cricket during the summer), five grass tennis courts, two asphalt tennis courts, a net-ball court, and a racquets court.

The SOCIETIES, &c. of the College include :—

The Royal Holloway College Association formed in 1890 for the purpose of enabling students and lecturers who have left the College to keep in connexion with the resident body of its members. A letter of College news is drawn up once a year and printed for the members of this Association.

Musical, dramatic, literary, debating and scientific clubs and societies exist in considerable numbers, while an Association has been formed in support of a Club for Factory Girls in Lambeth. A branch of the Women's University Settlement at Southwark for work in the poorer districts of London has existed since 1897.

SCHOLARSHIPS.—Nine or ten Entrance Scholarships, value from £80 to £40, for three years, are offered annually on the results of an Examination conducted at the end of March.

A certain number of Exhibitions of not more than £30 a year for three years are awarded to promising Candidates who do not gain scholarships. At least three Scholarships, of £30 a year for three years, founded by the late Miss Driver, are offered to Students who have kept at least three terms residence. Two or three Post-graduate or Research Studentships, of the value of £40 a year, are offered annually to past or present graduate Students, and the Christie Scholarship for History, of the value of £60 a year for two years, is offered biennially to Students who have kept at least three terms residence.

BEDFORD COLLEGE FOR WOMEN.

A School of the University in the Faculties of Arts and Science.

Bedford College for Women was founded in 1849 by Mrs Reid to provide a liberal education for women, such education not to extend beyond secular subjects.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.—Students are prepared for all Examinations of the University of London in Arts and Science; for the First Medical Examination; and for the Bedford College Certificate in Social Studies. Students may also take single courses of lectures in any subject or subjects.

The TATE LIBRARY and WERNHER Reading Room containing nearly 37,000 volumes, to which new volumes and periodicals are added each term, are open to students from 9 to 7.30 without fee. Books can be borrowed in term and vacation without charge.

There are extensive LABORATORIES (for Botany, Chemistry, Geology, Physics, Physiology and Bacteriology, Experimental Psychology, and Zoology) open daily from 10 to 5. No additional fee is charged for re-agents, specimens or the use of microscopes. Students of Biology provide their own instruments, and Students of Chemistry their own ordinary apparatus and special chemicals. Each Laboratory has its own Museum.

Facilities for RESEARCH are offered in all Laboratories, and in the Pilcher Research Laboratory.

There are thirty-three LECTURE ROOMS to accommodate from 20 to 400 students.

FEES.—Sessional Fees in guineas for the several Courses are as follows:—Intermediate Arts, 42; Intermediate Modified Arts, 46½; B.A. Modified Arts, 46½; B.A., 38; First Examination for Medical Degrees, 53; Intermediate Science, 53; B.Sc., 53; Social Studies, 24. The Fee for a single course of lectures is £2 12s. 6d. Registration Fee, £1 1s.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 7th to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 13th to March 23rd; 3rd Term: April 28th to June 30th.

BEDFORD COLLEGE is situated in Regent's Park, about three minutes' walk from York Gate (Marylebone Road), and five minutes' walk from Baker Street Station. It stands in grounds of eight acres, providing lawns for lawn tennis and other games. The Regent's Park Lake, which adjoins a part of the grounds, is available for boating.

RESIDENCE in the College is provided for a resident staff and for 93 students over 18 years of age; the fees are 95 or 100 guineas per annum. Students may reside during vacation for University examinations. Hot and cold luncheons are provided for day students.

There are two College Houses: at Notcutt House, 35, Dorset Square, N.W.1, and Bedford College House, 35, Adamson Road, N.W.3, with accommodation for 138 Students. Fees, 79 or 76 guineas a Session. Further particulars may be obtained from the Resident Tutor, at the College.

The BEDFORD COLLEGE UNION SOCIETY (open to all present Students) includes the Art and Architectural Society, Classical Society, Common Room Club, Debating Society, Dramatic Society, Historical Society, Reid (Literary) Society, Philosophical Society, Modern Languages Society, Scientific Association, and the Musical Society. The Subscription is 15s. per Session, payable in October with the College fees. All members of the Union Society are ipso facto members of the Common Room Club, and are entitled to join any of the other clubs or societies.

The ATHLETIC UNION includes the Badminton, Boating, Hockey, Lacrosse, Net Ball, Swimming, and Tennis Clubs. The subscription is 25s. per Session, payable in October with the College fees, or 10s. 6d. for one club only, payable to the Treasurer of the Club.

ADMISSION.—Students are not admitted under 17 years of age, and, as a general rule, must have matriculated not later than January previous to the date of entry. There is a College entrance examination.

Entrance SCHOLARSHIPS, two in Arts and two in Science, will be offered for competition in May, 1927. The Reid Trustees offer one Scholarship annually on the result of the Intercollegiate Scholarships Board examination. A Gilchrist Leaving Scholarship for Secondary Training is also offered annually and a Medical Scholarship biennially. A Gladstone Memorial Prize is awarded biennially, an Early English Text Society's Prize annually and the Harding Mathematical Prize annually. Other annual Prizes for English, Mathematics, and Philosophy are also offered.

The College is recognised for the purposes of Preliminary Medical studies, and of Advanced Medical studies in Chemistry and Physiology and by the Conjoint Board of the Royal College of Surgeons, and the Royal College of Physicians in respect of the courses given in Chemistry, Physics and Biology.

A LOAN FUND is available for students who have already been for one year in any department of the College to enable them to continue their studies.

The Course of Training in Social Work covers two years. It is so arranged as to include lectures on General Economics, Social Administration and Social Psychology for all students, and allows for alternative Courses either in Social and Industrial History and the Development of Political Thought, or in Physiology and Hygiene. It is therefore suitable for women preparing for Social Work as Members of Public Bodies or Voluntary Associations; as Welfare Supervisors, Health Visitors, Care Committee Organisers, Club Leaders, etc. A Shortened Course of one year is open, on the recommendation of the Director, to the following classes of students :—

(a) Graduates.

(b) Those who have had at least one year's experience in organised social work and produce satisfactory evidence as to their capabilities.

(c) Those who have already taken one year's training in theory of social work at another University centre and produce evidence of satisfactory work.

OCCASIONAL LECTURES open to the public, without fee, are given during the Michaelmas and Lent terms by members of the staff and others.

The College is MANAGED by a Council, with Committees on Finance, House and Library.

Educational matters are referred to an Academic Board consisting of the Principal and the Heads of Departments, with representatives from the Assistant Staff.

The STAFF consists of the Principal and other Recognised Teachers, Lecturers, Junior Lecturers, Assistants, and Demonstrators.

EAST LONDON COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculties of Arts, Science, and Engineering.

The East London College originated in a bequest contained in the Will of Mr. J. T. Beaumont, who died in 1841. The College was first established under a Scheme approved by Her late Majesty in Council in 1892. It is now governed by a Scheme of 1913, which was framed by the Board of Education. The College Council consists of the Master and Clerk of the Drapers' Company and the Principal of the College, ex officio, of representatives of the Drapers' Company, London County Council, the University of London and the Academic Board, with three co-opted persons. The Academic Board is empowered to submit representations to the College Council upon the academic work and the management of the College generally. The College was admitted as a School of the University on May 15th, 1907.

The College provides instruction in the FACULTIES of Arts, Science, Medicine, and Engineering. Men and Women alike are admitted to the College.

Numerous and valuable SCHOLARSHIPS and EXHIBITIONS are awarded annually by the Drapers' Company to men and women alike, on the result of the examination conducted by the London Inter-collegiate Scholarships Board, of a yearly value of about £1,560 in all. There are certain other Scholarships and Prizes connected with the College.

There is an excellent LIBRARY connected with the College. During the Session 1920-21 the Drapers' Company voted a sum of £5,000 from their corporate funds to enable it to be transferred to new premises and for the purchase of additional books. The Library is open daily during Term from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., except Saturdays, when it is closed at 12 noon.

The CHEMICAL LABORATORIES, which were completed in 1914, were presented to the College by the Draper's Company. The London County Council recently contributed the sum of £15,000 for the re-equipment of the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Laboratories of the College.

A Hall of Residence for Women Students attending the College has been founded at Forest Lodge, Whipps Cross, on the borders of Epping Forest. The cost has been met by a grant of £5,000 from the University Grants Committee and a like sum voted by the Court of the Drapers' Company.

Facilities for Research are offered in all the Departments of the College, and special Research Laboratories are attached to the Physics, Chemistry and Electrical Engineering Departments. An annual vote is made by the College Committee to assist original investigations. The College Council has instituted a Post-graduate studentship tenable by Students who have graduated from the College after a complete three years' course.

The Drapers' Company has granted to Students of the College the use of the fine Athletic Ground situated close to Leyton Station, on the L. & N.E. Railway.

The Students' Union has for its object the development of the Athletic and Social Societies attached to the College. The Athletic Societies, which have the use of the Athletic Ground at Leyton, are—(1) Cricket Club, (2) Tennis Club, (3) Football Clubs (Association and Rugby), (4) Hockey Clubs. There are also (5) Rowing Clubs, (6) Badminton Clubs, and (7) a Boxing Club. The other Societies include—(1) Debating Society, (2) Société des Causeries Françaises, (3) Society for the Study of Social Problems, (4) Engineering Society, (5) Electrical Engineering Society. Membership of the Union carries with it Membership of the above Societies on payment of a moderate composition fee. There is also an Old Students' Association for the purpose of assisting former Students of the College and of maintaining their interest in the progress of the College.

FEEES.—The Composition (Annual) Fee in the Faculties of Arts, Science, and Engineering is £22 2s. The Terminal Fee, which covers a full group of Instruction-courses in the Faculties of Arts, Science, and Engineering is £7 14s. 6d. Research Students are charged special fees with a substantial reduction in favour of past Students.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term : September 27th to December 18th ; 2nd Term : January 10th to April 2nd ; 3rd Term : April 25th to June 25th.

The College is SITUATED in the Mile End Road, E., within five minutes' walk of Stepney Green and Mile End Stations of the District (Tilbury and Southend) Railway. It is within easy reach of Coborn Road, Bow Road and Stepney Stations on the L. & N.E. Railway, of Bow Station on the North London Railway, and of St Mary's and Whitechapel whence there are excellent connexions with the S. Railway at New Cross. A good service of motor omnibuses from the City, West End, and South London (Elephant and Castle) to Stratford, Seven Kings, Leytonstone, Wanstead, Ilford and Loughton passes the College, and direct electric tram services from Ilford and Leytonstone via West Ham also pass the College, which is thus easy of access from all the Eastern and North-Eastern suburbs of London.

Principal—J. L. S. Hatton, M.A.

Secretary—E. J. Wignall.

Address—Mile End Road, E.1.

Telephone—East 3384.

LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.

A School of the University in the Faculties of Economics, Laws and Arts.

The London School of Economics and Political Science was founded in 1895, to provide liberal courses of education specially adapted to the needs of those engaged in any branch of business or administration, national or local; teaching; journalism or public work; to make further provision for research in Economics and Political Science; and to promote in all ways the teaching and study of those subjects. It has become the centre of teaching in London for the new Commerce Degree (1919), and, in addition to being recognised in the Faculty of Economics, has been recognised as a School of the University in the Faculty of Laws (1921), and in the Faculty of Arts for Geography and Sociology (1922), and for History and Anthropology (1924).

The School was opened at 9 John Street, Adelphi, W.C., but at the end of the first year it had outgrown these premises and moved to 10 Adelphi Terrace. In 1900 the University of London established a Faculty of Economics and Political Science (including Commerce and Industry), and the School of Economics was admitted as a School of the University. The result was to render the premises in Adelphi Terrace wholly inadequate. A gift of £11,000 from Mr. Passmore Edwards, and the allocation by the L.C.C. of a site in Clare Market for the purposes of the School, enabled a new building to be erected, and in 1902 the School was transferred to Passmore Edwards Hall, Clare Market. It proceeded almost immediately to outgrow these quarters also. So long ago as 1913 the independent persons appointed by the University under Statute 76 to examine the organisation and administration of the Schools of the University reported that the building was seriously overcrowded, and expressed the opinion that "a great effort should be made to provide accommodation of an adequate character for a School which has been so signally successful, and in which, in the opinion of the Royal Commission, the main teaching in the Faculty of Economics of the greatest commercial city of the world should be given." The war made this impossible, and immediately after the war the difficulties of the School were added to by the institution of the Commerce Degree, for which practically the whole of the teaching (apart from languages) is concentrated at the School. By means, however, of a grant both of land and of money from the London County Council, a grant from the City Appeals Committee for building purposes, and from the Sir Ernest Cassel Trustees for teaching, the immediate difficulties as to staff and accommodation have been overcome. In 1920 the King laid the foundation-stone for a building extension which more than trebles the previous accommodation. This building was partially occupied during the Summer of 1921, and became generally available for use in the session 1921-22. The final wing was completed in the Spring of 1925.

One of the main features of the School is the provision of evening courses by the same teachers who lecture during the day. Complete evening as well as day courses are provided for the degrees of B.Sc. (Econ.), B.Com., and LL.B., and in conjunction with King's College for the B.A. Honours in Geography and History.

FACULTIES AND COURSES.—The School provides instruction in the Faculties of Economics, Laws, Arts and Science. It registers students for the degrees of B.Sc. (Econ.), B.Com., LL.B., and B.A. with Honours in Geography, Sociology, Anthropology, or History (Modern and Mediæval), or the Pass Degree in Geography, and offers special facilities for research students proceeding to the degree of M.Sc. (Econ.), D.Sc. (Econ.), LL.D., D.Lit., Ph.D., M.A., LL.M., and M.Sc. in Anthropology. It also provides courses for the Academic Diplomas in (i) Geography, (ii) Sociology and Social Administration, (iii) Journalism, and (iv) Psychology (in conjunction with other institutions of the University).

The lectures and classes are open also to those who have not matriculated and do not wish to pursue a full University course. They are of particular value to those engaged in banking, accounting, railway and other transport, commerce and industry, to civil servants and municipal officials, to candidates for factory inspectorships, and other official posts, to teachers and to those engaged in or qualifying for social work. These courses cover the following among other subjects: Principles of Economics and their application to Social, Industrial, and Business Problems; Statistics and Mathematics; Logic and Scientific Method; General Psychology; Industrial Psychology; Commerce and Industry, including Foreign Trade, Banking and Currency, Transport, Tariffs, Accountancy and Business Methods; Economic History; Modern Political History; Geography; Commercial, Industrial, and Constitutional Law; various aspects of English Law; International Law; Politics and Public Administration; Sociology; Ethnology; Social Science and Administration; English Literature and Composition.

All courses are open equally to men and women.

FACILITIES FOR RESEARCH.—The School is one of the largest centres of "post-graduate" study in the United Kingdom. The work of the Research Department is carried on by means of (i) individual supervision of students, (ii) Seminars or special classes, and (iii) the Library. The method of utilising the British Museum, the Public Record Office, etc., is explained.

LIBRARY.—The British Library of Political and Economic Science, established in 1896, is maintained by the School, and housed in the same building. The Library includes the British Library of Political Science, the Edward Fry Library of International Law, the Schuster Library of Comparative Legislation, and the Cobden Library of International Commerce and Peace. It is open free for the purpose of study and research to (a) students of the School of Economics, (b) persons engaged in public administration, (c) Professors and Lecturers of any recognised University, (d) other persons properly recommended. The Library has become not only an indispensable aid to the Research work of the School, but in itself a source of attraction to students. The collection includes about 700,000 volumes and tracts, pamphlets and other documents, many of them unique. In addition to standard works, official reports (British and foreign), and general works of reference, the Library contains a valuable collection of English and foreign reports and documents relating to municipal administration, and several collections of material relating to social, economic, and political questions made by private persons and presented to the Library Trustees.

SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS.—The School publishes a series of Studies in Economics and Political Science, and during the last fifteen years many students of the School have published the results of their researches in books and articles in British and foreign periodicals. It also publishes a journal,

Economica, which is under the editorial supervision of a Board appointed by the Professorial Council of the School. Although primarily intended as a medium of publication for original work by members of the School staff and students connected with the School, the Board will be glad to consider contributions from other persons. The journal appears three times a year as near to June 1st, November 1st, and February 1st as possible. The annual subscription is 7s. 6d. post free, separate copies at 2s. 6d. Applications for the despatch of the journal should be sent to the Assistant Editor at the School. The Library publishes a quarterly Bulletin which contains notes on the Library, an annotated list of additions, bibliographies of topical subjects, &c. The subscription is 2s. per annum, post free. Enquiries should be addressed to the Librarian.

FEES.—Composition Fees: B.Sc. (Econ.), Day 21 guineas, Evening 14 guineas; B.Com., Day 21 guineas, Evening 14 guineas; LL.B., Day 24 guineas, Evening 18 guineas; B.A. (Honours in Sociology, Geography, and History), Day 35 guineas, in Anthropology, 30 guineas, Evening £21 (or History £10); M.Sc. (Econ.), D.Sc. (Econ.): (a) Honours Graduates of the School, 14 guineas two sessions, or 8 guineas per session, (b) other graduates, 21 guineas for two sessions, or 14 guineas per session. (Honours Graduates of the School with first degrees in the Faculty of Economics desiring to proceed to the M.Sc. or D.Sc. may be registered on payment of the Research Fee of 5 guineas, which entitles them to attend one seminar.) Ph.D.: (a) Graduates of the School: when taken in two sessions, 15 guineas per session; in four sessions, 7½ guineas per session; (b) other graduates: 21 guineas and 10½ guineas per session respectively. M.A. and LL.D. by arrangement. General Composition Fee, admitting to all lectures at the School: Day 21 guineas per session, Evening 14 guineas per session.

There are various studentships, scholarships, exhibitions, bursaries, and prizes to the approximate annual value of £2,300.

REFECTORY.—The School Refectory is open from 12.30 to 2.30 p.m., from 4.0 to 6.0 p.m., and from 6.15 to 8.30 p.m., and provides lunch, tea, and dinner. A table d'hôte lunch and dinner are provided for 1s. 10d. in each case.

SOCIETIES, CLUBS, ETC., OF THE SCHOOL.—The Students' Union, including both men and women, provides Common Rooms, Library, and weekly meetings. To it are affiliated (1) the Athletic Union (controlling the following clubs: Rugby Football; Association Football; Hockey, men's and women's; Men's Boating; Women's Sculling; Swimming, men's and women's; Boxing; Cricket; Golf; Tennis; and Sports). The School playing-fields are at Malden, Surrey, 20 minutes from Waterloo, and comprise some 20 acres; (2) the Chess Club; (3) Entertainments Committee; (4) International Study Circle; (5) Literary Society. Other societies are: Dramatic Society, Historical Society, Socratics, Christian Union, League of Nations Union, Commerce Society, Table-tennis Club, Musical Society, and various political organisations. The Clare Market Review is published terminally.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 4th to December 10th; 2nd Term: January 10th to March 18th; 3rd Term: April 25th to June 24th.

SOUTH-EASTERN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Science (Agriculture).

The South-Eastern Agricultural College, Wye, Kent, provides training for students intending to become (a) owners or occupiers of land, (b) land agents, (c) colonists, (d) teachers and scientific advisers in connexion with agriculture and allied industries. The college is also the centre of other agricultural instruction for the counties of Kent, Surrey, and E. and W. Sussex, e.g., extra-mural lectures, instruction in horticulture, market gardening, forestry, dairy work, farriery, iron and wood work, poultry and bee-keeping. It conducts field experiments, makes analyses of soils, manures, &c., and holds short sessions for special purposes (Summer Courses for Teachers in Elementary Schools and Short Courses for Farmers' Sons).

The Courses of Instruction are as follows :—

- (1) Three years' Degree (B.Sc. Agric.) course.
- (2) Three years' Degree (B.Sc. Hort.) course.
- (3) Three years' Diploma course (Agriculture).
- (4) Two years' Certificate course (Agriculture).
- (5) Three years' Diploma courses (Horticulture).
- (6) Two years' Certificate course (Horticulture).
- (7) One year's Poultry Management course.

The LIBRARY, containing about 3,700 volumes, is well supplied with modern English and foreign books and periodicals on agriculture and the kindred sciences.

There are well-equipped chemical, analytical and other laboratories for special work, and the research laboratories are situated in the new quadrangle. The Biological Laboratories provide working space for about 60 students. There are other rooms, fitted for biological investigations, and there are also laboratories for veterinary, bacteriological, entomological, mycological, and horticultural research with green-houses and botanical garden.

In addition to the laboratories the college buildings include a LECTURE THEATRE, seating 150, 6 lecture rooms, a drawing office, a museum, a gymnasium, and workshops for iron and wood work, and staff and students' common rooms.

The FARM (which is about 460 acres in extent) and the plantations are largely used for experimental purposes. The fruit plantations, market garden and glass houses form a special department, and attention is paid to poultry keeping and bee-keeping.

Instruction in Forestry is given, and demonstration plantations have been established.

WESTFIELD COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Arts.

Westfield College, Hampstead, was founded in 1882 by Miss Dudin Brown, for the higher education of women, including instruction in the Christian Religion. It was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculty of Arts on June 25th, 1902.

The Courses of Study provided enable students to prepare for the University of London Internal Degrees in Arts and Science, Pass and Honours. Students reading for Degrees in Science attend Courses at University and Bedford Colleges in such subjects as are not taught in the College.

Students are not admitted under the age of eighteen, and are required to pass an Entrance Examination. Scholarships and Exhibitions are only awarded to those who have passed the Matriculation Examination or an Examination accepted by the University as an equivalent.

The College is mainly RESIDENTIAL. The fees for residence are £90 per session. (There are a few rooms for first-year students only, at £70 to £80 a year.) The fees for tuition are as follows: Intermediate Arts Course, 42 guineas per session; B.A. Course, 38 guineas per session; Intermediate or Final B.Sc. Course, 53 guineas per session; M.A. or M.Sc. Course, 14 guineas per session. Single Courses for non-resident students only, from 2 guineas a term.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 7th to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 13th to March 23rd; 3rd Term: April 28th to June 30th.

The COLLEGE BUILDINGS at present include a Library, Lecture Rooms, Common Rooms, and a Laboratory. There is accommodation for 87 students, and in most cases each student has a study with a bedroom adjoining.

The LIBRARY is regularly supplied with literary and scientific periodicals. With the exception of books of reference, which must be consulted in the Library itself, books may be borrowed by the students in term time, and during the vacations.

The College is SITUATED near the S.W. corner of Hampstead Heath, within fifteen minutes' walk of the Finchley Road Stations (Metropolitan, L.M.S., and North London); Motor Omnibuses to Platt's Lane.

The grounds, which are about four acres in extent, contain seven tennis courts. Hockey is played in a field at a short distance from the College, and a College Boating Club practises on Regent's Park Lake. There are Literary, Musical, and Debating Societies open to all students, and a College Magazine is published once a year. Newspapers and periodicals are provided for the Reading Room, which is under the management of the students. The College Union subscription amounts to 30s. a year.

The Old Students' Association meets regularly for the purpose of keeping those students who have left the College in touch with the resident body of its members.

The College is GOVERNED by a Council with Household and Finance Committees.

The STAFF consists of the Principal and 10 Lecturers (6 resident and 4 non-resident).

BIRKBECK COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculties of Arts and Science.

Birkbeck College was founded by Dr. George Birkbeck in the year 1823, "for the Purpose," in the words of its founder, "of giving instruction to students in the principles of the Arts they practise and in the various branches of Science and useful knowledge."

The College was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculties of Arts and Science for evening and part-time students for five years from October 1st, 1920, and has been continued till September 30th, 1930.

In the foundation and subsequent early development of the College, Dr. Birkbeck had the support and assistance of many leading public men, including Lord John Russell, the Earl of Shaftesbury, Lord Playfair, Francis Place, Lord Bacon, and Sir Francis Burdett.

The first permanent premises of the College were in Southampton Buildings, Chancery Lane, and the College continued there until 1885, when the present buildings were opened.

The principal aim of the College is to enable Students who are engaged during the day to pursue a course of study in the evening in preparation for Degrees of the University.

Complete courses of instruction are provided in the Faculties of Arts and Science, and there are also certain courses in the Faculties of Laws and Medicine.

There is a small but comprehensive Library of about 17,000 volumes to which substantial additions are made annually.

The Laboratories of the Departments of Botany, Chemistry, Geology, Physics and Zoology are, notwithstanding difficulties arising from restricted accommodation, well supplied with equipment of the most modern type.

Facilities are offered for research and post-graduate work in all the departments of the College.

FEES.—Sessional Fees for Evening Courses in Arts and Laws, £7 10s. ; in Science Medicine and for Matriculation, £9.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term : September 27th to December 18th ; 2nd Term : January 10th to March 26th ; 3rd Term : April 25th to June 25th.

SITUATION :—The College is SITUATED in Breams Buildings, between Chancery Lane and Fetter Lane. It can be reached by any motor omnibus passing along Holborn or Fleet Street. The nearest stations are Chancery Lane on the Central London Railway, Holborn on the Great Northern and Piccadilly Tube, and the Temple on the District Railway.

The corporate life of the College is organised by the Students' Union. The SOCIETIES and CLUBS are as follows :—

The Students' Union, Natural History Society, Physical Society, Chemical Society, Classical Society, Literary Society, Société Française, Dramatic and Orchestral Society, Historical Society, Legal Society, Chess Club, Christian Union, Photographic Society, Operatic Society, Socialist Society, Liberal Society, Conservative Society, Radio Society, Parliamentary Society, Athletic Club, Boxing Club, Cricket Club, Association Football Club, Rugby Football Club, Men's Hockey Club, Men's Swimming Club, Women's Hockey Club, Women's Swimming Club, Netball Club, Lawn Tennis Club, Fencing Club, and Rowing Club.

The College Playing Fields, covering an area of eighteen acres, provide ample facilities for the athletic activities of the College, and are situated at Greenford.

The Lodestone, the College Magazine, is published once a term.

Principal—George Senter, D.Sc., Ph.D.

Secretary—G. F. Troup Horne, B.A.

Instructor in Music—

Instructress in Needlework—Mrs F. G. Longland.

College Secretary—Miss G. M. Wacey; Assistant—Miss A. I. Farewell.

Librarian—Miss G. de Montmorency.

Head Teachers of the Demonstration Schools :—School of St John-the-Evangelist, Red Lion Square—Mr F. C. E. Belcher (Boys); Cromer Street L.C.C. School—Mr H. Thornton (Mixed); Barnsbury Park L.C.C.—Mr W. I. Atkinson, B.Sc.

The well-equipped Schools under the London County Council as well as certain of the London Secondary Schools are utilised for the practical instruction of students of the London Day Training College. There are also three Demonstration Schools attached to the College.

The teaching and training given aim—

- (a) at equipping students for teaching in any branch of the profession ;
- (b) at fulfilling all the requirements of the Board of Education for a Day Training College ;
- (c) at enabling students to take the London University Degrees of B.A. and B.Sc., and, in the case of Post-graduate students, the Teacher's Diploma.

The course of instruction includes, in addition to the courses in the theory and practice of Education, classes in Nature Study, Clay Modelling, Drawing (including Brushwork), Music, Voice Production, Physical Training, Handicraft Instruction and Needlework. It is so arranged that it will be possible for a student who has already graduated to devote himself continuously for a year to the Theory, History and Practice of Education and obtain the London University Teacher's Diploma. At the same time provision is also made for undergraduate students taking a four years' course in such a way as to satisfy all the requirements of the Board of Education and those of the University of London for the degree of B.A., B.Sc., or B.Sc. (Economics).

The classes of Students admitted to this College are as follows :—

- I. Students recognised by the Board of Education under the Regulations for the Training of Teachers. These are Undergraduates of the University of London recognised by the Board as four year students.
- II. Students recognised by the Board of Education who enter for a course of training extending over not less than one Academic Year under the Regulations for the Training of Teachers for Secondary Schools.
- III. Advanced students who wish, either with a view to the University's M.A. (Educ.), or, for some other purpose, to make a special study of some branch of educational method, history or organisation.

A.—ADMISSION OF STUDENTS IN CLASS I (i and ii).

Students admitted to the College as "four year students" must have passed the Matriculation Examination or an equivalent. (See Board of Education's Regulations for the Training of Teachers, Appendix A (I).)* Preference may be given to Candidates who have had some experience of teaching.

All students who are admitted under the Board's Regulations receive a maintenance grant of £20† a year in the case of men, and £15† a year in the case of women.

In the case of "four year students," the Board of Education pays the fees for instruction in the subjects required for the Arts or Science degree at one of the under-mentioned Colleges and Schools of the University, namely—

King's College (for men or women), for B.A., B.Sc. and B.Sc. (Econ.).

University College (for men or women), for B.A., B.Sc. and B.Sc. (Econ.).

Bedford College for Women, for B.A. and B.Sc.

Westfield College (for women), for B.A. only.

London School of Economics and Political Science (for men or women), for B.Sc. (Econ.).

East London College, for B.A. and B.Sc.

Imperial College of Science.

A full statement of the conditions under which these Scholarships are granted can be obtained on application to the Education Officer, County Hall, S.E. 1.

B.—ADMISSION OF STUDENTS IN CLASS II

These students must be graduates, or must have undergone a complete course of University study and passed an examination equivalent to that for a University degree in Arts or in Science. They receive instruction in the Theory, History and Art of Education, so as to prepare them for the examination for the Teacher's Diploma of the University of London. They become Registered students of the University, and take courses in the Theory, History, and Practice of Education, in preparation for the examination for the Teacher's Diploma. The practical work is taken in the College Demonstration Schools and other approved schools. Post-graduate students are expected to devote their whole time to the work of the college during the year of training.

The covering Fee for the course in Class II is £40. A few free places may be granted by the London County Council to Candidates who are ordinarily resident within the Administrative County of London, and whose circumstances call for this concession. Each such case will be decided on its merits.

* To be had in pamphlet form from H.M. Stationery Office, Kingsway, W.C. 2. All Candidates for admission should supply themselves with a copy of these Regulations.

† At present these amounts are increased by 33½%.

C.—ADMISSION OF STUDENTS IN CLASS III.

Students entering in this class with a view to the examination for a higher degree in Education must possess the qualifications required by the regulations for that examination. Other students must possess qualifications and experience which in the opinion of the Principal are sufficient to enable them to undertake profitably the course proposed.

The fees are as follows :—

- (i) M.A. course, 14 guineas for one year (full time), and 21 guineas for the full course.
- (ii) Ph.D. course, 21 guineas for one year (full time), and 42 guineas for the whole course, for not more than four years.
- (iii) Students undertaking research with a view to the D.Lit. degree, a fee calculated on the basis of the fee for the Ph.D. course, and proportional to the amount of time received from the staff of the College.
- (iv) Students registered at the College for the Academic Diploma in Psychology, 28 guineas for the whole course and 15 guineas for Part II of the course, if that alone is taken.

HACKNEY AND NEW COLLEGE, HAMPSTEAD.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Theology.

The United College, Hampstead, formed by the union in 1924 by Act of Parliament of Hackney College and New College, educates candidates for the Christian ministry, especially of the Congregational Denomination.

New College has a LIBRARY containing probably 55,000 volumes, representing the Theological and Philosophical learning of all ages, and offering many facilities for research in the subjects and in the history of Nonconformity; and Hackney College has about 20,000 volumes including the Library (largely foreign) of the late Principal, the Rev. Alfred Cave, D.D., given at his request by his widow.

There is CLASS-ROOM ACCOMMODATION for upwards of 100 students at New College; and at Hackney College there is residence provided for 40 students, each of whom has a bedroom and a study.

FEES.—Term Fee, 2½ guineas; Sessional Fee, 6 guineas for each class.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 4th to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 10th to April 1st; 3rd Term: April 25th to June 17th.

NEW COLLEGE is SITUATED quite near to the Swiss Cottage Station (Met. Ry.), and within easy reach of the Finchley Road Stations (L.M.S. and North London Rys.).

HACKNEY COLLEGE is SITUATED within a half-mile of West Hampstead and Finchley Road Stations (Met. Ry.), and West End Lane and Finchley Road Stations (L.M.S. Ry.).

The students reside in Hackney College. There are ample facilities for residence in the near neighbourhood.

The students have several SOCIETIES of their own—for discussion, social intercourse, and athletics. At Hackney College there are several tennis courts, and a field is hired for football and cricket.

Principal—Rev. A. E. Garvie, M.A., D.D. (New College.)

REGENT'S PARK COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Theology.

Regent's Park College, founded in 1810, provides training for Students who desire to become Ministers or Missionaries in connexion with the Baptist Denomination. It was affiliated with the London University under the Charter of 1836, and its course in Arts has been shaped by the requirements of the Degrees in Arts of the University. The Theological course follows the B.D. curriculum of the University, while continuing to include subjects not comprised in that curriculum.

The College possesses a good LIBRARY, which is available for the use of all resident Students.

FEES.—Foundation Scholars, nil; other Students, 2½ guineas each class per term.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 7th to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 13th to March 23rd; 3rd Term: April 28th to June 30th.

The College is SITUATED opposite the North Gate of Regent's Park, within seven minutes' walk of St John's Wood Road Station, and fifteen minutes' walk of Baker Street Station.

The College is RESIDENTIAL. Candidates are admitted—after examination—on such conditions and on such terms as the Committee of the Institution may determine.

The College stands in grounds which afford space for RECREATION—tennis, football, and cricket practice. For matches the Park is available.

The Theological Course is conducted in conjunction with Hackney and New College under a Joint Board consisting of the Professors and Tutors of the two Colleges. The united classes, which are thus formed, all meet at New College.

Students who are permitted to take an Arts Degree before their Theological Courses attend classes at University College.

WESLEYAN COLLEGE, RICHMOND.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Theology.

Wesleyan College, Richmond, opened in 1843, was erected by means of funds raised in connexion with the Centenary celebration which commemorated in 1839 the close of the first century of the existence of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. The College is the property of the Wesleyan Foreign Missionary Society, held in trust for the Wesleyan Conference, and for many years was occupied solely by missionary students preparing for work abroad. Since the year 1885, however, it has ceased to be used exclusively for students designated for foreign work.

The College ACCOMMODATION provides for 60 resident students, each of whom has a separate study and bedroom. The ground-floor is occupied by a large Dining Hall and Lecture Hall with three smaller Class Rooms, one of which serves the additional purpose of a subsidiary Library and Reading Room. Two short wings contain studies. In the Entrance Hall stands a fine statue of John Wesley.

Within the College grounds, but detached from the main building, is the Chapel. The Sunday services are usually conducted by a member of the College Staff. For RECREATION there are tennis and racquet courts, with a large field for cricket and football.

The STAFF consists of a Principal, who is also Professor of Comparative Religion and Pastoral Theology, Professors of Systematic Theology, of Psychology and the Philosophy of Religion and of New Testament Language and Literature, with assistant tutors who are graduates.

The COURSE OF STUDY extends over three years, and in special circumstances a fourth year of training is given. Lectures are regularly delivered on Elocution and the Management of the Voice.

The STUDENTS of the College are all accepted candidates for the ministry of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, received and sent to College by the act of the Wesleyan Conference ; and in due course, after a post-collegiate probation, they pass into the ranks of the ordained ministry.

The College possesses a large LIBRARY, open without restriction to all members of the College. The Library is especially well-provided with Biblical, Theological, and Wesleyan literature. It is fairly rich in Philosophy and History, ancient and modern, and in works bearing on India and the Far East. There is also a good Reference Library.

FEES.—There is no fixed scale of fees, but students in residence pay a composition fee according to their means and ability.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: September 6th to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 10th to April 13th; 3rd Term: April 25th to June 16th.

The College is SITUATED in its own grounds on the top of Richmond Hill, a mile distant from the railway station.

ST JOHN'S HALL, HIGHBURY.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Theology.

St John's Hall, Highbury, was founded and endowed in 1863 by the Reverend Alfred Peache, D.D., Chancellor of the Western University of Canada, for the purpose of training candidates for the Ministry of the Church of England. Its fundamental principle is contained in the following extract from its trust deed:—

“The teaching and government shall always be strictly Protestant and Evangelical, in conformity with the doctrine of the Church of England, as expressed in the Thirty-nine Articles, interpreted according to the natural meaning thereof.”

There are three LECTURE-ROOMS, each capable of holding sixty Students. The lectures of the Whitehead Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology are delivered in the General Library, those of the McNeil Professor of Biblical Exegesis in the Fitzgerald Library.

FEES.—For Resident Students £93 3s.; for Non-Resident Students £30. Admission Fee, £2 2s.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 4th to December 10th; 2nd Term: January 10th to March 19th; 3rd Term: April 25th to July 2nd.

The SITUATION of the College renders it easily accessible from all parts of London by omnibus. It is midway between Highbury Station on the North London line and Finsbury Park Station on the L. & N.E. Ry.

There is ACCOMMODATION for fifty-six resident Students. Students who have the Principal's permission to reside out of College must do so in the neighbourhood in lodgings approved of by him. This permission is only granted in exceptional cases.

On Sundays, Mission Work is undertaken by the Students under the direction of the parochial Clergy, who, from time to time, report on the work to the Principal. This work is helped by the Whitehead Professor and the Principal, who give instruction in Pastoral Theology. Divine Service is held daily, morning and evening, in the College Chapel.

Principal—Rev. T. W. Gilbert, D.D.

Hon. Secretary of Council—Rev. T. J. Pulvertaft, M.A.

Address—Highbury, N.5.

ST BARTHOLOMEW'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

St Bartholomew's Hospital was founded in 1123 by Rahere, who subsequently founded the Priory of St Bartholomew's. There are 757 beds, including those at the Convalescent Hospital at Swanley.

The LIBRARY contains all the standard works of Medical, Surgical, and the allied Sciences, Medical and other periodicals, with a valuable collection of works on Religion, History, and General Literature. It is open daily from 9 to 5, and is in charge of a Librarian who is in constant attendance. Books cannot be taken out of the Library.

The MUSEUM contains the largest and most complete series of Pathological specimens in this country—the growth of considerably more than a century. The actual specimens themselves number some 9,400 and represent almost every known morbid condition. There are, in addition, extensive series of about 2,000 casts and drawings, as well as large collections of specimens illustrating General and Comparative Anatomy and Physiology, Zoology, Morphology, Botany, and Materia Medica.

There are four LECTURE THEATRES with accommodation for 730 Students, a Dissecting Room with accommodation for 250 Students at work simultaneously, an Anatomical Demonstration Room, and an Operative Surgery Room fitted with all necessary appliances and instruments, a Practical Surgery Room and several large Laboratories.

The HARVEY LABORATORIES, forming an extension of the Medical College, are situated at No. 6, Giltspur Street. The premises were acquired in 1923 at a cost of £40,000 and contain the New Departments of Physiology, Physics and Pharmacology, equipped with all the latest apparatus. The Physiology Department, which occupies the greater part of this large building, contains Lecture Rooms, Demonstration Theatres, Laboratories for Chemical Physiology and for Experimental Physiology and Histology, Laboratories for Research, Store-rooms, String Galvanometer Room, Aseptic Operation Room, Library, etc. Extensive accommodation, including Research Laboratories, is also provided for the Departments of Physics and Pharmacology.

The Biological Laboratories and the Chemical Laboratory are equipped to meet all modern requirements, and the Public Health Laboratory is provided with all necessary appliances for research work and the Pathology of preventable diseases.

The Residential and Out-Patient block, erected in 1902 at a cost of £120,000, contains a Casualty Department, Medical and Surgical Out-Patient Departments, and Eight Special Departments, each complete within itself, namely: Ophthalmic, Aural, Laryngological, Dermatological, Orthopædic, Dental, Gynæcological and Electrical, as well as a Clinical Lecture Theatre, Casualty Wards and Dispensary.

It also contains quarters for the Resident Staff, and a Dining Hall and Common Rooms for the Students. These are situated in that part of the building facing on to Giltspur Street.

Two additional Operating Theatres have recently been erected.

A new Pathological Department was erected in 1909 at a cost of £30,000. It includes Laboratories for Clinical Pathology, Pathological Histology, Chemical Pathology, Morbid Anatomy, Post-mortem Room, and several Laboratories for special research. The whole is equipped with all the most modern and approved appliances for teaching and research.

FEES.—Entrance Fee, 2 guineas. Course of instruction for the First Examination for Medical Degrees, Fee, 30 guineas; and special fees for single subjects. Composition Fee for whole Medical Curriculum, 220 guineas; or 190 guineas to Students who have passed the First Examination for Medical Degrees; or 105 guineas to Students who have passed the Second Examination for Medical Degrees.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 1st to December 18th; 2nd Term: January 6th to March 31st; 3rd Term: April 20th to July 16th.

The Hospital is SITUATED within two minutes' walk of the Post Office Station of the Central London Electric Railway. Farringdon Street and Blackfriars Stations on the Metropolitan Railway are within five minutes' and seven minutes' walk respectively. Holborn Viaduct Station is within three minutes' walk. Cannon Street Station, Liverpool Street Station, and Broad Street Station are about fifteen minutes' walk.

In 1843 the Governors founded a College, to afford the Pupils the moral advantages, together with the convenience, of a RESIDENCE within the walls of the Hospital, and to supply them with ready guidance and assistance in their studies.

The total value of Scholarships and Prizes awarded annually is over £1,000.

RECREATION.—On payment of a single subscription of Fifteen Guineas by Full Students, or of Ten Guineas by University Students who have passed the 2nd Examination, a Student becomes a Life Member of the Students' Union including all the Hospital Clubs, and receives each month whilst a Student a copy of the Students' Journal. The Club Ground, ten acres in area, is situated close to Winchmore Hill Station on the L. & N.E. Railway, and is easy of access by frequent trains from Farringdon Street Station.

A JOURNAL, which is the property and organ of the Students' Union, is issued monthly, and has a circulation of 2,000 copies.

Dean—T. W. Shore, O.B.E., M.D., B.Sc.

Sub-Dean—J. B. Hume, M.S., F.R.C.S.

Warden—R. M. Vick, O.B.E., M.Ch., F.R.C.S.

Address—West Smithfield, E.C.1.

ST THOMAS'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

St Thomas's Hospital Medical School was founded for the instruction of Students in all the subjects of the Medical Curriculum.

The SCHOOL BUILDINGS, isolated by a large quadrangle from the Hospital, stand at its southern extremity, between the river and the gardens of Lambeth Palace.

The LIBRARY has recently been completely re-arranged and re-catalogued. Various periodicals are regularly taken in, and a number of modern text books are added from time to time.

The Biological, Chemical, Physical, and Anatomical DEPARTMENTS comprise large Laboratories for Class Teaching and Private Laboratories for Research. Each Department is provided with its own Lecture Theatre. The Pathological Department has again been greatly extended. In addition to the Museum (which contains more than 3,000 specimens) and the Post-mortem rooms (which are provided with cold storage) the Department includes modern Clinical, Bacteriological, Histological, and Chemical Laboratories and a large Laboratory for Class Teaching.

The Department of Physiology is housed in the new Sherrington School of Physiology and contains large laboratories for Teaching purposes as well as ample accommodation for Research work.

Opportunities for RESEARCH are given in the Chemical, Physiological and Pathological Laboratories under the superintendence of the several Lecturers, and in the Laboratories attached to the Clinical Medical and Surgical Units.

FEES.—The Fees are £50 for each twelve months of study.

SESSIONS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 5th to December 24th; 2nd Term: January 3rd to March 26th; 3rd Term: May 2nd to July 22nd.

The Medical School is SITUATED about midway between the Vauxhall and Waterloo Stations of the Southern Railway, and is therefore easily accessible from all parts. The Westminster Bridge Station of the District Railway and the Waterloo Station of the Bakerloo Tube are close by. Trams from Blackfriars, Highbury, Charing Cross, Tooting, Wandsworth, Clapham, Brixton, Greenwich, New Cross, Peckham, Camberwell, and Forest Hill pass the Hospital.

The several Students' CLUBS were amalgamated in July, 1888. The Amalgamated Clubs comprise the Students' Club, the Medical and Physical Society, the St Thomas's Hospital Gazette, and the following Clubs:—Athletic, Photographic, Chess, Cricket, Cross Country, Football (Rugby and Association), Lawn Tennis, Rifle, Rowing, and Swimming. A Golf Tournament is held annually for a cup presented by the Treasurer of the Hospital. All Students are advised to join the Amalgamated Clubs when they enter the Medical School. They are then able to spend the whole day at the School, all meals being obtainable at a moderate tariff. The Club premises contain a Dining Room, a Smoking and Reading Room, and a Gymnasium. A new Residential Club for Students, to be known as St. Thomas's House, is now in course of erection, and will be opened about January 1927. This new building is situated opposite the Hospital in Lambeth Palace Road, and in addition to the usual public rooms, will provide residential accommodation for about 60 students. A ground of more than nine acres in extent, acquired for the Amalgamated Clubs, is situated at Chiswick, and can be reached in 40 minutes from the Hospital.

The Subscription to the Amalgamated Clubs is: Entrance Fee, £2 2s.; Annual Subscription, £4 4s.

A Register of LODGINGS suitable for Students has been recently revised, and is kept in the Dean's Office.

The St Thomas's Hospital Medical and Physical Society has for its object the reading and discussion of papers on Medicine, Surgery, and subjects of General Interest, the narration of cases, and the exhibition of specimens of Physiological and Pathological interest. Meetings are held at least once monthly during the Winter Session.

The HOSPITAL contains 602 beds. There are separate wards for the treatment of diseases peculiar to women (30 beds); of maternity cases (21 beds); of diseases of the eye (25 beds); of diseases of the ear, nose, and throat; of orthopaedic cases; of children under six years of age (34 beds); for venereal cases, tuberculosis, and for the reception of casualty cases. There is an isolation block for infectious cases. A Tuberculosis Dispensary and a Venereal Department have been recently equipped and opened under approval of the Local Government Board. The Orthopædic Department has fully equipped In-patient and Out-patient Sections, and with it are correlated the Physical Exercise, Massage, and Electro-Therapeutic Departments. A Department for the application of the Finsen light and Electrical treatment has been instituted. There is also a Vaccine Department in connexion with the Louis Jenner Laboratory.

WESTMINSTER HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

Westminster Hospital Medical School equips Medical Students for presentation at Examinations for the Medical Degrees of the University, or for the qualifications of the Examining Boards of the United Kingdom. Instruction is given for the Fellowship of the Royal Colleges of Surgeons. The subjects in which systematic instruction is given are divided into two Groups—I. Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Anatomy, Physiology, Pharmacology, Materia Medica; II. Pathology, Bacteriology, Obstetrics and Gynæcology, Medicine, including Mental Diseases and Public Health, and Surgery, including Ophthalmic and Aural Surgery.

The subjects of Group I. are, under a Scheme of Concentration of the Preliminary and Intermediate instruction, taught at King's College, those of Group II. at the Westminster Hospital Medical School in Caxton Street.

The LIBRARY contains a large collection of Books of Reference, and the latest Text Books, which Students may borrow. It is open daily from 10 to 5.30, excepting Saturdays, when it is open from 10 to 1; and a Librarian is always in attendance. It is free to all Students, excepting those entering for one or two sessions, who are required to pay a fee of half a guinea for the privilege of using the Library.

There is LABORATORY accommodation for practical work in Chemistry, Physics, Histology, Pathology and Bacteriology. A new Clinical Laboratory has recently been erected. A Laboratory has also lately been equipped for the practice of Vaccine therapy.

Facilities for RESEARCH are afforded in all the Laboratories.

FEES.—The Annual Composition Fee is 35 guineas; and an Entrance Fee of 10 guineas is payable by every student, including scholars. Under certain conditions 10 guineas of the Entrance Fee is returnable on qualification.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 1st to December 18th; 2nd Term: January 10th to March 26th; 3rd Term: April 18th to June 25th.

The School is SITUATED quite near to St James's Park, Westminster and Victoria Stations on the District Railway. It is about five minutes from the terminus of the Southern Railway at Victoria Station, and can easily be reached in fifteen minutes from Charing Cross Station.

RESIDENCE suitable for Students is readily obtainable in the neighbourhood, and a list of such accommodation is kept at the School.

The Constituent Clubs of the CLUBS' UNION comprise the following: Athletics, Chess, Football, Cricket, Tennis, Swimming, Boxing, the Students' Club, and Guthrie Society.

The Fees for Students are included in the Entrance Fee. The Fees for past Students are half-a-guinea per annum; or a Composition Fee for Life Membership of two guineas.

GUY'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

Guy's Hospital Medical School—associated with which is a large Dental School—provides complete courses of instruction in :—

- i. The scientific subjects of the earlier examinations, viz., Chemistry, Physics and Biology ;
- ii. Anatomy, Physiology, Pharmacology, and Pharmacy ;
- iii. All the subjects included in the later part of the Medical curriculum ;
- iv. All the subjects required for the L.D.S. England.
- v. All the subjects required for the B.D.S. Degree.

The Hospital contains accommodation for 616 patients, including beds in special departments for diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Orthopædics, and Diseases of the Genito-Urinary System, Diseases of Women and Diseases of Children, Neurology, Dermatology, etc. The large number of patients who attend provide facilities for the study of Medicine, in all its Branches, and all the appointments are so arranged as to render the Student's education as practical as possible.

There is a large OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT, with special sections for Diseases of Children, Ante-natal Care, Fractures, Tuberculosis, and Venereal Diseases, a fully equipped Dental Department, and a Dental Laboratory.

Ample accommodation is provided in the MEDICAL SCHOOL BUILDINGS for teaching and research :—

The Department of PHYSIOLOGY comprises :—(a) A large Laboratory for Experimental Physiology, capable of accommodating more than 100 Students, and fitted with every modern requirement ; (b) A Laboratory for Physiological Chemistry, accommodating 84 Students ; (c) Lecturer's Research Laboratory ; (d) Research Rooms for Demonstrators and Advanced Students. (e) the Pharmacology Laboratory forms a part of the Physiological Department.

The Department of CHEMISTRY comprises :—(a) A large Laboratory accommodating 100 Students ; (b) Lecturer's Research Room ; (c) Demonstrators' Research Room ; (d) Balance Room ; and (e) Students' Laboratory for Organic and Bio-chemistry.

The Department of PHYSICS comprises :—(a) A Laboratory for Experimental work, with accommodation for 50 Students ; (b) Lecturer's Research Room ; (c) Demonstrators' Research Room ; and (d) Students' Optical Room.

The PATHOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT occupies a separate building, and contains numerous Research Laboratories for Histology and Experimental work. One floor of the building is specially devoted to Clinical Chemistry and is equipped both for routine investigations and for Research work.

The PETERSHAM BLOCK contains :—(a) Laboratories for Bacteriology, which are admirably adapted for investigation and research ; and (b) The Dental Prosthetics Laboratories and Conservation Room.

The BIOLOGY Department comprises :—(a) A Students' Laboratory with accommodation for 60 Students ; (b) Lecturer's Research Room ; (c) Demonstrator's Research Room ; and (d) Tank Room, etc.

The ANATOMY Department, which has just been completed, provides :—(a) A large well-lit Dissecting Room ; (b) Specimen Rooms ; (c) A Students' Laboratory for Practical Histology accommodating 70 Students ; (d) Lecturer's Research Room ; (e) Demonstrators' Research Room ; (f) Departmental Library ; (g) special preparation rooms for Histology and Embryology ; (h) Photographic Room, etc., etc.

The Gordon Pathological and Anatomical Museum contains an unique collection of pathological specimens and wax models. The Wills Library contains upwards of 8,500 volumes for the use of Students and others.

The Sir William Dunn Lectureship in Pathology, the Gordon Lectureship in Clinical Chemistry, the Griffiths' Demonstratorship of Pathology, the Gull Studentship in Pathology, the Beaney Scholarship in Materia Medica, the Arthur Durham Travelling Studentship, the Poulton Fellowship and the Parsons Fellowship were founded to aid the development of original research.

FEES.—Entrance, £28 ; Annual Composition Fee, including Materials, £49. Course for the First Examination for Medical Degrees, £22 8s. (deducted from Entrance Fee, should the Student eventually join for the full curriculum).

Scholarships and Prizes to the value of £1,000 are awarded annually.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term : September 28th to December 17th ; 2nd Term : January 3rd to March 23rd ; 3rd Term : April 26th to July 8th.

Guy's Hospital is SITUATED near London Bridge and is readily accessible from all parts of London and the Suburbs, by rail, tramway or omnibus. It is within a minute's walk of the London Bridge Stations of the S.R. and the City & South London Electric Railway, and five minutes' from the Monument Station of the District and Metropolitan Railways. Other railway termini from the North and East of London are within 15 minutes' walk of the Hospital.

There is a College for 35 Students under the supervision of a resident Warden. A large Swimming Bath, available for Students on four days in each week, has been provided on the Hospital premises. There are Reading Rooms, Library, Gymnasium, and a large Dining Hall. A Union exists combining all the Athletic, Literary and Scientific Clubs. The Athletic Ground is at Honor Oak Park within 15 minutes of the Hospital by train, and in it is a large pavilion with dressing room and lavatory accommodation.

A list of suitable apartments is kept at the Medical School Office, and all information with regard to these can be obtained on application to the Dean.

ST GEORGE'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

A Register of Surgeon's pupils admitted to St George's Hospital exists from the year 1756, the year in which John Hunter became House Surgeon. The organisation of the instruction into a formal School of Medicine dates from a somewhat later period, when John Hunter was a Surgeon to the Hospital. The first lectures to be given in the Hospital were given by Sir Edward Horne, about the year 1800, a short course of Lectures on Surgery. Before this time the pupils were Surgeon's pupils and Physician's pupils of the Hospital. The School has been carried on continuously since his time, and has been distinguished by the names of Matthew Baillie, Edward Jenner, Thomas Young, the physicist, Benjamin Brodie, Caesar Hawkins, Bence Jones, and Prescott Hewett. The objects of the School are to give medical education suited to the purposes of students, to encourage advanced study, and to promote research.

The LIBRARY, which receives a special subsidy from the Hospital, is arranged chiefly for the use of students, who are allowed to take out books.

The School contains Laboratories of Pathology, of Bacteriology, of Public Health, and of Bio-Chemistry, a Research Laboratory in Pathological Chemistry, and a complete Laboratory for Photo-micrography, fitted with the most recent apparatus, besides a copious Museum of Pathology and collections of Materia Medica and sanitary apparatus. The Post-mortem Theatre immediately adjoins the Laboratories. Facilities for research are afforded in the Laboratories and in the wards of the Hospital.

The Allingham Scholarship of the value of £85 a year, the Sir Francis Laking Memorial Prize of the value of £65 a year, and the Webb Prize in Bacteriology of £34 a year, tenable for three years, are available for the encouragement of research.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 1st to December 18th; 2nd Term: January 1st to March 19th; 3rd Term: May 1st to July 16th.

FEES.—Course for the First Examination for Medical Degrees, University of London, 35 guineas; Course for the Second Examination for Medical Degrees, two annual payments of 40 guineas. For Clinical Students, Entrance Fee, 10 guineas; Annual Composition Fee, 40 guineas. (Students entering their names prior to commencing Preliminary and Intermediate studies, which are taught at the University Centres at University and King's Colleges, are excused the Entrance Fee, when they join the School for Clinical studies.)

The School and Hospital are within seven minutes' walk of the Victoria Stations of the Southern and the Metropolitan District Railways. The Hospital is SITUATED at Hyde Park Corner, and omnibuses to nearly every part of London pass its doors. Adjoining the Hospital is the Hyde Park Corner Station of the Great Northern, Piccadilly, and Brompton Railway. At 10 minutes' distance across Hyde Park is the Marble Arch Station of the Central London Railway.

APARTMENTS are to be found at a short distance, and many medical men practising in the neighbourhood are ready to receive pupils. Accommodation for students attending midwifery is provided in the Hospital.

The CLUBS and SOCIETIES of the School are : the Hunterian Society for the discussion of professional topics, and the St George's Hospital Club, which has Luncheon and Smoking Rooms on the Hospital premises, and an athletic ground of  $13\frac{1}{2}$  acres at Wimbledon, and includes the "Gazette" and the Rugby Football, Cricket, Lawn Tennis, Boxing, Rifle and Golf Clubs.

THE LONDON HOSPITAL MEDICAL COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The London Hospital Medical College was the first complete Medical School established in connexion with a Hospital upon the model of the Faculty of a University in London. The first student entered in 1741 and students were from that time admitted annually.

The year comprises two Sessions during which COURSES OF LECTURES and Demonstrations are given in the following subjects:—Organic Chemistry, Anatomy and Embryology, Physiology and Histology, Pharmacology, including Pharmacy, Bacteriology, General Pathology, Medical and Surgical Pathology, Chemical Pathology, Morbid Anatomy, Pathological Histology, Medicine, Surgery, Genito-Urinary Surgery, Operative Surgery, Anæsthesia, Midwifery, Obstetrics and Gynæcology, Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Hygiene and Public Health, Medical Jurisprudence and Toxicology, Ophthalmology, Oto-Rhino-Laryngology, Dermatology, Orthopædics, Pediatrics, Odontology, Radiology, Electro- and Physico-Therapeutics, Psychoneuroses.

The LIBRARY is well provided with Medical and Surgical Works. New works of interest to students are constantly added. The "Thompson Yates" Research Library, presented by the late Rev. S. A. Thompson Yates, contains the chief foreign periodicals dealing with Anatomy, Physiology and Pathology. No arrangements are made for the loan of books.

The following LABORATORIES are provided: (1) 3 Bacteriological Laboratories; (2) the Hale Clinical Laboratories and the Dunn Laboratories attached to the Medical Unit; (3) Laboratories for Pathology and Morbid Anatomy in the Pathological Institute which is a department of the College; (4) A Pharmacological Laboratory; (5) A Physiological and Histological Laboratory for general students, fitted with electrical motors, and one for Physiological Research; (6) Practical Anatomy and Practical Surgery; (7) Chemical Laboratories, for the general class of students, and for students proceeding to higher examinations, especially those of the University of London; and (8) Laboratories for Opsonic Antitoxic Treatment.

Facilities for RESEARCH are afforded in the Bacteriological Department, the Physiological Department, the Anatomical Department, the Pharmacological Department, the Inoculation Department, the Pathological Institute, and in the Clinical Laboratories. In the latter especially great facilities are afforded for research, the Laboratories being provided with special rooms set apart for research.

CLASS-ROOM ACCOMMODATION is afforded in connexion with each department in the College, i.e., there are special class-rooms for Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Therapeutics, Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Bacteriology, Pathology, Pathological Histology, etc.

The Hospital is the largest in England. Its position in the neighbourhood of the extensive docks, factories, and workshops of the East of London renders it one of the largest accident hospitals in the world. The London Hospital presents a large field for Clinical instruction, and in its Wards and Out-Patient' Department exceptional opportunities are afforded for acquiring an extensive and practical experience of all phases of disease.

The Special Departments are attended by a large number of Patients, and afford to the Student the means of becoming experienced in every branch of Medicine and Surgery. The recent additions have greatly increased the efficiency with which the Clinical Teaching can be given.

The appointments, which are more numerous than at any other Hospital in the Kingdom, are made without fee of any kind, and all Resident Officers are provided with free board and rooms.

FEES.—Intermediate and Final Course.—Entrance Fee (inclusive of material), 20 guineas; Annual Fee, 40 guineas.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 1st to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 10th to March 25th; 3rd Term: April 25th to July 15th.

The College is SITUATED in Mile End, E.1, and is easily approached from all parts. The Metropolitan, District, Southern, East London Railways, and others have stations exactly opposite the Hospital. The Hospital and College stand in the same grounds. Motor 'buses from the Tube Railway, at the Bank, run every few minutes.

A large Dining Hall is provided in the College, in which Students can obtain mid-day and evening meals at moderate prices.

A Students' Hostel, situated on Hospital grounds, provides accommodation for a number of Students who have the advantage of being able to attend the Casualty and Operative Departments of the Hospital at all hours of the day and night.

LODGINGS are easily obtained in the immediate neighbourhood. A register of approved lodgings is kept by the Dean.

The UNION, formed in 1893, consists of the following Clubs and Societies: (a) Clubs—Football (Rugby and Association), Cricket, Athenæum, Lawn Tennis, Cycling, Athletic, Fives, Chess, Hockey, Swimming, Rifle, Rowing, Boxing, Golfing and Wrestling; (b) Societies—Medical, Dental, Musical and Orchestral, Dramatic, and Junior Scientific. A GAZETTE is issued by the Union. The annual subscription for membership of the Clubs Union is £5. Members of the Staff subscribe a large sum annually towards the expenses of the Union. The Athletic Ground, at Highams Park, occupies over 13 acres and is provided with a pavilion and grand stand. Railway tickets may be obtained at reduced rates. A professional groundman keeps the ground, bowls to members, etc. A Fives Court and a Lawn Tennis Court are provided in the Hospital Grounds.

Dean—Prof. William Wright, M.B., D.Sc., F.R.C.S.

Secretary—E. J. Burdon.

Address—Turner Street, Mile End, E.1.

Telephone—Avenue 8699.

MIDDLESEX HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

THE HOSPITAL and MEDICAL SCHOOL are situated a few minutes' walk from Goodge Street (Hampstead Tube), Oxford Circus (Central London and Bakerloo Railways), and Great Portland Street Station (Metropolitan, District, and Great Western Railways).

THE HOSPITAL contains over 450 beds, including special wards for cancer cases, maternity and gynæcological cases, orthopædic cases, and for diseases of children and the skin, eye, ear, nose and throat.

THE CANCER WING (containing 90 beds) and special research laboratories offer unrivalled opportunities for the study of cancer both in its pathological and clinical aspects.

In the ELECTRO-THERAPEUTIC DEPARTMENT, special attention is given to the treatment of lupus and cancer by the X-rays, and opportunities are afforded to students wishing to become acquainted with the use of the apparatus employed in this method of treatment.

THE MEDICAL SCHOOL, which now includes the Bland-Sutton Institute of Pathology and the Cancer Research Laboratories, is fully equipped for the theoretical and practical teaching of all the subjects of the medical curriculum and for the Diplomas in Public Health. Ample laboratory and class-room accommodation is provided for the teaching of the various subjects and for original research. In the chemical laboratories a number of extra benches have been fitted for advanced chemical and public health work. An entirely new Biological Department has recently been added.

THE BLAND-SUTTON INSTITUTE OF PATHOLOGY includes a lecture theatre, museum, large bacteriological, pathological, and public health laboratories, new and fully equipped Bio-chemical laboratories and class-room, and a number of smaller rooms for original research work. Bacteriological, chemical, and microscopical examinations from material from the wards, operating theatres, and outpatient rooms are carried out in this Institute, and senior students are eligible for clerkships in connection with this work, every facility being given for original investigation.

THE ANATOMICAL AND PATHOLOGICAL MUSEUM offers every facility for study and reference.

The REFERENCE LIBRARY is open to students of the Hospital and contains the latest medical textbooks and the leading medical journals.

There is a gymnasium in the Hospital and a large Athletic Ground, with Pavilion, at North Wembley.

The fees for the Preliminary Science Course are £21. The fees for students who have passed the First Examination for Medical Degrees are five annual instalments of £45, together with an entrance fee of £25, payable on joining the school. Further fees, if necessary, are £23 per annum.

In the case of students who have completed their Anatomical and Physiological studies, the entrance fee is £15 15s., and two annual fees of £45 are payable. Further fees, if necessary, are £23 per annum. The above fees include Club subscription, Dissection, Vaccination, and Fever Course.

Every student is a member of the AMALGAMATED CLUBS, which include the Students' Common Room, the Medical Society, and the cricket, football, athletic, rowing, swimming, lawn tennis, chess, and other clubs. A large athletic ground has been recently acquired for the use of the students, situated at Wembley, within easy access of the Hospital. It affords ample and excellent accommodation for Association and Rugby Football in the winter, and for Cricket and Tennis in the summer. The Pavilion on the ground contains dressing rooms and baths. There is a gymnasium within the precincts of the Hospital and a Restaurant is installed for the use of students.

CHARING CROSS HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The Charing Cross Hospital Medical School affords teaching in all branches of the medical curriculum (advanced studies). Special classes are held for all the higher examinations in Medicine and Surgery. Every student of the Hospital is required to serve as In-patient Dresser and Clinical Clerk, and as Assistant to the Pathologist.

Prizes.—The William Travers Prize of £15 is awarded in obstetrics and gynaecology to a fifth year student; the Huxley Prize of 3 guineas at the end of the second year; the Pereira Prize, 4 guineas, for Clinical Commentaries; the Dr T. H. Green Prize, 5 guineas; the Llewellyn Prize, £25, for the most distinguished student at the end of his curriculum; the J. H. Morgan Prize, £10, for students who have obtained either the F.R.C.S. or the M.S. of the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge or London; and the Governors' Clinical Gold Medal for Clinical Medicine and Surgery.

The LIBRARY is commodious, including a large number of works of reference, the latest editions of all medical and many scientific text books in common use. The chief medical periodicals are also available for the use of the students.

LABORATORIES in connexion with the departments of (1) Pathological Chemistry, (2) Morbid Anatomy and Histology, (3) Bacteriology, and (4) General Pathology, and a Clinical Laboratory exists in the School.

Facilities for RESEARCH are afforded by the above laboratories.

FEES.—Medical Students—Sessional payments of £28 for the Winter Session and £14 for the Summer Session with an entrance fee of 10 guineas.

Special facilities are offered for students and Post-graduates desiring to take particular classes, or work in the wards and special departments of the Hospital for longer or shorter periods. The fees are those of the classes attended or in accordance with the period and character of hospital attendance desired. The Students' Club fee is £2 12s. 6d.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 6th to December 17th; 2nd Term: January 11th to March 25th; 3rd Term: April 12th to June 24th.

The School is SITUATED within two minutes' walk of the Charing Cross (S.R.) and District and Hampstead Tube Railway Stations. It is three minutes' walk from the Trafalgar Square Station on the Bakerloo Tube, whence it has easy access to all the parts of London supplied by the underground system.

All Students of the School are members of the STUDENTS' UNION, which is composed of:—The Athletic, Cricket, Football (Association and Rugby), Lawn Tennis and Swimming Clubs. An Athletic Ground, six acres in extent, has recently been acquired at Eastcote. A private club room is set aside for the use of members. The Medical Society meets during the Winter Session for the discussion of cases, of specimens, and subjects of medical interest.

LONDON (ROYAL FREE HOSPITAL) SCHOOL OF MEDICINE FOR WOMEN.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The London (Royal Free Hospital) School of Medicine for Women was founded in 1874, and was entirely rebuilt during the years 1897 to 1900. Further additions were made in 1916. It provides for the full training of women for the Medical Profession.

An Entrance Scholarship of £60 a year for five years, offered by the Governors of the St Dunstan's Educational Foundation, an Isabel Thorne Scholarship of £30 for one year, and a Mabel Sharman-Crawford Scholarship of £20 for four years, are awarded annually on the result of competitive examinations held in May and July. Mrs George M. Smith Scholarship, of £50 a year for five years, Sir Owen Roberts Scholarship, of £75 a year for four years, Dr Margaret Todd Scholarship, of £37 10s. for four years, are awarded each in alternate years. The Bostock Scholarship of £90 a year for four years, and the Lieut. Edmund Lewis and Lieut. Alan Lewis Scholarship of £25 a year for four years. The Alfred Langton Scholarship of £50 a year for two years, and the Flora Murray Bursary of £50 are awarded annually. The School Jubilee Bursary of £50 a year for three years is awarded every third year, and the "1916" Bursary of £50 a year for five years is awarded every fifth year. Post-graduate Scholarships and Prizes are awarded annually. Other Scholarships and Bursaries are awarded.

The School LIBRARY is provided, as far as possible, with the latest editions of all books required for the medical curriculum. It contains also many books of reference and atlases. It is open to students daily from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. There is also a small consulting library at the Royal Free Hospital. Books may be borrowed from the School Library for periods not exceeding 14 days.

LABORATORIES are provided for practical work in Physiology, Anatomy, Pharmacology, Pathology, Chemistry, Biology, Physics, and Pharmacy. The Pathological Department, for the teaching of Pathology and Bacteriology, is at the Royal Free Hospital. All the laboratories are completely equipped, according to the requirements of the University, with all apparatus necessary for elementary and advanced teaching in each subject. Laboratories for the use of Lecturers and Demonstrators, for Research work and Preparation work, are attached to each Department. Advanced students can be admitted to these laboratories by special permission.

There are five LECTURE THEATRES, which accommodate from 80 to 150 students each, and there is also a Lecture Theatre at the Royal Free Hospital. The Materia Medica Museum contains a complete series of specimens, renewed after the issue of the last British Pharmacopœia. The Pathological Museum is at the Royal Free Hospital.

The Clinical Practice and Teaching at the Royal Free Hospital are reserved for the students of the School. The Hospital contains 240 beds. There are also large Special, Casualty, and Out-patient Departments attended daily by the students, and an Out-patient Midwifery Department. A Clinical Unit in Obstetrics and Gynæcology with 68 beds is established at the Hospital. The School has agreements with other Recognised Schools of the University for the further Clinical Instruction of the students in special subjects. These Clinical Schools are :—Hospital for Sick Children, Great Ormond Street; National Hospital for Nervous Diseases; Cancer Hospital; Royal Ophthalmic Hospital; Elizabeth Garrett Anderson Hospital; and the South London Hospital for Women.

FEEES.—Composition Fee.—Payable in five instalments for full course : £35, £60, £60, £50, £35.

TERMS, 1926–27. 1st Term : October 1st to December 17th; 2nd Term : January 17th to March 31st; 3rd Term : May 2nd to July 15th.

The School is SITUATED within five minutes of King's Cross and St Pancras Stations. The British Museum Station, Central London Railway, is within ten minutes' walk, and the Russell Square Station, Great Northern, Piccadilly and Brompton Railway, within four minutes' walk.

STUDENTS' CHAMBERS are provided in connection with the School, affording accommodation for 60 students. A list of boarding houses in the neighbourhood can be obtained on application to the Warden and Secretary of the School.

STUDENTS' UNION.—All Students are required to become members of the Students' Union on their entrance to the Medical School. The annual subscription is 3 guineas. On payment of the Union subscription a student is entitled to become a member of all the Social, Athletic, and other Clubs and Societies of the School, including the Magazine and the Tea Club, but excepting the Christian Union.

SPORTS GROUND.—A freehold property of 6½ acres, situated at Sudbury on the main road to Harrow and easily reached by electric trains from Euston and other stations, has recently been acquired by the School for a Students' Sports Ground. It provides opportunities for Tennis, Hockey, Cricket, and Lacrosse.

COMMON ROOMS.—The rooms for the use of Students at the School are a large Common Room, dressing rooms, Union room, and Committee room; and at the Hospital a Common Room, library, writing room, and dressing rooms. Luncheons, teas, and dinners are provided in the School Refectory and in the Students' Dining-room at the Royal Free Hospital at moderate charges.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The history of University College Hospital Medical School is closely bound up with the history of University College. From the time of the opening of the College in October, 1828, until its incorporation in the University of London (January 1st, 1907), the Faculty of Medicine was governed by the Corporation and Council of University College. Under the conditions of incorporation, the University will continue to teach in University College buildings the Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies. Thus, for the purposes of government and organization the Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies will be controlled by the University, and the Final Medical Studies by the University College Hospital Medical School, which was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine on January 1st, 1907, by resolution of the Senate on July 28th, 1906.

One of the conditions of the scheme of Incorporation agreed upon between University College and the University of London was the provision of an adequate site and adequate funds for the erection of a building for the School of Final Medical Studies. Part of a suitable site in University Street had already been purchased, and the remainder of the rectangular plot bounded on the east by Gower Street, on the west by Huntley Street, and on the north by University Street, was purchased with the funds subscribed by a former student of the College. Shortly after this the late Sir Donald Currie, G.C.M.G., made the munificent gift of £100,000 for the purpose of erecting the buildings necessary to carry out the scheme. These buildings include accommodation for the Departments of the Medical School, a House for the residence of those Students who are engaged in the Obstetric Practice in the Hospital, and a Home for Nurses. The name of Sir Donald Currie will thus be as closely identified with the Medical School as that of Sir Blundell Maple is with the Hospital.

In 1920 the Corporation of the Hospital received a munificent gift of £835,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, with the object of increasing the facilities offered by the Medical School for teaching and research, and especially to forward the work of the Clinical Units in Medicine and Surgery already established, and to assist in the provision of the Clinical Unit of Obstetrics which has recently been instituted. Of this sum £400,000 is to be used for increasing the accommodation of the Hospital so as to bring the number of beds up to 500, which includes a special extension for Obstetrical and Gynæcological cases, and also to increase the laboratory accommodation in the Medical School. The remainder is to be invested for the purpose of using the income temporarily for the upkeep of 100 additional beds and for the endowment of certain teaching and research departments.

The Medical School BUILDINGS, which communicate with the Hospital by means of a tunnel passing under University Street, have been designed to meet the modern requirements of instruction in Final Medical Studies, i.e., those studies which are pursued by students engaged in Hospital work and preparing for the final examinations for the medical degrees of the University or for the final examinations of the Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons. These subjects are Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery, Gynæcology, Bacteriology, Morbid Anatomy, Pathological Chemistry, Forensic Medicine, and Practical and Operative Surgery, and Surgical Anatomy. In addition there is ample accommodation for Research work. Special rooms are set apart for the use of Students of the Hospital, including the Medical Society's Room, Reading and Writing Rooms, a Games Room, a fully-equipped and roomy Gymnasium, including a Squash Racquet Court and a Refectory.

The Hospital, built by the munificence of the late Sir J. Blundell Maple, was opened by H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught in November, 1906, and contains 320 beds. It is a red-brick building with terra-cotta dressings, built in the form of a diagonal cross. The main entrance faces Gower Street, directly opposite the gates of University College. The Hospital has been built on the most modern principles, and each Ward is so constructed that, according to a plan devised by the late Dr. Poore, it is completely isolated, and the system of ventilation is most thorough. There are three Operating Theatres, with rooms adjoining, in which all the necessary preparations are carried out. These rooms and the Theatres are constructed with special attention to the requirements of modern Surgery.

The Out-Patient Department offers exceptional advantages for Clinical Study, and possesses ample and well-lighted rooms for the Physicians and Surgeons and Medical Officers in charge of the special departments. The dressing-rooms and rooms for the examination of the patients are sufficiently numerous to permit the students to study individual cases without difficulty. The Casualty Department is capacious and thoroughly equipped with all essentials for dealing with emergencies, and there are side rooms containing beds for cases which require special supervision. In the half basement is situated a complete system of medicinal baths; and in connexion with the Hospital there is an extensive Maternity Department. The entire top floor of the West Wing is devoted to the Department of Clinical Pathology, including post-mortem, microscopic and chemical investigations. Here also there is a large Clinical Lecture-room, which is used for lectures, lantern demonstrations, and tutorial classes. A Tuberculosis Department deals with cases under the National Health Insurance Act.

THE MEDICAL LIBRARY is open daily for the purposes of study to Students of the Medical School, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., except on Saturdays, when it is closed at 1 p.m.; during Vacations it is open from 10 to 4, Saturdays 10 to 1. This Library contains about 20,500 works on Medical subjects, including all the current text-books and works of reference required for study or research.

THE MUSEUM OF PATHOLOGICAL ANATOMY (Curator: W. G. Barnard, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.) is open for study from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The collection is divided into three sections: Medical, Surgical, Obstetrical and Gynæcological. The Catalogue is so arranged as to serve not only as a guide to the particular specimens but as an epitome of Pathology, a description of the various diseases being placed before each section, in which attention is called to the specimen which best illustrates the different features of the disease. Microscopic sections of most of the specimens in the Museum have been prepared and are available for the use of Students on application to the Curator. The Museum contains admirable paintings, 1,100 in number, by Sir Robert Carswell and Sir Charles Bell, and also a collection of old surgical instruments, formerly belonging to Robert Liston.

The Anatomical Museum of University College is open to all students of University College Hospital Medical School on the recommendation of the School Committee.

FACILITIES FOR RESEARCH WORK.—The School is provided with large laboratories for instruction and investigation in Chemical Pathology, Bacteriology, Histology, and Experimental Pathology. In addition there are well-appointed rooms suitable for private research work, each room being supplied with hot and cold water, electric light, gas and water or electric motor power. Application for research in these rooms must be made to the Director. In certain circumstances Research workers can receive a grant from the "Charles Graham Medical Research Fund," which is administered by the Senate of the University, for the purposes of the School.

FEES.—(I.) Composition Fees.—Instruction in the Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies is obtained at University College, Gower Street, W.C. (1) for Students following the Course for the Universities of London, Oxford, Cambridge and Durham, as well as (2) for those preparing (a) for the First and Second Examinations for the Licence of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Diploma of Member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England (M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.) ; (b) for the First Examination for the Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons (F.R.C.S.) ; (c) for the Primary Examination for the Licence of the Society of Apothecaries (L.S.A.). (For fees see under University College, p. 281.)

For the Final M.B., B.S. Course of the Universities of London, Oxford, Cambridge and Durham ; also for the Course for the Third Examination by the Examining Board in England and the Society of Apothecaries ; 112 guineas, in one sum ; 115 guineas, in two instalments of 70 and 45 guineas.

Medical Society.—The composition fee for membership which is compulsory for all men students is 5 guineas.

(II.) Fees for Admission to Hospital Practice and Clinical Instruction.—Hospital Practice and Clinical Instruction : Perpetual, 60 guineas.

Advanced Students and Qualified Members of the Medical Profession may be admitted for shorter terms by special recommendation of the Dean at the following Fees :—Three months, 15 guineas ; six months, 22 guineas ; one year, 33 guineas.

(III.) Special Courses.—Special Courses on various subjects are given during the year. Due notice of these courses will be posted in the Hospital and Medical School. They are free to all Senior Students of the Hospital who have paid Composition Fees, but a special fee is charged to those students who wish to take out tickets for these courses only.

TERMS, 1926–27.—1st Term : October 1st to December 17th ; 2nd Term : January 11th to April 1st (Winter Session) ; 3rd Term : April 26th to July 15th (Summer Session).

The SITUATION of the School is close to Euston Square Station (Metropolitan Railway), within 5 minutes of Euston (L.M.S.R.), 15 minutes of St. Pancras (L.M.S.R.), King's Cross (L.N.E.), Marylebone (L.N.E.), and Charing Cross (S.R.), Waterloo (S.R.), Victoria (S.R.). The School is also close to the Warren Street and Goodge Street Stations of the Hampstead and Highgate Tube, and to the Russell Square Station of the Great Northern, Piccadilly, and Brompton Tube. Paddington (G.W.R.), and Liverpool Street (L.N.E.R.), can be reached direct from Euston Square Station. Several lines of omnibuses from different parts of London run within two or three minutes' walk of the School and there is an excellent tram service to Hampstead, Highgate and Finsbury Park.

A Register of Boarding RESIDENCES is kept in the Office of the School.

SCHOLARSHIPS, Exhibitions and Prizes of the yearly value of over £1,000 may be awarded.

SOCIETIES, &c.—Medical Society. (Founded 1828.) The Society exists for the dual purpose (1) of promoting the study of Medical and Surgical Science, (2) of promoting athletics and social intercourse among its members. Meetings are held once a fortnight for the purpose of discussing subjects connected with the study of Medicine and the allied sciences and for the exhibition of cases of pathological interest. One room in the Medical School is specially reserved as a Reading Room and is provided with current medical works and periodicals. The Society also possesses an osteological and a pathological collection for the use of its members. The Society includes various athletic clubs, and has the management of a commodious gymnasium and Squash Racquet Court, and of three rooms on the ground floor of the Medical School, which are supplied with newspapers, magazines, writing-materials, chess and draught-boards, &c., solely for the use of its members.

The Athletic Ground which is used in conjunction with the Union Society of University College, is situated near the Great Western Railway Station at Perivale, and is within easy reach of the Hospital and School, about 35 minutes by train from Euston Square Station.

DENTAL DEPARTMENT.

The National Dental Hospital was established in Great Portland Street, and opened to the public on November 11th, 1861. The School was opened at the commencement of the Summer Session on May 8th, 1877. It became the Dental School of University College Hospital in 1914.

At this School the accommodation and fittings are in accordance with the latest requirements for efficient teaching in all branches of the Science and Art of Dental Surgery. The Conservation Room has space for fifty chairs. Other rooms are arranged as, a Mechanical Laboratory, Bacteriological Laboratory, Special Demonstration Room, Lecture Hall, Operating Rooms, Students' Common Room, etc. There is a thoroughly equipped X-ray Department.

Students are entered as Students of University College Hospital, and as such attend the Classes of Chemistry, Physics, Anatomy, and Physiology in University College, a few minutes' walk from Great Portland Street. They thus enjoy the same educational and social advantages as the other Students of University College Hospital.

Each Student on entering the School passes through a preliminary course under the care of the Demonstrators, and Members of the Staff take part in chair-side teaching. There is an ample supply of clinical material, and abundant opportunity to fulfil all the requirements of the Curriculum.

The School is open to Students of both sexes.

Stations—Great Portland Street (Met. Ry.), Oxford Circus (Bakerloo or Central London Ry.).

Sub-Dean for Dental Students—A. Bayford G. Underwood, M.B., B.S., M.R.C.S., L.D.S.Eng.

Address—187-191, Great Portland Street and 59, Devonshire Street, W.1.

KING'S COLLEGE HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The School of Advanced Medical Studies connected with King's College Hospital, known as King's College Hospital Medical School, was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine as from September 1st, 1909, by Resolution of the Senate on October 20th, 1909. Under the conditions of the incorporation of King's College in the University, the University will continue to teach in King's College buildings the Preliminary and Intermediate Medical Studies.

King's College Hospital Medical School is under the government of the Corporation and Committee of Management of the Hospital. The instruction in advanced studies is carried on at the new King's College Hospital on Denmark Hill, in South London.

The Pathological Museum at Denmark Hill has been entirely rearranged, and a complete catalogue of its contents has been made. The collection of 2,500 specimens includes many of exceptional interest.

The large Biology Laboratory at King's College is fitted for the more elementary work in Botany and Zoology, while there are separate Laboratories for the advanced study of each of these subjects. The Botanical Laboratory is open for either independent courses of study in Botany and Vegetable Biology or for Practical classes

The Physiological Laboratory is divided into class-rooms for Practical Physiological and Histological Classes; Research Rooms for Chemical Physiology, Public Health and experimental work, and a Photographic Room.

The Anatomical Department comprises a lecture theatre, class and dissecting rooms, and a prosector's room for the preparation of anatomical specimens and private investigation and research, and the Alfred Hughes Anatomical Museum. The Department is open throughout the year, except during a portion of the Summer vacation.

There is also a Pharmacological Laboratory for teaching and for original Research.

At the Hospital the Pathological Laboratories, including the recently established Students' Laboratory (under the direction of the Pathological Tutor), are well suited for Research work and for Courses of Morbid Histology.

The Clubs and Societies Union consists of the Common Rooms, the Rugby Football, Lawn Tennis, Hockey, Cricket, Swimming and Boxing Clubs, the Musical Society, and the Listerian Society. All Students who have paid the School Entrance Fee are members of the Union.

The Athletic Ground is situated on Dog Kennel Hill, and is within ten minutes' walk of the Hospital.

"The Platanes," Champion Hill, standing in large grounds, with one hard and two grass lawn tennis courts, provides residence for eighty male students of King's College and King's College Hospital, and is within five minutes' walk of the Hospital.

FEES.—(1) A Composition Fee of 200 guineas for the Preliminary, Intermediate and Final Courses, or (2) a fee of 93 guineas for the Final Course only, which is taken at the Hospital, an Entrance Fee of 10 guineas, and a terminal subscription of 10s. 6d. to the Clubs and Societies Union. The fees are payable to the Secretary of King's College Hospital Medical School.

TERMS, 1926-27.—Winter Session: October 1st to March 26th; Summer Session: April 18th to June 25th.

The Hospital and School are SITUATED at Denmark Hill. Station—Denmark Hill (Southern Ry.).

ST MARY'S HOSPITAL MEDICAL SCHOOL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

St Mary's Hospital Medical School provides complete courses of study, Preliminary, Intermediate, and Final, for the Medical and Surgical Degrees of the University, and for instruction and research in the various Departments of Medicine, Surgery, and Pathology, and in Anatomy, Physiology, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

The LIBRARY is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. It contains about 3,000 volumes, and by an arrangement with a circulating library works of reference and latest editions of Medical and Scientific books are always available. The Library subscription is included in the Composition Fee.

The LABORATORIES.—The Anatomy Department consists of a Lecture Theatre, large Dissecting Room, and Demonstrators Rooms, with a Museum containing sets of Dissected Parts, etc., for private study. The Department accommodates upwards of 100 Students, and is fitted throughout with electric light. The Physiological Department possesses a Lecture Room specially equipped for practical demonstrations, Laboratories for Physical Physiology, Chemical Physiology, and Histology respectively, and smaller rooms for research purposes.

The Chemical Department comprises two Laboratories, with a Lecture Theatre and Lecturer's Room. A separate Laboratory is provided for the teaching of Physics.

The Pathological Laboratories are adjacent to the Museum, and are under the personal direction of the Pathologist. A Department of Therapeutic Inoculation with special laboratories for Opsonin investigations, is situated in the Clarence Wing of the Hospital. The Bacteriological Laboratory is also situated in the Clarence Wing. Provision is made for instruction and research in Chemical Pathology, the work being carried on in a separate laboratory under the direction of the Lecturer on Pathological Chemistry.

There is a special Laboratory for practical classes in Biology, and a small Biological Museum available for Demonstration purposes. The Pharmaceutical Laboratory adjacent to the Dispensary of the Hospital is available for instruction in Practical Pharmacy.

Two Clinical Laboratories are provided in the Hospital for investigations in connexion with cases in the wards and for Research in Clinical Pathology, and a large Clinical Theatre is available for demonstration purposes.

Clinical Units in Medicine and Surgery have been instituted, the Directors being Professors in their respective subjects at the University of London. For the purpose of increasing the number of beds available for teaching purposes, the Paddington Hospital and Paddington Green Children's Hospital are affiliated to St Mary's and classes are held at each. Courses of instruction in Venereal Diseases are also held in each term at the Lock Hospital. Students of St Mary's attend a course of instruction in Practical Midwifery at Queen Charlotte's Hospital, without additional fee, before acting as Maternity Externs on the district at St Mary's.

The Medical School provides adequate equipment and direction for the prosecution of original RESEARCH. Individual work on the part of the students is encouraged, more especially in Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Bacteriology, and Pathological Chemistry.

Research Scholarships of £200 each are awarded annually for work in the Departments of the Pathological Institute.

There are three LECTURE THEATRES.

FEES.—The Fee for a complete course for the First Examination for Medical Degrees is £21, which covers one complete Course in each subject. The Composition Fee for the entire curriculum is £200 if paid in one sum, or £210 by instalments. The Composition Fee for the Clinical Course is 90 guineas if paid in one sum, or 95 guineas by instalments.

TERMS, 1926-27.—1st Term: October 1st to December 10th; 2nd Term: January 6th to March 18th; 3rd Term: April 26th to July 12th.

The Medical School is centrally SITUATED in the West End of London, being within five minutes' walk of Paddington Station (G.W.R. and Bakerloo Tube Railway) and of Edgware Road, Praed Street, and Bishop's Road Stations (Metropolitan and District Railway), and within seven minutes' walk of Marylebone Station (L.N.E.R.), and of Lancaster Gate Station (Central London Railway).

A register of approved LODGINGS is kept in the office of the Medical School, and a list of Medical Men and private families in the neighbouring districts of Paddington, Bayswater, and North Kensington, who receive students as boarders is also available.

AMALGAMATED CLUBS.—Membership includes the use of a commodious Students' Club and Dining Room, and the Football, Cricket, Tennis, and various Athletic Clubs. It also entitles to a copy of each issue of the Hospital Gazette during the curriculum. A Gymnasium has recently been added.

The Athletic Ground (10 acres) is situated at North Wembley, the journey being 20 minutes from Paddington. It comprises Football, Cricket, Hockey, and Tennis Grounds, and has a large pavilion.

LONDON SCHOOL OF HYGIENE AND TROPICAL MEDICINE: DIVISION OF TROPICAL MEDICINE AND HYGIENE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The Tropical Division of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine (the old London School of Tropical Medicine) is a School of the University of London and affords instruction in all branches of tropical medicine and hygiene and in parasitology as applicable to public health work in this country.

The London School of Tropical Medicine was founded in 1899 by the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain on the initiative of Sir Patrick Manson, and was admitted as a School of the University in Tropical Medicine on February 2nd, 1905.

Students may be of any nationality and of either sex, and must be qualified Medical Practitioners. Qualified Veterinary Surgeons are also eligible as students. Other applicants may be admitted in special circumstances. Students are admitted to the School by the Director; evidence of character may be required.

The general course is so arranged as to equip students for the Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene of the Conjoint Board (Royal College of Physicians of London and the Royal College of Surgeons of England),

There is also a course in parasitology for students proceeding to the first part of the D.P.H. examinations and for those taking the first part of the Examination for the Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene of Cambridge University. Clinical instruction is afforded for candidates proceeding to Part II of the Examination for the D.T.M. & H. (Camb.)

Advanced Courses are held in Protozoology, Helminthology, Entomology, and the study of Noxious and Venomous Animals; and arrangements can be made for the provision of facilities for candidates desirous of taking the M.D. in Tropical Medicine of London University, and the degrees of M.Sc., Ph.D., and D.Sc. in the various branches of Parasitology.

In co-operation with the Government of Southern Rhodesia a Field Laboratory has been established at Salisbury in Southern Rhodesia for research on Blackwater Fever, and other tropical maladies.

The School also possesses a Farm of 33 acres in Hertfordshire, provided and maintained by grants from the Ministry of Agriculture as a Field Station for experimental parasitology.

FEES.—General Course (20 weeks), £31 10s. Special Courses, particulars on application.

TERMS, 1926–27.—Winter Session: October 4th, 1926, to February 18th, 1927; Summer Session: March 14th to July 29th, 1927.

A School Examination, divided into two parts, is held each Term.

The School is on the same premises as the Hospital for Tropical Diseases, and by the courtesy of the Seamen's Hospital Society, opportunities for the clinical instruction of students are thus afforded.

The Hospital contains 58 beds, in the wards of which are to be found patients from almost every Tropical Country. These are frequently seen in the acute stages of their ailments and consequently opportunities of studying the parasites of Malaria and other diseases are ensured.

The appliances in the School are of the most modern character, the Laboratories, which have accommodation for 100 Students, being fitted with every requisite. These include fully equipped Laboratories for the study of Entomology, Helminthology, Protozoology, Tropical Pathology and Bacteriology, and General Medical Zoology.

In addition to the Laboratories the School buildings include a Lecture Theatre seating 80 people, a Museum and a Library.

The School receives a grant annually from the University Grants Committee.

The "WANDSWORTH" SCHOLARSHIP of £370 per annum was founded by the late Lord Wandsworth (1912) for purposes of Medical Research. It is tenable for three years or one year. In the latter instance the holder is termed "Interim Scholar."

The HONOURABLE EDWARD JOHN STANLEY MEMORIAL FUND provides a sum of about £50 annually for the encouragement of research in Tropical Medicine.

DUNCAN MEDAL.—Silver medal awarded each Session.

LALCACA MEDAL.—Silver medal competed for annually.

LANGLEY PRIZE.—Open to competition amongst officers of West African Medical Staff. Awarded every three years. First award made December, 1924. Value of Prize, about £30.

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS.—The holders of these Studentships are required to devote a part of their time to giving assistance to the Heads of the Departments as Demonstrators during the actual progress of the courses of study in each term, and for a substantial part of each term they will be engaged wholly upon research. The Studentships are held normally for a period of two years, and may be renewed in special circumstances.

A list of available hotels and boarding-houses can be obtained at the School.

LISTER INSTITUTE OF PREVENTIVE MEDICINE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine (late Jenner Institute of Preventive Medicine) was incorporated on July 25th, 1891, and is similar in character and purpose to the Institut Pasteur in Paris, the Hygienic Institute in Berlin and others established on the Continent for scientific research into the causation and prevention of the various infective diseases of men and animals. It was admitted as a School of the University on June 7th, 1905, under the Statutes, Section 74, "for the purpose of Research in Hygiene and Pathology."

The BUILDING comprises fully equipped pathological bacteriological, bio-chemical, entomological and protozoological departments, and a LIBRARY.

Facilities for RESEARCH in Hygiene, Bacteriology, Biochemistry, Protozoology, Pathology, and Medical Entomology are afforded in the laboratories.

The Serum Department of the Institute likewise offers facilities to those desirous of engaging in research upon Immunity in relation to disease. These laboratories are situated at Queensberry Lodge, near Elstree, Herts.

The General Research Laboratories of the Institute are SITUATED within easy distance of Victoria and Sloane Square Stations.

The laboratories of the Institute are open to suitable persons desirous of prosecuting researches, free of charge, and the expenses of an investigation may also be defrayed by the Institute. A certain number of students, and medical officers desirous of acquiring experience in the ordinary methods of sanitary science, including Bacteriology, Pathological Chemistry, Protozoology, or Insect Parasitology, are admitted to the laboratories of the Institute. Such students are charged a small fee. Applications to work in the Institute's laboratories should be made to the Director.

ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL COLLEGE.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine for Officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps.

The Royal Army Medical College was opened in August, 1902, and was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine for Officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps on July 22nd, 1908.

The College is a Military Institution for the teaching of Army Medical Officers in Hygiene, Bacteriology, Pathology, Tropical Medicine and Military Surgery, &c., and is directly under the Army Medical Advisory Board.

The College includes a Residence, with Mess Rooms, for about 70 Students, Laboratories for Hygiene and Pathology, a Lecture Theatre, accommodating 188 Students. In addition, special teaching in Syphilology is carried out at the Royal Herbert Hospital, Woolwich. The Students are drawn entirely from the Royal Army Medical Corps and Indian Medical Service and consist of two classes—(1) those who are taking the probationary period of study directly after admission to the Medical Services and (2) Captains of the Royal Army Medical Corps who are taking a five months' period of study, previous to examinations for promotion to the rank of Major. The latter course is arranged in collaboration with the London Hospitals and Medical Schools as regards special instruction in general Medicine, Surgery, and certain selected subjects. The average number of Officers under instruction is 50.

The School adjoins the Tate Gallery, and is within easy reach of Victoria, Vauxhall and Westminster Bridge Stations.

THE NAVAL MEDICAL SCHOOL OF THE ROYAL NAVAL COLLEGE, GREENWICH.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine for the Officers of the Royal Naval Medical Service.

This School was established at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, on the recommendation of the Durnford Committee, it being considered desirable that the Naval Medical Service should, through its school, be in touch with the principal civil medical schools and institutions in London, should have opportunities of making use of the chemical laboratories of the College, and should be in close proximity to the "Dreadnought" Seamen's Hospital and the London School of Tropical Medicine.

The School was admitted as a School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine for the Officers of the Royal Naval Medical Service on February 19th, 1913.

It is situated in the Queen Anne block of the College, and was opened on May 1st, 1912. The accommodation includes a Lecture Theatre, Laboratories, Research Rooms, Museums, Animal Rooms and all the necessary rooms for the study and teaching of General and Naval Hygiene, Clinical Pathology, Tropical Medicine and Micro-Biology.

In conjunction with the Medical School at the Royal Naval Hospital at Haslar, it serves the same purpose in the Royal Navy as does the Royal Army Medical College at Millbank in the Army. There are three distinct courses laid down, and each of these occur twice a year.

The courses are :—

(a) For Acting Surgeon-Lieutenants—of two months' duration, the remaining four months being spent at Haslar.

(b) For Surgeon-Lieutenant-Commanders prior to examination for promotion to Surgeon-Commanders—of five months' duration.

(c) For Senior Medical Officers, viz. Surgeon-Commanders and Senior Surgeon Lieutenant-Commanders—of three months' duration.

The average number of Officers undergoing these courses is about 80 per annum.

Director of Medical Studies—T. Brown Shaw, M.B., R.N.

Address—Greenwich, S.E.10.

MAUDSLEY HOSPITAL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

The establishment of this Hospital was initiated by the London County Council at the suggestion of the late Dr. Henry Maudsley, who contributed £30,000 to the cost of building and bequeathed at his death a further £10,000 towards the purposes of the Hospital. It is similar in general character to the Neurological and Psychiatric Clinics of the Continent and America. Its purposes are research in Psychological Medicine, the teaching of this subject and the treatment, on a voluntary basis, of those suffering from the neuroses and from recoverable forms of mental disorder. With the Hospital is associated the Pathological Department serving all the London County Mental Hospitals.

The Hospital and the associated Pathological Department were admitted as a School of the University on 7th May, 1924, under Statute 74, "for the purpose of research in Psychological Medicine." The Hospital consists of an Out-Patient Department and accommodation for 157 In-Patients.

The Pathological Department includes a Library and Laboratories for Anatomical, Bio-chemical, Bacteriological, and Experimental Investigations into the Pathology of Mental Disorders.

Owing to the connection of this institution with the London County Mental Hospitals (containing nearly 20,000 patients) the resources of these are available to supply material for clinical and pathological study.

Courses of Instruction are held for those seeking a diploma in Psychological Medicine and for other students, both undergraduate and postgraduate. Facilities are afforded to those wishing to pursue research into either the clinical or pathological aspects of mental disorders as well as to others desirous of gaining experience in the ordinary methods of their investigation and treatment. As a rule no charge is made to those undertaking research, and in special cases grants in aid may be made by the Committee.

Those desirous of opportunities for study or research should apply in respect of Clinical facilities to the Medical Superintendent; as regards work in the Laboratories, to the Director of the Pathological Department. Station—Denmark Hill.

Medical Superintendent—Edward Mapother, M.D., M.R.C.P., F.R.C.S.

Director of Pathological Department—F. L. Golla, M.B., F.R.C.P.

Address—Denmark Hill, S.E.5.

Telephone—Brixton 0788.

BETHLEM ROYAL HOSPITAL.

A School of the University in the Faculty of Medicine.

Bethlem Royal Hospital is an ancient foundation, dating from 1247, and is administered by a Court of Governors under Charter from Henry VIII granted in the year 1546. Therein cases of nervous and mental diseases are received for care and treatment by the most modern methods, and both certified and voluntary patients are admitted. The whole of the accommodation is for patients of the educated class only.

The Hospital was admitted as a School of the University in July, 1924, under Statute 74, "for the purpose of research in Psychological Medicine."

Bethlem Royal Hospital is a centre for the teaching and practice of Psychological Medicine. Two Courses of Lectures and Practical Instruction for the Diploma in Psychological Medicine, granted by the various Universities, are held annually. Classes for Clinical Instruction in the Wards are held daily for both students and post-graduates. In addition, many students from General Hospitals receive instruction from their respective lecturers, and classes are arranged by the Fellowship of Medicine from time to time.

This Hospital is also an Examination Centre, and the Examinations for the Diploma in Psychological Medicine for London University and the Conjoint Board, the Gaskell Gold Medal, and the R.A.M. Examination in Mental Diseases are held here as well as the various Examinations of the Medico-Psychological Association.

Bethlem Hospital possesses a well-equipped Pathological Laboratory where much interesting work of research and investigation is carried out. The work of this Department is under the direction of a Pathologist and Registrar, and many experiments, important in the world of Psychological Medicine, are undertaken here.

An up-to-date X-Ray apparatus is installed in the Hospital and is of great use for the treatment of both In-Patients and Out-Patients.

In connection with the Hospital there is an Out-Patients' Department at 52, Lambeth Road, S.E.1., and known as the Hospital for Nervous Diseases. The days of attendance are Tuesday and Friday afternoons and on Thursday morning when special cases of Mental Deficiency are seen. Patients needing Electrical or Massage Treatment are attended to on other days of the week.

The Convalescent Home of Bethlem Royal Hospital is situated at Witley, Surrey.

INSTITUTIONS HAVING RECOGNISED TEACHERS.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON: GOLDSMITHS' COLLEGE.

(Opened as a University Institution in 1905.)

The site, buildings and grounds of Goldsmiths' College were presented to the University of London in 1904 by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths, who had carried on in them, since 1891, an Institution known as "The Goldsmith's Company's Technical and Recreative Institute." The Company promised at the same time an annual grant of £5,000 for five years, and this period was subsequently extended to eight years (ending in 1912). In addition to the above grant, the Company have contributed sums amounting to nearly £10,000 towards the cost of repair and extension of the buildings with a view to adapting them more completely to the purposes to which they are at present devoted ; and they have also placed certain houses fully equipped as Students' Hostels at the disposal of the College at a nominal rent.

The buildings of the College comprise a Great Hall capable of accommodating about 1,600 people, a Dining Hall, a Library, a Gymnasium, and a Swimming-bath, as well as Lecture and Class-rooms, Laboratories, Workshops, Art Studios, &c. ; and there is a large playground. The buildings and playground together cover six-and-a-half acres. An additional piece of land, rather more than four acres in extent, and adjoining the College ground, is rented by the College.

On the 23rd November, 1904, the Senate approved (and on the 25th March, 1908, they amended) a Scheme for the management of the institution, which was to be known in future as "University of London, Goldsmiths' College." Under this Scheme the management of the College is entrusted to a Delegacy, termed "The Goldsmiths' College Delegacy," appointed annually by the Senate and consisting of Eight Members of the Senate, Two Representatives of the London County Council, One Representative of each of the following bodies:—The Kent County Council, The Surrey County Council, The Middlesex County Council, The Croydon County Borough Council, Two Representatives of the Goldsmiths' Company, The Principal of the University, and The University Professor of Education.

The Scheme provides that one of the Representatives of the Senate shall be chairman of the Delegacy ; that reference must, in certain circumstances, be made to the Senate before action is taken on a Resolution of the Delegacy ; and that the Senate may from time to time alter the scheme and make regulations which shall be binding on the Delegacy. The Scheme also provides that the work of the College shall not, in so far as Day Students are concerned, extend beyond the standard of the Pass Degrees of the University, except in particular cases by special permission of the Senate on the recommendation of the Academic Council.

The London County Council having undertaken, in 1906, to contribute an annual sum (at present £11,265) to the support of the School of Art, and (pending other arrangements of their own) the Engineering and Building Department, &c., a clause was inserted into the Scheme providing that on matters relating exclusively to the Evening Classes and School of Art supported by the London County Council the Members appointed upon the nomination of County and Borough Councils other than the London County Council be not permitted to vote.

The names of the members of the Delegacy are given on p. 119.

The Departments of the College are as follows:—
Training Department (Day only); Engineering and Building Department (Evening only); School of Art (Day and Evening). Of the three Departments, one (the Engineering and Building Department) is carried on at the College pending the provision of an Engineering and Building School in the neighbourhood by the London County Council.

Further particulars of the principal Departments of the College are subjoined:—

I. Engineering Department.—Head of Department, G. T. White, B.Sc. (Lond.).

Principal Assistants, H. Andrew, M.Sc., W. N. Cooper, A.R.C.S., and E. C. Harris.

This Department includes theoretical and practical work in—

Applied Mechanics,	Building Science,
Theory of Machines,	Theory of Structures,
Mechanical Engineering,	Structural Design,
Machine Construction, Draw-	Hydraulics,
ing and Design,	Workshop Processes,
Strength of Materials,	Fitting and Machinery.
Gas Supply,	Land Surveying,
Heat Engines,	Practical Mathematics,
Electrical Engineering,	Metal Plate Work, etc.

and the workshops are in daily use. The greater part of the students are employed in engineering works during the day, the instruction being given entirely in the evening.

Students are prepared for the examinations of the City and Guilds of London Institute, the Institution of Civil Engineers, Institution of Electrical Engineers, &c.

The sessional fees for individual subjects vary from 10s. to 15s.

II. Building Department.—Head of Department, G. T. White, B.Sc. (Lond.).

This Department includes lectures and drawing classes in Geometry, Building Construction, Architecture, and Builders' Quantities and workshop classes as well as lectures in Carpentry and Plumbers' Work.

The students are prepared for the examinations of the Board of Education, the City and Guilds of London Institute, &c.

The sessional fees vary from 10s. to 15s.

III. School of Art.—Head Master, Amor Fenn.

Principal Assistants:—Percy Buckman (Life), C. Gardiner (Antique and Still Life), F. Halnon (Modelling), Visiting Teachers :—Harold Speed (Painting), E. J. Sullivan (Book Illustration and Lithography), Stanley Anderson (Etching), Harry Napper (Design), Alfred Taylor (Commercial Art).

In this Department classes are held on five mornings, certain afternoons, and five evenings of the week ; but the rooms are open for the use of students at all reasonable hours.

Advanced instruction is given in Anatomy ; Drawing and Painting from Life, Still Life, and from Casts ; Portrait Painting ; Miniature Painting ; Modelling from Life, Still Life, and from Casts ; Book Illustration ; Design, both generally and with special reference to different materials and Arts ; Etching, Mezzotint, and Aquatint ; Lithography ; Architectural Drawing.

The Class fees for the session vary from £5 to £15 in the Day Classes, and from 10s. to £1 10s. in the Evening Classes ; a reduction being made for shorter periods in respect of Day Attendances.

Librarian—Miss C. C. Dickson, M.A.

This Department opened in September, 1905. It is a Training College (Elementary) recognised by the Board of Education, and provides accommodation for 525 Students (Men and Women). Though technically a "Day" College, it has accommodation, in Hostels, for nearly all the Women Students, and for many of the Men Students.

The Course taken by most of the Students extends over two years. The Examination for which Students are, as a rule, prepared, and which takes the place of the Certificate Examination of the Board of Education, is one conducted by the University of London, but not constituting a recognised stage in the course for a Degree (paragraph 45 of the Board's Regulations for the Training of Teachers). It is divided into two parts, taken at the end of the First and Second Years respectively.

The Senate have sanctioned the preparation of specially qualified Students in this Department for the B.A. and B.Sc. Pass Degrees of the University instead of the Examination described in the preceding paragraph. The Course for the Degree extends over three years. Four-year Students may also be admitted, but the acceptance of such students is suspended for the present.

One hundred and seventy-nine of the places in the Training Department are engaged in advance by the Kent and Surrey County Councils and the Croydon County Borough Council, the Goldsmiths' College Delegacy reserving the right of rejecting particular candidates on medical or other grounds. For the places not engaged by the Councils referred to the fees are £21 10s. (including tuition, and dinner on five days a week), or £31 10s. (including also residence in a Hostel—the Hostels being aided by Government grants). "Private" Students (in respect of whom no grant is received from the Board of Education) pay at a higher rate.

Hostels for Women Students have been established by the Kent, Middlesex and Surrey County Councils, and by the National Society, and a Hostel for Men Students has been established by the Kent County Council. There are also Men's and Women's Hostels under the direct control of the College. A list of recognised lodgings is kept for Men Students who can neither live at home nor be accommodated in hostels.

Applications for places in the Training Department on the nomination of one of the contributing counties must be made, in the first instance, to the County or County Borough Council concerned. With this exception, all communications relating to the College should be addressed to THE WARDEN. Stations—New Cross and New Cross Gate (S. Ry.).

Warden—Thomas Raymont, M.A.

LIBRARIES.

The University possesses the following libraries, viz.:—
 (1) The University Library at the Central University Building at South Kensington, including the General Library and the Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature,
 (2) the Library of University College, Gower Street, W.C., and (3) the Libraries of other institutions incorporated in the University.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY, SOUTH KENSINGTON, S.W.

The University Library at the Central Building of the University of London at South Kensington contains about 170,000 volumes, and is constituted to provide (1) a General Library from which students can borrow the necessary works which they require for their studies, and (2) well-equipped special collections to promote research work, of which the Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature is an example. The University Library receives regularly over 500 periodicals, the current numbers of which may not be removed from the Reading Room without express permission of the Librarian.

General Library.

The nucleus of the General Library was the library of the old University of London, which dates from about 1838, when a gift of books was first made to the University. It was opened to readers in 1877, and a further development took place in 1879, when rules were drawn up and brought into force, under which Members of the Senate, Members of Convocation, and other persons duly recommended by them, were permitted to borrow six volumes, retainable for three months. The Library was transferred at the reconstitution of the University in 1900 from Burlington Gardens to South Kensington, and on October 26th, 1906, the Earl of Rosebery, as Chancellor of the University, performed the ceremony of opening the University Library after its reorganisation and re-arrangement at the new Central Building of the University at South Kensington.

The General Library (120,000 vols.) consists of a lending library of standard books of reference on various subjects, largely chosen on account of their general indispensability to students, and of certain special collections,

De Morgan Library.—The first of the special collections is the library of mathematical and astronomical books formerly belonging to the late Augustus De Morgan, which was purchased in its entirety by Lord Overstone and presented by him to the University in 1871 “as a testimony of his appreciation of the service which that body has rendered to the extension and improvement of education in all its branches throughout the United Kingdom, and in the hope that it may prove the first fruits of a library which shall ere long become in all respects such as the University of London ought to possess.” It consists of about 4,000 volumes and pamphlets, and includes a considerable number of rare and valuable books.

Grote Library.—The second special collection is the library of the late George Grote, who played so large a part in the early history and politics of the University of London. It was bequeathed to the University by a codicil to his will dated, May 9th, 1871. The bequest was subject to any selection or disposition of the books which might be made by Mrs. Grote during her life, but the greater number of them was at once transferred by her to the University. They consist mainly of Latin and Greek classics and books on history, and number in all about 5,000 volumes and pamphlets. The classical side of the Library was subsequently supplemented by the donation from Sir Julian Goldsmid of £1,000 for the special purpose of purchasing Greek and Latin books.

Library of the British Association.—The Library of the British Association was presented to the University in 1879. It consists chiefly of long sets of journals which the Association had received by exchange of their publications with other Societies.

Shaw-Lefevre Russian Library.—In 1880 a library of Russian books, collected by Sir John George Shaw-Lefevre, was presented by Lady Shaw-Lefevre. It contains among other rarities a copy of the first Russian translation of the Vicar of Wakefield, printed at Moscow in 1786.

Lady Welby Library.—The Lady Welby Library (1,500 vols. and about 1,000 pamphlets), consists chiefly of works on theology, philosophy, economics, education, science and philology, which were collected and annotated by the late Hon. Victoria, Lady Welby. It was presented by Sir Charles Welby to the University Library in 1912, conditionally on its being kept together and housed in the Central Building of the University. The Lady Welby Library is available, under safeguards provided in the Rules for the use of the University Library, for students of any nation, and its use is not limited to Members of the University.

Eram Collection.—In 1912 Mrs. R. V. Eram presented a collection of Italian books (300 vols.).

Preedy Memorial Library.—This Memorial was founded by Mrs. Preedy in 1922 in memory of her son, Lieut. John Benjamin Knowlton Preedy, M.A., who was formerly Secretary in the University Extension Department of the University of London, and who lost his life in 1917 in the Great War. A trust fund provides a sum of money annually, which is expended on books on Archæology and Art, the subjects in which Lieutenant Preedy was particularly interested.

Dr. Waller Memorial Library.—A library of recently published reference books and periodicals on Physiology and Psychology was established in connection with the University Library in 1923 as a memorial to the late Dr. Augustus Désiré Waller, formerly Senator and Director of the Physiological Laboratory in the University of London. It contains about 2,000 volumes.

Bibliographical Department.—There is also a reference section of bibliographies, the function of which is to furnish the specialist with information as to the range of the subject-matter with which he has to deal, and to provide students with bibliographical guides from which they can learn what books they ought to consult for the information sought in particular branches of study. It also aims at putting at their disposal, as far as possible, the catalogues of the various libraries to which they may repair in order to consult the books required.

Education Department.—Another section of the Library is devoted to works on education, including a selection of the more important educational periodicals and a collection of school text-books. Some handsomely bound books in this department were presented by the Collège de France on the occasion of their visit to the University of London in 1906.

Special Books prescribed for Examinations.—Books prescribed for the preparation of special subjects for the examinations of the University of London are available in the Library. It is not always possible for readers to borrow them for the entire period allowed by the rules; their attention is therefore called to Rule 28, which provides that books must be returned at the end of a fortnight from the date of issue, if applied for by the Librarian.

Parliamentary Papers.—In 1923 and 1925 the Reform Club presented to the University Library a collection of Parliamentary Papers ("Blue Books"), which is bound up in volumes arranged by subject from 1816 to 1835, and in sequence of publication from 1835 to 1900. Before 1816 and after 1900 a selection only of the more important publications will be found in the Library.

Theses and Dissertations.—By order of the Senate, theses presented by successful candidates for the higher degrees of the University are deposited in the University Library, and are available for public reference. Persons desirous of referring to them are required to sign their names in a Register kept in the Reading Room for the purpose. Where a duplicate copy of a thesis exists it can be borrowed under the regulations applying to the General Library.

Travelling Libraries.—The University Library sends out Travelling Libraries to University Extension and Tutorial Class Centres, at which full Sessional Courses are carried on. It is sometimes possible to make similar arrangements in connection with Terminal Courses. These Libraries, which are lent free to the various Centres, are intended to increase the facilities for study granted to individual students in connection with the University Library by placing at the disposal of groups of students at the local centres collections of books which are necessary for their studies, and of which they can have the exclusive use for the duration of one course or class. Applications for Travelling Libraries should be made to the Registrar of the University Extension Board.

Donations.—Besides the special collections which have been presented to the Library, the University has received valuable donations from the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Secretary of State for India, the Trustees of the British Museum, the Smithsonian Institution, the Library of Congress at Washington, the French Minister of Public Instruction, the late Earl Granville, the late Right Hon. Robert Lowe (Viscount Sherbrooke), the late Prince d'Essling, the late Lord Avebury, the late Earl of Crawford, the Earl of Rosebery and Midlothian, Professor M. S. Pembrey, Sir E. Cooper Perry, Sir Holburt J. Waring, and others, and also books from the Libraries of the late Sir Richard Quain and Professor James Martineau. In 1921 the Yale University Press presented to the Library a valuable collection of their publications "in recognition of the sacrifices made by England in the World War and to commemorate the part played in the struggle by the eight thousand Yale graduates in the service of the Allied Governments, 1914-1918." In the same year a collection consisting of 161 scientific publications issued in Austria since the outbreak of the War was given to the Library by the Vienna Akademie der Wissenschaften in the hope that closer international relations between men of science in various countries might thereby be promoted. In 1922 the University of California presented a collection of its semi-centennial publications. In addition a large collection of valuable books and important sets of periodical publications have been taken over from the London Institution Library and the Educational Library formerly at South Kensington. Frequent gifts are received from authors, universities, libraries, institutions, societies, public departments, and others interested in the welfare of the University Library.

Prince of Wales's Manuscript.—The Library of the University of London, being of comparatively recent foundation, has not received from the past any rich legacy of mediæval manuscripts such as are to be found in the libraries of the older Universities and their Colleges. Until quite recently, although it possessed several manuscripts of considerable interest and importance, the University Library did not contain any single manuscript of outstanding value. On May 5th, 1921, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales graciously decided to place on permanent loan in the University Library the manuscript life of the Black Prince which was presented to him by members of the University of London on the occasion of the conferment on him of the honorary degrees of Master of Commerce and Doctor of Science of the University of London. This manuscript was written at the end of the fourteenth century, and contains a metrical chronicle in French verse by Chandos, the domestic Herald of Sir John Chandos, commemorating the life and feats of arms of Edward the Black Prince. The poem was composed about 1385, some nine years after the Black Prince's death, and is known only in one other manuscript, which is in the Library of Worcester College, Oxford. It is one of the most valuable authorities on certain episodes in the Hundred Years War, and is in all probability the source of almost all our information respecting the years 1366 and 1367.*

Music Library.—In 1925 the Senate, on the recommendation of a special Music Committee charged with the duty of making suggestions as to the place of music in the curriculum and social life of the University, decided to establish a Music Library in connection with the University Library. The purpose of this library is to provide a complete mechanical equipment for making acquaintance with the literature of music. It includes music scores and books on music, as well as a Steck "Pianola" Piano and a collection of about 400 pianola rolls presented by the Æolian Company. Valuable donations of books and scores have been made by the Royal College of Music and Mrs. L. H. Bennett, and the Rev. G. F. Handel Elvey has placed on permanent loan in the library the collection of music formed by his father, the late Sir George Elvey.

Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature.

The Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature (50,000 vols.) is intended to serve as a basis for the study of the industrial, commercial, monetary and financial history of the United Kingdom, as well as the gradual development of economic science generally. The history of economic thought is represented by a collection of books which is practically complete in so far as England is concerned, and fairly comprehensive in respect of the French economists before and during the Revolution. There is also a representative collection of the works of American economists, and a fair representation of economic thought in Italy, Spain, Germany, and Holland.

The following subjects, among others, will be found fully illustrated: the early history of English trade, Companies, and Colonies; Mercantilism and colonial policy; the navigation laws; Guilds and the towns; fairs and markets; the history of agriculture, enclosures, commons, allotments; the rise of foreign trade, especially of the East Indian, and the French and American trades; the Agrarian Revolution of the eighteenth century; the growth of English industries; machine industry; the Industrial Revolution; the large towns and their problems; municipal and political reform; factory legislation; trade unionism; friendly societies and savings banks; the co-operative movement; education; the condition of the people generally; Socialism in all its forms—Owenism, Chartism, the English socialistic movements, indigenous or imported, French, German and American Socialism; emigration and population movements; the history of the poor law, and especially of the New Poor Law of 1834; the question of land tenure in England, Scotland, and Ireland; tariff policy in various countries, especially the Anti-Corn Law agitation, the German Zollverein, and the protectionist reaction in Europe and America after the Peace of 1815; financial policy and tax systems; the development of communication, roads, posts, canals, railways, and telegraphs; the growth and changes of foreign trade; competition, its modern developments, abuses, and regulation; the rise of great industrial and commercial combinations; interest and usury; early banking; the modern developments of banking; the history of currency and various currency systems ; the history of prices and wages ; index numbers ; international monetary policy ; the great markets for securities and produce ; the history and theory of statistics ; the mathematical theory of economics ; public control and the economic functions of the State generally ; economic criticism and social philosophy. In numerous instances the Library possesses the author's own copy of his publication, and in some cases his corrected proofs for a second edition. It also contains several valuable sets of economic periodicals and academic publications. It may be added that those interested in local history will find in the Library books or tracts printed in almost every part of the British dominions at home or abroad.

As far as possible all sides in a controversy find due representation in the Library, and the object of the University has been to make the collection truly representative and historical. It includes a large amount of obscure literature which is important in that it gives a clue to the opinions of the almost unrepresented masses of the people—literature which will probably have for future ages a very special and pathetic interest. The object has been to mirror opinions, not to judge them. The Library therefore differs widely from such a collection as that of McCulloch, who excluded, with rare exceptions, all books which did not come up to his standard of orthodoxy.

Special Collections.—Where bibliographical rarities are so numerous it is manifestly impossible within the limits of this notice to pass in review even those of more general interest. The Goldsmiths' Library includes Richard Oastler's own collection of tracts on factories, and a valuable set of Factory Commission and similar reports, now very scarce, which were exhibited at the Health Exhibition. It also contains portraits and autograph letters of economists and statesmen, views of institutions, bank notes, original Acts of Parliament of special economic interest, a large number of broadsides, and a collection of 1,500 political publications. In 1906 the Sabatier Collection was acquired, containing about 1,000 pieces on French monetary history, particularly upon the revolutionary period.

Railway Section.—The Library possesses a railway section, which covers the most interesting period in the history of English railways. It comprises a collection which formerly belonged to John Urpeth Rastrick, who played an important part in introducing railways in England, and includes Rastrick's manuscript note-books, plans and estimates, embracing the period from 1829 to 1854, as well as a large number of early pamphlets on English, American and Indian railways. The note-books contain several references to Stephenson, Rennie, and other well-known engineers, and particulars of locomotives invented by Rastrick himself. A locomotive shown in a sketch in one of these volumes has been identified by Mr J. G. H. Warren * as the "Experiment," one of the most remarkable engines built by Robert Stephenson & Co., and the first recorded rail locomotive with two horizontal cylinders, as well as the first which we know to have had the drives from the two cylinders combined on one axle. There are also sketches in the note-books of the "Royal George" and of the stationary engines for the Brusselton incline. A particularly interesting item is Rastrick's specification for the Kenyon and Leigh Junction Railway, with his autograph on the fly-leaf, and a note by his son Henry stating that this is "the first specification for a railway that was ever made." The collection of maps is comprehensive and includes about seventy working maps and sections of the London and Brighton Railway.

The nucleus of the Goldsmiths' Library was purchased by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths from Professor H. S. Foxwell in 1901, and presented by them to the University of London in 1903. Since that date the books have been bound, arranged and catalogued, and considerable additions have been made to the collection by the University and the Goldsmiths' Company. It is now admittedly one of the finest economic libraries in the world.

HOURS OF ADMISSION AND RULES

1. The University Library (General Library and Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature) shall be open on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 6.30 p.m., and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

2. The University Library shall be closed at 1 p.m. on Christmas Eve, Maunday Thursday, and the Saturday preceding Whitsuntide and August Bank Holiday.

3. The University Library shall be closed on Good Friday and Christmas Day and the six days next following, Bank Holidays, and at such other times as the Senate may appoint or the Principal Officer intimate to the Librarian.

4. The administration of the University Library shall be under the Goldsmiths' Librarian of the University, to whom communications respecting its use should be addressed. He shall be responsible to the Library Committee for the observance of the rules and regulations; and he shall be authorised to exclude from the University Library any person infringing the same or acting in any such way as to interfere with the convenience of other persons using the Library or with the ordinary work of the University; provided that the particulars of every such case be reported to the Library Committee at their next meeting.

5. No reader who has been excluded by the Librarian from the privileges of the University Library shall be allowed to use the Reading Room or to borrow books unless and until he or she be reinstated by the Library Committee.

Rules for the use of the Reading Room.

6. Members of the Senate, Members of the Library Committee, the Principal Officer, the three Registrars, the Professors and Readers, Recognised Teachers, Examiners, Assistant Examiners, Members of Convocation, Graduates and Undergraduates of the University shall, subject to these rules and regulations, be entitled to use the Reading Room for the purposes of reference and study.

7. Other persons desirous of using the Reading Room for the purposes of reference and study shall, subject to these rules and regulations, be admitted thereto on the introduction of a Member of the Senate, or a Member of the Library Committee, or the Principal Officer, or one of the three Registrars, or the Goldsmiths' Librarian, or a Professor or Reader, or a Recognised Teacher, or an Examiner, or an Assistant Examiner, or a Member of Convocation, or a Graduate of the University, or one of the Librarians of its Colleges and Schools.

8. Members of the Permanent and Temporary Staff at the Central Offices of the University, not included in Rules 6 and 7 above, shall, subject to these rules and regulations, be permitted to use the Reading Room for the purposes of reference and study upon obtaining the permission of the Librarian.

9. Every reader shall be required on entering the Reading Room to write his or her name and address in a book provided for the purpose.

10. Readers may not write upon, damage, turn down the leaves of, or make any mark upon any printed book or manuscript belonging to the Library; nor may they lay the paper on which they are writing upon any book or manuscript. The erasure of any mark or note in any printed book or manuscript is strictly prohibited.*

11. Every reader shall return the books he has been using to one of the Library Assistants.

12. No printed book or manuscript, print, map, or drawing, shall be taken out of the Reading Room except under the conditions specified below.

13. Current numbers of periodicals may not be removed from the Reading Room without the express permission of the Librarian.

14. Theses presented by successful candidates for the higher degrees of the University shall be available in the Reading Room for public reference, but on no condition may a Thesis of which no duplicate copy exists in the Library, or any accompanying map, plan, or drawing, be removed therefrom without the special permission of the Library Committee. Where a duplicate copy of a Thesis exists in the Library, it may be borrowed under the conditions specified below.

15. Conversation, loud talking, and smoking are strictly prohibited.

Rules and Conditions upon which Books may be borrowed from the General Library.

16. Members of the Senate, Members of the Library Committee, the Principal Officer, the three Registrars, the Goldsmiths' Librarian, and the Professors and Readers of the University, and the Librarians of the Incorporated Colleges and of the Schools of the University, shall have the privilege of borrowing books from the General Library, subject to the conditions and restrictions herein laid down.

---

* It is earnestly requested that any reader observing a defect in, or damage to, any book or manuscript will point out the same to the Librarian.

17. Members of the Permanent and Temporary Staff at the Central Offices of the University, not included in Rule 16 above, shall, subject to these rules and regulations, have the privilege of borrowing books from the General Library upon obtaining the permission of the Librarian.

18. Recognised Teachers of the University, Examiners for the time being, and Members of Convocation shall, subject to these rules and regulations, have the privilege of borrowing books from the General Library upon signing and handing to the Librarian or one of his Assistants the following declaration and undertaking * :—

I hereby declare that I am (1) a Recognised Teacher, or (2) an Examiner, or (3) a Member of Convocation of the University of London, and I undertake to fulfil all the conditions and observe all the restrictions laid down in the "Rules and Regulations for the use of the University Library."

19. All persons entitled to use the libraries of the Incorporated Colleges of the University shall have the right to borrow books, as far as they may be available, from the General Library through the Librarians of the respective Colleges, under the library rules and regulations there in force.

20. Graduates of the University who are not Members of Convocation, Undergraduate Members of the University, Head Masters and Mistresses of Schools, and other students desirous of borrowing books from the General Library must hand to the Librarian or one of his Assistants a recommendation signed by a Member of the Senate, or the Principal Officer, or one of the Registrars, or the Goldsmiths' Librarian, or a Professor or Reader of the University, or one of the Librarians of the Colleges and Schools of the University, or two persons who must be Recognised Teachers or Examiners or Members of Convocation of the University.

21. Assistant Masters (or Mistresses) in Schools, who are Undergraduates of intermediate status, or who have graduated too recently to be entitled to be Members of Convocation and who are desirous of borrowing books from the General Library must hand to the Librarian or one of his Assistants a recommendation signed by the Head Master (or Mistress) of the School in which they are serving.

22. All recommendations shall be in the form provided for the purpose ; * and the persons by whom they are signed shall be jointly and severally responsible with the person recommended for the safe custody of the books which shall be taken out by virtue thereof, and for any loss or injury which may occur to the books while in the possession of the person whom they have introduced.

23. Persons obtaining such recommendations shall receive a borrower's ticket which will admit them to the privilege of borrowing books from the General Library upon signing and handing to the Librarian or one of his Assistants an undertaking * to fulfil all the conditions and to observe all the restrictions laid down for the use of the University Library.

24. Borrowers' tickets shall remain in force for a period not exceeding 12 months, but may be renewed on application to the Librarian.

25. No reader shall be allowed to borrow more than six volumes at one time except with the express permission of the Librarian.

26. A separate voucher form † must be filled in and signed by the borrower in respect of each book borrowed, and handed to the Librarian or the Library Assistant in charge of the Reading Room. Readers are responsible for the books so long as the voucher forms remain uncanceled.

---

* Forms may be had from the Librarian or one of his Assistants.

† Voucher forms will be found in the Reading Room.

27. No dictionary or other work of reference, no rare book, no book containing valuable engravings, no book with loose plates or maps, and no unbound or uncatalogued book shall be taken out of the General Library except with the express permission of the Librarian; and the Librarian shall, subject to the directions of the Library Committee, have power to decline to issue any particular book. The Librarian is empowered, if he thinks it desirable in any particular case, to require a money deposit to be made with him before issuing a book or books which he considers to be of especial value.

28. Every reader borrowing a book from the General Library is required to return it not later than two calendar months from the time when it was taken out,* and must return it at any time after the expiration of a fortnight from the date of issue if required to do so by the Librarian.

29. If a reader who has kept a book for two months wishes to retain it for a longer period he must make special application to the Librarian, and, if permission is granted, the book may be reborrowed for a further period.

30. Every reader taking a book out of the General Library shall be responsible for its safe custody until its return; and, in the event of any loss or injury thereto, shall either replace the book or pay such compensation as may be fixed by the Library Committee.†

31. Books may not be transferred by one reader to another.

32. No book shall be sent by post from the General Library by the Librarian, or to the General Library by any person who has borrowed a book, unless it be registered or a certificate of posting be obtained, and all postal and registration fees and the cost of carriage to and from the Library shall be paid by the person by whom the book has been borrowed.

33. Books can only be sent to borrowers by post or carrier on the understanding that they undertake to return the books securely packed, as dispatched from the General Library.‡

34. The Librarian is empowered to decline to give out books to anyone other than the reader applying in person, should he see reason.

35. No book shall be taken out of the British Isles.

36. Readers must register their permanent address with the Librarian and notify him of any change in it that may subsequently occur.

37. Communications of the Librarian must be answered promptly by readers.

38. The Librarian shall exclude at his discretion from the privileges of the University Library any borrower who fails to return a book which has been called in, or retains it beyond the maximum limit of two months without permission, or allows any compensation due in respect of loss or injury to books while in his or her possession to remain unpaid.

39. The Librarian will answer inquiries by post as to whether any

* For the guidance of readers the date upon which books should be returned is stamped upon a form inserted at the end of each volume.

† Borrowers are advised to see that the books issued are in good condition before being removed from the Library, and to report any defects to the Library Assistant in charge of the Reading Room, otherwise they may be held responsible for damage when the books are returned.

‡ Sufficient packing does not consist in wrapping the books in one thickness of paper. A wad of newspaper or a sheet of cardboard should be used to afford good protection to the corners of the books and the parcel should be wrapped in stout brown paper.

particular book be in the Library, if the author and title be written on a stamped addressed post card or if a stamped addressed envelope be enclosed.

40. The titles of new books added to the General Library by purchase or gift shall be printed in a yearly Accession List and issued to borrowers.

Rules for the use of the Goldsmiths' Company's Library of Economic Literature.

41. The Goldsmiths' Library is restricted to purposes of research and reference, and on no condition may any book, print, or manuscript be removed from the rooms in which the Library is housed, except as hereinafter provided (Rules 46-59).

42. Access to the Goldsmiths' Library can only be obtained after application in writing to the Librarian. Such applications must specify the profession or business and the place of abode of the applicant; they must be made at least two days before admission is required, and must be accompanied by a recommendation * bearing the signature and full address of a householder of recognised position, whose address can be identified from the ordinary sources of reference, certifying from personal knowledge that the applicant will make proper use of the Goldsmiths' Library.

43. If in the opinion of the Librarian any such application or recommendation be unsatisfactory, he shall withhold admission, and submit the case to the Library Committee.

44. The University retains the right of reserving the Goldsmiths' Library on certain days for the exclusive admission of students and persons nominated by the Goldsmiths' Company.

45. No tracing shall be allowed to be made without the express permission of the Librarian.

46. In order to facilitate the further use of the Goldsmiths' Library by students, a certain number of volumes not exceeding one hundred in all may be temporarily deposited at the Incorporated Colleges of the University, the Institute of Historical Research, and the London School of Economics, under conditions approved by the University Library Committee and the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths.

47. The number of volumes so lent to any one institution must not exceed twenty-five at a time.

48. Application on behalf of any one of the institutions named in Rule 46 above to be allowed the privilege of borrowing books from the Goldsmiths' Library shall be made to the Goldsmiths' Librarian by the Principal of the institution, who shall be required at the same time to give an undertaking in writing that the conditions of the loan will be strictly observed, and the University Library Committee shall, in consultation with the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths, be empowered to grant, withhold or withdraw permission as they see fit.

49. Permission of the University Library Committee having been granted, the selection of volumes for temporary deposit shall be made by arrangement between the authorities of the institution and the University Library Committee through the Goldsmiths' Librarian, and after a report from him on the matter. The Goldsmiths' Librarian may at his discretion advise the exclusion from the selection of any volume or volumes.

50. The volumes borrowed must be returned to the Goldsmiths' Library after a period not exceeding three months from the date on which the loan was first made, or at an earlier date if required to do so by the Goldsmiths' Librarian.

* Forms may be had from the Librarian or one of his Assistants.

51. The institution must, when borrowing books, send a responsible messenger to fetch them from the Goldsmiths' Library and must return them in the same way.

52. The volumes while on loan must be accessible at any reasonable time to students of the University and other persons admitted to the use of the University Library at South Kensington and to any person nominated by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths.

53. The volumes on loan under these regulations are to be kept together under lock and key in a safe place approved by the Goldsmiths' Librarian, and labelled "Goldsmiths' Library of Economic Literature : —Books on temporary loan from the University Library."

54. The volumes shall only be read and consulted in a room or rooms approved for the purpose by the Goldsmiths' Librarian, and in no circumstances whatsoever may any volume or volumes be used elsewhere.

55. The institution borrowing books from the Goldsmiths' Library shall be required to undertake to pay the full value of any book or of the work of which it forms a part should it be lost or adequate compensation should it in any way be injured between its issue and return, such value or compensation to be determined by the University Library Committee in consultation with the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths and paid into a special fund for the benefit of the Goldsmiths' Library, in order that the book may be replaced if and when opportunity offers or satisfactorily repaired.

56. The volumes on loan under these regulations are to be insured by the University against loss or damage by fire or theft and the authorities of the institution borrowing the books shall reimburse the University the cost of the insurance.

57. The Goldsmiths' Librarian shall have the right at any reasonable time to inspect the volumes on loan.

58. The University Library Committee in consultation with the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths shall have the power from time to time to determine on books or classes of books which are not to be borrowed under any condition from the Goldsmiths' Library.

59. The volumes borrowed may be exchanged or the loan may be renewed from time to time in accordance with the foregoing conditions.

60. No variation of these conditions is to be made or permitted by the University of London without the consent of the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths.

61. Otherwise the Goldsmiths' Library is subjected to the same rules and regulations as those specified above.

The official account of the University Library is contained in a special pamphlet which can be obtained free on application at the University.

RULES.

1. Admission to the University of London Contingent is restricted (see also Rule 2 below) to gentlemen who are Members of the University of London, or are non-matriculated students pursuing a regular course in Schools of the University, save that, subject to such Regulations, if any, as may be prescribed by the Military Education Committee of the University, power is reserved to the Commanding Officer in special cases to admit gentlemen who, though not comprised in either of the foregoing categories, are desirous of gaining the certificates of proficiency obtainable in the Officers Training Corps.

2. The primary object of the Officers Training Corps is to provide students at schools and universities with a standardised measure of elementary military training, with a view to their applying eventually for Commissions in the Militia, Territorial Army (including the Reserve), or Regular Army Reserve of Officers (including the Supplementary Reserve). It should, therefore, be understood that the aim of every university and school which furnishes a contingent for the Officers Training Corps must be to obtain the highest possible number of certificates of proficiency and to provide as many officers as possible for those forces. The degree to which this result is attained will be the main consideration in deciding whether the Officers Training Corps as a whole, or any individual contingent which forms part of it, is respectively giving to the State an adequate return for the expenditure incurred in its administration and training. The secondary object of the Officers Training Corps is to provide a potential reserve of young officers to meet a national emergency. Membership of the Corps is restricted by the Army Council to British subjects of pure European descent.

3. Cadets must obey all Rules and Regulations for the Corps, whether made or to be made, by the Army Council, the University authorities, the Commanding Officer, or other lawfully constituted authority.

4. Cadets must obey all lawful commands and orders given by, and do all such things required by, the Commanding Officer or other superior officers.

5. Cadets enrol for two years. At the conclusion of their term of enrolment. Cadets may re-engage annually, for the purpose of obtaining Certificates A or B; but they will not, unless in very exceptional circumstances, be permitted to serve more than four years in all in the Contingent.

6. Before enrolment in the Contingent, and on re-engagement, a Cadet must be accepted by the Commanding Officer.

7. Resignations from the Contingent must be sent in to take effect at the end of the Academic Year (October 1st).

8. Cadets incur no pecuniary liability, except in the cases provided for under Rules 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, and 15 below.

9. Cadets leaving the Corps at the end of two years without having obtained Certificate A must pay £1 as Clothing Money towards cost of uniform.

10. A Cadet who desires to resign at the end of the first year may do so on payment to the Corps Funds of the Capitation Grant for one year (£3 12s.), in addition to the sum of £1 as Clothing Money towards cost of uniform. A Cadet in possession of Certificate A is exempt from payment of Clothing Money.

11. Every Cadet, unless prevented by illness (duly certified) or such other cause as the Commanding Officer may deem sufficient, is required to make himself efficient each year according to the conditions laid down for the time being in the Regulations for the Officers Training Corps. Any Cadet not so efficient is required to refund to the Corps the amount of the Capitation Grant.

12. The Commanding Officer shall, in cases of misconduct, have power summarily to dismiss any Cadet; in such cases he shall immediately acquaint the University and College Authorities with the reasons for his action. Any Cadet so dismissed shall be liable for the amount of the Capitation Grants for the full period of enrolment.

13. Every Cadet shall notify the Commanding Officer within three days of any change of address.

14. Every Cadet, on leaving the Contingent, must hand over arms, uniform, and equipment in good order (fair wear and tear excepted); otherwise he must refund the full value of any missing or damaged article.

15. (a) Applicants for membership of the Artillery Unit will pay on admission or transfer to the Unit an entrance fee of £3 as a contribution to the extra expenses incurred in connection with the Artillery Unit as compared with other Units, including riding lessons to a number not exceeding ten (except in special cases). No annual subscription will be payable by members. In all other respects the Rules for the Contingent will apply to the Artillery Unit,

(b) Applicants for membership of the Engineer Unit will be required to have had a year's training in the Infantry Unit or to have obtained Certificate A elsewhere.

(c) Applicants for membership of the Medical Unit must be Medical students pursuing a course of study for registration as fully-qualified medical practitioners.

16. Applicants for membership of the Contingent must undergo a medical examination under arrangements made by the O.C. the Company or Section they desire to join, and produce a certificate to the effect that they are physically fit to undertake the duties of a Cadet in the Contingent. Cadets desiring to resign their membership of the Contingent for medical reasons before the end of their term of service will undergo a medical examination under arrangements made by the O.C. their Company or Section, and the certificate of the Medical Officer examining will be forwarded to Headquarters with other papers relating to the resignation.

NOTE.—Attention is drawn to the fact that the training year for the Officers Training Corps extends from October 1st in any year to September 30th of the following year. The requirements for efficiency in any year must be completed between these dates.

UNIVERSITY COMMISSIONS IN THE REGULAR ARMY.

Further information may be obtained from the War Office Regulations under which Commissions in the Regular Army may be obtained by University Candidates. (Price 1d.)

Students who desire to become Candidates for one of the University Commissions in the Regular Army must communicate in the first instance with the Secretary to the Military Education Committee at 46 Russell Square, W.C.1.

The University of London is recognised by the Army Council and is one of the units for the purpose of the nomination for University Commissions in the Regular Army. Nominations are made by the University Commissions Nomination Board of the Senate, which includes a member nominated by the War Office, who has the right of veto on any selection.

Nominations are forwarded to the War Office on January 15th and July 15th each year. Candidates for these Commissions must register themselves as such as soon as possible after commencing their course of study.

The following is a summary of the requirements:—(a) Age, 21 to 24; (b) three years' course as an Internal Student of the University in any subject or group of subjects (for Commissions in the Royal Engineers Candidates must normally have an Honours Degree, and for the Royal Artillery Candidates must satisfy special requirements as to mathematical and science subjects); (c) efficient membership of the University O.T.C. during course of study, together with Certificate B; (d) attachment to a Regular Unit for a period of six weeks (excused in the case of Candidates who have served as officers for at least four months); (e) physical fitness.

Commissions will be antedated according to Candidate's grading and qualifications. In exceptional circumstances Graduates with first-class honours will receive an antedate to the 20th birthday (maximum).

The Army Council reserve the right to nominate without antedate any candidate recommended, irrespective of his educational attainments.

PERMANENT COMMISSIONS IN THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.

The University of London is included in the list of Universities approved for the recommendation of Candidates for permanent Commissions in the Royal Air Force. Ten permanent Commissions in the Royal Air Force were reserved for University Candidates in the summer of 1921, a Nominations Board being held at the Air Ministry about June.

The following is a summary of the requirements:—(a) Age, under 23 years of age on the 1st June of the year of recommendation (Service Candidates as defined in the Regulations are eligible up to the age of 25); (b) three years' course of study as an Internal Student with degree of University or diploma of the Imperial College and sufficient knowledge of Mathematics and of Science and Physics, or of Engineering (preference will be given to those who have taken a course of (i) General Engineering, (ii) Aeronautical Engineering, (iii) Physics, (iv) Mathematics, and have become efficient members of the University O.T.C.); (c) physical fitness; (d) after selection, attachment for six consecutive weeks to a Royal Air Force Flying Unit.

Commissions will be antedated twelve months. The antedate may be increased for first-class honours to a maximum of eighteen months. Service Candidates, as defined in the Regulations, will be granted an additional antedate of six months.

The Air Ministry Regulations under which permanent Commissions in the Royal Air Force may be obtained by University Candidates (which Candidates are recommended to consult) are published by the Air Ministry.

SHORT SERVICE COMMISSIONS IN THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.

Short Service Commissions in the Royal Air Force are granted under Regulations issued by the Air Ministry. Service is for a period of four or five years on the active list followed by a period of four years' service on the Reserve. Candidates must not be less than 18 and not more than 25 years of age at the time of entry. All applications must be made on Air Ministry Form 696, which can be obtained by applying to the Secretary, Air Ministry (s. 7), Kingsway, London, W.C. 2, or to the Secretary to the Military Education Committee, and should be submitted to the latter for forwarding to the Air Ministry. Graduates of the University over the age of 21 may be recommended for short service Commissions by the University. The Commissions of such Graduates as Pilot Officer will, on satisfactory completion of the probationary period, be antedated twelve months from the date with effect from which they were appointed Pilot Officers (on probation). This antedate will count for promotion, but not for any purposes of pay and allowances or gratuity.

In the case of Candidates who have graduated with first-class honours, the antedate may be increased up to a maximum of eighteen months. The antedate, whether of twelve or eighteen months, will not count as service for the purpose of shortening the actual period served, and pay as Flying Officer will not be antedated to a date prior to the completion of six months' service (actual) as Pilot Officer, probationary or confirmed.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.*

The following Clubs and Societies have been recognised by the Senate :—

APPOINTMENTS BOARD.

(For List of Members see p. 117.)

The work of the Appointments Board, constituted by the Senate in 1911 to assist Graduates and Students of the University in obtaining appointments, and to co-ordinate and supplement the work done by the Colleges and Institutions of the University in this direction, is associated with the work of the University of London Commerce Degree Bureau, 46, Russell Square, W.C.1, information as to which is given on p. 274.

The Appointments Board registers the qualifications of :—

- (a) Graduates of the University of London.
- (b) Undergraduates of the University of London in their last term, previous to entry for Degree Examinations.

Employment assistance is also rendered to holders of the University Diplomas in Journalism and Librarianship.

Both men and women are eligible to register, and the Board's office is licensed as an Employment Agency by the London County Council.

The Fee for Registration and Notices is 5s. for one year. This fee, which is renewable, is inclusive and entitles the Student to the full benefits of the Bureau's assistance during the period of registration.

During the year 1925, 324 appointments were secured to Graduates through the Board's Agency. About half of these posts were in Industry and Commerce and in Government and Secretarial work, and the other half were in teaching or other educational work.

The Secretary works in constant co-operation with the Colleges and Schools of the University, and is in close touch with Government Departments, Federations of Employers, and many Business Houses, from whom valuable co-operation and support have been received. Much useful information as to Civil Service and other appointments is kept in the Bureau, and there is a Library of vocational literature designed to be of practical assistance to students from a career point of view. Students are invited to make free use of this information by calling at 46, Russell Square.

A Handbook, entitled "Appointments and Careers for Graduates and Students," revised and enlarged to March 1926, may be obtained on application to the Secretary. [Price 1s. (post free, 1s. 1½d.)]

The Appointments Advisory Committee, appointed by the Senate and with representatives upon it of the Colleges and Schools of the University, acts with the Board of Governors of the Bureau.

The names of the Members of the Appointments Advisory Committee are given on p. 117.

For further information reference should be made to the section dealing with the Commerce Degree Bureau on p. 274.

INSPECTION AND EXAMINATION OF SCHOOLS.

The University undertakes the educational Inspection and Examination of Schools, and recommends that there should be periodical complete Inspections (which may or may not include examination), involving consideration of the general scheme of study, and the methods of instruction and work, with an opportunity for the Inspectors to visit the classes and hear the teaching. The Inspection and Examination may be so adjusted as to test the proficiency of the pupils with a view to the award of Certificates to those pupils who reach the prescribed standards and satisfy the other conditions laid down by the University.

The University is prepared to co-operate with Local Authorities, not only by undertaking the Inspection and Examination of Schools which are under the control of such Authorities, but also by reporting on the result of the School Examinations with a view to the award of any Scholarships or Exhibitions offered by such Authorities.

OUTLINE OF THE SCHEME AND SUMMARY OF THE REGULATIONS.

[The following brief summary will be found useful. The detailed Regulations which may be obtained on application to the Registrar should, however, be carefully read.]

The University is prepared to undertake the Inspection of Schools under the conditions set out in the printed Regulations.

The University is prepared to hold in schools the Higher, General and Junior School Examinations under the following conditions—

(a) that the School is under Inspection approved by the University, and (b) that the course of instruction given in the School and the curriculum pursued by the pupils have been approved by the University.

A visit to the school by an Inspector appointed by the University for the purpose of holding an Oral Examination in Modern Languages is essential.

The Junior School Certificate is awarded to pupils who—

(a) have been under regular tuition for a period of at least two years at a School or Schools inspected by the University or the Board of Education or some other Body approved by the University ;

(b) have pursued a course of study in the subjects of a curriculum approved for the School or Schools, which curriculum must include adequate instruction in English Literature, and in an elementary Practical Course in Science or at least one Language other than English ; and

(c) have passed the Junior School Examination at one and the same examination in accordance with the scheme set out in the Regulations.

The Junior School Examination is of the standard which any well-educated boy or girl of fifteen may reasonably be expected to reach, and if a pupil qualifies for a Certificate, the Certificate is awarded while the pupil is still at school.

The School Certificate of the General School Examination is awarded to pupils who—

(a) have pursued a course of study at an approved School, or Schools, under inspection by the University or the Board of Education (and except as hereinafter otherwise provided the Examination shall not be accessible to any other person), and

(b) have passed the General School Examination at one and the same Examination in accordance with the scheme set out in the Regulations.

The standard of the General School Examination is one which a well-educated boy or girl of the age of sixteen to seventeen may reasonably be expected to reach. If the pupil obtain a "credit" mark in each of the combination of subjects required by the Matriculation Regulations, he will have satisfied the educational requirements for registration as a Matriculated Student of the University.

(In the General School Examination provision is also made for the award of School Commercial Certificates.)

The age of the candidate, the groups of subjects in which he has been examined, and the subjects (if any) in which he has obtained the Credit mark or the mark required for Distinction, will be stated on the School Certificate. The course of study pursued by the pupil at School, signed by the Head of the School, will also be endorsed on the School Certificates of candidates who have completed at an approved School or Schools a period of at least three years' attendance, and have remained in attendance until the age of sixteen.

The General School Examination is recognised by the Board of Education as a First Examination, and the School Certificates awarded to candidates attending a school recognised by the Board of Education as an Efficient Secondary School will be attested by the Board of Education.

The Higher School Certificate is awarded to pupils on leaving school provided that they—

(i) have pursued a course of study for a period of at least two years at an approved School or Schools under inspection by the University or the Board of Education,

(ii) have not less than one year previously passed the General School Examination or the Matriculation Examination of the University of London, or have qualified for Certificate A at a First School Examination, recognised by the Board of Education, of another University School Examining Body, and

(iii) have passed the Higher School Examination at one and the same examination in accordance with the Scheme set out in Regulation 2.

(Note.—The Higher School Examination is intended for pupils who, after passing the General School Examination, remain at school and specialise in certain subjects. The Examination would usually be taken two years after passing the General School Examination, and the standard of the Higher School Examination is intended to be such as might reasonably be expected as the result of two years' school work on the syllabus provided.)

The administration of the Higher School Examination stands referred to the Council for External Students; and candidates offering the syllabuses of this Examination approved for the External Intermediate Examination in Arts or Science or Commerce or Economics at the Higher School Examination may, under certain conditions, qualify for the appropriate Intermediate Certificates.

The Higher School Examination is recognised by the Board of Education as a Second Examination, and the Certificates awarded to candidates attending a school recognised by the Board of Education as an Efficient Secondary School will be attested by the Board of Education.

The Higher, General and Junior School Examinations are held at Midsummer each year. The General School Examination is also held in December.

If desired, the University will examine in Music and Drawing independently.

From the point of view of the School Authorities special advantages of the system are that the examinations are brought closely into relation with the school curriculum, whole Forms may be entered for Examination, and the University is prepared to report upon the work as tested in this way, and to make special reports with a view to the award of scholarships or exhibitions offered by the School Authorities.

The School Examinations of the University are accepted under certain conditions as exempting from other examinations. Inquiries as to the conditions of exemption should be addressed to the Bodies from whom such privileges are sought.

The University does not enter into communication with individual pupils regarding the School Examinations or Certificates.

CO-OPERATION OF TEACHERS.—The Senate have authorised the Board to make arrangements for Conferences to be held at least once a year with Heads of Secondary Schools for the purpose of discussing questions in connection with the Inspection and Examination of Schools, and have conferred on the Board the power to consult Head and Assistant Teachers of Secondary Schools; such consultation may take place at any ordinary Meeting of the Board, as the Board may consider desirable.

Further, in the Higher, General, and Junior School Examinations, Headmasters and Headmistresses of Schools examined by the University may forward to the University classified lists for each subject of the Examination taken at their several Schools, dividing the pupils into groups in each subject according to the relative merit of their work in School; such estimates to be communicable to the Examiners, for consideration in doubtful cases only, after they have marked the candidates' scripts.

HOLIDAY COURSES FOR FOREIGNERS.

The Board to Promote the Extension of University Teaching arrange annually a Holiday Course for Foreigners. The Course lasts for four weeks, beginning about the middle of July.

The Course was established in 1904, and in the eighteen years from 1904—1914 and 1919—1926 it has been attended by 4,484 students from forty countries; the following countries have each contributed over 100 students to this number:—Austria, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Norway, Russia, Sweden and Switzerland. Since 1907 the number of students has been strictly limited, and very many applications for admission have had to be refused.

The Courses, which in recent years have been held in the buildings of King's College for Women, Campden Hill, are planned in such a way as to be of special value to teachers who desire to become acquainted with English literature, art, education, and customs, and to improve their pronunciation. To this end there are lectures and classes. The staff contains an exceptional number of experts in phonetics. No provision is made for students who are only beginning the study of English and have no conversational knowledge of the language.

Certificates of Attendance are given to students who attend a specified number of lectures and classes.

A Certificate of Proficiency in English is awarded to students who pass the prescribed examination.

The preliminary prospectus is usually issued in November, and the detailed prospectus in March of each year. Application for admission may be made at any time, but tickets are not issued until June.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The attention of all Students who Matriculate is directed to the following extract from Statute No. 120 :—

“No Student shall be admitted to the final examination for a degree until the expiration of at least three years after Matriculation unless the Senate in special cases or special classes of cases otherwise determine.”

These Regulations are revised in September of each year. In important matters affecting Courses of Study two years' notice of change will be given ; but in matters of administrative detail, e.g. Date of Entry, etc., Candidates must acquaint themselves with the Regulations issued in the September preceding the date of their respective Examinations. Communications sent from the University to an individual Candidate must be regarded as applying to that Candidate only.

LONDON: UNIVERSITY OF LONDON PRESS.

September, 1926.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES.

1. Every Candidate must apply to the External Registrar by postcard, and not more than twelve weeks before the Examination, for a form of entry which, duly filled up and signed, must be returned to the University by the date specified and in accordance with the directions given in the Regulations and on the form of entry.

2. Candidates are warned that failure to comply strictly with these instructions may result in exclusion from the examination.

3. As candidates cannot be admitted after the list is closed, any candidate who may not have received a form of entry within a week after applying for it, should communicate immediately with the Principal Officer, stating the exact date of his application and the place where it was posted. If, by the last date for applying for forms of entry, a candidate should not have received a form of entry, he should telegraph immediately to the External Registrar.

4. The completion of entry will be acknowledged by sending to each Candidate on the date stated on the form of entry a card of admission bearing a number by which the Candidate is to be designated throughout the examination. The evidence of age and of name will be returned in the envelope in which the card of admission is sent. Candidates who desire an immediate acknowledgment must enclose a stamped and addressed postcard.

In respect of the January Examination, 14th January.

In respect of the June Examination, 31st July.

In respect of the September Examination, 15th September.

6. Candidates who have passed the Matriculation Examination are not allowed to enter again for the same Examination as a whole (see p. 3).

7. Any representation which candidates may desire to make on the subject of their Examination must be made to the External Registrar and not to the Examiners.

8. The Examination for candidates sitting in London will be held in the UNIVERSITY BUILDING, IMPERIAL INSTITUTE ROAD, SOUTH KENSINGTON, LONDON, S.W.7, and in such other places as may be announced to candidates with their cards of admission. Such candidates are advised not to make their final arrangements until they have received their card of admission; and those who then hear nothing to the contrary must appear at the University Building.

The Classified Pass-List will be published as a Supplement to the London University Gazette, and will be sent, as soon as copies are available, to every college or school from which any successful candidate has immediately proceeded to the Examination; and to every successful candidate who returns, duly stamped and addressed, the envelopes sent to him with the Entry-Form.

Unsuccessful candidates will be informed of the subjects in which they have failed, as soon as possible after the publication of the Pass-List; but no particulars as to the Marks obtained, or the relative position of candidates within the divisions of the Pass-List, can be supplied, nor will any report be furnished to candidates who retire during the course of the Examination.

The University cannot undertake to answer applications by telegram or otherwise, asking for information communicated or to be communicated in accordance with the preceding paragraphs. The University can take no cognisance of, or responsibility for, private arrangements made by candidates or their friends with any person whatever for the supply of telegraphic or other information as to the results of Examinations.

REGULATIONS

FOR

MATRICULATION.

All Candidates should read carefully the Instructions to Candidates appended to these Regulations ; those proposing to take Examinations at an Overseas Centre must consult and comply with the Special Regulations, which may be obtained from the External Registrar.

Candidates for any Degree in this University, unless admitted under Statute 113 or 113a, must become matriculated students at least three years before entry to the Final Examination for a First Degree.<sup>1</sup>

Note.—In order to become a matriculated student, a Candidate must pass either one of the three Examinations conducted by the University, viz. : (1) The ordinary Matriculation Examination, (2) the General School Examination,<sup>2</sup> (3) the Examination under Statute 116 ; or one of the Examinations conducted by other Bodies, which is accepted by the University in lieu of the Matriculation Examination. For the General School Examination, the Examination under Statute 116, and the Examinations on which total exemption is granted, the relevant Regulations must be consulted in each case.

Students admitted under Statute 113, or under Statute 116, in virtue of an Examination conducted by another Body, must pay a Registration Fee of £3 3s. to the appropriate Registrar.

<sup>1</sup> The Medical and Surgical Degrees of this University are registrable qualifications to practise, and, though desirable, it is not necessary that Students should register as Medical Students in order to qualify themselves to enter for the Examination for these Degrees. For the Diplomas of certain other Licensing Bodies, however, registration as a Medical Student by the General Medical Council is a necessary preliminary, and Students should obtain particulars from the Registrar to the General Medical Council, 44, Hallam Street, Portland Place, W.1.

<sup>2</sup> For particulars see pages 21, 22.

The Matriculation Examination and all other Examinations of the University are open to men and women.

There shall be three Examinations for Matriculation in each year, one commencing on the second Tuesday in January; the second on the first Tuesday in June; and the third on the second Tuesday in September.<sup>1</sup>

Every Candidate for the Matriculation Examination must apply by postcard to the External Registrar for a form of entry and must observe the following dates :—

Examination.	Last date for applying for forms of entry.	Entry closes ( i.e. last date for return of forms of entry).
January . . .	25th November.	1st December.
June . . .	18th April.	24th April.
September . .	20th August.	Fourteen days before the commencement of the Examination.

Each form of entry must be accompanied by (1) documentary evidence<sup>2</sup> of the candidate's age and name and (2) the proper fee.

See "INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES" PRINTED INSIDE THE COVER.

No Candidate shall be admitted to the Matriculation Examination unless he shall have completed his sixteenth year on or before the following dates :—

In respect of the January Examination, 14th January.

In respect of the June Examination, 31st July.

In respect of the September Examination, 15th September.

<sup>1</sup> The Examinations in January and June, but not that in September, may be held not only at the University, but also in other parts of the United Kingdom, and in the Dominions and Colonies. For particulars see pages 23, 24, and Colonial Regulations.

<sup>2</sup> A Certificate from the Registrar General in London or from the Superintendent Registrar of the District, or a certified copy of the Baptismal Register, or a Statutory Declaration of the candidate's age made before a Magistrate or a Commissioner for Oaths by his parent or Guardian, or by the Principal of his School, or by the candidate himself if of full age, will be accepted. In any case in which the name used by the candidate differs from that given in the certificate, a Statutory Declaration must be produced in support of the change.

Every Candidate entering for the Matriculation Examination must pay a Fee of Two-and-a-half Guineas. If a Candidate withdraw his name before the last day assigned for the return of the Form of Entry, the Fee shall be returned to him. If he fail to present himself at the Examination, he will receive back the Fee paid less One Guinea. If he retire after the commencement of the Examination, or fail to pass it, the full Fee must be paid upon every re-entry. Nevertheless, should a Candidate on account of illness either fail to present himself at the Examination, or, having presented himself, retire therefrom, the Principal Officer may, at his discretion and on receipt of Medical Evidence satisfactory to him, return to the Candidate a sum not exceeding three-fifths of the Fee paid, and in the case of infectious illness (whether of the Candidate himself or of a person with whom he has been in contact), the amount of the whole Fee paid. These arrangements apply only to the above-mentioned ordinary Fee, and not in cases in which any Special Fee is charged.

Except in accordance with the conditions of the paragraph next following Matriculated Students are not permitted to take the Matriculation Examination as a whole; but any Matriculated Student may enter for the Matriculation Examination with a view to passing in one or more Supplementary Subjects.<sup>1</sup> The Fee payable is One Guinea for each subject, in addition to any special Fee payable. Every such Candidate must apply by the date specified (see page 2) in respect of the Matriculation Examination for a special Form of Entry for the Matriculation Supplementary Certificate.

For the purpose of competing for Scholarships or Exhibitions awarded otherwise than by the University, Matriculated Students may be admitted to the Matriculation Examination; but the results of such re-examination will be communicated only to the Body making the award; the names of successful Candidates will not appear on the Pass-List, and no certificates will be awarded to them.

The Examination shall be conducted by means of printed papers; but, for the purpose of ascertaining the competence of a Candidate to pass, the Examiners may test the candidate by means of viva-voce questions.

No Candidate shall pass the Examination unless he shall at one and the same Examination satisfy the Examiners as to

---

<sup>1</sup> Candidates as a rule may be examined only for Supplementary Certificates in the subjects set out in the Regulations. For information whether a Supplementary Examination in any Optional Language can be held or not, application should be made to the External Registrar.

his competence in each of the following five<sup>1</sup> subjects, selected according to the details specified under each of the several heads :—

COMPULSORY SUBJECTS FOR ALL CANDIDATES.

- (1) English. One paper of three hours.
- (2) Elementary Mathematics. Two papers of three hours each.

OPTIONAL SUBJECTS TO BE SELECTED BY THE CANDIDATE.

(3) Latin<sup>2</sup>, or Greek<sup>2</sup>, or Botany, or Chemistry, or Heat, Light, and Sound, or Mechanics, or Electricity and Magnetism. One paper of three hours in the subject selected.

(4) and (5) Two of the following subjects, neither of which has already been taken under Section (3). One paper of three hours in each subject. If neither Latin nor Greek has been taken under Section (3), one of the other subjects selected must be a Language other than English :—

German.	Welsh.

Greek History, or Roman History, or English History<sup>2</sup>, or European History, or The History of the British Empire.

Geography.

Logic.

Geometrical and Mechanical Drawing.

Mathematics (more advanced).

Mechanics.

Chemistry.

Heat, Light and Sound.

Electricity and Magnetism.

 Zoology.<sup>2</sup>
 Geology.<sup>3</sup>
 Economics.

Instead of one<sup>3</sup> of the languages mentioned under headings (4) and (5) on page 4, a candidate may take another language provided the same shall have been approved by the University. Every candidate who desires to take a special language under this Regulation must fill in and return three months before the commencement of the examination for which he intends to enter a special form of application which may be obtained from the External Registrar. An additional fee of Two Guineas is payable in respect of every special language taken under this Regulation, and such fee is not returnable in any circumstances. When applying for the special form referred to, candidates should state (i) the date upon which they propose to enter for the Matriculation Examination, and (ii) the remaining optional subjects selected by them.

The following special languages have been approved by the Senate:—Afrikaans, Arabic, Armenian, Bengali, Burmese, Canarese, Chinese, Danish, Dutch, Greek (Modern),<sup>4</sup> Gujerati, Hausa, Hebrew (Classical and Modern), Hindi, Hindustani (Urdu), Icelandic, Irish, Japanese, Malay, Malayalam, Marathi, Norwegian, Pali, Panjabi<sup>5</sup> (Gurmukhi and Perso-Arabic), Persian, Polish, Portuguese, Roumanian, Sanskrit, Scottish Ghadelic, Serbian, Siamese, Sindhi, Sinhalese, Swahili, Swedish, Tamil, Telugu, Turkish, Yoruba, Zulu.

The following are the particulars of the foregoing subjects of examination:—

I.—ENGLISH.<sup>6</sup>

The Examination in English will consist of one paper of three hours, and will include:—

<sup>2</sup> Candidates for Examination in this subject must give notice and pay their Fee at least two months before the commencement of the Examination.

<sup>3</sup> Nevertheless a Candidate may present two Oriental Languages under Groups (4) and (5), provided that one of the Languages offered be a Classical Language, viz., Chinese, Classical Hebrew, Pali, Persian, and Sanskrit, and provided that, if Classical Hebrew be offered, Modern Hebrew be not also offered.

(a) A subject for an essay, to be chosen by the candidate from several subjects set, the main object being to test power of expression, thought, and arrangement.

(b) Questions testing knowledge and command of English. These may include questions on précis writing, paraphrase, and analysis of sentences.

(c) Questions testing knowledge of specified English books.

Candidates are expected to devote about one hour to the essay.

The following books are prescribed for 1926, 1927, and 1928 in connection with Section (c) of the above Syllabus :—

1926.—Shakespeare : Coriolanus.

M. Arnold : Sohrab and Rustum ; The Scholar-Gypsy ; Thyrsis.

Swift : Gulliver's Travels, Voyages 1 and 2.

1927.—Shakespeare : Henry IV, Part I.

M. Arnold : Sohrab and Rustum ; The Scholar-Gypsy ; Thyrsis.

Hazlitt : Selected Essays (ed. G. Sampson, Cambridge Univ. Press).

1928.—Shakespeare : Hamlet.

Milton : Paradise Lost, Bk. II.

1929.—Shakespeare : Macbeth.

Milton : Paradise Lost, Bk. II.

Essays and Essayists (ed. Newbolt, publ. Nelson).

II.—ELEMENTARY MATHEMATICS.<sup>1</sup>

There will be two papers : one in Arithmetic and Algebra and the other in Geometry.

Arithmetic :—

Elementary principles and processes of Arithmetic.

The principles of vulgar and decimal fractions (excluding recurring decimals).

Knowledge and use of the tables required, both in the English and Metric System for the measurement of length, area, volume, capacity, weight and time.

Mensuration of the rectangle, parallelogram, triangle and trapezium. (Note.—Questions on these may be such as will involve the application of Algebra and Geometry.)

Averages, Ratio, Proportion, Percentages.

Practical applications of Arithmetic.

Weight will be attached both to accuracy of working and correctness of method. The use of Logarithms<sup>1</sup> is allowed except in questions where they are expressly forbidden.

Algebra :—

The fundamental processes of Algebra.

Symbolical expression of general results in Arithmetic.

Interpretation and evaluation of Formulæ. Changing the subject of a Formula.

Factors of expressions of simple types.

Equations of the first and second degree containing one unknown quantity. Simultaneous equations of the first degree, and two simultaneous equations of which one is of the first degree and the other of the second degree.

Easy examples in fractions.

Graphs of simple algebraic functions with easy applications. Simple questions on fractional and negative indices (formal proofs not being required).

Use of logarithms to the base 10. (See footnote on preceding page.)

Arithmetic and Geometric Series.

Simple applications of the above.

Geometry :—

The subjects of Euclid I.–IV., with simple deductions, including easy loci and the areas of triangles and parallelograms of which the bases and altitudes are given commensurable lengths.

Euclid's proofs will not be insisted on, but all proofs of geometrical theorems must be geometrical. The use of properties of similar figures will be allowed.

III.—OPTIONAL LANGUAGES.

LATIN.

The paper shall contain (1) passages to be translated into English from Latin books not previously prescribed; (2) simple and easy sentences of English to be translated into Latin; (3) questions on Grammar.

GREEK.

The paper shall contain (1) passages to be translated into English from Greek books not previously prescribed; (2) simple and easy sentences of English to be translated into Greek; (3) questions on Grammar.

---

<sup>1</sup> Logarithms or four-figure logarithmic tables will be supplied to Candidates in the room by the University. Candidates who so desire can obtain copies of these tables from the University of London Press, 17, Warwick Square, E.C.4. Candidates are not permitted to bring their own copies into the Examination Room.

FRENCH.

The paper shall contain (1) passages for translation from French into English and (2), at the choice of the candidate, either a fairly easy subject for Free Composition in French, together with a more difficult passage for translation into French, or a more difficult subject for Free Composition, together with a fairly easy passage for translation.

GERMAN.

The paper shall contain (1) passages for translation from German into English and (2), at the choice of the candidate, either a fairly easy subject for Free Composition in German, together with a more difficult passage for translation into German, or a more difficult subject for Free Composition, together with a fairly easy passage for translation.

OTHER MODERN EUROPEAN LANGUAGES.<sup>1</sup>

The paper in any other Modern European Language approved for the Matriculation Examination shall be drawn up as nearly as may be practicable in conformity with the following Syllabus<sup>2</sup> :—

The paper shall contain (1) passages for translation from the language in question into English and (2) either a fairly easy subject for Free Composition in the language in question, together with a more difficult passage for translation into the language in question, or a more difficult subject for Free Composition, together with a fairly easy passage for translation.

ORIENTAL LANGUAGES (INCLUDING HEBREW).<sup>1</sup>

The paper in any Oriental Language, including Hebrew, approved for the Matriculation Examination, shall be drawn up as nearly as may be practicable in conformity with the following syllabus<sup>2</sup> :—

The paper shall contain (1) an easy passage or easy passages for translation from the language in question, (2) an easy piece for translation into the language in question, or, as an alternative, an essay of a simple character to be written in the language in question, (3) questions on Grammar, limited to Accidence and Elementary Syntax. Candidates will be required to satisfy the Examiners in each of the three sections of the syllabus. Candidates offering Modern Hebrew are required to use the Square Script, but are permitted to make use of Hebrew grammatical terminology where the English terminology is difficult of application.

<sup>2</sup> Candidates in order to pass must satisfy the Examiners in translation at sight from English into the selected language, and from the selected language into English.

IV.—HISTORY.

The questions will be framed to test general knowledge of history and historical development rather than memory of detail.

One of the following Branches (one paper of three hours will be set in each Branch) :—

(a) Greek History.

From 776 B.C. to 323 B.C.

(b) Roman History.

From 264 B.C. to 180 A.D.

(c) English History.

The general course of English History from 1066 to 1901, with some references to the contemporary history of Europe and Colonial developments.

The paper will be divided into four sections, covering respectively the periods 1066–1485, 1485–1688, 1688–1815, 1783–1901, and candidates will be required to answer questions from two out of the four periods.

(d) European History.

One of the four following periods :—

- (i) From 1046 to 1494.
- (ii) From 1494 to 1715.
- (iii) From 1648 to 1815.
- (iv) From 1789 to 1914.

(e) The History of the British Empire, 1485–1901.

The Subject is to be studied in general outline only ; detailed knowledge will not be required.

The consolidation of English Government ; the personal monarchy of the Tudors, and the re-action under the Stuarts.

English overseas trade ; the Chartered Companies and experiments in colonisation.

Early English enterprise in the East Indies.

The Old Colonial System, including the Navigation Acts.

The revolution of 1688 and its effect on Great Britain and the Empire considered as a whole.

The struggle with France in Europe and beyond the sea, 1688–1763.

The American revolution and the causes producing it.

The beginnings of the new empire and the organisation of British rule in India.

The Industrial revolution and political reform in Great Britain to 1832.

Sea power and the Napoleonic war ; and their effect on the extension of the Empire.

The Humanitarian movement ; the abolition of the Slave Trade, and the status of slavery.

The development of "responsible government" in Great Britain and the Colonies.

The downfall of the Old Colonial System, and the introduction of Free Trade.

New methods of transport and the rise of the new imperial trade ; the supply of food and raw materials from the Colonies.

The adoption of Federal constitutions in the dominions, with special reference to Canada.

Political reform in Great Britain in the latter half of the 19th century.

The new struggle for the acquisition of tropical Colonies and the partition of Africa.

The development of India, 1833-1901.

V.—GEOGRAPHY.

A broad study of the outlines of the geography of the world as a whole and of its larger natural regions.

The following regions in decreasing detail :—(a) England and Wales, (b) Scotland and Ireland, (c) Europe, the Mediterranean, the North Atlantic, North America and Greenland, (d) the remaining Continents. Recapitulation from the point of view of the British Empire.

Attention should be directed to the following aspects of the several regions :—The broad contrasts and chief features of the land-relief. The chief features of the coastal outline as related to those of the relief. The disposition of the water-partings and of the chief river basins. The winds and sea-currents, distribution of rainfall, the climatic contrasts, and the resulting agricultural contrasts. The districts of exceptionally dense or rare population considered in relation to their position, natural resources, and industrial activities. The arrangement of the political divisions upon the land-relief and with reference to the drainage system. The analysis of the positions of the great towns.

Candidates will be expected to understand the main physical causes of the phenomena they describe, such as variations of atmospheric temperature and pressure, their seasonal and regional distribution ; the causes of precipitation, winds—their cause and prevalence in different regions, the interpretation of weather charts, and the meaning of the net-work and other conventional symbols employed in maps. Time need not be spent in elaborate map-drawing. The answers in the examination should be illustrated, where necessary, by simple diagrams, correct in general proportion, but without detail. Candidates may be expected to identify maps without names, to insert upon such maps the position of geographical features, and to work problems as to local time.

VI.—LOGIC.

The Term : classification of terms, denotation and connotation.

Division, Definition, the Predicables.

The Proposition : classification of propositions, reduction of sentences to logical form.

Laws of thought, opposition of propositions, immediate inference.

The Syllogism : moods and figures, the expression of arguments in syllogistic form.

Hypothetical and disjunctive propositions and arguments.

Inductive reasoning in its various forms.

Observation and experiment :
canons of scientific induction.

Combination of induction and deduction ; hypothesis and explanation.

Fallacies.

These three subjects will be treated in a specially elementary manner.

VII.—GEOMETRICAL AND MECHANICAL DRAWING.

Plane Geometry :—

Construction of scales, triangles, quadrilaterals and polygons. Problems on circles and tangents and on areas of plane figures. Simple problems on loci, including paths of points in elementary linkwork. Construction of Archimedean spiral, ellipse, cycloid, and involute of circle, with their tangents and normals.

Solid Geometry :—

Elementary projections of points, lines, planes, inclined surfaces, and solids, including the cylinder, cone, and sphere. Simple sections. Projection of additional plans and elevations.

Isometric or oblique projection, without using "isometric scale," of simple plane surfaces and solids.

Developments of the surfaces of simple solids ; elementary problems in interpenetration of prisms, cylinders and cones, and developments of penetrated surfaces.

Projection of simple helix and square-threaded screw.

Machine Drawing :—

Making scale drawings, two or more views, with simple sections of elementary machine parts, from rough partly-dimensioned sketches.

VIII.—MATHEMATICS (more advanced).

Harder questions may be set on the syllabus of Elementary Mathematics.

Algebra :—

Theory of indices, logarithms and the use of logarithmic tables.<sup>1</sup>

Theory of quadratics.

Permutations and Combinations.

Binomial Theorem for a positive integral index.

Trigonometry :—

Including the addition formulæ and the solution of triangles, together with the practical solution of triangles and applications, and numerical examples involving the use of logarithmic and other tables.

Geometry :—

Similar figures.

Mensuration of the Circle.

Elementary Co-ordinate Geometry of the straight line and circle.

Calculus :—

Limits. Gradient of a graph.

Differentiation of sum, product and quotient of functions.
Differentiation of a function of a function.

Differentiation of simple algebraic functions involving positive and negative integral powers of the variable.

Differentiation of elementary trigonometric functions (the inverse functions are excluded).

Simple questions on maxima and minima.

Integration of expressions formed by sums of terms of the type  $x^n$  (excluding  $n = -1$ ),  $\sin x$  and  $\cos x$ . (Integration by parts is excluded.)

Elementary questions and problems involving differentiation and integration with simple applications to rates, areas, and volumes.

Elementary Co-ordinate Geometry :—

Straight line and circle.

---

IX.—OPTIONAL SCIENCES.

The Examinations in Science shall aim at ascertaining whether Candidates possess a knowledge of fundamental scientific methods, acquired by observation of nature or by a simple course of experiment in physical measurement, or by the investigation of simple problems and commonly occurring phenomena illustrating natural laws.

MECHANICS.

Elementary notions of Displacement, Velocity, and Acceleration.

Motion of a body with constant Acceleration.

Resolution and Composition of Velocities, Accelerations, &c.

Elementary notions of Mass and Momentum.

Elementary notions of Force as measured by rate of change of momentum.

Newton's Laws of Motion.

Kinetic Energy, and Work.

Units of Force, and Measurement.

Balancing of Forces.

Torques or Moments.

Conditions for the equilibrium of Three Parallel Forces.

Resolution and Composition of Parallel Forces in one Plane.

Centre of Parallel Forces. Centre of Gravity. Stable, Unstable, and Neutral Equilibrium.

Conditions for the equilibrium of Three Forces not parallel. Triangle and Parallelogram of Forces. Moments.

Simple illustrations of Conditions of Equilibrium and of the Principle of Work, as in levers, pulleys, the inclined plane, &c.

Pressure in Liquids; variations with depth.

Transmission of Liquid Pressure; Hydraulic Press.

Pressures on immersed and floating bodies.

Density; methods of determining Relative Densities.

Relation between volume and pressure in Gases.

CHEMISTRY

Combination and Decomposition. Elements and Compounds.

Elementary experimental study of air, water, and calcium carbonate. Solvent power of water. Natural waters, solution, crystallisation, and distillation.

Elementary experimental study of oxygen, hydrogen, carbon, sulphur, nitrogen, phosphorus, chlorine, and their common compounds, together with bromine and iodine so far as is required to show their relationship to chlorine.

Composition and properties of silica, action of silica upon bases, nature of glass.

General characteristics of the metals, including an elementary study of sodium, calcium, and iron, and their common compounds.

The oxidation of the metals magnesium, zinc, iron, copper, lead, and the properties of their oxides. The interaction of these metals and their oxides with the common acids.

Action of water on sodium, magnesium, and iron. The reversible character of the action of water on iron.

Elementary experiments illustrating the quantitative nature of chemical combination.

Quantitative interaction of acids with metals and bases. Equivalents—Atomic Theory, Symbols and Formulæ. Boyle's and Charles' Laws. Diffusion.

The more obvious phenomena of Electrolysis. Development of heat in chemical reaction. Combustion. Flame and Incandescence.

Candidates will be required to give evidence by their answers that they have seen experiments illustrative of all the subjects included in the Syllabus, and that they have themselves performed a variety of simple qualitative and quantitative experiments.

The questions set will have regard to the conditions under which the subject may best be experimentally taught in schools.

HEAT, LIGHT AND SOUND.

Heat :—

Temperature. Construction and use of the Mercury Thermometer.

Expansion of Solids and Liquids, with rise of Temperature. Effect of change of Temperature on the Volume and Pressure of Gases.

Quantity of Heat. Specific Heat.

Change of State. Latent Heat. Elementary notions of the transfer of Heat. Heat considered as a form of Energy.

Light :—

Propagation of Light. Laws of Reflexion and Refraction.

Reflexion at Plane and concave Spherical Surfaces, and the formation of Images.

Refraction at Plane Surfaces and by Prisms. The Spectrum.

The formation of Images by single convex Lenses. The simple magnifying glass. Photometry.

Sound :—

The production and propagation of Sound.

Nature of Wave-motion. Amplitude, Wave-length and Frequency.

Experimental determination of the Velocity of Sound in Air.

Determination of Frequency by simple methods.

Experiments on the modes of Vibration of Strings.

The questions set will have regard to the conditions under which these subjects may best be experimentally taught in schools.

ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM.

Simple Phenomena of Magnetism. Properties of Magnets. The Law of Magnetic Force. Lines of Force. Magnetic Moment.

The simpler Phenomena of Electrified Bodies. Conduction and Insulation. Electrification by Friction and by Induction (Influence).

Quantity of Electricity.

The Law of Electric Force.

Lines of Electric Force.

Electric Currents.

The simple Voltaic Cell, the Daniel Cell.

Magnetic Field of Current. Galvanometers.

Simple Electromagnets.

Electromotive Force. Resistance.

Ohm's Law.

Heating effects of Currents.

Elementary Phenomena of Electrolysis.

The simple phenomena of induced Currents.

Induction Coil.

The questions set will have regard to the conditions under which these subjects may best be experimentally taught in schools.

BOTANY.<sup>1</sup>

1. The appearance and structure of the organs of a flowering plant so far as these can be observed with the naked eye or with the aid of a hand-lens.

---

<sup>1</sup> Candidates should bring a hand-lens, a sharp knife, drawing pencil and india-rubber. In this Examination special stress is laid on competence in drawing. This subject can be taken only in those Dominions and Colonies in which special arrangements have been approved by the Senate.

The functions of these organs so far as they can be ascertained by observation and simple experiment.

2. The main phenomena of the life-history of common flowering plants (excluding the microscopic processes of maturation and union of the sexual elements and of the development of the seed). The mechanisms of pollination; fruit and seed dispersal. Germination, particularly as illustrated by seedlings easily grown in the garden or in pots or boxes. The structure of garden soil. Different types of soil and their water and air contents. Rough methods of mechanical analysis of soils.

3. The nature and structure (excluding microscopic details) of the vegetable materials met with in everyday life, such as wood, cork, &c. (excluding manufactured substances); also of the common edible fruits and vegetables.

4. The description of a flowering plant (not necessarily belonging to one of the Natural Orders enumerated below) and a knowledge of the following Natural Orders, as illustrated by wild or commonly cultivated plants:—Ranunculaceæ, Cruciferæ, Caryophyllaceæ, Leguminosæ, Rosaceæ, Compositæ, Primulaceæ, Scrophulariaceæ, Labiataæ, Salicaceæ, Iridaceæ, Liliaceæ.

5. An elementary knowledge of the nutrition, growth, irritability of plants, particularly of such facts as can be demonstrated by simple qualitative and quantitative experiments. Candidates will be expected to show evidence that they have performed such experiments themselves.

The questions set will have regard to the conditions under which these subjects may best be experimentally taught in schools.

(An elementary knowledge will be assumed of the chemical and physical properties of the atmosphere and of water, together with some acquaintance with the use of the barometer and thermometer.)

6. The main features of the more easily accessible types of British Vegetation, and of the different habitats in which they are found. Common weeds of cultivated soil, and the causes of their prevalence.

(An elementary knowledge of the adaptations shown by native plants to their environment.)

7. The outlines of the cellular structure of the living plant as shown for example in simple fresh-water algæ and in the mesophyll of a foliage leaf.

1. The general principles of animal life treated in an elementary fashion and illustrated by the types specified in paragraph 4. Growth and Metamorphosis as illustrated by the frog and butterfly. Conditions under which life can exist. Differences between animals and plants.

2. The gross structure of the skin; the skeleton; the alimentary tract and its glands; the respiratory mechanism; the vascular system; the central nervous system; and the functions of these organs in a typical mammal.

3. The structure and mode of life of Amœba and Hydra treated in an elementary manner.

4. The chief external characters and mode of life of a jelly fish (Aurelia), an anemone, and a coral, an earthworm, a crayfish or lobster, a blow-fly, a bee, a butterfly, a spider (the structure of the mouth-parts of the foregoing Arthropods not to be studied in detail), a starfish, a fresh-water mussel, and a snail, a fish, a frog, a lizard, a tortoise, and a snake, and a typical bird and mammal.

Candidates must possess a practical acquaintance with the external characters of the types specified in Section 4.

5. The distinguishing features of the following groups: Protozoa, Coelenterata, Echinodermata, Annelida, Arthropoda (Crustacea, Insecta, Arachnida), Mollusca, Vertebrata (Fishes, Amphibians, Reptiles, Birds, and Mammals).

1. The Crust of the Earth. Nature of common Rocks and Rock-forming Minerals.

2. The Ocean. Nature of ocean floors and sea margins, and comparison of them with sedimentary Rocks. Action of the sea in Denudation and Deposition.

3. Circulation of Atmospheric waters. Formation of springs, rivers, and lakes. Geological action of wind, rain, rivers, and ice. Materials formed by these agencies and comparison of them with sedimentary Rocks. Origin of valleys, estuaries, and deltas.

4. Internal movements acting in the Earth's crust, Bending, Folding, and Fractures of different kinds. Induration, Jointing, and Cleavage. Earthquakes and Volcanic phenomena.

5. Forms of the Earth's surface resulting from the action of internal and external forces. Escarpments, Outliers, Inliers, Unconformities, Igneous Intrusions. Production of different types of Scenery.

6. Fossils, their nature and uses to the geologist and biologist. General succession of the Fossiliferous Strata. Candidates are expected to have practical acquaintance with the commonest minerals, rocks, and fossils.

<sup>1</sup> Changes in the details of this order may be found necessary from time to time, but in all such cases due notice will be given to Candidates.

Except in the case of English and Elementary Mathematics Candidates will be allowed to take only one paper in each subject. Two papers will be set in many other subjects in order to compress the Examination into as short a period as possible, but no Candidate will be allowed to take more than one of these papers. No option is allowed as to the order in which they are taken, and if the Candidate does not present himself for examination in a given subject at the right time, he will on no account whatever be allowed to take a paper which may be set later in the same subject. It is, therefore, of the greatest importance that Candidates should attend to the following rule :—

Candidates, having selected their subjects in accordance with the Regulations, will be examined in these subjects in the numerical order in which they occur in the above list, and must take each subject on the first possible occasion accordingly.

Thus for example a Candidate who offers, in addition to English and Mathematics (Elementary), Botany, Mechanics, and French, must take Botany (No. 6) on the afternoon of the third day, Mechanics (No. 9) on the morning of the fourth day, and French (No. 16) on the afternoon of the fourth day. Again, a Candidate who offers Latin, French (16), and German (17), must take French in the morning and German in the afternoon of the fourth day.

Candidates who take any of the subjects for which two months' notice or more is required will be informed of the dates upon which the Examinations in these subjects will take place.

At two o'clock on Saturday in the sixth week after the January and in the seventh week after the June Examination, the Principal Officer shall publish a list of the Candidates who have passed, arranged in alphabetical order in two Divisions—a First Division and a Second Division.

At two o'clock on October 1st (except when this date shall coincide with a Sunday, when the following day will be substituted), the Principal Officer shall publish a numerical list of the Candidates who have passed at the September Examination, and shall, either then or as soon as possible thereafter, publish a list arranged in alphabetical order in two Divisions—a First Division and a Second Division.

A Pass Certificate, signed by the Principal Officer and setting forth the subjects of Examination taken by the Candidate, shall be delivered to each successful Candidate after the Report of the Examiners shall have been approved by the Senate.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> As a rule, Certificates are ready for issue about a month after the publication of the Pass-List, and, in the absence of any request to the contrary, will be posted to the address given on the Form of Entry.

Summary of the Regulations<sup>1</sup> for the General School Examination for School, School Commercial, and Matriculation Certificates.

[For this Examination the University enters into relations only with Schools, and no application for Examination can be considered unless sent in through the School Authorities.]

The University holds in schools an Examination called the General School Examination under the following conditions—

(a) that the School is under Inspection approved by the University, and

(b) that the course of instruction given in the School and the curriculum pursued by the pupils have been approved by the University.

Any pupil who has pursued an approved course of study in the School is eligible to be entered for the General School Examination. The standard for Matriculation by means of the General School Examination is in each subject that of the Matriculation Examination, but certain subjects may be taken at the School Examination for Matriculation purposes which are not subjects of the Matriculation Examination and certain other subjects may be included for the School Certificate which are not subjects for Matriculation. In Modern Languages there is an Oral Examination in addition to the Written Examination.

The School Certificates of the General School Examination are awarded to pupils who—

(i) have pursued a course of study at an approved School or Schools under inspection by the University or the Board of Education, and

(ii) have passed the General School Examination at one and the same Examination in accordance with the scheme set out in the Regulations.

Each Candidate for the General School Examination will be required to pay a Fee of Two Pounds Seven Shillings and Sixpence.

If the Candidate qualifies for Matriculation, a further Fee of Seventeen Shillings and Sixpence will be payable on Registration.

The standing of students registered under Statute 116 in virtue of having passed the General School Examination dates from the Matriculation Examination immediately preceding the application for Registration, but no student may apply for registration before attaining the age of sixteen, and no student will be registered before the date of the Matriculation

---

<sup>1</sup> Free copies of the detailed Regulations may be obtained by School Authorities on application to the Principal Officer.

Examination immediately following the completion of his sixteenth year (except that a student who attains the age of sixteen between June 7 and July 31 will be registrable from the June Matriculation Examination).

The Scheme for the Examination also makes provision for the award of School Commercial Certificates.

A School desiring to present pupils for the General School Examination is required to make application to the University, and to submit a general statement of the complete course of instruction given in the School and the curriculum of study pursued by the candidates, for the approval of the University.

The General School Examination is held each year at Midsummer and in December.

A School Examination may also be held at any other time the University may fix. The University will further be prepared in special cases, in order to meet the wishes of a School, or group of Schools, to consider an application for a special Examination at a time other than that fixed for a regular School Examination, provided the whole cost of such a special Examination is borne by the School or group of Schools.

Professor of Education in the University of London.*

Vol. I—THE YOUNG DELINQUENT.

With a number of tables and other illustrations. 640 pages. 17s. 6d. net.

Other volumes in active preparation are "The Backward and Defective," and "The Unstable and Neurotic."

Modern English

By J. HUBERT JAGGER, M.A., D.Litt.

This book describes the main features of contemporary English. It has been written principally for the use of teachers and students in Training Colleges. It deals with the sounds of our speech, the vocabulary of modern English, and the modes in which new words are made. Throughout, English is treated as a living and changing tongue, and historical detail is avoided. 5s. net.

Geography in School

By JAMES FAIRGRIEVE, M.A.,

Recognised Teacher of the University of London in the Theory and Practice of Education; Author of "Geography and World Power."

This volume is the outcome of some thirty years' experience of geography in many types of elementary and secondary schools. The aim is both philosophical and practical. An attempt is made to formulate a philosophic basis for the teaching of the subject and to indicate methods of dealing with it, which will at least be in agreement with such a philosophy.
